DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial &

Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Lennan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,

VERNON ESKRIDGE, Chaplain U.S.N.

A SCRAP FROM THE DIARY OF UNCLE TOBY.

The Deacon is dead! How sudden! He was found dead in his bed! The good man gave no sign as he left this vale of tears. I have just come from his funeral, large, solemn, impressive. The church to whom he passed the bread and wine, a score of years, is arrayed in sackcloth. The minister dwelt in the most edifying way, upon the passage, God's ways are not as our ways, and with pathos portrayed the INSCRUTIBILITY of this mournful occurrence, and closed by a devout reading of the Hymn, God moves in a mysterious way, his wonders to perform.

One is prone to enquire, what killed the Deacon? Or is his death an aversion of all philosophy, an effect without a cause? Did he swallow a dose of laudanum, arsenic, or prussic acid before he lay his pious head upon his pillow? O no, he had done no such thing. He had used TOBACCO for fifteen years. He had used enough day by day, (which is not much) to kill a Boa Constrictor, or a Bengal Tiger! This man of God, had done nothing worse.

S. H., a youth of sixteen years, fell dead this evening, at 7 o'clock; and the family, I learn, is weeping, wailing, and wringing their hands! What is the cause of his death? Parson Curtis says it is an act of God! The coroner's inquest, prudently says, the cause is unknown! The doctors say, it is the heart-complaint, and are mum as the graveyard respecting the cause of the heart complaint.

A venerable lady at my elbow, who by the by, is a better coroner and a better physiologist than any of them, says TOBACCO killed the poor boy. She says Tobacco exasperated his nerves, disturbed their healthful action, and finally acting as a sedative upon the nerves about the heart, this essential organ ceased to contract and expand, and death ensued. The old lady, I trow, is right. The poor thing, smoked like Etna, or a steam engine! Indeed, he fell dead with a cigar in his mouth! Besides, he ate tobacco as a child eats candy! I wonder if the weed does any harm? I wonder if Parents, Doctors, Ministers, Churches, or any body else ought to concern themselves about this matter.

A little girl six years old, was accidentally shot by her uncle at Williamsburg, N. Y., on Satuday evening. He was fixing the lock of a revolver, when one of the barrels was discharged in consequence of the knife touching one of the springs. The little girl was standing by, and the ball took effect in the lower part of her right breast, passed through her body, and lodged in her clothes near the right shoulder blade. She lived but a short time.

NEW MOTIVE POWER.—Mrs. Partington in the presence of a numerous party of her friends, has expressed her decided opinion that the period is not far distant when steamboats and locomotives will be propelled by the force of moral suasion! She therefore does not recommend to her friends to take any of the caloric stock at present.

LIQUOR SEIZURE.—Marshal Johnson entered one of the store-houses in this city on Thursday, and seized thirty barrels and one keg of liquor. The quality was tested by some half dozen good judges, and pronounced "R. G." brand of the worst sort. The barrels were marked in a variety of ways. The same will be spilt.—Hallowell Gazette.

GREAT SPEED.—A locomotive despatched from Laporte to Chicago, Ill., for physicians to attend a Mr. Doxtater, ran the entire distance and back in one hour and forty minutes. The distance is 58 miles each way, making a speed of 116 miles in one hundred minutes,—Constantine Mercury.

THE OLD COUNTESS OF DESMOND, who died in the reign of James I. pronounced Richard III. as handsome a man as she ever danced with.—Exchange.

"The countess must have lived longer than people do now-a-days. Richard III. was killed in 1485. King James commenced his reign in 1603—an interval of only 118 years. But to have danced with Richard when he was a young man and in his dancing days, and to have died about the middle of the reign of James, would make her about 170 years of age at the time of her death. Verily, an old countess indeed!

A correspondent of the New York Evening Post, having read the foregoing, cites the following facts in relation ot the Countess of Desmond, as derived from Walpole:

"The Countess of Desmond lived to the age of 159 years years, danced with Richard III., and affirmed that he was a well made man."

She was 87 when she married O'Conner of Sligo.

The Earl of Desmond's first wife died in 1564; if he re-married the next day his bride must have been sixty-eight, and yet she had a son and five daughters by him.

Lord Bacon, says Fuller, computed her age to be 140 at least, and added that she three times had a new set of teeth.

An extraordinary anecdote given as authentic, relating to this lady, by Robert, the second Earl of Leicester, who received the account from Lady Desmond, 'That the old Countess came to England to solicit a pension, at the end of Queen Elizabeth's reign, and was so poor that she walked from Bristol to London. Her daughter, being too decrepit to go on foot, was carried in a cart.'"

The countess, says Lord Leicester, might have lived much longer, had she not met with a kind of violent death, for she would needs climb a nut tree to gather nuts; so, falling down, she hurt her thigh, which brought on a fever, and that fever brought death.

She was born in 1466, died in 1625; making her 159."

DAILY

PORTSMOUTH:
THURSDAY, JUNE 9, 1853.

THE ANTI-BIBLE CONVENTION.

We have already mentioned this convention as in session at Hartford, to consider the authenticity and authority of the bible.

The Providence Journal says, "few but the disbelievers in the sacred writings appear to be present, and the meeting attracts no attention from others. Andrew Jackson Davis, who claims inspiration for himself, but denies it to the bible, is the leader. It may at least be said that the inspiration of both is inconsistent, but we think that owing to prejudices of education, influence and authority, the bible will be likely to carry the day against him in old Connecticut."

We have read the proceedings, as reported in the New York Herald, and they present a strange mass of fact and fiction, thought and folly.

We have also read several abridged reports or abstracts, in other papers, most of which do the speakers injustice, and nearly every one of them would leave on the reader the impression that all the speeches were against the bible, whereas there were some able remarks in its favor, and many questions were put to its opponents, which they did not, and we suppose could not, answer. On Saturday the convention occupied its time in a discussion with some Second Adventists or Millerites, who proposed to offset the wisdom of their doctrines against the sanity and soundness of the Anti-Bible men. The two could not agree, for neither of them could understand the other.

Wm. L. Garrison and A. J. Davis made speeches on Friday and Saturday, which are reported in the New York Herald,—as we suppose nearly correct, but every other account of them that we have seen, is evidently erroneous. Mr. Garrison's notions of inspiration, are nearly identical with those of the Hicksite Quakers.

Finally the telegraph tells us, that the convention adjourned on Sunday night, "in a row," at about 11 o'clock, the Chairman announcing that they should meet again before a great while, in some other part of New England. None of the various resolutions introduced were passed. The telegraph does not tell us who made the row: they were probably none of those who called the meeting.

We regard such an assemblage, for such a purpose, as utterly futile. But now that it has been held, and that the New York Herald, and we believe the Tribune also, has reported such speeches as those of Garrison and Davis, so plain, so popular in their style, and sent them by thousands through the land,—we wish two or three clergymen of different denominations, would each put forth a reasonable answer to their statements and arguments, in a popular style, and within the limits of a column.—There are many volumes on the subject, we know—but nine-tenths of all the readers never saw them,—and most of them are in no sense popular. There is need of a very brief but plain definition of the Inspiration of the Scriptures, and a plain but workmanlike defence of it. Most clergymen and religious people are not aware of the extent to which skeptical views prevail on this subject. The former treatises on verbal and plenary inspiration have been comparatively laid aside, because agreement in them has not been perfect among those ministers who agreed in many other respects—and as a general statement, nothing has sprung up to fill their place. In the mean time, skeptics of all sorts have been busy.

What we want now is to see some popular definitions and defences of biblical inspiration, from Pres. Lord, Prof. Park, Noyes of Cambridge, Wainwright and Wayland, Chapin and Beecher.

Newspaper sneers at infidels on one side, and adventists on the other, can settle no question on a subject like this, especially when they come from men who have never given the matter a serious thought. The infidel is busy giving reasons why he does not believe in inspiration; the able christian ought to be no less busy in giving his reasons why he does believe it.

☞ The publishers of the Essex County Freeman, at Salem, Mass., will issue a Weekly Paper in connection with the Semi-Weekly on the 15th inst. The paper is to be called the Massachusetts Freeman, and will advocate the cause of Anti-Slavery and Free Democracy.

PRINTERS ON THE WAVE.—Several of the compositors attached to the Boston Journal office have purchased the trim little schooner, "Sea Breeze," and started on a grand fishing excursion of some weeks. They are doubtless sufficiently expert at the lead and line business to make a "phat" job of it, and we hope they will return with their "cases" in excellent condition.—Transcript.

We hope they may show a "clean proof" of their success, which by a strange contradiction, must result from a great number of "bites."

CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR.

A third correspondent from Concord, in reviewing "Suncook" and "*," in their letters about candidates for Governor, suggests the propriety of our republishing that paragraph in which Suncook eulogizes Mr. B.

We think it not worth while to do so,—but only to say that our correspondent expressed his own views, without Mr. Baker's knowledge or consent,—and moreover that Suncook is no pot-house politician. He knows Col. Baker well; but has no idea that he or his friends wish to do other candidates injustice. His impression that Mr. B. stood the best chance, is mere matter of opinion, about which we know nothing.

We know Dr. Prescott, esteem him highly, and doubt not he would administer fairly as Governor—but we suffer Suncook and * to state their own opinions in their own way, without undertaking to adopt them.

MARRIAGE CUSTOMS.—The present fashion, at marriages, is to have "heaps" of bridesmaids. Lady Edith Hastings, who was married last week to Fred Clifton, had eleven bridesmaids, all attired in white muslin dresses over pink silk, with pink silk bonnets trimmed with white lilac. Each had a boquet, ornamented with pink ribbons. The bride wore a dress of Honiton lace over poult de soie, a wreath of orange flowers on her head, and a Honiton lace veil over her shoulders.

In England, except in very rare instances, all marriages take place in church, between the hours of 8 in the morning and 12 at noon. —Correspondence of N. Y. Messenger.

PROPERTY OF MARRIED WOMEN.—At the recent session of the Maryland Legislature a law was passed in accordance with the requirements of the new constitution, securing all the property belonging to a woman at the time of her marriage, together with all subsequently acquired, to her after marriage, it not being liable for the debts of her husband, unless it has been transferred to her in prejudice of the rights of his creditors.

The Elmira Republican says that Hon. Daniel S. Dickinson, who had been attending Court there for some days, was sounded as to his feelings towards the General Administration by a presumptuous individual, who came to the point as follows:

"Well, Senator, where do you stand now-a-days in the political field?"

"Why, sir, I stand as I always have stood—on the reliable platform of National Democracy."

"You support the Administration of Gen. Pierce, don't you?"

"Yes, sir—as well as he does himself."

PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE.—"Rashe" is the familiar nickname of a Vermont bar-keeper, well known for his "jolly red face" and Bardolphian nose—a countenance befitting his vocation, and indicating that he did not despise it. Several years ago, and soon after the "anti-license law" came into force in the Green Mountain State, a traveller called in and asked for a glass of brandy. "Don't keep it," said "Rashe"—forbidden by law to sell liquor of any kind." "The —— you are!" said the stranger, incredulously. The bar-keeper repeated his declaration that "the house didn't keep it." "Then bring on your own bottle," said the traveller, with decision. "You needn't pretend to me that you keep that face of yours in repair on water!"—"Rashe" laughed heartily, and brought on "the critter."—Boston Post.

The editor of the New York Weekly Messenger attributes the origin of the first families in Virginia to one hundred idle and dissolute persons sent out by the King of England in 1620, to colonize the country. We would not give much for the chance of a return of that editor it he should ever visit Virginia. What with "coffee and pistols for two" he would have quite as much as he could attend to.—Boston Chronicle.

THE CROPS.—The Rochester American of Saturday, says: "On the whole, the fields and farms of Western New York present to the eye of the husbandman, a spectacle of rich promise and beauty, such as can nowhere be excelled."

NEW HAMPSHIRE RAILROADS.—By a summary appended to Gov. Martin's recent message it appears that the total length of railroads in New Hampshire is 624 3-4 miles; cost $18,346,086 64; receipts last year $1,768,455 98; expenses $949,567 54; net income $818,888 44.

Washington territory is rapidly filling up with emigrants. There are fifteen saw-mills in operation in the Territory, besides several others in contemplation. A large number of persons are engaged in the lumber business, which has increased very greatly.—Portland Adv.

The Southern Convention reassembled at Memphis 6th inst., and Mr. Dawson of Georgia, was re-elected President. Twenty Vice Presidents from ten Southern States were chosen. One thousand delegates were present. —Boston Courier.

The Concord Reporter understands that an attempt will be made during the present session of our Legislature, to unite, by an act of the Legislature, the Concord and the Manchester and Lawrence Railroads.

METHODISM IN THE WORLD.—The statistics of all the various branches of Methodism in Europe and America show a total 10,400 travelling and 33,000 local preachers, who minister to 2,036,162 communicants.

Rev. A. Wolliscroft, a member of the Rock River Conference, Illinois, came to his death by taking a portion of arsenic, under the supposition that it was magnesia.

U. S. ARMY.—Company E, under the command of Major Thomas W. Sherman, now at Fort Adams, (Newport,) has been ordered to Fort Snelling.

LOCAL.

FOURTH OF JULY.

The result of the meeting of the Industrial Committee, last evening, was most encouraging, and all will, without doubt, take hold in due season. Messrs. Thomas Norton, Marcellus Bufford and Frank W. Miller were appointed a generel Supervisory Committee to report progress to the several Committees, at their next meeting, on Wednesday evening next. The only thing, now necessary is, that each will strive to ontdo the other, to make such a display as was never before seen in this city.

A meeting was also held last evening to make arrangements for a Fantastic Display on the morning of the 4th of July. A good number attended, all of whom manifestnd a desire for such an exhibition, and a willingto do the thing in the most ridiculous manner. A committee was appointed to manage the matter.

THE SIAMESE TWINS.—Messrs. Chang and Eng, the "dual gentlemen" as Mrs. Partington calls them, are to visit Portsmouth on Monday of next week, and will hold their levees for one day only at Rechabite Hall. They will be accompanied by two of their children, and cannot fail to attract a great number of visitors.

☞ In Dover, an individual named Jonathan Littlefield, in the employ of B. F. Preble, being tired of life (it is supposed) drowned himself on Friday last. His body was recovered Sunday morning, and buried in the afternoon. His parents live in Conway, N. H.

He was of an eccentric turn of mind, having never in the course of three months spoken more than four or five times.

☞ The Gas works at Dover are rapidly progressing. The pipes for the Factories are being put in. The Directors are in hopes to furnish gas for the people by September.

Robert Means, Esq., of Exeter, has been appointed Inspector in the Boston Custom House.

Abridged from Daily Patriot.

N. H. General Court—June Session.

Tuesday, June 7.

In the Senate nothing of importance was done. The Governor's Message was parcelled out and referred to appropriate committees.

HOUSE.—The following petitions were introduced and referred to the committees on those subjects:

By Mr. Dow of Hampton, of Phineas Clough and others, for a law to regulate the rate of speed on railroads, so that the maximum speed should be fifteen miles an hour.

By Mr. Cheney of Peterboro', of Albert Smith and others, for an act requiring that teachers of public schools be examined in the elements of Physiology and Hygeine, and that they be a common school study whenever school committees shall deem it expedient.

By Mr. Richard Walden of Portsmouth, of Isaac F. Nelson and others of Portsmouth, for an amendment of the city charter in respect to the provisions concerning choice of Mayor.

Notice was given by Mr. Perry of Exeter, of his intention to introduce a bill to incorporate the Exeter Gas Light Company.

In the Afternoon.—The account of James Ayers, Commissary General, presented by Mr. Miller of Portsmouth, was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. Hewes of Swanzey gave notice that at a future time he would ask leave to introduce a bill to prohibit the manufacture of intoxicating beverages, and the traffic therein.

A large part of the afternoon was spent in the discussion of the Washington election case—involving the right of the member from the town of Washington to his seat.

By a telegraph despatch to the Boston Journal, we learn that on Wednesday the following officers were elected:—John L. Hadley, of Weare, Secretary of State; Walter Harriman, of Warner, State Treasurer; Wm. Butterfield, State Printer.

THE LATE PHILADELPHIA TROT.—The following account of the late great trot in Philadelphia, is from the Sun. Mac has heretofore beaten Tacony in harness. This time they went under the saddle. It is understood that Tacony's forte is under the saddle, while Mac does best in harness. The Sun says:—

The great trot under the saddle, best three in five, single miles, between Tacony and Mac, came off on Thursday, at the Hunting Park Course. Tacony was backed by William Woodruff, and Mac by James Ward. At the first heat, two false starts were made; at the third they went off, and Tacony won the heat in 2 25 1-2, as follows: 1st quarter, 36; 2d quarter, 41 1-2: 3d quarter, 47 1-2.—Mac broke twice in the heat. Second heat—the start was made beautifully at the first attempt, and time as follows: the mile in 2 25 1-2. Mac made a bad break on the first quarter, and another on the third. Tacony could have easily made at 2 24 1-2 time, had not Woodruff held him up, seeing a wide gap between him and his adversary. Third heat —Mr. Conchlin, the owner of Mac, announced that he withdrew him. The time of Tacony's is the fastest on record, and shows him to be the best trotter under the saddle known to the turf.

☞ The new charter of the City of New York, was adopted on Tuesday, by a majority of about 15,000.

MELANCHOLY DEATH.—A lad, about 15 years of age, son of Mr. Abram Tappan, of Lawrence, formerly of this city, employed in the printing office of Mr. E. D. Green, in this city, left here in the Bradford train, of Saturday week, for his father's residence in Lawrence, on account of being slightly unwell.—Nothing was heard of him for several days, Mr. Green supposing that he was safe with his father in Lawrence, and his father supposing he was here at work. It appears that he was taken insane in the cars, and instead of getting out at Lawrence, proceeded on to Boston, in the streets of which city, he was found about 11 o'clock, on Saturday night, by the watchmen, speechless and supposed by them to be deaf and dumb. He was carried to the House of Industry, at South Boston, and on Thursday night, revived sufficiently to tell the name and residence of his father, who was immediately informed of his situation, and proceeded to Boston. He remained in nearly the same condition, not being conscious where he was and supposing all the time that he was still at his boarding house in Newburyport, until he died on Monday morning last. —Newburyport Herald.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.
ARRIVAL OF THE EL DORADO.
NEW YORK, June 8.

The steamship El Dorado, from Aspinwall, May 31st, with dates from San Francisco to May 7th, and Panama to the 20th, arrived this morning.

The El Dorado brought the mails, passsengers, and treasure, $700,000,—brought down by the steamer Panama, which left San Francisco on the 7th ult.

Two men named Brophey and Scottey, were arrested on the 6th, charged with two attempts to blow up the steamer Sierra Nevada. The accused were sick men on board the steamer, and the attempts were made on the trip between Panama and San Francisco.

A destructive fire occurred at San Francisco on the evening of the 4th, destroying the Bassette House and several adjoining buildings. Loss $125,000. Several inmates of the Bassette House are believed to have perished, one of them a Mr. Hubbard from Ohio. The buildings were on Bush and Sansome streets. Fifteen or twenty buildings were destroyed.

The Launceston (Van Dieman's Land) Examiner contains an article denying the current report that the parole of O'Donohoe, as well as the paroles of McManus and Meagher, were already regarded as nullities even by the government.

The old legislative hall at San Jose, used as the County Record Office, was burnt on the morning of the 6th. Records saved; supposed to have been caused by incendiarism.

The news from the mining districts is satisfactory. There is no falling off in the yield of gold. The weather was favorable for agricultural purposes, and an extraordinary yield was anticipated.

MARKETS.—San Francisco, May 5.—The business of the week opened favorably, but declined at the close. Imports continue large—seven clippers having arrived during the week from Atlantic ports.

ADDITIONAL FOREIGN ITEMS BY THE CANADA.

TURKEY.—Reschid Pasha, the able anti-Russian statesman, is appointed Minister of Foreign Affairs.

GREECE.—It is reported that the American ship of war Cumberland, with Mr Marsh on board, had demanded an explanation and 300,000 drachmas from Greece, for the illegal imprisonment of Mr. King at Athens.

CHINA, April 11th.—The American, French and English ships of war on the coast of China, have, on the urgent requisition of the Chinese authorities, consented to guard Nankin, Shanghae, and the mouths of the great Canal, against the rebels.

The Times says "it is rather a suspicious circumstance that just now, when their very smart missionaries have given the Americans more intelligence of the nature and progress of the rebellion than our British Representatives and merchants were ever likely to do, that they have in those waters the largest armament ever seen in the East under their flag. What if the array apparently intended for the chastisement of Japan and the opening of Jeddo, should really have another object, to hold the balance of Chinese parties, and to slip in at the right moment and grasp the prize?" The Times adds: "The possession of an India would break up the Federal Union as surely and immediately as the conquest of Europe destroyed the old Constitution of Rome."

Among the passengers we notice Sir Charles Lyell, and Mr. Joseph Whitworth, Commissioners from Great Britain to the New York Exhibition.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—John Hunneman, an apprentice in the employ of Messrs. Brown & Lovell in East Boston, was very badly scalded on Saturday. He was ascending the side of a ship with a bucket of hot pitch in his hand, when one of the belts that held the steps gave way, letting him fall backwards, and pouring the hot pitch all over his head, breast and arms, scalding him in a dreadful manner. On removing his clothes, a portion of the skin and flesh came off with them. His head and face were completely covered, so that it was a long time before his eyes were opened. There were two men behind him on the steps, but they escaped without serious injury.

FATAL FALL.—In New York, on Wednesday evening, a man of respectable appearance, while passing through Orange street, where new buildings were about to be erected, fell into an area and broke his neck. The coroner's jury found that he was killed by the carelessness of those who left open this pit for travelers, and recommended to the city authorities that they should make better guards in such cases hereafter. The body of the unfortunate man was not identified.

FIRE IN THE WOODS.—A fire broke out on Monday at about 11 o'clock, in the woods about 12 miles from Plymouth, Mass., and continued burning during the whole of yesterday and last night, laying waste an immense amount of woodland, and at the time the train left Plymouth yesterday morning (8 o'clock) the fire had approached within four miles of the town, causing serious apprehensions to the inhabitants.—Boston Times.

The Catholic Bishop of Montreal announces that he will not go to Europe this summer as he had proposed, but will visit every part of his diocese instead, and having just succeeded in eradicating drunkenness among his flock, will next undertake a like eradication of profanity.

We learn from the Ellsworth Freeman that the fleet of Magdalene fishermen from Mount Desert and Cranberry Isles, have just returned home with very successful fares of fine large herrings, amounting in the aggregate quantity to about 30,000 boxes, that are now being put in the smoke house for curing.

The editor of the Journal of Commerce has conversed with a Southern planter from the northern part of Georgia, who has come on to New York to engage men to work on his plantation. He thinks that white labor can be performed more economically than that of hired slaves.

The Ocean House,

ON RYE BEACH.

THIS popular Watering Place has been enlarged by an addition of seventy rooms, which are richly furnished. The Ladies' Parlor and Gents' Reading Room are very large, and provided with fires; a number of the chambers have also been fitted for using fire, which is often needed at this place. A Cook house has been built, detached from the hotel, to prevent any disagreeable odor from reaching the main building. The beautiful Cottage opposite has been purchased, and will be used in connection with the hotel. The grounds and bathing accommodations have been much improved, and all other improvements made that are usually found in a first-class hotel. This beautiful watering place has always had the patronage of the most respectable class throughout the United States and the Canadas; and no expense or pains will be spared, not only to sustain the high reputation it now has, but also to improve it.—The charges will be regulated by the rooms occupied, and as low as any other house of the same class. A splendid and safe Sail Boat will at all times be in readiness for sailing and fishing. Arrangements have been made to supply the Stable with first-class horses and carriages.

Persons wishing to visit this place, and taking the Eastern Railroad at Boston, will stop at the Greenland depot, where the Ocean House Coach will be in waiting. Persons taking the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad, will stop at the upper depot in Greenland; thence by carriage to the house. The house will be opened on the 15th of June. Letters directed to Job Jenness, Ocean House, Rye Beach, at the Greenland Depot Post Office, will meet with prompt attention.

Self-heating Smoothing Iron.

THIS invention is rarely equalled for economy, convenience and comfort. One cent's worth of dry hard coal is ample fuel for a day's ironing; avoids exhausting heat and the changing of irons; gives a better finish, facilitates the work, and never sullies the linen. Its complete success warrants the prediction that it will soon be found in every family. S. JEWETT, St. Johnsbury, Vt., Agent of the patentees in Maine, N. H., and Vt.

From the New York Observer.—"Since noticing this ingenious invention, we have seen it fairly tried. It works admirably. It will prove a great convenience to housekeepers, in the saving of fuel and heat as well as of time and labor."

MARRIAGE,

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him in the sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—a healthy body, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

A New, Delicious Temperance Beverage.
AMBROSIAL MEAD!

THIS excellent Compound is prepared from the best SPANISH SARSAPARILLA, without its dark, repulsive appearance, being beautifully transparent and entirely free from all impurities. Its qualities as a beverage, a single trial will give it a pre-eminence over all other preparations by its freedom from noxious ingredients, agreeableness of flavor, and its exceeding cheapness, one bottle being sufficient to make thirty glasses of the beverage.
CAUTION!—The proprietors of this excellent preparation have spared no expense to bring it to perfection and would caution purchasers to buy none without the fac simile of Wilson, Fairbank & Co. on every bottle.

DR. HAMPTON'S
VEGETABLE TINCTURE!
The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as
Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial &
Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,
With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.
As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.
Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.
We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:
From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.
MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.
I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Duncan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

HOW I FELL IN LOVE AND WHAT CAME OF IT.

BY PAUL PERIWINKLE.

The first time I saw Mrs. Periwinkle, was when she was "sweet sixteen." It was at a party my sister gave to her schoolmates, and Amelia Ann, for that was the dear creature's name, was the divinity of the evening. She wore a blue dress—I shall never forget that dress—which was cut low on the neck, showing a pair of the whitest, roundest and most polished shoulders in the world; and she had long, golden ringlets, that flowed down her back; in short, I thought I had never seen any thing half so angelic.

Perhaps she was as much impressed by my appearance; she has often since told me she was; for she allowed me to dance with her almost every set; said "yes" to every thing I proposed; and drank a glass of champaigne at supper, at my urgent request, though insisting that she had never done such a wicked thing in her life before. When Henry Hanson spoke to her, and asked her to eat a philopena with him, I felt as if I could have knocked him down. Dear creature, I heard her afterward refuse to let him see her home, and shall never forget how chop-fallen he looked, when she said, with a toss of her head, "no, thank you, I'm engaged."

It was I that escorted her to her father's door, and when she asked me in, I didn't know, for a minute, whether I stood on my head or feet. But I declined, pleading the late hour. On my way home, I whistled, sung, and occasionally danced; never had I felt so happy; it seemed as if I could almost fly. "Oh! Amelia Ann," I kept repeating, thinking what a pretty name it was; and then I would break out into "Zip Coon," or perhaps "Dan Tucker," till at last a watchman tapping me on the shoulder, told me not to "cut them shines," or he'd take me up for being tipsy. Frightened half out of my wits, I gave him a dollar, and had the satisfaction of hearing him growl out, in return, that he saw I was a gentleman, "which saved my bacon."

I reached home, and began to undress, but had to stop, with a stocking half way off, to try and recall how Amelia Ann had looked. I shut my eyes, and leaned back dreamingly in my chair, to call up satisfactorily the image of her plump shoulders and white arm. It was a bitter cold night, but in spite of it I paused in turning down the sheets, and when one foot was already raised to get into bed, for it suddenly struck me that Amelia Ann was thinking of me at that very moment; yes, sitting abstractedly before her chamber fire, all in virgin white, blushing and ruminating. "Ah! dear Amelia Ann," I ejaculated, clasping the air, and dropping the coverlid; and in that ecstacy I stood till the cold bit me like a pair of nippers in ten thousand places at once; and then I popped into bed, and curling up like a whip-lash, repeated "lovely Amelia Ann," till falling asleep, I dreamed of her all night.

I called three times that week to see her. She played on the piano divinely, and sang like a St. Cecilia. Her "Last Rose of Summer," was enchanting—better than Jenny Lind's, I thought. I have never forgiven her two boisterous brothers, who used to talk aloud while she sang, and who, even when silent, never listened to her. The rude boors!

The second week I knew Amelia Ann, I spent every evening but one with her; and then she had a headache and could see nobody. How I walked up and down, on the other side of the way, looking up at the window which I knew to be hers, and where a light was burning! Once or twice a shadow was reflected on the curtain; and that was almost as good as seeing her. "Dearest Amelia Ann," I said, "if I could only have your headache for you."

The next Sunday I proposed. Every body but we two had gone to church, and we remained at home to read "Lallah Rookh." I can still point out the exact spot, on the back parlor sofa, where she sat when she promised to be mine.

We have been married five years, but, some how or other, she don't care for dress any more; and, as for poetry, she declares its "trash." Her hair is worn plain, and often looks frowsy; but she says its impossible, with all her family, to be fixing it forever. In truth, our three darlings occupy so much of her attention that she has time for nothing. She never opens the piano; "she does not know the new pieces," she says, "and is tired of the old ones." She often tells me it is a wonder she looks as well as she does, considering the troubles of housekeeping, especially the perversity of children and the difficulty of keeping servants. Her cares, she declares, "are wearing out her life," so that I consider it a miracle she survives at all. It is true I endeavor to lighten the load for her by nursing the baby all the evening, and getting up, at night, to carry it if it cries. I allow her, too, unlimited credit at the milliners; for she vows she could not be happy without four new bonnets a year.

I used to think, before we were married, that she lived on air, perhaps like a chameleon, or without eating. But she has an excellent appetite now. If it wasn't for that, she says, she would long since have sunk under her troubles. She was very fond of porter, till she joined the temperance society, since which time she has found great benefit in drinking the strongest black tea. She has certain dishes which are quite favorites with her, for it was but yesterday she said: "Be sure you come to dinner, love, for we are going to have what I like above all things, beefsteak smothered in onions."

And thus I fell in love with a blue dress and white shoulders, that beefsteak and onions might come of it.

Good Mr. Editor, do all sentimental young ladies turn out slovens?

PORTSMOUTH:
FRIDAY, JUNE 10, 1853.

THE SOUTHERN CONVENTION.

This body, in its session at Memphis, Tennessee, has brought out some valuable measures, of which we mention a few, which were moved and discussed on the 7th and 8th inst.

The resolution of the committee recommending the improvement of the Mississippi, &c., was almost unanimously adopted. The committee reported in favor of the speedy improvement of the navigation, and deepening the mouth of the Mississippi, and the harbors of Charleston, Mobile and Richmond.

Mr. Merrill offered a resolution providing for a more general and liberal educational system among the Southern and Western States.

Mr. Kaiser moved the establishment of a bureau of statistics among the several Southern and Western States.

Judge Moore, of Arkansas, offered a resolution relative to the construction of a Railroad from the Mississippi to the Pacific, as a practical means of permitting the Southern and Western States to share in the commerce of the Pacific, and declaring that Congress has the power to grant lands to aid such road.—Referred to a committee.

Bishop Otey offered resolutions relative to the free navigation of the Amazon river.

Here we have Education, Rivers and Harbors, Railroads, Statistics, Trade. All these objects are well worthy the attention of the convention; and their efforts to promote them deserve encouragement.

FRACTIONAL BILLS.

A few of these, from Rhode Island Banks, have made their appearance in this city, and a very few pieces of the newly coined change.

The fractional bills are illegal currency, and the banks cannot take them, not only because of the law, but also because of the trouble of counting; but they are very convenient; and no reason ever has been or ever can be given against them, which will not as readily apply to all bank bills whatsoever.

There is a new law against such bills in Massachusetts—but the Boston Daily Advertiser points out a flaw in it, which appears as if it did not forbid, but commands the circulation of the bills for 1.25, 1.50, &c.

We quote the section in full: it is obvious that the words and no should be substituted for or any in the second line, to make the section read correctly:

"SECT. 2.—No bank note or bill for any fractional part of a dollar, or any bank note or bill, any part of which is or shall be for a fractional part of a dollar, shall be received or put in circulation within this Commonwealth as currency; and, any and every person who shall receive or put in circulation as currency any such note or bill, shall forfeit and pay the sum of twenty-five dollars for each and every such reception, or putting in circulation, to be recovered as aforesaid, one half to the use of the complainant and the other half to the use of the Commonwealth."

The literal construction of the text would be that bills wholly fractional [such as 50 cts., 75 cts.] must not be circulated; but bills a part of which is for a fractional amount [such as $1.50, $1.75] must be circulated—under penalties, &c.

This case resembles that famous clause in the Federal Constitution which provides that "No person escaping from service—shall be free, but [no person] shall be given up, &c."

CAPT. RYNDERS AND ROSE PORTER.

New York Telegraphic despatches of the 8th, states that on Tuesday, an attempt was made to bring the coloured girl, Trainer, before Judge Barculo, at Brooklyn, on a writ of habeas corpus. While the child was at Mr. Brady's office in charge of a Deputy Sheriff of Brooklyn, the office was surrounded by a party of the Empire club, headed by Isaiah Rynders, and the child taken away. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of Rynders, Miss Cooper, alias Mrs. Porter, and Cromley, a New York Deputy Sheriff.

The New York Herald of the 8th, however, tells the story differently. It says, that at a particular "juncture Hegeman's authority was revoked, and Cromley, having obtained possession of the warrant, refused to act. And in consequence of these things, an application was made for an attachment against Captain Rynders, Mrs. Cooper and Deputy Sheriff Cromley, for contempt of court, in opposing the execution of the process. Judge Barculo immediately granted this order and attachments were accordingly issued."

If this is correctly stated, one more warrant ought to be issued, viz. against the sheriff of New York, for collusion with Rynders and Rose Cooper.

OLD NEWS.—The Freeman's Journal contains an additional list of "recent converts" to the Roman faith, among which we read the name of our old friend, "Capt. D. D. Baker, U. S. Marine Corps." This conversion, however, is not a very recent affair,—as he has been a zealous Catholic ever since we knew him—more than a dozen years, certainly.

LOCAL.

City Council—June 9.

In Board of Aldermen, the ordinance relating to appropriations was taken up to consider the amendments proposed by the Council. Voted to adhere to the appropriation of $500 for the celebration of Independence, and $1500 for the Brick Market, and to concur in the amendment striking out the appropriation for a flag staff.

The Resolution relating to the 4th of July, passed by the Council at its last meeting, and sent up for concurrence, was read and laid on the table.

A communication from members of Engine No. 4, asking for the appointment of 20 additional firemen, was received, and the petitioners had leave to withdraw.

A petition of the Portsmouth Steam Co. for a sidewalk in Islington street was granted.

The petitions of Capt. Marcy and John J. Pickering, for sidewalks, were referred.

A resolution giving $6 to the Stewards of Engines, was taken up and referred to the Engineers.

The Committee on Gas Lights made a report concerning a light on Market Square—laid on the table.

Notice was received from the Council, that they recede from their amendment of the appropriation for the 4th of July, and adhere to their amendment striking out the appropriation for the Brick Market.

On motion, voted that the Aldermen recede from their vote of non-concurrence, and the amendment striking out that item was adopted.

In Common Council, a petition was received requesting the City to purchase a new fire engine—referred.

It was resolved, that a committee of three members from the Common Council to be joined by two from the Board of Aldermen, be appointed to make suitable arrangements for celebrating the Fourth of July, and to appropriate such sums as may be voted for that purpose. Messrs. Claggett, L. M. Laighton and Rand were appointed.

A proposition for opening barbers' shops on Sunday, was considered and laid on the table.

A communication was received from the Board of Aldermen, stating that they concurred in the amendment to the Appropriation bill, which strikes out the flag staff, and non-concurred in the others.

Whereupon it was voted that the Council will not insist upon the amendment increasing the appropriation for the 4th July—but do insist on that relating to the Brick Market.

It was voted to invite the Aldermen to meet in Convention next Thursday evening and confirm the election of I. Bartlett Clagget, Esq. as City Agent.

An Ordinance was introduced, allowing barbers to keep open their shops till 9 1-2 o'clock, A. M. on the Sabbath—referred to committee on bills on their 2d reading.

A message was received from the Aldermen giving notice that they had receded from their vote of non-concurrence in striking out the appropriation for the market.

The Ordinance for Appropriations ($40,689.99) then finally passed.

THE CELEBRATION.

The meeting at the Common Council room on Wednesday evening, showed conclusively that there is interest in all quarters sufficient to warrant a full turnout on the 4th of July. But it was also evident that the forces need organization, and that immediately. But three weeks intervene between this and the glorious occasion we celebrate—and there is no time to waste. The various Committees already chosen, are expected to proceed at once with their preparations—securing the full co-operation of their respective fellow-craftsmen, and arranging the work to be done in the several departments. The general Committee appointed at the last meeting for the purpose, will then be able to report something accomplished, at the next meeting; and the Standing Committee of Arrangements be chosen, who will if so ordered, appoint the Marshals, &c. Let every sub-committee at once set about their duty, and be able to render early report—let those "of a trade" who are so disposed, pull together; and those who "can never agree," each do what seemeth him good.

At the request of the various committees named, the following gentlemen were added members:

To the Bricklayers—Samuel Reynolds.
Butchers—Fred'k Rowe, Joseph Holmes.
Tinmen—Nathan Jones, Ezra A. Stevens.
Expressmen—Jackson & Co., Walker, Marden.
Stone Cutters—Kimball Brothers, Mr. Gove.

Favorable report was made by the Bricklayers, Blacksmiths, Cabinet-makers, Harness-makers, Watch-makers, Shoe-makers, Silver-smiths, House-wrights, Hosiery-weavers, Painters, Printers, Rope-makers, Ship-carpenters, Sail-makers, Tinmen, Draymen, Riggers, Ship-Joiners, and Farmers. Some of these having horses or oxen, may be prevented from appearing in their own department, by their animals being needed in another part of the procession.

The meeting adjourned to Wednesday evening next, at 8 o'clock—by which time plans should be arranged generally.

☞ Regrets have been expressed that the Floral Procession, usually our chief attraction, is to be omitted this year, in celebrating the 4th of July. A suggestion was made to the Committee, that the Industrial procession be varied by combining with it some of the beautiful emblems in the floral displays of former celebrations; in reply to which it was stated that there would be more floral decorations than usual on the arches, &c., and about the procession itself—and that of course all floral as well as other displays, will be given place in the Procession.

SUMMER DRINKS.—We acknowledge the receipt of one dozen bottles of the "True Ambrosial Mead, a new and delicious temperance beverage," from Wilson, Fairbank & Co., of Boston, through Jos. Haven Thacher of this city. If this article is as good as it says, and as it looks, it will find ready sale. It is got up in good style, and sold by———see adv.

We have also received a sample of Mr. Abbey's "celebrated Mead Syrup," a home-manufactured article—and all the better for that. We shall endeavor to keep cool, with these aids (not 'ades).

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION.

The Democratic State Convention of New Hampshire, met at Concord, on Thursday.—Hon. Edmund Burke, of Newport, was chosen President. After the usual preliminary business, the Convention proceeded to ballot for a Candidate for Governor, with the following result:

Whole number of votes	291
Necessary to a choice	146
Nathaniel B. Baker, of Concord,	173
Isaac Ross, of Hanover,	29
Israel Hunt, of Nashua,	27
Wm. P. Weeks, of Canaan,	19
Samuel Webster, of Barnstead,	11
Edmund Burke, of Newport,	6
Bela Nettleton, of Newport,	3
John L. Hadley, of Weare,	2
Wm. H. Duncan, of Hanover,	2
John S. Wells, of Exeter,	2
Dyer H. Sanborn, of Washington,	1
John Sullivan, of Exeter,	1
Wm. Duncan,	1
E. M. Burke,	1

So the Hon. NATHANIEL B. BAKER, of Concord, was declared to be the regularly nominated candidate of the Democratic party, for Governor.

Stephen W. Dearborn, Esq., of Exeter, was re-nominated as the candidate for Railroad Commissioner.

GENERAL COURT.—The House of Representatives, on Wednesday, settled the Washington election case, by declaring Dr. George H. Hubbard entitled to the seat, instead of David Farnsworth, 2d, the present incumbent. Mr. Emery, of Portsmauth, thought neither of them was entitled to the seat, as the names of both were differently written on the ballots. The vote on the question was 152 to 89—nearly a party vote.

The Senate have adopted a resolution to close on the 25th inst. The best thing the House can do, (says the Patriot) in our humble opinion, is to concur in the resolution at once, and then go to work in earnest and do up the business before them.

EXECUTIONS.—This day is fixed for the execution of Arthur Spring, at Philadelphia, for the murder of two women. He has made a written statement clearing his son from the charge of killing them, so far as he knows—but does not, himself, confess it,—though there is no doubt of his guilt.

To day, also, Thomas Neary and Patrick Fitzgerald are to be hung in New York, each for the murder of his wife, respectively. Both confess their crimes; and both were drunken murders.

NEW YORK CITY.—Every lover of order and decency must rejoice at the triumphant success of the proposed amendments to the charter, as voted upon on Tuesday. The friends of a reformation in the general detested system of management in the municipal affairs of our sister city, secured in their favor the vote of 36,472 against 3351—an enormous majority of 33,121 out of 39,823 ballots.—This is justly regarded as a magnificent triumph of justice and right.

The Gloucester Telegraph states that O. Augustus Merrill, an Abolitionist of the Garrison school, who was never known to act with the Democratic party, has been appointed Postmaster at Gloucester.

We do not know Mr. Merrill, nor anything about him; but an abolitionist of the Garrison school could not take the usual post office oaths, including the oath of allegiance. So far it must be a misstatement.

OUR CREED.—The New York Herald, editorially, in an article on "Our Religious Sects," speaks of "our religious belief," and "our creed." It would be gratifying to be informed exactly what the creed of that able newspaper is.

KIDNAPPERS ARRESTED.—A white woman named Boyd, and a colored man named Gilbert, were arrested at Cincinnati on Tuesday, on a charge of kidnapping a free colored girl named Henrietta Wood. The case excites a good deal of interest.

LATEST NEWS!

BY MAIL, EXPRESS & TELEGRAPH.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW YORK, June 9.

The steamer Prometheus from San Juan, May 31st, arrived at this port at a late hour last night, with upwards of 400 passengers and $300,000 on freight. She brings California dates of 16th May, brought down by the Sierra Nevada. The passengers crossed from ocean to ocean in 30 hours.

A few moments before the Sierra Nevada left San Juan, a terrible altercation occurred at an election of an alderman; several persons were shot, and others severely cut with bowie knives.

Ship Tinqua arrived at Honolulu April 15.

The commander of the French fleet in Oceanica, has received the title of Governor of the Marquesas Islands, which is looked upon in those regions, as the forerunner of annexation.

Markets, May 15.—The week closes dull.—Flour slightly declined. Haxall, uninspected, $10.25; mixed brands 8.62 a $9. Provisions extremely dull. Mess Pork offered at 22.50. No sales. Lard, 16 1-2c. Mackerel improved. Codfish depressed.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Savannah, June 8.—A passenger car on the Macon and Western train, when going into Macon last night, was thrown off the track and down an embankment. The mail guard was killed, and five passengers severely injured.

CHINA.—The North China Herald publishes the proclamation of the two principal leaders of the insurgent army, which if correctly translated, prove conclusively, that the writer is a European or educated in the Christian faith. The proclamation refers to the authority of the Old Testament by name, and to the incarnation "in the laad of Judea," and declares that the same Great God (Shang-te) "compassionating the people" has divinely commissioned the said Yang and Seaou to redress their grievances by destroying the "Tartar fiend" Heenfung (the Emperor) and the "imps" who assist him in battle. In conclusion, they assert that it is impossible for the Tartar dynasty to withstand the decrees of Heaven, and designate their progress as a "march of benevolence." It seems probable (says the Newburyport Herald) that the names Yang and Seaou are assumed, the more perfectly to deceive the people into the belief that they were following veritable celestials.

THE MESILLA AFFAIR.—"Inspector" telegraphs to the Courier & Enquirer as follows:—

Washington, June 9.—General Wool has arrived here and laughs at the idea of any disturbance with Mexico on account of the Mesilla affair. The Secretary of War also attaches no importance to the martial speculations upon Lane's and Trias' movements. It is believed by those who are well informed on the subject, that Mr. Gadsden has been instrumental in commencing negotiations by offering an indemnity to Mexico for Mesilla, and to purchase an additional strip, taking in the whole Valley of the Gila.

Reported for the Chronicle.

CORONER'S VERDICT IN THE BERWICK STABBING CASE.

An inquest upon the body of Alexander L. Maxwell, recently killed at South Berwick, was held on Saturday last at that place.—Twenty-three witnesses were examined on that day, and several others on Monday. The Jury did not render a verdict till Wednesday. The following is a correct copy of the verdict, which we received from the reporter of the Saco Democrat, on Thursday.

An inquisition taken at Berwick, within and for the County of York and State of Maine, the seventh day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, before Granville C. Wallingford, Esquire, one of the coroners of said County, upon view of the body of Alexander Lewis Maxwell there lying dead, by the oaths of Oscar K. Grant, Joseph P. Foye, Dudley Goodwin, Thomas Jewett, William A. Young, and Wilson T. Fall, good and lawful men, who being charged were sworn to inquire for the State, when, how and by what means, the said Alexander Lewis Maxwell came to his death, upon their oaths say: That the said Alexander Lewis Maxwell died of a wound in the left side, between the fifth and sixth ribs, made by a dirk in the hand of one John Waters, of Rollinsford, in the County of Strafford and State of New Hampshire; and that the said John Waters, at said Berwick, on the first day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, feloniously, wilfully, and with malice aforethought, did kill and murder the said Alexander Lewis Maxwell with the said dirk, and that James Waters and Daniel Scannell were accessories to said murder.

In testimony whereof, the said coroner, and the jurors of this inquest, have hereunto set their hands and seals, this day and year above said.

They have caught Hugh Drum, that murdered his mother in Waukesha county, Wis. Just before Hugh's father died he directed his wife to purchase one half the "claim" they lived on for their son Hugh, and the rest for herself and the younger children. But instead of doing that, Hugh's mother purchased one half in her maiden name and the other half in her name of Drum, and afterwards conveyed one half to John Sullivan, and then married him. Hugh has been temperate and industrious, and had worked out four or five years to support himself and his sister, and his Irish countrymen either deny that he is the murderer or tacitly justify the act.

MAYOR ON A STRIKE.—Mr. Stubbs, Mayor of Norfolk, consents to again become a candidate, with the express understanding, however, that his salary must be raised to $2000. He quoted the price current of mayors in various cities, and very properly determines that he cannot disparage his own qualifications by taking less than the market rate.—Baltimore Republican.

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S FINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even unpretious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

From the New York Observer.—"Since noticing this ingenious invention, we have seen it fairly tried. It works admirably. It will prove a great convenience to housekeepers, in the saving of fuel and heat as well as of time and labor."

MARRIAGE,

Happiness and Competence,

WHY IS IT!

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of sorrow she might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the "indispensable necessity" of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother, need be uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

The following from the Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Courier, dated Monday evening, may serve to calm those who are afraid of another Mexican war:—

"General Wool has arrived here, and laughs at the idea of any disturbance with Mexico on account of the Mesilla affair. The secretary of war also attaches no importance to the martial speculations upon Lane's and Trias's movements. It is believed by those who are well informed on the subject, that Mr. Gadsden has been instructed to commence negotiations by offering an indemnity to Mexico for Mesilla, and to purchase an additional strip, taking in the whole valley of the Gila."

PHŒNIX-LIKE.—The North Bridgewater, Mass. Gazette states that a meeting has already been held at Campello, "to see about building a meeting house to take the place of the one recently destroyed by fire in that village. The prospect now is that three meeting houses will be erected in that town the present season."

READ! READ! READ!
DR. HAMPTON'S
VEGETABLE TINCTURE!
The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.
THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,
With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.
As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.
Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.
We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:
From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.
MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 28, 1852.
I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Duncan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.
JNO. H. T. JEROME.
A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.
U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.
Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.
Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.
The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of Dyspepsia.
I am respectfully yours,

THE FRONTIER INDIANS—SOMETHING TO THE POINT.—We have frequently suggested to the administration the policy of closing up the encroachments of our frontier Indians into the Mexican States, by the purchase of that margin of open country which lies south of the Gila, and which, under the Government of Mexico, has been laid waste and depopulated of its white inhabitants by the Apaches. The possession of this strip of territory by the United States and its settlement by our enterprising and warlike backwoodsmen and prairiemen, would form an impassable barrier to the wild Indians on the north side of the Gila, and would thus effectually cut off their murdering and plundering forays into the villages, towns and cities of Mexico. We are therefore gratified to learn that Gen. Gadsden, our new minister to Mexico, is in favor of the plan of quieting, not only the Mesilla valley dispute, by an indemnity to Mexico, but our frontier Indian disturbances, by the purchase of the aforesaid margin of open country south of the mountain labyrinth through which the Gila has cut its wild and rocky passage.

This is something to the point, and in the long run we do not know but that it would be cheaper, in convenient instalments, to buy the whole of Mexico, than to annex it through the expensive agencies of gunpowder and military glory, and pay for it afterwards. By the one process or the other, however, something must now be done. We must buy off Santa Anna or fight him. There is no other alternative.

The above article, from the New York Herald, reiterates our own ideas on the subject, as we have frequently expressed them. Annexation we look upon as inevitable. Let us have it with as little war and as little fraud as may be.

THE GARDINER CASE—ANOTHER SEARCH FOR THOSE MINES.—We are informed (says the N. Y. Herald) that Major Mordecai, of the Ordnance corps, and two other officers of the army, have been detailed to Mexico, to make another thorough search for the silver mines of Dr. George A. Gardner, for the suppression of which, on account of the Mexican war, his claim of nearly half a million was brought against, and paid by, the treasury of the United States. In the meantime, the jury having been discharged in the late trial of Dr. Gardiner for perjury, and another trial having been superseded by the other matters before the criminal court at Washington, we presume that the case of the said Gardner will be continued over to the September term. Before that time, Major Mordecai may, perhaps, find those mines. When he does, we shall expect to hear him. Let him be quick about it, or he may be cut short in his explorations by another war.

The Herald might have added, that the next war would make room for more speculations, more swindles, and more frauds;—wars are always fruitful of such things.

NO MORE BACHELOR'S REVERIES.—The Charlestown (S. S.) papers announce the marriage of Donald G. Mitchell, of Connecticut, ("Ik Marvel,") the author of the Reveries of a Bachelor, to Miss Mary F., daughter of William B. Pringle of Charleston,—Mr. Mitchell was a few days since appointed Consul to Venice by President Pierce.

Mr. Lyman, conductor on the New Haven and New London Railroad, has taken a through ticket for somewhere, in consequence of a little affair that happened on Sunday night, when a sporting gentleman named Thayer, caught him under Mrs. Thayer's bed in New Haven, and "punished him severely."

WOMAN WHIPPING BY A UNITED STATES ARMY OFFICER!—We had supposed that so disgusting, inhuman and brutal a relic of barbarism as the public flogging of women was practised only by the Haynaus of the old world; but the records of the proceedings of a court martial in the U. S. Army, recently convened in New Mexico, has undeceived us. It appears that Brevet Capt. George Sykes was recently tried on the charge of cropping the hair and publicly whipping two Mexican women, the sentence being executed by his guard. He pleaded not guilty. The court martial found him not guilty in one case, and in the other they found that the fact was proven, but they attached no criminality thereto, and honorably acquitted him! This decision was disapproved by Colonel Summer, who very properly administered a sharp rebuke to the court, and all others who would inflict unnatural punishment upon the helpless. We sincerely hope that there will be a more full and just investigation of this outrage, and that if the flogging is proved, the offender will be promptly dismissed from the army.—Boston Journal.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—Mr. Douglass K. Hawks of Claremont, was killed by lightning during the thunder shower of Monday evening last week. He had just come in from work, and was standing in the door of a shed with his hand raised and holding on the top of the door, when the shed was struck by lightning, which ran along the roof until it reached Mr. Hawks's hand, when it descended his arm and body to the ground, killing him instantly. No mark was left upon the body, and the building was but slightly damaged.—Mr. Hawks was 35 years of age, and leaves a family.—Greenfield Gazette.

A LARGE IMPORTATION OF GOLD.—One of the Boston papers of Wednesday announced the arrival of the Washington at New York from Bremen, with 643 tons of gold! on freight. The goods she brought will command gold undoubtedly, but hardly to such an extent.

For gold, read merchandise, and all will be right.

PROFESSOR STOWE.—Among the passengers by the Canada, at Boston, Monday, from Liverpool, was Professor Stowe, husband of Harriet Beecher Stowe.

CHRONICLES WANTED.

Five or six copies of the Daily Chronicle of Feb. 26, 1853, are wanted to complete files—for which a liberal price will be paid.

THE DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

A correspondent who is not a politician, in writing from Concord, in relation to the late Democratic State Convention, gives some interesting particulars connected with the presentation of the usual series of resolutions offered to the Convention by a Committee, of which Hon. Edmund Burke was Chairman. We publish the gist of his letter, as a matter of public interest, without committing our independence to either side of the discussion to which our correspondent alludes.

Mr. Burke, it seems, was President of the Convention, and also Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions. These were written in the clear and admirable style that distinguishes all this gentleman's productions, and their sentiments so well corresponded with old and acknowledged doctrines of Democracy, yearly reiterated at the Conventions, that they would have been received with hearty approval by the entire body, had not one particular resolution, brief, yet significant, surprised the congregated democracy into an awful silence, unrelieved by even so much as a heel-tap sound of approval. This resolution read as follows:

Resolved, That we encourage ourselves with the belief that our distinguished fellow citizen, now at the head of the government of the United States, will not in his appointments overlook the "Old Guard of the Democratic party," upon whom he must rely for successful support in all the emergencies which may arise in the progress of his administration.

This language roused up Hon. Samuel H. Ayer of Manchester, who moved to amend the series by striking out this resolution, and in support of his motion made a most scathing and eloquent speech. While disclaiming the idea that any member of the committee had been actuated by any other than a pure motive in presenting this resolution, so plainly implying that some of the President's appointments had been injudicious, he considered its effect as that of a covert attack upon the administration, and in no sparing terms denounced the resolution as most unnecessary and ill-timed. He requested any gentleman of the committee to point out wherein Gen. Pierce had by his official action deserved this implied attack from a Democratic Convention of New Hampshire. Who are the Old Guard so confidently recommended to the President's attention? Are any of them to be found in the Cabinet—any in the foreign or local appointments? Is Marcy a member, or does James Buchanan train in the ranks of the Old Guard?

Nearly all the principal home and foreign appointments have been made by the government; nothing but some two-penny post officers, Inspectors, and clerks, remain to be appointed. And yet in the dispensation of these offices we would insult Frank Pierce by advising him in fact to remember the "Old Guard."

Mr. Ayer vindicated the President in a handsome strain, and at his close was followed by several members of the committee, who disclaimed all intention of casting a slur on the administration by the resolution. All seemed unwilling to own the paternity of the bantling, probably because it was an illegitimate child, and the "Old Guard" was kicked out of the Convention in as great haste as though that honorable "military company" never had an existence, and a resolution was unanimously substituted, approving all of President Pierce's official acts.

The view of our correspondent upon this action is, that though at a popular Convention held for the purpose of obtaining the true current of public sentiment, the largest liberty of expression is necessary and allowable; still that the presentation of this resolution, from whatever source it originated, or by whatever feelings it was elicited, was most injudicious, at the present time, when honest men of all parties are waiting patiently that the policy of the administration may be developed by its acts, before they condemn it as a whole. But of this our correspondent, and every body else, must judge for themselves. We think that the country is still in a state of safety.

It has been further stated that a portion of the original resolution above referred to, was stricken out by the committee, as containing far too decided an attack upon the President to be read in the Convention, principally with reference to the appointment of Coalitionists to important offices.

A New York paper says it cost the city $14,000 to receive one distinguished stranger, and $2,700 not to receive another.

During May there were issued in New York city 2287 licenses to sell liquor.

NORTHERN RAILROADS.

On Friday, at Portland, the Atlantic & St. Lawrence Co. held a great meeting; to accept their improved Charter; to ratify the contract for a line of steamers from Liverpool to Portland; and to ratify the lease of their road to the Grand Trunk Railway Co. of Canada. All these votes were passed, no doubt, with unanimity and spirit, in the City which lent her credit to make the road, and in so doing, made herself rich, and will thus make herself great.

If our own City, or wealthy men among us, would use Capital or Credit, and build one or both the roads from this City to Dover and Great Falls, it would doubtless tend greatly to the increase of business, and consequent prosperity.

The Portland Advertiser, under the head of "Portland and Pacific Railroad," makes the following statement:

"Although our alliterative head may startle some of our conservative readers, it is known to some of us Maineacs that the parties who have taken in hand the Grand Trunk Line of Railroad in Canada, look eventually to its extension to the Pacific Ocean, and they have the means too at their command to build it there. The following item therefore, in relation to the reconnoisance of the northern route possesses an interest even to us in Portland; for we shall, sooner or later, we think, be one of the Atlantic outlets of the great Continental Railroad."

THE NORTH PACIFIC RAILROAD SURVEY.—The Chief Engineers of the expedition under Governor Stevens, have arrived at Minnesota, the starting-point of the proposed survey for a route to the Pacific, as we learn from the Democrat of that place, dated the 18th ult.

The general plan is to operate from St. Paul towards the great bend of the Missouri river, and thence on the table land between the tributaries of the Missouri and Saskatchawan to some eligible pass in the Rocky Mountains. The route will connect favorably with the waters of the Mississippi, Red River of the North, Missouri, and Columbia.

Mr. Landers, one of the engineers, has thus far made a reconnoisance of the route from St. Paul to Saulk Rapids, at which point the road will probably cross the Mississippi, and take a direct course for the great bend of the Missouri, and thence take the shortest practicable route to Puget's Sound. Mr. Lander is at present making a rapid reconnoisance of the country west of the Rapids along Saulk river.

The expedition will start upon the great work provided with everything essential to its success. One of the first objects to be accomplished is the opening of an emigrant route from St. Paul to the North Pacific.

The information gathered on the expedition will be presented to the country at the earliest time. The Government has issued instructions that, after the completion of the field examinations, the expedition will rendezvous at some point in the Territory of Washington, to prepare the usual reports, and send to Washington, at the earliest practical moment, a summary of the principal events of the expedition, and a railroad report to be laid before Congress on or before the first of February.

FISHERIES.—We would like to see more promptness in the present administration, in ordering a steamer and a cutter or two upon our fishing grounds. Don't let the "do-nothing policy" of the last, be an example for this. No time should be lost.

ACCIDENT TO GEN. SCOTT.—Gen. Scott stumbled against a flagging stone on Thursday evening in the fifth Avenue, New York, and fell headlong upon the pavement, injuring himself severely. It is said that one of his arms was broken.

DECLINING AN OFFICE.—Judge Smith of Bath, has declined the offer of an office in the Bath Custom House, offered him by collector Bodfish. The Judge says:

"As there are many democrats in this district who desire office, and who would make good officers, I cannot consent to be in their way to preferment. I therefore beg to decline the appointment."

We suppose the Judge prefers to "endure" the office he now has, and "fly from that he knows not of."—Portland Adv.

ALLEGED DEFALCATION.—A despatch from Washington dated June 9th, says:

An expected imposing development is the leading topic in political circles to-day. It is reported in high quarters that Secretary Corwin furnished a Mr. Minor, of Ohio, about a year ago, a transfer draft on New York for $100,000; the said Minor agreeing to deposit the funds in New Orleans within a specified time, which he failed to do. Mr. Minor was strongly recommended to the Secretary by a Bank or Insurance Company as a responsible and honorable man.

Minor's excuse for non-payment was the failure of the Institution in which he had deposited the money. Several letters passed between Mr. Corwin and the parties in Ohio; only $5000 has been recovered, and some government officer expresses the belief that the balance will be lost. This is the Democratic version; the other side will be heard in due time.

What is sauce for the goose should answer for the gander; but this is not always the case. A person in the Police court of Boston, the other day, plead his ignorance of a city ordinance. "All are presumed to know the law," said the judge sternly. "Mr. Clerk, what is the lowest penalty?—where's the ordinance?" And though "all are presumed to know the law," it took the court a half hour to find the ordinance and learn the penalty for the offence.—Newburyport Union.

A DELICATE and interesting female, a Lapland giantess, measuring seven feet two inches and weighing twenty five stone, is being exhibited at Aberdeen, Scotland.

LOCAL.

NAVAL.—Orders have been received at the Navy Yard, we understand, to commence work on the old ship of the line Franklin, which is to be razeed and repaired. Of course the first job will be that of tearing to pieces.—The work will be acceptable to the industrious, and welcome to the needy.

Orders have also been received to take on 60 men, to perform the necessary work.

PORTSMOUTH RALLY IN BOSTON.—The Boston Post of Friday talks in the following strain to the Portsmouth Boys in that village.

SONS OF PORTSMOUTH!—Read the notice in another column, calling upon you to meet this evening at Cochituate Hall, and go. Let Puddle Dock vie with Christian Shore, and Austin Pasture strike hands with Brimstone Hill; Long Lane unbend itself in brotherly meeting with Gravelly Ridge, and the North and South Mill Dams join to bless the season; let Creek Road run paralell with Liberty Bridge in feeling if not in geography, and Rock Pasture embrace fraternally with Little Harbor; let Noble's Island and Sagamore Creek, the lion and the lamb for natural beauty, walk up together, and Mason's Hill unite, livingly and lovingly, with Point of Graves, to give eclat and zest to the meeting. Fill up the hall with your enthusiastic numbers. It is expected that Fletcher Webster will preside, who is a native of Portsmouth. This party bids fair to be a very happy one. A real brotherly feeling lies at the foundation of it.

FREE DEMOCRATIC CELEBRATION.—We are informed by the Committee of Arrangements, that owing the the inability of Mr. Sumner to officiate as Orator on the 4th of July, they have taken the necessary steps to procure the services of another person. All other arrangements are made for the celebration. The remarks in the Journal are calculated to produce a wrong impression.

PASSENGERS.—The statement that Capt. Marcy landed 710 passengers at Boston is correct: but the story about such a lot of babies is not true. Capt. M. informs the Journal that through the excellent arrangement of the means of ventilation and the conveniences of the ship, general health prevailed among the large company—not one death nor scarcely any case of sickness occurred. But he lays no claim to any peculiar advantage on this score for bringing into port 11 more passengers than he took from Liverpool, as the papers are reporting. There was no increase on the voyage.

N. H. General Court—June Session.

The proceedings on Thursday, June 9, were not of great importance. In the House

Mr. Hewes of Swanzey, in terms of previous notice, by leave, introduced a bill to prohibit the manufacture of intoxicating liquors, and the traffic therein, which was laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Conner of Exeter, by leave, introduced a bill to incorporate the Swampscot Bank, which was read and referred to the committee on banks.

On motion of Mr. Merrill of Barnstead the House agreed to a resolution appropriating the sum of $25 for the payment of the mileage and per diem of the late sitting member for the town of Washington—David Farnsworth, 2d.

Both Houses adjourned early, to give the Democratic State Convention the use of the Representatives' Hall.

LEVEE.—On Wednesday evening, 8th inst., the ladies of the Seamen's Friend Society, of Concord, gave a Levee at the Depot Hall, in that city. The attendance was very large, the entertainment well conducted, and all seemed sociable and pleasant, although many strangers from all parts of the State were present. The receipts, as we learn from one of the Society, amounted to $220.

THAT CHAISE!—We understand that the splendid chaise, originally intended for the President, which has been for a time on exhibition at Gilson's stable, has been sent to Bangor as a present to Col. Strickland. The Colonel will probably "appear out" in it on the day of the approaching State Convention.—Portland Adv.

The first ship ever launched at Mobile was on the 28th ult., in the presence of at least two thousand people. The vessel was christened the "William R. Hazlett" by a young lady of Mobile. The W. R. H. is said to be a beautiful ship of 900 tons.

Coal was recently said to have been discovered in Castleton, Vt.; but it proved only slate, impregnated with sulphur of bitumen, so as to burn a-while and leave hearly all the fuel behind, with a considerable smell extra. In and near Castleton are the finest slate quarries in this country.

RIOT IN MONTREAL.

A Montreal despatch of June 10th, gives the particulars of a riot in that city, on the previous evening. Signor Gavazzi lectured in Zion Church, to a large audience, including many of the first citizens. At a quarter before 8 o'clock, a mob from the outside attacked and forced their way through the police force into the church—but were speedily dislodged by the police, and driven out, leaving two or three of the rioters dead or wounded on the ground, who were soon removed in cabs by their associates.

A company of troops came up, and all was quiet until the lecture closed, at a quarter past 8. The people were leaving the church, and as they passed among the outsiders, there was much hooting and noise. The troops fired (as the Montreal Herald thinks without adequate cause,) among the people; killed eight persons, whose names are not given; and wounded many more.

FATHER GAVAZZI MOBBED.—A correspondent of the Boston Mail states that on the 6th inst. there was a great riot in Quebec. Father Gavazzi, the Italian reformer, attempted to lecture, but was interrupted and his life endangered. The writer says:

"In the course of the lecture some charge was made against 'Ribbonmen,' when a man present exclaimed, 'It is a lie!' This seemed to be a signal for parties outside the church, for instantly a volley of stones were thrown through the windows. A party of men then entered the church, armed with stones and clubs. They advanced to the pulpit, where Gavazzi defended himself desperately, knocking several of his assailants down with a chair. He was finally overpowered, and dragged from the pulpit by his legs.

His friends then made a rush, and after desperate fighting got him away from the mob. In the melee Gavazzi's secretary was so badly injured that his life is despaired of.

The mob having cleared the church, was finally dispersed by the military, who had been ordered to the spot.

THE TRAINOR CASE—A FOUL DEED.—New York, June 9.—The Trainor case is not yet decided. Judge Barcola will give his decision on Monday. In the meantime the girl will be in the safe keeping of the Sheriff of King county.

Great excitement exists here, caused by the discovery of the body of a young woman named Mary Ann Elroy in one of the docks at Williamsburg, who had evidently been violated and murdered. She was an inmate of the family of C. H. Clagton, Esq. Her friends offer a reward of $500 for information touching the affair.

Washington, June 10.—Mr. Crampton, it is understood, has received despatches by the last steamer relative to the fishery and reciprocity questions, urging the matter upon the attention of our government.

Among the appointments yesterday, were Charles H. B. Fessenden, collector of New Bedford, and W. Caldwell, postmaster, Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. J. Kidd, lately deceased, of Pittsburg, by his will donated $5000 to the support of superannuated preachers and the widows of deceased ministers of the Pittsburg Methodist Conference, and $2000 to the Methodist Missionary Society.

FROM CHINA.—The Boston Daily Advertiser has received the Overland Friend of China, of March 28th, accompanied by a supplement which is chiefly filled with various proclamations of the insurgent chiefs. These documents do not afford any very distinct information, except so far as to show that the rebel forces are apparently every where triumphant, and they are carrying on a war of utter extermination against the existing authorities, professing to leave the common people, in the enjoyment of all their rights and customs, if they interpose no resistance.

FROM JAMAICA.—The El Dorado brings advices from Jamaica to the 1st inst. The singular contest between the government and assembly continues and grows more serious. The revenue acts expired April 30, no provision having been made for their renewal.—The Governor therefore on the 13th of May informed the senior magistrate of St. Andrew that he should immediately liberate from the penitentiary all the female prisoners, and gradually the male convicts whose maintainance could not be provided for by their labor, on the ground that there was no appropriation for their support. This purpose was carried into effect, 32 female and two male prisoners being released.

The police also are unpaid, but they have signed a pledge to continue to serve and wait for their compensation.—Boston Daily Advertiser.

☞ Spring, the murderer, was hung in Philadelphia on Friday at 11 o'clock. He asserted his innocence to the last—but no one believes him.

OHIO.—The last legislature of Ohio passed a law concerning divorce, which so facilitates the dissolution of the marriage tie that a large emigration of unhappy couples to that State may be expected. The law authorizes the Court of Common Pleas to grant divorces for nine enumerated causes.

Rev. T. Newton Jones, formerly of Loudon, has received a unanimous call to become the pastor of the Cong. Church and Society in North Reading, Mass.

In Chatham, N. Y., a boy only eleven years of age, son of John Reynolds, a farmer, set fire to three barns, and to the woods in several places, "because he got mad with his father." One of the barns burnt to the ground.

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KIDNEY REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNRIVALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR.

LYON'S KATHAIRON,

For Preserving, Restoring & Beautifying the Hair,

CAUSING it to grow luxuriantly, and giving it a soft and curling appearance, of the most delightful character. The KATHAIRON neutralises the effects of disease, climate, and old age, in preserving and restoring the Human Hair, even after a Baldness of many years—cleanses the scalp from Dandruff, and natural impurities.—Immediately relieves sympathetic attacks of Nervous Headache, and cures all cutaneous diseases of the skin, such as Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Itch, &c.

AS A TOILET ARTICLE,

For giving the Hair a rich, soft, glossy and curling appearance, nothing has been discovered to campare with its incontested—its incontestible virtues. It imparts the fragrance of the most delightful and exotic flowers, and is free from all minera properties, or any substance which can color the skin, or stain a lady's hat.

FOR BALD OR GREY HEADS

It is pre-eminently beneficial. "The Kathairon restored my hair after a baldness of 12 years.—A. J. COURTRIGHT, 79 Bond-st. N.Y." This admirable preparation can be had of all reputable dealers, throughout North and South America, and the Islands of the Ocean, in large bottles, for 25 cents.

MARRIAGE,

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT!

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken down in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundredth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be Ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1294, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

There are in the New York Custom House, says the Tribune, about seven hundred subordinates. For those places there are twenty-seven thousand applicants at the present writing. DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the best family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial &

Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

AS A FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

from a citizen of Portsmouth—and but a sample of hundreds:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May, 1853.

This is to certify that I consider Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenges a valuable article for what they are designed—the best remedy before the public. My son had a very severe cough, which threatened speedily to carry him off; and nothing seemed to give relief, until I tried these Lozenges, —which produced signs of relief in a few hours, and after the taking of a few boxes, wholly removed his cough. A. A. PAYNE.

THIS IS TRULY A GREAT REMEDY,

and always safe

The London Times has an article on the Cuban question, in which the slave trade is denounced with much warmth. Referring to the recent landing of several cargoes of Africans on the coast, the Times says:

"Now, should such incidents be repeated, the British public will certainly make up its mind to incur no expense in securing to Her Most Catholic Majesty the possession of an island of which she and her officers make this abominable use. They will not pay a large fleet to prevent Spanish slavers from landing their live cargoes in Cuba, and another large fleet to prevent Cuba from falling into the hands of a rather more civilized race. Should Cuba become one of the United States, it will doubtless retain its slave institutions, but the honor of the whole Union will be pledged to prevent a further importation. Humanity will gain at least that by the exchange. We may think the act of annexation unwarranted and rapacious, but we shall nevertheless regard it as one of those transitions of territory to civilized from semi-civilized powers, which are so frequent as to seem the natural and inevitable order of things. The British public does not know much about the law of nations, but it does pretend to some acquaintance with the law of nature—at least, so far as to insist that no one man shall be the chattel of another, if they can prevent it. Should a question, therefore, arise as to the possession of Cuba, and the rival claimants, otherwise equal, should differ in this—that one would stop the importation of slaves, and the other would not, the British people will be apt to side with the less barbarous of the two. It would be no inconsiderable inducement to such a conclusion that we should thereby save the expense of two costly armaments—the one employed to prevent the importation of negroes into Cuba, the other to save that island from an American invasion."

BE COMPREHENSIVE.—Talk to the point, and stop when you have reached it. The faculty some possess of making one idea cover a quire of paper, is not good for much. Be comprehensive in all you say or write. To fill a volume upon nothing is a credit to nobody, though Lord Chesterfield wrote a very clever poem upon nothing.

There are men who get one idea into their heads, and but one, and they make the most of it. You can see it and almost feel it when in their presence. On all occasions it is produced till it is worn as thin as charity. They remind us of a twenty-four pounder discharged at a humming-bird. You hear a tremendous noise, see a volume of smoke, but you look in vain for the effects. The bird is scattered to atoms. Just so with the idea. It is enveloped in a cloud, and lost amid the rumblings of words and flourishes. Short letters, sermons speeches and paragraphs, are favorites with us. Commend us to the young man who wrote to his father—"Dear Sir, I am going to be married;" and also to the old gentleman who replied—"Dear Son, go ahead."

Such are the men for action. They do more than they say. The half is not told in these cases. They are worth their weight in gold for every purpose in life. Reader, be short, and we will be short with advice.

COWARDLY INVASION.—Last night an ill-bred cow, probably finding the weather unpropitious for out door forage, entered the back door of a certain boarding house accidentally left open, and helped herself to a large batch of dough, prepared for the breakfast cakes. An inmate, aroused from his slumbers, got up and pounded the quadruped—with a fire shovel—when she made her exit upsetting everything in her way.—Bangor Mercury.

BOSTON OMNIBUSES.—One hundred and eighty nine omnibuses, says the Herald, communicate with this city from the adjoining cities and towns in our immediate vicinity, including those to South Boston and Canton street, some of them making twenty trips a day. Of this large number, S. P. Flagg & Co. run 35 to Roxbury; Hawthorne & Co., 55 from Dock Square to Canton street; Forristal & Parmelee, 15 from Charlestown to Dover street; T. J. Pierce & Co., 16 from Cornhill to South Boston; Spear, Downing & Studley, 20 from Charlestown to Boylston street; Willard, Stearns & Kimball, 16 from Cambridge to Boston; John L. Boynton, 8 from East Cambridge to Boston; William Herdly, 8 from Dorchester to Boston; Benjamin Farnham, 4 from Chelsea to Boston, and the remainder from the towns in the vicinity. The omnibus business gives employment to nearly five hundred men and about one thousand horses.

Alympins, the son of the Bey of Tartary, delivered a pleasing lecture to a crowded audience in the Baptist chapel, Barnesley, recently, on the manners, customs, and religion of Russia, and Russian Tartary. He described his own conversion to Christianity, and how for breaking in pieces his idols, he was banished to Liberia, and his escape from that country to England. His object was to raise a certain sum of money to take him home, where he would read his bible to his poor, deluded brethren, and labor for their conversion.

"Papa, I've been seeing cook make bread; and can you tell me why dough resembles the sun?" "The sun, Freddy?" "Yes, Pa."—"No I cannot." Freddy (with great glee,) "Because when it rises it is light." Pa (soliloquising) "That child is too clever to live."

David Hunt, an extensive planter in Mississippi, has sent a donation of $5000 to the American Colonization Society, which is in addition to the $1000 which he has sent the Society yearly for the last ten years.

FENELON observed to a priest who was complaining to him of the dances of the peasantry, "My friend, neither you nor myself need to dance, we can be happy in our own way, but if dancing makes these poor people happy, who have so few sources of enjoyment, why should they not dance?"

No man has more enemies in this world than an upright, proud and sensible man, disposed to take persons and things for what they really are, and not for what they are not.

PORTSMOUTH:

MILLENNARIANS—ADVENTISTS.

It is stated that at the Anti-Bible convention, held in Hartford, Rev. Mr. Storrs of Brooklyn, and Rev. Mr. Turner of Hartford, both Advent preachers, were the only defenders of the Inspiration of the Scriptures. Under the rules of the debate each party was limited to forty minutes, and they followed alternately, occupying half the time.

The excellent reporter of the New York Herald, (through whose labors we are able to get a clear idea of what was said there,) states that the Bible was not ably defended. He meant, probably, that its inspiration was not defended with so much ability as was shown in the speeches of Messrs. Garrison and Davis: and this, perhaps may be true. Yet the reported remarks and questions of Messrs. Storrs and Turner were as well made, we think, as they could have been by any persons holding their views of inspiration.

We take this occasion to say, that the Adventists, or Millerites, as a sect of theologians, or christians, do not deserve all the scoffs and sneers bestowed upon them by others. To be sure there may be, during the present year, more insanity and suicide produced by hearing them, than others—but this may be more in consequence of their sincerity of belief, than of the strangeness of their doctrine.

In one respect, we believe, they are peculiar, viz. they are the only sect whose members and preachers generally adhere to the Verbal or entire Plenary Inspiration of the whole Bible and to a literal construction of its prophecies. There are a few clergymen, and many laymen in the whole, who thus adhere, in other denominations—but the vast majority of those who admit and defend the doctrine of Inspiration, claim the right to interpret the inspired books spiritually and figuratively. As an example in point, we name Prof. Park, of Andover, whose sermon on the Two Theologies, one for the imagination and the other for the judgment, is well known.

As an illustration of our other remark that a few, and only a few clergymen of other sects, believe at once in the plenary inspiration and literal import of the scriptures, we mention Rev. Pres. Lord, of Dartmouth College, who, as a Millennarian, we believe stands alone among the clergy of his own denomination in this State. At the same time, and for the same purpose, we introduce an abstract of Dr. Lord's essay on the "Modern Millennarian Theory," which he read before the Pastoral Convention at Concord, June 1.

We extract it from the Congregational Journal, presuming it to be a fair view,—and certain that it will interest many readers.

He began by remarking that Millennarianism was not a theory, but a doctrine, as much so as the atonement and the Trinity. It rested on God's word, and not upon human speculation and philosophy. As a doctrine it had been perverted and lost in other ages, and misconceived and misrepresented in modern times. But it was once the doctrine of the church, and would be again, with the re-instatement of a pure Biblical theology. The millennarian doctrine was as distinct from all the dreams of visionary men of other times as Bible theology is from all mere theory. Only restore primitive theology and all will become millennarians.

If it is asked, what millennarianism is? he would not state what millennarians held in common with other christians respecting a millennium; nor did it belong to him to determine the particular time of the millennium, or its duration, whether a thousand years, or three hundred and sixty thousand, according to the interpretation which makes a day stand for a year. Millennarians believe in a literal kingdom of Christ; which is to come after the present state of things, or dispensation; a kingdom expected by the anti-millennarians, which is only figurative, just like that which we now see extending under the influence of the Gospel. The millennarians believe the human race fell in Adam, through that mysterious unity it had with him, and the disastrous influence of which fall affected the race to the end of the world. But God purposed to restore a portion of this fallen race—the elect, to accomplish which he made a Covenant with his Son, usually called the Covenant of grace and redemption, under which Christ made an atonement and the Holy Spirit is given. At the end of this dispensation, or "Aeon," Christ will come in person and inflict the most desolating and terrible judgments upon every nation, every tribe, every continent, every island, which have refused to obey the Gospel and accept his rule. At his coming Christ will by miraculous power gather the Jews from all lands, and restore them to the inheritance of their fathers, the prophecies respecting this event being justly taken in their literal and not figurative significance.—Satan will then be bound, or restrained, till near the close of the age, or "Aeon," when he will once more be loosed for a short season, and then cast down and destroyed forever.

Dr. Lord stated at the close, that he had devoted the last ten years of his life to the earnest and anxious study of the Scriptures relating to the subject discussed; he had abandoned old opinions with reluctance, and embraced and advocated new not without the occasional mortification which attends such changes, from incurring suspicion and remark; but he had come to his conclusions deliberately and honestly, and believed they would furnish ministers and christians an unshaken ground of support, in the midst of the wickedness, the instability, and revolutionary spirit of the times.

From this abstract it may be seen that some men of sound and varied learning embrace views in the main agreeing with the oft despised Adventists, but disagreeing with almost every body else in this day. And yet these views once were quite common. It may not be utterly irrelevant here to add, that Prof. Crosby, late of the same Dartmouth College, and a most eminent Greek scholar, after twenty years of careful study of the Greek Testament, avowed himself a restorationist, or universalist, in his opinions, as the result of his scriptural researches, and of a pure biblical theology.

It is our happiness to know both the gentlemen last named, to esteem them both highly, and to express in this public manner, our undoubting trust in the honesty of each. And when two such men, by such a process, arrive at such widely differing conclusions, we are disposed to say, "let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind"—and be modest in the expression of it.

PORTLAND AND CANADA.—The stockholders of the Atlantic & St. Lawrence Railroad, met in Portland on Friday, to determine whether they would authorize the Directors to lease the road to the Grand Trunk Railway Company. The meeting was very fully attended, and great enthusiasm charactized the proceedings. It was unanimously voted to accept the act "to authorise a lease of the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad," and that the Directors be authorised to execute such a lease of the Railroad, as is contemplated in said Act.

MUTINY.—The schooner Advent, of Jacksonville, Fla., Capt. Poole, sailed from this port on Thursday, for Jacksonville, but the wind not holding fair, she anchored in the lower harbor. On Friday, the men refused to do duty, and one of them, named Henry Thompson, drew his sheath-knife and came towards the mate, who knocked the man down. The men remained quiet, the vessel being wind-bound, until Sunday morning, when, the wind being fair, the Captain ordered them to heave up the anchor. The men refused, saying they would not go in the vessel. A message was sent to Fort Constitution for assistance, and Capt. Fields, U. S. A. with a boat's crew boarded the schooner. The men still refusing to do duty, Capt. Fields came up to town, procured a warrant and with U. S. Dep. Marshal Towle, went back to the vessel. The Marshal arrested three men, who quietly submitted to be hand cuffed, brought them up to town and lodged them in jail. They will be examined to-day before W. H. Y. Hackett, Esq., U. S. Commissioner.

KITTERY POINT BRIDGE.—The repairs are to be thoroughly made, and are in good progress. They will be finished, and the Bridge be passable in a day or two. The Kittery Point House, kept by Mr. Weston, will also be open shortly—for the accommodation of boarders. No locality in this region can be more pleasant, in warm weather, than Kittery Point—no place of the kind, can be more pleasantly and easily accessible, by land and water.

☞ Messrs. D. & S. Ward, of Kennebunk, on the 17th May launched the schooner George, of one hundred tons; and on the 7th June, the ship Fanny Giffney, of eight hundred tons. They have laid the keels for a ship and barque,—a sharp ship of 900 tons, to come off in February. They have launched four vessels, the present season, and have built a wharf, that they may put up two large ships, at a time.

☞ A Human Skeleton, of large proportions, was exhumed by the workmen engaged in preparing the grounds for the gas works, in Saco, on Tuesday. It was in a sitting posture, the head not more than one foot from the top of the ground. On Wednesday two more skeletons were brought to light,—and as others have been found near the spot before, the probability is, that this spot was an Indian burial ground.

GENERAL COURT.—The proceedings of Friday are not of sufficient interest to occupy our columns. Both Houses adjourned to Monday at 3 P. M.

SACO CHURCHES.—Rev. Samuel Bathrick, who for several years has been the able, faithful, and popular preacher with the Freewill Baptists of Saco, on account of ill-health has been obliged to leave and seek the milder climate of western New York. He preached his Farewell Sermon, the last Sunday—when so great was the attendance, scores were unable to gain admittance to the house.

The Methodists of Saco have recently repainted their house of worship, and the Congregational house is receiving the same adornment.—Eastern Journal.

The jury in the case of Mary Ann Wheeler for the murder of Lacy, her seducer, after being out four hours returned a verdict of not guilty on account of insanity. This is the second trial had on the case.

On Tuesday evening last, at Manchester, N. H., a little boy 6 years old was run over and instantly killed by a loaded team.

LOCAL.

THE BOYS ARE COMING.

We mean the Portsmouth Boys, who live in Boston, are coming down here on the Fourth of July, like an avalanche. So girls, dust out the front room and the spare chamber; put some pine boughs and sparrow grass in the fire place; bake up a heap of doughnuts, pies and cakes. And so good citizens, one and all, prepare for the day by subscribing funds, making arrangements, and turning out to meet them en masse.

By reading the following account of their meeting, from the Boston Courier, we may see how honorably our city is represented there, and get some idea of the people that are coming here.

Their visit is to be made in the most liberal spirit. Let our reception be no less so.

MEETING OF THE SONS OF PORTSMOUTH.—A large meeting of the former residents of Portsmouth assembled at Cochituate Hall, Boston, on Friday evening, agreeably to invitation, to make arrangements for a family visit, en masse, to their native place on the 4th of July next. At 8 o'clock the meeting was called to order by Isaac W. Frye, when Francis E. Parker (son of the late Rev. Dr. Nathan Parker of Portsmouth) was chosen President, Samuel H. Gookin and M. P. Kennard Vice Presidents, and John E. Abbott and Theodore S. Harris Secretaries.

The President made some brief and pertinent remarks upon taking the chair, after which a committee, consisting of Messrs. Geo. A. Fields, Wm. H. Kennard, Alfred C. Beck, Wm. E. Abbott, and Andrew C. Mudge, were appointed to retire and select candidates for a Committee of Arrangements, who shall have the general direction of the proceedings, and shall take all necessary measures to carry out the objects of the meeting.

Mr. James T. Fields presented the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the natives and former residents of Portsmouth, N. H., now living in Boston and its vicinity, join in an excursion to that city on the approaching 4th of July.

Resolved, That the Committee of Arrangements chosen by this meeting, to carry into effect the business matters of that day, be instructed to convey, by advertisement or otherwise, to all natives and former residents of Portsmouth, wherever they may now be living, an invitation to unite with us of Boston in our anticipated gathering among the haunts of our early days.

Resolved, That we who are here assembled to-night will take an active part in aiding our committee in their endeavors to make the coming anniversary of the Declaration of Independence a day of unalloyed happiness to all who have left, but have not forgotten the good old town of Portsmouth.

Mr. Fields made a short and exceedingly apt and appropriate speech, and was followed by Rev. T. Starr King, Samuel H. Gookin, Charles L. Woodbury, Matthew Hale Smith, and Daniel R. Sheafe, Messrs. King and Smith being early residents of Portsmouth. All the speeches were spirited and effective, and the various points made by the orators were received with marked applause. The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Mr. Kennard, from the Committee to nominate a Committee of Arrangements, reported the following list:

Samuel Waldron, Wm. F. Parrott, Geo. W. Bazin, Isaac W. Frye, Avery Plumer, Jr., James T. Fields, Wm. H. Hill, M. P. Kennard, James H. Weeks, Benj. P. Shillaber, John A. Cheever, J. Munroe Gookin, Theodore S. Harris, John E. Abbott, Gideon Beck, True M. Ball, Garland Turell, Josiah G. Batchelder, John L. Badger, Albert Remick, Jacob Wardell, Jr., Charles L. Woodbury, H. H. Tuttle, John P. Parker, Alfred D. Mudge.

The report was accepted, and it was also voted that the government of the meeting be added to the committee.

It was voted during the evening, that when the meeting adjourn, it be to such time as it shall be called together by the officers, and after the business was closed, a motion for adjournment was carried.

☞ The preliminary meeting for organization was exceedingly fortunate in its officers, speakers and numbers—and in the spirit and good feeling which pervaded every one present. The work has commenced under the fairest auspices, and the "old folks at home" must expect a large delegation of their sons and brothers, with not a small accompaniment of sisters and daughters, on the approaching national anniversary.

THE DAUGHTERS.—Some friends suggest that the emigrant girls of Portsmouth, as well as boys, be invited to come home on the fourth of July. It is intimated in the Boston proceedings, that not a few of them are coming.

SALE BY AUCTION.—On Saturday, the House and Lot, No. 1 Raitt's Court, Vaughan street, was sold by James P. Bartlett, Esq., Auctioneer, for $640, to Leonard Cotton, Esq.

☞ Every Typo in the city, old and young, is requested to meet at the Gazette Office this evening, to arrange for the exhibition.

☞ We understand the Free Democrats have engaged Seth Webb, Jr., Esq., of Boston, as their Orator of the day in this city, on the Fourth of July.

THE SIAMESE TWINS.—These extraordinary dual men, are to be exhibited this day and evening only in this city. See advertisement.

☞ Mr. Stephen Scammon of Stratham, has three cows which give seventy-five pounds of milk—twenty-five pounds each, every evening. They are milked twice a day, giving seventeen pounds each in the morning,—126 lbs. per day for the three. Beat this who can.

A slave woman now confined in jail at New Orleans on a charge of having poisoned her master's child, has made a confession, in which she states that she had previously poisoned nine whites and blacks in Missouri.

MORE OF THE MONTREAL RIOT.

A despatch from Montreal, June 11, says, the number of persons shot is about fifty; and of those killed outright or mortally wounded, from ten to twelve. A large meeting of citizens was held in St. George's Hall, at 2 P. M., yesterday, for the purpose of considering the safety of the city. They passed resolutions requesting Gavazzi to complete his course and commending the police—but condemning the Mayor and requesting him to resign.

The city was in a state of intense excitement the whole of yesterday. Several instances of attempts at outrage on solitary individuals by Roman Catholics, are mentioned.

The lecture was postponed last evening, and Gavazzi left this morning, to be gone a day of two, for New York. He is to return and finish his course.

The Mayor, in an informal meeting of City Councillors, yesterday, denied that he had ordered the soldiers to fire, nor had any officer applied to him for orders to do so. Who it was who ordered the soldiers to fire he could not say.

James Welch, a Catholic leader was shot dead by Capt. Ermatinger, while actively engaged in the riot. It is reported that seven or eight of the rioters were killed in addition to the above.

Last night the streets were patrolled by the Flying Artillery, and for the most part all is quiet.

BUFFALO, June 10.—The Railroad Convention to-day, came to an amicable arrangement, by which conflicting interests in the great chain of railroads through Michigan, Ohio, and New York, will be reconciled.—The arrangement is not to be made public till submitted for the sanction of the different Boards of Directors.

After the 24th inst. any person receiving or passing fractional bank bills will subject themselves to a fine of $25, for each bill. We wish the act had included all others, as well as fractional bills.—Newburyport Union.

Paper will be a part of the currency in New England, so long as people know how to read and write.

The bachelor editor of the Boston Transcript, pronounces "a pleasant wife a rainbow set in the sky when her husband's mind is tossed with storms and tempests."

That's a fact—but how did this poor wifeless unfortunate find it out?—Eastern Journal.

Another question—Is the editor of the Transcript a bachelor?

A BRIDAL THEFT.—A curious instance of stealing came before the Police Court, this morning. Miss Harriet Brown was accused of stealing a gingham dress from Miss M. Celeste Orcutt, 35 Stark Corporation. She also stole a white skirt from Miss Roxan Woodward, and another white one from Miss Achsah Woodward. She was to be married to-day, and stole these things yesterday, to make up her outfit for the bridal occasion.—She boards at No. 9 Central Building, and called at 35 Stark, to see her cousin, when she committed a deed which may spoil her chance for a husband. She had the dress on when arrested, last evening. She plead guilty, and was fined $5 and costs, $3 47, and ordered to pay triple value of the dress. Her "intended" footed the bill, but intimated that the matrimonial knot would go untied for some time.—Manchester Mirror.

A MOVING MINISTRY.

Out of 190 Baptist pastors in Massachusetts during the four years ending April 1st, 1852, 170 changed places, 6 died, leaving but 14 stationary. For the same period, 61 out of 71 Baptist pastors in New Hampshire changed their fields of labor, 3 died, leaving 7 the remainder, settled over the same people. It is believed that Vermont, Connecticut, Maine and Rhode Island, would present a similar table of facts.

Let us bring to bear on these figures a little of the light of political economy. Confining our attention to Massachusetts and New Hampshire, in which States an examination has led to the above definite result, what is the cost of all this change? Supposing it to average $50 to each minister, which will not be questioned as a low estimate, when the wear and tear of furniture are added to actual expense, and the aggregate for these two States is $11,550. The cost to the churches is, at least, as much more, which gives us a sum total of 23,100—an amount which would support 16 home or foreign missionaries for four years.

The Congregational ministry in this State, (says the Cong. Journal,) is not quite so migratory as the Baptist, according to the above statement of the Boston Reflector. But looking over the minutes of the General Association, we find that of the 163 ministers of the State ten years ago, only thirty-two occupy the positions they did then. Of the churches ten years ago, Belknap Association retains 4, Caledonia, 1, Derry, 3, Harmony, 2, Hopkinton, 3, Hollis, 4, Lancastor, none, Monadnock, 4, Piscataqua, 2, Deerfield, none, Sullivan, 4, Union, 4, Orange, 2. And yet of the 163 pastors ten years ago, 12 only have died.

"PROSPERITY OF AUGUSTA."—We are pleased to learn, (says the Eastern Journal) as we do by the following local items from the Augusta Age, that the capital of the State is "brushing up."

"We observed on going into Swan street, the other day, that a resident is constructing a new and elegant pig pen in the rear of his outbuildings.

A new tin water conductor has been added to the southeast corner of the Railroad (passenger) Depot. A much needed improvement."

THE MEMPHIS SOUTHERN CONVENTION adjourned on Thursday, without having matured any of the commercial projects for which it was called. The convention voted to meet again in April next, at Charleston.

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who traveled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

MARRIAGE,

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anxiety and misery might have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring the competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and will lead to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

From the International Journal.

TO MRS. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE,

(Author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin.")

"Give her of the fruit of her hand, and let her own works praise her."—Proverbs 31: xxxi.

Rise up America! and call her blessed;
Rise with thy million hearts and million tongues,
In one great chorus rise and give to Fame,
Thy noble daughter. She who bravely stood
To assert the human rights, and liberties
Of Africa's long despised, oppressed sons,
Whose sole inheritance is slavery.
Bless her from commerce's busy, bustling mart,
Bless her! ye hardy sons of toil, who bend
Above the anvil and the loom, and raise
Your voice, with her's, to swell the Heaven-born cry,
Liberty to the captive! Let it sound
Till the great city's stony heart repeats
Liberty to the captive! Let it rise
From gorgeous palaces and halls of State,
From hovels, where the struggling sunbeams scarce
Cheer poverty's hard lot. From the dark mine
Where Heaven's own blessed light can never come.
From crowded lanes and courts—from jostling streets
Where strong men in the race of life outstrip
Their weak or timid brother from the wide
And boundless prairies—from the solemn woods,
The glorious river, or the cloud-capt height—
The waving plain, whose laden breasts proclaim
A bounteous God's regard for all who live—
Let every nook and corner of the land
Raise, blended with her woman's name, the cry,
Liberty to the captive! Let it peal
From the lone sailor on the midnight deep,
Reverberating to free, admiring lands.
Let Albion's favored Isle take up the strain—
Wronged Hungary and Poland, hear and smile—
Where friendship, sympathy and love combined
Light human hearts with radiant rays from Heaven
Where hand grasps hand, and kindling eye meets eye,
And brother welcomes brother, let them raise
The cry of freedom to poor Afric's sons
But foremost from the well-spring deep and pure
Of woman's gushing nature, let it come
From the rich mine of tenderness and love,
Where the bright treasured God's-gifts lie enshrined.
Let the full love-charged soul give forth its voice,
For wronged and suffering sisters, who with all
Their woman's nature, glowing or repressed,
Bear slavery's dread lot—and while they raise
Their voice for wronged humanity, repeat
Thy name, dear sister of the scorned slave
Brave daughter of a land which well may glow
With honest pride to hail thee as her own.
Rouse then, America! thou fair young land,
And while thy children's praise old earth repeats,
Let not thy children's shame be ashamed of thee.
Rouse from the policy which binds thine arm,
And freezes thy great heart—wipe off the stain,
The blood cemented slave-stain from thy brow,
And rise majestic, glorious and free
Then with a mighty shout from East to West,
From North to South, through all thy vast domains,
Prolong the cry thy noble daughter raised—
Liberty to the captive! till men see
How mapy hearts—noble and great as Stowe's
Were nursed beneath thy star-bespangled flag.
And glory in thy greatness, while thou stand'st
Confessed the admiration of the world.

A New, Delicious Temperance Beverage.

AMBROSIAL MEAD!

THIS excellent Compound is prepared from the best SPANISH SARSAPARILLA, without its dark, repulsive appearance, being beautifully transparent and entirely free from all impurities. Its qualities as a beverage, a single trial will give it a pre-eminence over all other preparations, by its freedom from noxious ingredients, agreeableness of flavor, and its exceeding cheapness, one bottle being sufficient to make thirty glasses of the beverage.

CAUTION!—The proprietors of this excellent preparation have spared no expense to bring it to perfection, and would caution purchasers to buy none without the fac simile of Wilson, Fairbank & Co. on every bottle.

WILSON, FAIRBANK & CO., 13 and 15 Hanover st., Boston, sole manufacturers. Sold by all Druggists and Grocers throughout the country.

For sale in Portsmouth by W. E. Preston, J. H. Thacher, B. Hutchings, D. Kimball, J. F. Morse, and all the Druggists and grocers. jeteod3m

K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

MODEL HOUSES OF CORRECTION.—Not know what to do with our convicts? Don't we! We should rather think we did. Set them to hard labor; keep them at it from seven o'clock in the morning till eleven at night, with intermissions of just ten minutes at each meal to swallow their victuals in—wasting no time in mastication. Let them not perform their task in an airy and spacious ward, but fag them, by gangs of ten or twelve, in almost air-tight garrets, of about a dozen feet square, whereof the atmosphere for many hours is flaring hot with gas, and is at all times loaded with a deleterious excess of carbonic acid. Put their lungs on short commons as well as their stomachs; stint them to a limited quantity of oxygen, the same allowance to last them a long while by being breathed repeatedly over again. Half suffocate them perpetually by way of secondary punishment—wring it out of the rascals in perspiration.

As for their sleep, never suffer them to take it coolly in a ventilated cell; give them dormitories, each barely capable of holding six rogues of moderate dimensions, and squeeze into every dormitory six large rogues. Huddle them together so that they may be mutually unpleasant. Afflict them, by these arrangements, with heat, giddiness, headache; give them the benefit of an occasional fever; let them carry away the seeds of consumption in their chests for prison keepsakes. Moreover, and into the bargain, give every one of them, finally, a sound thrashing, without which, in undergoing the sufferings above prescribed, they will endure no worse hardships than those which honest milliner girls, earning their living by their industry, are subjected to in the city of London workrooms.—Punch.

NEW DOG STORY.—We copy the following dog story from our foreign files received per Cambria. It illustrates the truth of Shakspeare's lines,—

"Suspicion always haunts the guilty mind;
The thief doth fear each bush an officer."

It appears in this instance, however, that the officer saw treason in a poodle.

SUSPICIONS OF THE POLICE AT ROME.—The severity of the Roman police has even gone so far as to take notice of a little dog, belonging to an English lady, who was taking a walk in the Villa Borghese on Saturday last. The lady had taken a sprig of myrtle from a tree, and twined it round her favorite's neck; after finishing her walk, on coming to the gateway to meet her carriage, her servant was peremptorily ordered, by some shirri stationed there, to take the green wreath from the dog's neck—an order with which the lady immediately directed her servant to comply, supposing that no flowers or plants were allowed to be abstracted from the villa; but she was not a little surprised when, on inquiring from her servant whether that really was the motive of so uncourteous an act, he gave her to understand that the dog was white, his tongue red, and the wreath green, thus completing the Italian tricolor, and rendering the unconscious little favorite a canine revolutionist.

THE ROYAL ARMS IN DANGER.—It was with truly affectionate alarm that we witnessed the erection of a scaffold a little while ago in front of Buckingham Palace. We began to fear that it might be again necessary that the Royal residence should be permanently enlarged, to correspond with the recent permanent enlargement of that very popular periodical (every new number of which is greeted by the nation with all the affection due to number one)—the Royal Family. We should have been extremely sorry to find that the comfort or convenience of the inmates demanded a further outlay in bricks and mortar on Buckingham Palace, and we were, therefore, delighted to discover that the scaffold was only rendered necessary by some repairs that were needed to the arms of Royalty. It appears that the Unicorn had got something which turned out to be a sparrow's nest—some believed it to be a mare's nest—in his eye, while the Lion was suffering severely from the loss of the tip of his tail, which was frost bitten, and had crumbled off during the continuous cold weather in April.

We are happy to say that everything which skill could devise has been done for the noble animals, and the application of Paris plaster to the Lion's tail has restored it to the proud position which it ought to occupy. The Unicorn's eye has been cleverly couched, and its cure is now a matter of ocular demonstration to everybody. The wounds of the animals having been dressed, the interesting creatures were supplied with an entirely new coat of whitewash, in time to correspond with the new uniforms that will be worn on the occasion of the birthday of Her Majesty.—Punch.

ROYAL WET NURSE.—Her majesty has again honored the Isle of Wight, by having appointed a wet nurse for her infant from Cowes.

"This is no wonder," says Roger, says he—
"'Tis just what nature allows;
For what could more appropriate be,
As he is a young John Bull you see,
Than give his nursing to Cowes."

We don't know whether to ascribe the paternity of these lines to Punch or Wideswarth; they are worthy of either. We cut them from the Boston Post.

DAILY
Morning Chronicle.

PORTSMOUTH:
TUESDAY, JUNE 14, 1853.

☞ Subscribers will please bear in mind that the price of our Daily is not $3, but $4 per year—from which twenty-five per cent. is deducted for advance payment. Those of our patrons who can make their money pay more than two per cent. a month, we hope will not pay us till their year ends—but those who do so, can hardly expect to be considered as "in advance."

FATHER GAVAZZI'S BATTLE.

This ex-catholic priest is evidently a member of the church militant, and as he tells his own story, no one can doubt that the assault and battery made upon him by a mob of the Roman church, at Quebec, on the evening of the 6th of June, was with intent to murder.

He says, having rid himself of his first assailant by throwing him over the pulpit, he took off his cloak, and brandishing the chair which had served him as an orator, he defended the post, as a true Italian crusader. Having a pulpit about twelve feet wide, with the stairs exposed, facing the church, and compelled to defend it against more than sixty savages, was rather a difficult task. An artillery sergeant leaped from these stairs, and succeeded in defending the citadel. After the first attack, Paoli, who was at the church door, was enabled to reach the stairs; and, having snatched a stick from one of the assailants' hands, used it in every direction, and they were enabled to retain the liberty of the piatform for twenty-five minutes.

But again a gang of the outward assailants, to the number of more than seven hundred, rushed into the church, and the stairs and parapet were assaulted with renewed violence. The artillery sergeant feeling his equilibrium fail, clung to Paoli, who, amid the great throng of assailants, could no longer manuœvre his stick; meanwhile, two of the savages had seized Paoli to overthrow him from the stairs: he cried out, "Gavazzi, help me." Gavazzi abandoned the front of the pulpit and with a desperate blow of the bench fell upon the head of one of the two assassins, which caused him to bound from the stairs. Returning to the front, while some other assassins having gained the ground he had abandoned to save his friend, they lifted him from his feet and precipitated him headlong out of the pulpit, from a height of more than fifteen feet.

The fall was intended to give him the coup de grace—but he fell on a floor of enemies' heads and shoulders, and sustained no wound from the fall. The crowd then dispersing, he was stretched out on the ground, with a legion of savages over him overjoyed at being able to slay him. He received a kick on the chin, and a contusion on the jaw; as the great crowd prevented the use of sticks, they endeavored to supply it with their feet. He rose and by blows opened a passage to the staircase which leads to the subterraneous place where the Sunday schools are, and having met assassins on the stairs overcame them; the last, who from his size impeded his passage as it were a barricade, he rolled down the stairs, and jumping over him reached the entry of the Sunday school.

He was pursued even there, but having a better knowledge of the room than they, in the darkness made good his escape—and the military having at length arrived, the riot was quelled.

RELIGION AMONG THE SLAVES. Mr. Brooks, editor of the New York Express, in one of his letters from Georgia, mentions the following interesting facts, which ought (says the Boston Journal,) to find a place in the "Key to Uncle Tom's Cabin," but probably will not:

"In Savannah, in three Baptist Churches and one Methodist, there are 2,990 colored persons, one half of whom are slaves. The pastor of one of the Baptist Churches is a slave, and the other two are free colored persons. These churches contribute liberally for foreign and domestic missions, for the home poor, &c. At the Georgia Baptist Association, held in Warren county, last September, five slave preachers were present, and voted upon all questions presented for consideration. In South Carolina there are more than forty thousand slaves who are church members; and in the entire South the Baptist and Methodist Churches already have 264,000 slave members."

The above is doubtless a true statement; and we are very glad to hear of so many christians of any color. It is a nice paragraph, in all respects except one; viz., that it wakes up the wrong passenger. Mrs. Stowe, in her novel, describes one black christian; and here her critical opponents tell us of a quarter of a million.

☞ At the Prince of Wales' Yacht Club Match, on the 18th May, from Blackwall to Gravesend, England, the American (New York built) yacht Truant took the first prize, eight other vessels being entered and distanced. This is "the first time the American flag has been carried in a sailing match on the Thames."

LATEST FROM CHINA.

The most important news from any quarter, is from China, the land of Teas and Silks, of redundant population and unbounded industry. The opium war waged by Great Britain against China, half uplifted the veil which has hitherto hidden the Celestial Empire from the gaze of the outside barbarians; and the present civil war is rapidly tearing that veil away. The latest is from Shanghae April 28th.

Nankin was invested by the rebels. On the 16th the Imperial Commissioner hired a fleet of Portugese to relieve the city, which were captured by the rebels. He had besought aid from foreign consuls. The French, English and American forces had agreed to help him. The British sent the Salamander, Lily and steamer Hermes. The French, the steam frigate Cassini. The American Commissioner, Mr. Marshall, undertook to place the frigate Susquehannah before Nankin. No accounts of the result are yet received. There were several stories of imperial victories in the interior, but all were disbelieved.

Commodore Perry, in the Mississippi, arrived at Hong Kong, April 7th, and despatched the Plymouth to Shanghae on the 9th.

A private letter from Manchester reports, 29th,—one day later from Shanghae—that Nankin had fallen, and the British commander refused to permit British ships (merchantmen) to go up the river with stores or ammunition for either party. It was expected that the Americans would also back out.

A slip from the office of the Manchester Guardian quotes a private letter from Shanghae; March 29th, saying that "the Taoute of Shanghae has purchased two vessels, and is sending them up the river with rice and ammunition, and fixed upon the Agres, a parsee vessel, for the same purpose, but the Governor, Sir George Bonham, has stopped her, and would not allow English ships to go on the service. Our comprador has just come in and states that there is no doubt about the loss of Nankin, for the Taoute has put a placard on the walls acknowledging it, and offers a reward to any one who will take the leader or officers of the rebels. The document states that the rebels are coming eastward in boats. Silk and tea cannot be got except for cash down, which nobody has; the silk men are frightened, and are taking a good deal of silk into the interior. The missionaries and American Consul confirm the taking of Nankin. The U. S. steamer Susquehannah had arrived, and it is thought will stop the American ship "Science" from being sent up the river, she having been chartered by the Taoute for that purpose."

MOUNT VERNON SOLD.—It appears that a sale of Mount Vernon, the family residence of George Washington, was effected on the 10th of June, conditionally, that the purchasers shall offer it to Congress next session, when, if Congress should conclude to buy it, the present sale is to be void. The purchasers are parties from New Orleans and New York. The price has not transpired; $200,000 had been refused heretofore.

MEXICO.—President, or Dictator Santa Anna, has some plans in his head besides mere fighting, and keeps at least one eye open to watch trade. As an instance of this, private letters from Mexico state that he has secured the establishment of a line of steam packets between Vera Cruz and Havre, through a French company, to whom he has granted very important privileges.

APPOINTMENTS.—It is now said, by those who claim to know, that the new postmaster at Gloucester, is a Garrisonian abolitionist, who may yet conquer his prejudices so far as to take the oaths prescribed. The Lowell Courier jocosely says:

"It is understood that Mr. Garrison will soon get the Boston Post Office, Theodore Parker the Sub Treasury, and Abby Folsom a chaplaincy in the Navy. Henry Wilson, of course, goes into the Natick Post Office at once."

OUR NATIONAL POLICY.—The Newburyport Herald truly says,

"So far as we can judge by the history of the last few years, the "settled policy" of the United States is,—intervention when it will pay—no intervention when it will not."

That has been British policy—but it has been very costly, and created an immense debt.

MISS WHEELER.—The Milwaukie papers state that when the Jury in the case of Miss Wheeler for shooting her ex-lover, came in at 4 A. M. on the 5th inst., after being out four hours, with their verdict, "not guilty by reason of insanity," the prisoner shook hands with each of them, and Judge Tucker observed, in reference to the law which requires confinement after such a verdict if the person is likely to endanger the safety of the community, that he saw no necessity in this case, and she was immediately discharged. There was no one present but the Judge, Jury, Sheriff, and the prisoner, with her sister and counsel.

This is equivalent to the old English verdict, "Served him right:" and puts the law as well as the pistols, into the hands of infuriated maidens who are maddened by the faithlessness of their swains.

THE VIOLATION AND MURDER OF ANN MCELROY.—The Board of Aldermen of New York have offered a "reward of $1000, or such further sum as the Mayor may deem necessary," for the discovery of the murderers of Ann McElroy, a nurse in the family of C. H. Clayton, whose body was found in a Williamsburg dock on Sunday. Mr. Clayton had previously offered $500 for the same purpose.

It is devoutly to be wished the rascals may be found out, and "made to grind in the prison house" as long as they live.

LOCAL.

CELEBRATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen, held on Monday evening, a petition signed by C. S. Toppan and 80 others, was presented, asking the appropriation of $500 in addition to the sum already appropriated, for the celebration of the 4th of July. The petition was granted, and sent down for concurrence.

Capt. Beck, for the Rockingham Guards, petitioned the Board of Aldermen to apply to the State for a stand of arms for said company—granted.

The resolutions of the Common Council, inviting, in the name of the City Council, the natives of Portsmouth now in Boston, to visit this city on the 4th of July, was taken from the table and concurred in, and the Mayor and Ald. Jenkins and Colcord added to the Committee of Invitation.

It was voted that a committee of three members from each Board be appointed to make all suitable arrangements for the reception of the natives of Portsmouth now residents of Boston and other places, on the 4th of July, and all other arrangements for the celebration of our National Independence, and disburse such sums as are appropriated for that purpose; and Ald. Brown, Jenkins and Colcord were appointed. The resolution was sent down for concurrence.

[These measures will probably be concurred in by the Common Council, at their next meeting.]

"SONS OF PORTSMOUTH."—A gentleman from New York informs the Boston Courier that circulars have been distributed among the natives and former residents of Portsmouth in that city for a meeting at the Irving House, on Monday evening, to see what action they will take in regard to the proposed 4th of of July excursion. In Boston, the Committee of Arrangements appointed on Friday evening has been organized, and divided into sub-committees; an Executive Committee has been formed, composed of the officers of the general meeting, Bond's Cornet Band has been engaged, and Jas. H. Weeks has been appointed Treasurer.

BURIALS IN CITIES.

We were interested in seeing, the other day, that the neat private cemetery on Noble's Island, had disappeared, and that the place was covered with timber and chips, belonging to the ship yard. The remains, monuments, ornamental fence and all, are removed to another and larger cemetery, very properly, we think, under the altered circumstances of the Island, it being now as busy and crowded as it was formerly secluded and lonely.

At the moment of writing this, we see some interesting facts relating to city burials, in the Boston Transcript, and copy them in this connexion.

While we should have no fear that public sentiment in this country would tolerate the flagrant abuses which have been proved to exist in grave yards in English cities, we are duly convinced that the burial of the dead near the dwellings of the living is not only highly objectionable on the score of health, but the deposite of dead bodies in tombs in cities is attended, in many instances, with circumstances of the most revolting nature.—We have never been more deeply moved at the record of the many social wrongs in England, than when we have perused the details of the abuses which a few years ago there existed in regard to the burial of the dead.—of the parish officers of a Christian church selling leaded coffins containing the mortal remains of the former worshippers at their altar, and so slightly regard the transaction, that the weight of the lot, and the price per pound, and the net proceeds of the sale were recorded in full upon the church records, with the additional item, that the money thus raised was expended for repairs on the church edifice.

In Boston, tombs have fallen into the hands of speculators, who have cleared out the space and leased the premises to other parties, whose buried friends in their turn, have been displaced by a new deposite, while the chisel has erased from the tablet all trace of its original inscription, in order to receive a new name thereon; while old grave stones are re-arranged in new positions, so that the first two words thereon, "Here lies," are literally true.

A KIDNAPPER CHECK-MATED.—A few days ago, information was brought to Philadelphia, that Thomas J. Adams, a returning Californian, had in his possession at the Henderson House, a colored boy whom he had brought from Jamaica, and was taking to Tennessee. Means were taken to have the case investigated, but Adams had decamped with the boy. A telegraphic despatch was sent to Pittsburg, and on the arrival of the gentleman kidnapper, he was called to account, the boy taken from him and placed in the care of Dr. Delany. The little fellow was probably enticed from his home by fair promises. The case caused a great excitement at Pittsburg.

A NEW TRAP TO CATCH A HEN-HAWK. One day last week, a large hen-hawk was caught in Brentwood by a turkey. The turkey was tied by a long string in the field, and the hawk pounced down to seize one of its young, when the turkey flew to the rescue, and succeeded in entangling the string so around the hawk, that it could not move, and it was captured by the owner of the turkey.—Exeter News Letter.

In Hungary, four thousand passports have been issued for America—many for California—emigrants promising not to return to Austria.

An old female miser died at Richmond, a few days ago, and on searching her premises, it is said that $800 in specie and $9000 in bank notes, many of them ruined by worms and bugs, were found.

RUSSIA AND TURKEY.

The menaces, threats, and movements of the Czar, portend evil and ill to the Ottoman Empire. The latest advices will be read with interest.

Menschikoff left Constantinople on the 22d and arrived at Odessa on the 23d of May.—The Russian army of 100,000 strong was concentrating on the Turkish frontiers.

The ministers of France, England, Prussia and Austria, made a joint attempt to reconcile the parties, but Menschikoff and the Divan were equally inflexible; so the former left.—The Ottoman fleet was then sent for, part being despatched to Egypt for the troops which the Abba Pacha has ready. The Minister of War sent couriers to every province, calling out all the warlike resources of the Ottoman empire.

A Constantinople letter dated 16th of May, published in a second edition of the London Times states that a Turkish steamer had been sent to summon the Ottoman fleet to Constantinople. Ships had been sent to Egypt to assist in transporting the troops that Abba Pacha has ready at the Sultan's disposal. The Minister of War has sent couriers to the whole of the provinces of the empire, to call the militia to array, and to prepare them to act at the shortest notice. There were rumors at Paris that the Russians had actually advanced, but this is probably surmise.

A second edition of the Morning Chronicle publishes the following transcript from its Paris correspondent:—"I have just heard that in the letters received at the Russian embassy from St. Petersburg, the most threatening language is used towards Turkey, and that the Emperor Nicholas declared, on hearing of the rejection of his ultimatum, that he would carry the cannon to Constantinople to punish the insolence of the Porte, in case the federal assembly fail in giving satisfaction to Austria.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—A letter from the Captain of the schooner Mary Margaret, recently wrecked on Lake Michigan, states that after the schooner capsized, he in company with a Mr. Farnsworth, was confined on board the schooner for three days and nights, in a space of not more than twelve cubic feet, of nearly confined air. They were rescued by Capt. Holland, of the schooner Geo. R. Roberts, who cut through the side of the schooner to reach them. Two of the crew who were with them died before relief came.

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.
The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

MARRIAGE,
Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—health, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S
Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.
One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.
[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as her's, and will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be Ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1224, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DOCTOR ALFRED G. HALL,

AUTHOR of the New Theory of cure by the NUTRITIVE PRINCIPLE, in Physiology and Medicine, sustaining the laws of life and removing the cause of disease, confirmed as a NATURAL SCIENCE by the Nutritive Process; expelling dead and depositing matter at the same time in the Body, increasing its weight and strength while under treatment, being the great discovery of the constitutional power resisting desease; ample proof can be given in the person of any invalid.

Dr. H. receives visits, makes examinations, ascertains the cause of disease, describes the precise condition of the patient, furnishes prescriptions, medicines and recipes for his Nutritive Fluids and cordials.

Three months' attention and treatment is requisite in all cases, with printed instructions, for diet and washing, and the use of the Alkaline Girdle for the spine and kidneys—a restorative action is produced in all parts of the system immediately by the natural laws sustained by nutrition.

He is the inventor and sole proprietor of 12 nutritive fluids; they can be made by any family—are adapted to the several temperaments, and to every form of disease. His works, "Views of the New Theory, &c.," "Womanhood," and the "Mother's Own Book," are furnished to invalids under his supervision. It is now before Congress.

DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER AND KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial &

Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,
VERNON ESKRIDGE, Chaplain U.S.N.

JONES AT THE BARBER SHOP.

Punch has very rarely published a better thing than the following :

SCENE—A Barber's Shop. Barber's men engage in cutting hair, making wigs, and other barberesque operations.

Enter JONES, meeting OILY the barber.

Jones. I wish my hair cut.

Oily. Pray, sir, take a seat.

Oily. We've had much wet, sir.

Jones. Very much, indeed.

Oily. And yet November's early days were fine.

Jones. They were.

Oily. I hoped fair weather might have lasted us
Until the end.

Jones. At one time—so did I.

Oily. But we have had it very wet.

Jones. We have.

[A pause of some minutes.

Oily. I know not, sir, who cut your hair last time ;
But this I say, sir, it was badly cut ;
No doubt 'twas in the country.

Jones. No! in town!

Oily. Indeed! I should have fancied otherwise.

Jones. 'Twas cut in town—and in this very room.

Oily. Amazement!—but now I remember well,
We had an awkward, new provincial hand,
A fellow from the country. Sir, he did
More damage to my business in a week
Than all my skill can in a year repair.
He must have cut your hair.

Jones (looking at him). No—'twas yourself.

Oily. Myself! Impossible! You must mistake.

Jones. I don't mistake—'twas you that cut my hair.

Oily. Your hair is very dry, sir.

Jones. Oh! indeed.

Oily. Our Vegetable Extract moistens it.

Jones. I like it dry.

Oily. But, sir, the hair when dry
Turns quickly gray.

Jones. That color I prefer.

Oily. But hair, when gray, will rapidly fall off,
And baldness will ensue.

Jones. I would be bald.

Oily. Perhaps you mean to say you'd like a wig.—
We've wigs so natural they can't be told
From real hair.

Jones. Deception I detest.

[Another pause ensues, during which OILY blows down JONES'S neck, and relieves him from the linen wrapper in which he has been enveloped during the process of hair-cutting.

Oily. We've brushes, soaps, and scent, of every kind.

Jones. I see you have. (Pays 6d.) I think you'll find that right.

Oily. If there is nothing I can show you, sir.

Jones. No; nothing. Yet—there may be something, too,
That you may show me.

Oily. Name it, sir.

Jones. The door.

[Exit JONES.

Oily (to his man). That's a rum customer at any rate.
Had I cut him as short as he cut me,
How little hair upon his head would be!
But if kind friends will all our pains requite,
We'll hope for better luck another night.

[Shop-bell rings and curtain falls.

A QUANDARY.—The New Yorkers have been in such a hurry to change their city government (hasty work, says Sancho Panza, is never done well,) that they have made an interregnum between the cessation of their old charter and the commencement of the new one, or as one of their editors says in his bad English, "we will be without a Common Council until the 1st of January next."—Pretty much the same bright look out was practised by the Irish municipality, who voted that their old jail should be pulled down, and a new one built of the old materials; the prisoners to be kept in the old jail till the new one was finished.—Boston Courier.

P. S.—The legislature of New York have patched this hole by a supplementary bill which provides for a government ad interim.

MRS. PARTINGTON.—A correspondent of the Louisville Democrat, speaking of a history of the battle of Lundy's Lane, which appeared in the Louisville Journal, says :

"Mrs. Partington has made Ike read the whole history thirteen times. She has told a friend that she thought it without conception the most extraordinary confusion of glowering ideals and sentincls that ever intermitted from the pen of Genesis. His imposition, says she, is most superfluous. The deleterious sweetness of his constipations, the roundness of his paragulphs, the impurtenance of the subject, and the judyish secretions of his expansions, are unequalled in the annals of litter a ture."

To see a wasp waisted young lady in ringlets and an abundance of flounces, gracefully sail to the head of the table, and with a voice as angelic as a tenor flute, call to the waiter for a plate of cold pork and beans, is the most trying thing romance can encounter.

A well known political economist says :—"We pay best, first, those who destroy us—generals ; second, those who cheat us—politicians and quacks ; third, those who amuse us—singers and musicians ; and least of all those who instruct us—authors, schoolmasters, and editors."

A CURIOUS OFFENCE.—A Mr. F. Bland, who has for twenty years been a magistrate of the county of Kerry, in Ireland, has been superseded from the commission of the peace at the instance of the inland revenue board, who prosecuted him for shooting without a license on his own property.

A fashionable young gentleman, the other day, while Boothby was taking his measure for a pair of pantaloons, was full of inquiries as to the "present fashion." "There is not much change in gentlemen's pantaloons, this month," was Richard's cool reply.—Biddeford Journal.

DAILY
Morning Chronicle.

PORTSMOUTH:
WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15, 1853.

☞ Subscribers will please bear in mind that the price of our Daily is not $3, but $4 per year—from which twenty-five per cent. is deducted for advance payment. Those of our patrons who can make their money pay more than two per cent. a month, we hope will not pay us till their year ends—but those who do so, can hardly expect to be considered as "in advance."

ENLARGEMENT OF THE NEW YORK CANALS.—The Committee of Conference of the two Houses of the New York Legislature have agreed upon an amendment to the Constitution providing for the enlargement of the canals. The leading features are stated as follows:—

1. The Canals shall be finished by borrowing $9,000,000, without tax, but on the strength of the revenues. 2. $1,500,000 shall be borrowed to pay the Canal revenue certificates, making in all $10,500,000. 3. The Canals shall be completed in four years. 4. It shall be made imperative on the Legislature to provide the means. 5. The contracts of 1851 are to be repudiated. 6. The work is to be let out to the lowest bidder.

It is thought that this amendment will prevail in the legislature, and be accepted by the people. We have little or no doubt of it, nor have we had, since enjoying the opportunity of seeing the vast amount of goods floating up and down, covering the canal with boats, at the same time that heavy freight trains were passing both ways on the Railroad, almost parallel with the canal, and often touching its banks.

To be sure, some politicians were impracticable, and the constitution was somewhat narrow in its terms. The Canal is worth more to New York than a dozen constitutions. One of these can be made in a few hours, and changed in a few more. But the canal is a great work, of permanent utility. If the Constitution is not large enough to contain a decent sized canal, or a moderate loan to dig it—by all means let the people build an addition to the constitution.

ENOCH REED.

Who and what is Enoch Reed? was the instantaneous question, as our eye glanced at the name in the Boston Daily Advertiser.—He was a man who died last Thursday. This is who he was; and the next sentence tells us what he was, viz. a convict, an United States prisoner, who was convicted in Albany, last winter, under the law of 1793, for aiding in the escape of a fugitive slave, and sentenced to a fine of one thousand dollars, and imprisonment for one year. As the record stands, the majesty of the law was vindicated, the Union preserved, and the man's life closed in prison. His body, if the majesty of the law, or the safety of the Union demanded it, might now be kept in prison till the year is out—but it will probably be suffered to return to the earth whence it came—while the spirit has already returned to God, who gave it, and "by whom actions are weighed" in a balance differing widely from those scales of justice used in human courts. We suppose nobody will think of building a monument, or erecting a statue to Enoch Reed. Certainly we hope not: there is no need of it: his record is on high: and what he did to the least and poorest brother, is written in the King's remembrance as if it were done to him. He will soon be forgotten on earth—in Heaven never.

JANE TRAINER.

The very simple, obvious case of Jane Trainer, is settled at last. On Monday morning, June 13, at Brooklyn, the papers say,—"Judge Barculo awarded the Trainer girl to the custody of her father."

That is exactly what common sense, and common law required to be done. Only it ought to have been done a month ago or more. The custody of a minor child is always vested in the father, unless there is something which clearly renders him an improper person to have such a charge.

But we saw in this case, first, a lawyer so ignorant as to bring the matter before a U. S. Commissioner: next, the commissioner so ignorant or so stupid as not to be sensible that he had no jurisdiction in the case, till Counsellor Brady told him so, when he waked up to the fact and dismissed the case: and last of all, we see Judge Barculo holding three or four sessions before he could decide such a perfectly plain case.

DANCING IN THE NAVY.—It is rumored in Washington city, that the Navy Department design to institute a professorship of dancing in the Naval Academy; that accomplishment being looked upon abroad as essential to the interchange of civilities.

We hope it is true; dancing is decidedly preferable to fighting. We should like to see a portly, good humored Commodore, calling the dances from the quarter deck, while the band played their very liveliest airs, and the officers and crew tripped the light fantastic toe.

LOCAL.

City Council—June 14.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.—A petition was received from Capt. Towle, respecting a stand of arms for the City Greys.

The Com. on City Buildings reported adversely to application of Messrs. Sheldon, for a stall at the Spring Market.

COMMON COUNCIL—Special Session.—A resolution, authorizing the additional appropriation of $500 for the celebration of the Fourth of July, came down from the Aldermen for concurrence, and was concurred in, unanimously.

Messrs. Gerrish, Haven, E. J. Laighton, I. B. Claggett, Rand and Todd, were appointed a Committee of Arrangements on the part of the Common Council, to invite former residents of our city to visit us on the Fourth of July, and to provide for their reception on that occasion.

The committee on the part of the Aldermen were Messrs. Brown, Colcord, Dame, Jenkins, Knowlton, Stackpole.

THE ARRANGEMENTS.

As the Portsmouth boys from Boston and everywhere else, are coming home on the 4th of July; and there is to be a grand public reception, including an Industrial Procession, a dinner, &c., for the benefit of the whole—the preparations for which involve a vast amount of labor: it becomes necessary to systematize the action of all interested. The City government have liberally appropriated $1000 for the occasion, and extended a "general invitation" to all who hail from old Strawberry Bank to become guests. These funds are at the disposal of a Committee chosen from the City Council, consisting of Messrs. Edmund M. Brown, Augustus Jenkins, Charles J. Colcord, John Dame, John Knowlton, Joshua Stackpole, I. B. Claggett, E. J. Laighton, William Rand. A. D. Gerrish, Alfred W. Haven and J. G. Todd, who will disburse the money as they may deem advisible and according to the general wish.

It now remains for the citizens to choose their various committees, to confer with this general committee, and each to arrange for the particular body it represents. Those who take part in the grand feature of the day, the Industrial show, hold their meeting this evening—see notice in another column. Those who attend more to the immediate reception and care of the visitors, will also appoint a committee—and the managers of the Free Democratic jubilee another—each to present their case to the City committee, and ascertain the sum to be devoted to the several objects. And these committees have plenty of business in hand, to employ their spare time if they begin now—and should be appointed at once.

It is generally understood that there is to be little or no display of fireworks at public expense, in accordance with "the people's" wish. So that after ringing bells, firing salutes, hiring band, etc., there will be money enough left to do a great deal, if judiciously applied.

We learn that "the big tent" has been engaged for the occasion—and that the ladies of our city interested in the matter, are, with the aid they may receive from the general fund, to provide the accommodations and the dinner. The place most talked of for pitching the tent, is Peirce's Island—a most appropriate and delightful spot. A bridge of boats from shore to shore can easily be constructed across the narrow channel near Drake's foundry,—and this would in itself be no small attraction. The picturesque situation of the Island, the proximity of the navy-yard, the certainty of the surrounding water rendering it comfortable, and the ample level space it affords, points out this as the spot for the dinner.

THE PORTSMOUTH "BOYS," who reside in New York, inspired by the example of those who reside in Boston, are making arrangements to visit home on the Fourth of July. The occasion thus gains new attraction. What will the Portsmouth ladies do with all the young men. We feel a little concerned on that point. What says the Chronicle of that city?—Boston Bee.

The mothers will welcome their sons; the sisters their brothers; and very likely some of the sweethearts will become wives. What will become of the remainder, is more difficult to say, but we should not wonder if matches enough were kindled on the occasion to produce a general conflagration among such combustible materials as hearts are made of.

Our city is as celebrated for handsome ladies who remain at home, as it is for smart men who have emigrated; and a looker on suggests that the ladies may do as the Romans did with the Sabines when they wanted wives. They invited their neighbors with their wives and daughters to visit their city, and see their games, and at a convenient time each man seized a female and made her his wife. Our ladies at the approaching visit will entrap the strangers by their beauty and force them to remain here. If this plan is carried out Portsmouth will come up, by the addition of such an amount of talent and enterprise, faster than ever.

ARREST.—A man named Collins was arrested in this city, on Tuesday forenoon, on a charge of stealing a gold watch at South Berwick. It appears that Collins went into the jewelry store of James Cushman, in South Berwick, and called for a watch, which he said he had left for repairs, giving his name as Clark. Mr. Cushman was absent, and his wife, not knowing which it was, handed him a number, from which Collins was to select his own. He took a valuable gold watch and left the store. Mr. Cushman, on his return, immediately discovered the fraud, traced Collins to this city, and with the assistance of Dep. Sheriff Towle, arrested him in a drinking saloon, and recovered the watch. Collins submitted without resistance, and was carried to South Berwick, under the charge of officer Adams of the city police.

N. H. General Court—June Session.

Abridged from Daily Patriot.

SATURDAY, June 11.

HOUSE.—On motion of Mr. Burpee of New London, it was

Resolved, That the Clerk be instructed to furnish the Treasurer with a list of the names of the members absent this day; and that the Treasurer be authorised and required to deduct from the pay roll the per diem for this day of members absent from public duty, as designated on the roll called this morning.

Of the members 131 were absent—in the whole $262 saving to the State for this day.

Mr. Plumer of Portsmouth, in accordance with notice given, introduced a bill to amend the charter of the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad. Read and placed in the orders of the day.

MONDAY, June 13.

Both Houses held sessions of an hour each—but the business was not important.

CORRECTION.—In common with nearly all the daily papers in the country, we gave currency to a telegraphic item from Hartford, stating that "the Anti-Bible Convention broke up in a row." We then added the remark that it was not stated who made the row. A paper so respectable as the New York Courier says, on the authority of the same despatch—

"The Convention of crack brained infidels and hair brained fanatics which assembled a few days since at Hartford, has broken up in confusion and discord. This was but the natural result of bringing together so many chaotic elements."

We learn now, from an authentic and reliable source, that the statement is utterly untrue. The convention, (including the two Advent preachers, who alone defended plenary inspiration, as well as infidels, unbelievers, and doubters,) was orderly from the beginning to the adjournment. In the convention, which occupied the floor of the house, there was neither confusion nor discord.

There was, however, on Sunday and Sunday evening, a considerable amount of disturbance made by spectators in the gallery, professing to be friends of the bible, or at all events enemies to its assailants and doubters. Among them were some theological students of Trinity College. Two of the rioters were arrested by the police, under the direction of the mayor, after a stout resistance, and the riot quelled, so that the meeting closed in peace and quiet.

After its close, there were some hootings in the streets—but the convention was not broken up—though the rioters or some of their abettors took the trouble to telegraph that piece of false information far and wide.

The bible needs no riotous defenders—and asks for no lying despatches. On the contrary, the words of truth and soberness become all who range themselves with Christians.

MINOR MARRIAGES.—The new law in relation to the marriage of minors in Massachusetts went into operation on Monday: no certificate of marriage is allowed to be issued to a male under 21, or a female under 18 years of age, unless the parents, master or guardian, if they live in the State, give an oral or written permission; and if the officer is suspicious of the age of the parties, he can require an affidavit from some person acquainted with them.

The design of this law, is to prevent such marriages: the effect will be, to have them take place in New Hampshire, Maine or Rhode Island.

SOME NOBLE CATHOLICS.—A Montreal despatch of Monday, June 13, says:

Gavazzi returns here on Wednesday, to conclude his lectures. Last night, an Irish Catholic mob broke all the windows in St. Stephen's Chapel, in Griffintown. At a meeting to-day, the Roman Catholics resolved to pay for the repair of the damages, and also resolved to use every means to ferret out the villains who participated in the riots recently.

These last named Catholics are wise men: they have some true ideas of property and propriety: and some such will be found every where, to counteract, in part, the influence exerted over the ignorant and brutal, by crafty priests who only mislead them.

The Springfield Republican relates that a deputy sheriff in that recently levied an attachment upon a travelling show, and made the following return:—"By virtue of this writ I have this day attached 7 horses, 3 wagons, 1 grizzly bear, 1 Christ and 12 apostles, 1 tent, and lot of animals called the 'Happy Family' the property, etc."

Mr. Robert Barr, of Marblehead, died suddenly in Salem, on Tuesday evening last. He and his wife and children were on a visit to her father, in that city. Soon after entering the house, he took up his child, and dropped dead with it on his arm—probably in an apoplectic fit.

FIRE IN BOSTON.

On Tuesday forenoon, a little past 11 o'clock, the extensive brick building at the corner of Charles and Cambridge streets, (near the jail,) occupied as a coffee manufactory by Benj. Simmons, caught fire. The flames spread rapidly, and before the arrival of the engines the building was completely on fire.

The small wooden buildings in the rear, one of which was used as an office by the Cambridge omnibuses, also caught fire and were destroyed.

Notwithstanding the great heat, and other disadvantageous circumstances under which the firemen labored, this fire was extinguished without extending farther. Cambridge bridge escaped without damage, and the toll-house was saved, with no injury except a slight scorching and a thorough drenching.

The lower part of the coffee manufactory was occupied by E. G. Allen's planing and sawing mill, and the fire caught in the basement, among some shavings—by the bursting of the boiler.

A portion of his stock was saved, in a damaged condition, but his machinery was entirely destroyed. The stock and machinery of Benj. Simmons, coffee manufacturer, were entirely destroyed.

During the fire, a fireman fell in a fit, supposed to have been caused by the excessive heat.

KEY WEST.—The wreckers at Key West have become excited about something. Capt. Welch, the agent of the underwriters, was hung in effigy by the populace on the 2d inst., amid much excitement. The agent and the United States Judge for the district, who had previously been hung in the same manner, had become much alarmed at the crisis to which affairs had arrived, and it was thought they would leave the place.

Miss Greenfield, "the Black Swan," who recently gave several concerts in our Atlantic cities, is now in England, where she is lionized by the Duchess of Sutherland and her circle. The Duchess has given a morning concert at Sutherland House, at which the Swan sang several pieces, and was warmly encored. The Dukes and Duchesses of Argyle, Norfolk, and Montrose, Lords Palmerston, Shaftesbury, Grosvenor, the French Ambassador, Ladies Villiers, Bunsen, Foley, and many others were present, as also Mrs. Stowe, who presented the Swan with a splendid dress of moire antique, trimmed with bugles, which she wore.

PROJECT ABANDONED.—Lewis Josselyn, editor of the Lynn Bay State, who was the Coalition Clerk of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, in 1851 and 1852, having been recently appointed United States Surveyor at Salem, announces that his contemplated enterprise of establishing a penny daily newspaper in Salem, is "unavoidably postponed for the present, as he cannot allow private arrangements to interfere in the slightest with the time and labor which he owes to the government."

THE PRICE OF A CHAIR.—Several weeks ago, at the sale of the personal effects of the late Daniel Webster, the chair usually occupied by that statesman in his library—a common cane-seat, with castors, the original cost of which was not probably more than a dollar and fifty cents—was "knocked down," at sixteen dollars and a half to a gentleman from Boston, who was offered, but refused, ten dollars advance for his "bargain." But not coming forward to pay for the property, it was on Saturday morning re-sold by McGuire in front of his auction rooms, and an intimate acquaintance and friend of Mr. Webster, connected with the State Department, became the purchaser of the chair, at four dollars and fifty cents, or about one sixth of the value which was attached to it on the previous occasion.

Archbishop Whately, of Dublin, says that however much people may laugh at him for avowing it, he is a living monument of the truth of mesmerism, having suffered severely for many years from rheumatism. When the doctors had done their best or worst, as the case might be, he was advised to have recourse to mesmerism, as a last resource. In the course of one week he was perfectly cured, and has never since experienced any severe return of the complaint.

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing DISSOLVENT POWER.

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

LYON'S KATHAIRON,

For Preserving, Restoring & Beautifying the Hair,

CAUSING it to grow luxuriantly, and giving it a soft and curling appearance, of the most delightful character. The KATHAIRON neutralises the effects of disease, climate, and old age, in preserving and restoring the Human Hair, even after the baldness of many years,—cleanses the scalp from Dandruff, and its natural impurities,—immediately relieves sympathetic attacks of Nervous Headache, and cures all cutaneous diseases of the skin, such as Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Itch, &c.

AS A TOILET ARTICLE,

For giving the Hair a rich, soft, glossy and curling appearance, nothing has been discovered to compare with its incontested—its incontestible virtues. It imparts the fragrance of the most delight ful and exotic flowers, and is free from all minera properties, or any substance which can color the skin, or stain a lady's hat.

FOR BALD OR GREY HEADS

It is pre-eminently beneficial. "The Kathairon restored my hair after a baldness of 12 years. A. J. COURTNAY, 76 Bond-st. N. Y." This admirable preparation can be had of all reputable dealers, throughout North and South America, and the Islands of the Ocean, in large bottles, for 25 cents.

MARRIAGE,

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during childhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence to which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, in this notice of a work strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

It is Halleck who thus happily hits the utilitarian, money-loving nobility. It is not less satirical than it is true:

These are not the romantic times,
So beautiful in Spenser's rhymes:
Lord Stafford mines for coal and salt;
The Duke of Norfolk deals in malt;
The Douglas is red herrings;
And noble name and cultured land,
Palace and park, and vassal band,
Are powerless to the notes of hand
Of Rothschild or the Barings.

Rev. Frederick Hinckley of Haverhill, has withdrawn his acceptance of the invitation to become pastor of the Unitarian Society at Nashua. A house had been engaged for him, and the ladies had made arrangements to give him a substantial welcome, but at the very moment they were expecting his arrival, a letter was received from him stating that he had concluded to settle at Hartford. The Telegraph says, had Gen. Pierce resigned the Presidency, it would scarcely have caused more surprise, or been less expected.

A young man was arraigned on Tuesday, on suspicion of his having been concerned in the robbery of Mr. G. P. Daniels, in South Danvers. He swore however, that he was in Topsfield, "courting," the same night, and stayed till four o'clock in the morning, and a young lady appeared in his behalf, and testified that she saw him put his horse into the chaise, and leave, at that time. Nothing was proved against him, and he was discharged.—Salem Gazette.

Item for the Advocates of Peace.—There are now at the United States Navy Yard, Charleston, Mass., 775 cannon of various kinds, costing about $240,000. At the Naval Magazine, Chelsea, 2200 barrels cannon powder, and 400 barrels priming powder, costing $39,000.—Traveller.

As the statutes of Illinois provide that railroad companies shall pay $5,000 for every life lost on a train of cars through the carelessness or recklessness of the company or its agents, the damages for the Chicago massacre will reach $105,500, if sued out, as there were 21 persons killed.

The strongest testimonials of the virtues of this article from officers of the army, superintendents of railroads, insurance companies, captains of vessels, painters, &c. may be seen at the store of the subscribers, who having been appointed sole Agents for the same, offer it to the trade at the manufacturers' prices.

A New, Delicious Temperance Beverage.
AMBROSIAL MEAD!

THIS excellent Compound is prepared from the best Spanish Sarsaparilla, without its dark, repulsive appearance, being beautifully transparent and entirely free from all impurities. Its qualities as a beverage, a single trial will give it a pre-eminence over all other preparations, by its freedom from noxious ingredients, agreeableness of flavor, and its exceeding cheapness, one bottle being sufficient to make thirty glasses of the beverage.

Caution!—The proprietors of this excellent preparation have spared no expense to bring it to perfection, and would caution purchasers to buy none without the fac simile of Wilson, Fairbank & Co. on every bottle.

DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the best family medicine in use, and is warranted free from all mineral substances. By its mild action on the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

Mayor's Office, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. Ship Cumberland, }
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853. }

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of Dyspepsia.

I am respectfully yours,

SOMNAMBULISM AND PROPHETIC DREAMING.

A lady having been interested in the perusal of an article on somnambulism, published in the Phrenological Journal some time since, communicates the following interesting facts as among the particulars of her own psychological experience. After speaking of a course of unwitting psychological infractions and victimization, by which she lost her health and became a confirmed dyspeptic, she proceeds thus:

"It was at this period, when the enfeebled organs rejected the most simple nourishment, and the morbid appetite was more clamorous than when in health, that I became quite noted for sleep-walking. I would get up at night, go softly into the pantry, and help myself plentifully to all the good things I could find. The moment I awoke in the morning I commenced vomiting, and threw up many things that I knew positively I had never swallowed. I, of course, had no knowledge of what I did in my sleep.

This was a constant practice for some weeks. My friends became greatly alarmed. They thought I was playing off the grossest deception. What else could they think? In vain they threatened and intreated. Vain were all my protestations of innocence. The proof of my guilt was before us; and, yet, in the sincerety of my soul, I could say: 'In this thing I am innocent.'

One night, after several weeks of painful anxiety, my father, as he lay awake, heard a slight noise upon the stairs. Getting up to see what it might be; he saw me in my night dress stealing along towards the pantry. He saw at a glance that I was utterly unconscious of what I was doing. He did not wake me, however, but waited to see what I would do. I entered the closet and made a hearty meal; and he said he never in his life saw a person eat when it seemed to do them so much good. He said he was very much amused to see how much art I used to remove all evidence of my night's work; and so effectually did I do this, that no one ever suspected it till I was caught in the act. Next morning I awoke as usual, too sick to raise my head from the pillow; and O, how thankful was I when my father entered my room with a smile, saying he could explain the mystery."

"For many years after this, on retiring at night I had a strong cord fastened around me and secured to the bedpost in such a way that I could not remove it myself. How many times I awoke, and found myself tugging away with might and main to break the restraining cord! If this was omitted, I was sure to get up and do some kind of mischief. At one time I broke all the teeth from a valuable hair comb; another time I prepared breakfast, made the coffee, and after arranging everything more properly than I could have done it when I was awake, I called the family, and wept because they did not come. This was the last of my sleep-walking. From this time I was not permitted to sleep alone.

But now comes the strangest part of my story. From that period up to the present time, I have very often seen in my sleep transactions, that after a few weeks or days transpired exactly in accordance with my dream. At one time I dreamed that a horrible disease had prostrated one of our neighbors—a lady who was then in good health. I saw in my sleep the doctor's horse stand at the gate, saw the lady die, and heard my sisters express their fears of taking the disease if they went into the house to dress the corpse. But I thought they did go, and that one of them caught the disease; I saw her in a dark room, her whole person covered with a loathsome eruption; I saw her get better, go to the door and take cold. Then came a relapse, but in a different form. Then one and another of our family came down with the same terrible disease, until we were all sick together. The neighbors stood aloof, for fear of the contagion; and we were left almost alone in our affliction.

Such was the dream; I related it in the morning, but thought no more of it. Two weeks passed by, and the same lady was taken sick with measles in its most malignant and contagious form. The neighbors all fled from the house in terror, except my two sisters.—The lady died, and then I heard again the same remarks about dressing the corpse that I heard in my sleep. I spoke of it at the time as a strange coincidence, and one of them said she wondered if the rest would come true also. Suffice it to say, it did, even to the most trifling particular. My sister took the disease and was very sick. Recovering, she went to the door, and took cold. The same day she was exposed to the small pox, and again she was brought to the very brink of the grave. We all took the disease from her, and were all sick together.

Another time I was away from home, and I dreamed that an invalid sister was sick and dying. I saw her laid out after death, in my sleep, and witnessed a post mortem examination. The body, before burial, and the grave, after the funeral, were closely watched, lest the corpse should be stolen by medical students. This, and other circumstances too numerous to mention, I saw in my dream. The very next day the news came that my sister was dead! And not only so, but everything transpired just as I saw it in sleep.

A few days since we engaged a girl to do our housework. The next night I dreamed that she was sick and could not come. But I saw another doing the work, whom we called Lizzy. Next morning I told my sisters that Miss C. would not come to us, that sickness would prevent. They did not believe me, of course, until a note came, saying that she had a severe cold and could not come. But we have now another girl, and her name is Lizzy.

Now, sirs, can you tell me a reason for all this? Yea, all this, and much, very much more of the same character! To me it is wonderful—past my comprehension entirely."

☞ Subscribers will please bear in mind that the price of our Daily is not $3, but $4 per year—from which twenty-five per cent. is deducted for advance payment. Those of our patrons who can make their money pay more than two per cent. a month, we hope will not pay us till their year ends—but these who do so, can hardly expect to be considered as "in advance."

CANAL ENLARGEMENT.

Our expressed views of the Canal enlargement, and the consequent necessary enlargement of the Constitution of New York, are fully borne out by some of the best informed men in that State.

It appears that the State officers, under whose control is the large amount of patronage ministered out to good party men, by the Canal Board, are of the Barnburner school. They did not choose to risk the results, either of their own nominating Convention or of the election, with the distinct and unmistakeable evidence of the wishes of the People before them. The People all over the State had declared for the Vanderbilt plan—the Whigs everywhere were unanimous for that plan, and a large section of the Democratic party had determined to take that plan or no other. It was clear that whatever those who begun by declaring that an alteration of the Constitution was a mutilation of that instrument, might say, they would, when they could not help it, back out. The backward movement was foreseen and intended.

The whole thing is a complete and full victory of the wise and true policy in relation to Canals. It is returning to the law of 1851, after a loss of years. The Administration of Governor Seward and Governor Hunt gave the "new impulse" to the prosperity of the Canals, and these great works will go forward now, in good Clintonian style. Seward is no mean successor of Clinton—and strong as party intrigues and cliques are said to be in the Empire State, the wants of trade and commerce are still stronger.

NEW BEDFORD LIBRARY.

Some friend, we presume Mr. Abner Phipps, a native of this city, who is a trustee, has forwarded the first Annual Report of the Trustees of the New Bedford City Library. It is one of the first which has been established under a new Law of Massachusetts, passed in 1851—and it already contains 5500 volumes of valuable books, which are extensively used.

The law is short and plain, merely providing that cities and towns may establish public libraries under proper regulations, and may assess not more than one dollar for every ratable poll in the outset, and not more than 25 cts. per poll afterwards; and may also receive donations and bequests for the same purpose.

The trustees express themselves highly gratified with the working of the institution thus far.

THAT CHAISE, AGAIN.—The Portland Advertiser, speaking of the Presidential Chaise [not Chair] which president Pierce did not get, says "the circumstances are pretty generally understood in this State. The chaise was spoken for before, but, unfortunately for the President, not finished until after the offices had been distributed, when the zeal of some of the gentlemen who were to pay for it had somewhat subsided. The result was, that the chaise was stored in this city for some weeks, during which time its final disposition was a matter of some uncertainty. At length certain gentlemen united to present it to Mr. Strickland. Strickland was a prominent candidate for the Bangor collectorship, but was defeated through the influence of Mr. Hamlin."

UNFORTUNATE MANUFACTORIES.—During the excessively hard times for manufacturers, two or three years ago, says the Newburyport Herald, two woolen factories at Thompsonville, Conn. failed; but in order not to stop the works, bonds nearly equal to the capital were issued, and they went on. A recent sale of stock and bonds in these companies, at New York, indicates that they have been unsuccessful in retrieving their losses. Of the Tariffville Manufacturing Company, 2,173 shares sold at $1 per share, and $137,000 of the bonds of the Company at 25 per cent. Of the Thompsonville Company, 274 shares sold at $3 each, and $142,000 of the bonds at 35 per cent.

BLOOMERS.—A man in Boston has cured his wife of an attack of "bloomerism." He watched the "fixing up," and said nothing.—His wife went out in full rig, whereupon he assumed her cast off skirts, and when she came back he was knitting or trying to knit a stocking. She took the hint, and the Turkish arrangement was put aside immediately.

Aspiration of a husband—Oh! that the fashions would last as long as the bonnets!

The Boston Times is responsible for both these paragraphs.

N. H. General Court—June Session.

Abridged from Daily Patriot.

TUESDAY, June 14.

HOUSE.—The most interesting proceedings were a debate on the subject of the bill to increase the capital stock of the State Capital Bank.

Mr. Dodge of Amherst, from the committee on Banks, explained the grounds of preference which should be given to applications for banking purposes. The committee recommended that well established, reliable banks should have increase, of which this was one.

Mr. Tappan of Bradford, was in favor of extreme caution in the outset of the legislation on bank applications, which were numerous before the Legislature.

Mr. Merrill of Barnstead, thought the bank capital in Concord already enough for all reasonable purposes.

Mr. Dodge, in reply, said he thought it preferable to give increase to well known, reliable banks, than to distribute what capital might be required in the State among smaller and untried institutions; and stated that demands were being made for stock in the State Capital Bank, which would justify the granting of the increase sought—as would also the characters of the gentlemen engaged in its direction.

Mr. Cushing of Charlestown said that, if the action of the House, in this instance, was to be considered as a precedent to be followed in treating other applications, he would vote in favor of the bill. The question—had the applicants the money to invest in the increase?—had been satisfactorily answered; that the bank could lend much more money than their charter authorized, was also answered to his satisfaction—therefore there was reason why the increase should be granted; for wherever there was capital to be loaned, and business to demand its use, banking facilities ought to be granted. If the circulation of Concord capital could be profitably loaned in Boston, as had been stated it was, as an objection to the bill, it was so much the better for the State, and better for the individuals interested in its direct disposition. While the latter would be benefitted, the literary fund of the State would be also advantaged; and, in those respects, he could see no reason why the bill should not pass.

Assuming that there were sufficient banking facilities in Concord, Mr. Tappan of Bradford argued that the precedent of the passage of this bill would be a troublesome one, when urged by other companies, and contemplated associations for banking purposes. If the having money to lend was to be considered a good reason for granting bank increase, the State, in acknowledging that presumption, would land itself deep in the difficulty concerning which the Governor's address had so properly warned the Legislature.

Mr. Fuller of Hillsborough moved that the bill be indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Cragin of Lebanon supported the views of Messrs. Dodge and Cushing, and contended that there was no surplus—even with the increase the bill sought—of banking capital in the city of Concord. The bill only sought a reasonable facility—one which the exigencies of business demanded; and, while voting for it, he would not tie himself to that vote as a precedent in governing votes on other questions of similar nature.

The House then divided on the question, when the motion to indefinitely postpone was negatived by a vote of 125 to 59, and the bill was read a third time and passed.

The bill to amend the charter of the city of Portsmouth was read a third time and passed.

A DEAD MAYOR.—The Committee of One Hundred, appointed at a meeting in Cincinnati, to request the Mayor to resign, finding that the Mayor was not disposed to comply with their reasonable desire, have "resolved," that Mayor Shellbager is "politically, morally and deservedly dead;" and they therefore leave him to occupy his present position as no longer worthy of their consideration.

A LARGE HAUL.—A man named Samuel B. Wells was arrested at Cincinnati, last week, in the act of selling $5 counterfeit bills to boys for 25 and 30 cts each. An examination of his baggage, says the Nonpariel, disclosed a galvanic battery, sundry show bills, some for temperance lectures, other for Prof. Wells's lectures on Electrical Physiology, &c. In addition to these, there were found bills to the amount of $75,000 of the same kind that he had been selling.

MACKEREL IN THE BAY.—The Newburyport Herald reports the arrival at that port of the schooner Golden Eagle, with 1000 large mackerel caught off that harbor on Sunday. It adds:

We noticed quite a fleet of vessels in the bay yesterday, engaged in fishing.

The Eastern Railroad Company have decided to build a new depot in Newburyport. It is to be a fine building—so report says—located on Washington street, and constructed this season.

☞ The Boston Courier of the 15th, has a leader on "the Results of Uncle Tomism," on which subject many editors are "greatly exercised."

WELL PUT.—Some of the merchants of New York have refused to close their stores on Saturday afternoon, out of a pretended regard for the welfare of their clerks; they are afraid—at least they say so—that the spare time would only lead to dissipation and excess. One of the confined clerks replies to this class and puts the following query; "If two spare hours on a Saturday afternoon lead us into temptation, where on earth, or under the earth, will a whole Sunday land us?"

A HOAX.—The story of the Belfast Signal, of the murder of a female by a French pedlar, turns out to be a hoax.

The Rev. Dr. Orville Dewey some time since resigned his Chaplaincy in the Navy. Mr. Fillmore made him Chaplain, at an annual compensation of $1500.

Charles L. Woodbury does not take the Chargeship to Bolivia, and the Boston Post Office still remains without change.

Three more victims of the Montreal Riot died on Saturday and Sunday.

LOCAL.

PREPARATIONS.

There was quite a spirited meeting of the Committees and other citizens interested in the Industrial Procession, at the Common Council room on Wednesday evening. The Committee appointed at the previous meeting to take the general supervision of the industrial arrangements, and to report at this meeting—consisting of Messrs. Thomas Norton, Marcellus Bufford and Frank W. Miller—was voted by the meeting to be a permanent Committee of Arrangements, empowered to make all preparations to further the grand object.

The Committee was instructed by a vote of the meeting, to wait upon the City Government's Committee of Invitation and Reception of our expected guests, and advise that body of the organization made by the citizens, and ascertain what amount of the funds appropriated by the city, is to be devoted to the Industrial Procession. Report was made that the City Committee was not yet prepared to apportion out the funds to the various objects, but would take early action in the matter and report to the Industrial Committee.

The meeting adjourned till called together by the Commtitee.

STILL THEY COME.—Not only from Boston, but from elsewhere, and almost everywhere. The "Sons of Portsmouth" resident in New York, met at the Irving House on Monday evening, W. A. Walker presiding, and W. G. Kendall Secretary. A list of names was opened, and seventy or eighty Portsmouth men were found to be present.—A committee, consisting of G. F. Peterson, J. Franklin Pierce and James L. Wise, was appointed to report a proper course of proceedings on Friday evening. In Lowell, the "Sons" met on the same evening, Oliver March, Chairman, and B. H. Penhallow, Secretary, and a committee was appointed to make arrangements.

☞ A private letter from New York states that between two and three hundred persons registered their names to visit Portsmouth on the Fourth.

DIRTY STREETS.—"It needs no ghost to tell us" they are dirty:—but we are used to seeing the dust and paper blowing about, and didn't mind it, till somebody, and we believe half a dozen bodies, put us in mind of having the streets swept as well as the houses, to get ready for the Fourth. And one of these busy bodies suggests the plan of the city's employing the loafers to do the job. The alms-house or other teams might spend a profitable week in drawing off bulky but light loads of dust, manure and rubbish. We beg pardon for such a dirty paragraph, but there's a time and a place for all things. If we were the city fathers, how we would make the broom fly—and the dust too.

RAGS AND PAPER.—One old Irish or American man or woman could pick up a living in our streets, in the form of waste paper, which as it now flies about, is at once useless and unsightly. In most large cities, quite a number of persons live by such gleanings, which can readily be sold for the manufacture of coarse papers, bandbox board, &c. Somebody says that the amount of rags sold in many New England towns is equal to their taxes.

THE FREE DEMOCRACY were about to publish their programme for the Fourth of July, in the Messenger—when (bad luck entirely!) Mr. Webb, the orator of the day, informed them he could not come, in consequence of some circumstances not mentioned.

SHIPPING IN PORTSMOUTH HARBOR.—Standing on one of our wharves on Wednesday, an observer could see four new ships on the stocks, one new ship (the Water Witch) rigged and lying at the wharf, and the old line of battle ship Franklin, hauled up high and dry for razeeing and repairs.

Changing the stand point a few rods, another ship was visible, lying alongside a ship yard, for repairs—and two more ships, one loading with ice, and the other waiting for her turn to load. Besides these, there were thirteen coasters, mostly schooners unloading, and the usual number and variety of river and harbor craft.

SHAMEFUL.—Several times within a short period we have been waylaid, and bodily carried into different stores in this city to see some wonderful thing. Yesterday Mr. La Fayette Laighton served us in this way, and before being released we were compelled to take a bottle of Superior Lemon Syrup, which after a trial proved of excellent quality. Several other articles were also forced upon us; and not seeing exactly where the high-handed proceeding would stop, we began to apprehend a difficulty like that of the bumpkin who tried to eat through the bill of fare, but got stuck at beef steaks—for the store so overflowed with all sorts of good things as to threaten a surfeit. Luckily we made our escape in season to make an item of the occurrence, for this morning's paper.

We saw it stated lately, that to perform the labor done in England, by hand, would require every full grown man in the world.—To those who are opposed to the use of machinery instead of manual labor, the fact is a sufficient answer.

LATEST NEWS!

BY MAIL, EXPRESS & TELEGRAPH.

RUMORED SLAVE INSURRECTION.—New Orleans, June 14.—Considerable excitement was caused here to-day, by rumors of an intended rising of the slaves in this city. Information was given to the police at a late hour last night by a free negro, who pointed out the ringleader. The latter, when arrested, was found heavily armed. He confessed that a band of 2500 well organized negroes had matured a plan to attack the city next day in several points at once, including the powder magazine, the mint, and the principal banks. The city was then to be set on fire as a signal to the surrounding country to join the insurrection. Twenty other arrests have been made.

NEW ORLEANS, 14th, Evening.

The story of the intended insurrection is not generally credited, and by many is looked upon as a hoax. The police, however, have thought it necessary to take precautionary measures.

No further arrests have been made in addition to those already mentioned. The city is comparatively quiet.

STEAMBOAT ACCIDENT.—Philadelphia, June 15.—The walking beam of the steamboat Edwin Forrest was broken this morning, when the boat was just opposite Kensington. The piston head was forced out, letting the steam escape. There were 300 passengers on board, all of whom escaped serious injury. One man leaped overboard during the excitement, but was got on board unhurt.

FROM HAVANA—SLAVES.—A letter from Havana, dated the 8th inst., says:—"A few days ago, the bark Lady Suffolk landed 1150 slaves, and the Parodi 700, within the perfect cognizance of the government."

Consul Sharkey left on the 2d inst., and placed his business in the hands of Col. Wm. R. Robertson.

POWDER MILL EXPLOSION.—One of the "cracking" mills of the Enfield (Ct.) Powder Manufacturing Company was blown up with its contents of 1000 pounds of powder, on Thursday last. It was a terrible explosion, and the report was heard here. Walter Luce, a workman for the company, was in the mill at the time and lost his life. The only remnant of his body that could be found after the explosion, was the lower part of one of his legs, and this was at a distance of sixty rods from the mill.—Springfield Republican.

MURDER AT FRENCH'S HOTEL.—A gang of rowdies assaulted a young man named Wm. Stafford, at French's Hotel, and beat him in a shocking manner. The assault was committed four weeks ago, and on Saturday afternoon the unfortunate man died of the injuries which he received. He was walking in the Park with a friend, opposite the Hall of Records, where they were both attacked by a gang of rowdies, who followed them into French's Hotel, and there renewed their violent assault. The perpetrators of this startling outrage have eluded the authorities.—N. Y. Times.

LIQUOR CASES.—Schooner Wave, Musgrave, was fined $100 yesterday for a breach of the revenue laws, in having more than five hundred gallons of ardent spirits on board, without clearing from the Custom House.—Subsequently, Deputy Marshal Hall boarded the schooner in the stream, and seized the liquors under the laws of the State, as intended for sale, and the captain was fined $10 in a case of prosecution for selling. This is what might be called getting into a complication of difficulties.—Portland Advertiser.

PROMOTIONS IN THE ARMY.—Lieut. Col. Plympton, of the United States army, has been promoted to the rank of Colonel, with the grade of brevet, in the place of Major-General Riley, recently deceased. There have also been several promotions of other officers made.

SONAMBULISM.—In Cincinnati, a few nights since, a young lady left her sleeping apartment and went to a neighboring tree, which she succeeded in climbing, and seating herself upon a limb, commenced singing a plaintive ditty. Her friends were thus attracted to the spot, and she was rescued from her perilous place.

DESERTER.—A navy recruit who had been on board the receiving ship at the Brooklyn navy yard only two days, jumped overboard, on Friday, and was hastily dragged by accessories into a small boat which was waiting for him, and landed upon the wharf, when he ran away. He took with him sixty-six dollars, just paid him under the new bounty regulations. By the time the boat from the ship was manned, he was landed and out of sight. There are about one hundred recruits on board, and under the circumstances, more desertions are likely to be attempted.—Boston Daily Advertiser.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Sunday evening, as David Flynn sat conversing with his daughter at 23 Federal street, Boston, he suddenly fell upon the floor, and instantly expired. He was apparently in his usual good health during the day.

Popular Summer Resort,

At Kittery Point, Maine.

THE subscriber having taken a lease of the well-known, popular and beautifully-located Boarding-House on Kittery Point, belonging to Mr. R. F Gerrish, (who has recently extensively and tastefully enlarged the same,) will be ready by the 15th of June next, for the reception of such Regular Boarders and Transient Visitors as may favor him with their patronage.

The house is mostly new, and all in thorough order. The rooms, especially the sleeping rooms, are commodious and admirably ventilated; the opportunities for Bathing are unusually safe and convenient; the neighborhood quiet; and the scenery and rides thereabout and in the vicinity of the sea-shore, (which is in full view,) are delightful. The post-office is within three minutes' walk of the house; and a coach runs regularly twice a day to and from the Point, via the U. S. Navy Pard, arriving at and leaving the city of Portsmouth (three miles distant) on the arrival and departure of the cars.

The undersigned lessee, respectfully solicits for for himself, from Mr. Gerrish's former patrons in the business, a continuance of their wonted patronage to him—assuring them and all others who may be disposed to patronize him, that he will use his best endeavors to fully merit their favors.

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

LYON'S KATHAIRON,

For Preserving, Restoring & Beautifying the Hair,

CAUSING it to grow luxuriantly, and giving it a soft and curling appearance, of the most delightful character. The KATHAIRON neutralizes the effects of disease, climate, and old age, in preserving and restoring the Human Hair, even after a Baldness of many years,—cleanses the scalp from Dandruff, and its natural impurities,—immediately relieves sympathetic attacks of Nervous Headache, and cures all cutaneous diseases of the skin, such as Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Itch, &c.

AS A TOILET ARTICLE,

For giving the Hair a rich, soft, glossy and curling appearance, nothing has been discovered to compare with its incomparable—Its incontestible virtues. It imparts the fragrance of the most delightful and exotic flowers, and is free from all minera properties, or any substance which can color the skin, or stain a lady's hat.

It is pre-eminently beneficial. "The Kathairon restored my hair after a baldness of 12 years. A. J. COURTRIGHT, 76 Bond-st. N.Y." This admirable preparation can be had of all reputable dealers, throughout North and South America, and the Islands of the Ocean, in large bottles, for 25 cents.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT!

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life in a state where physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years? And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and secure to her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion,

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is a Mystery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

SPRING THE MURDERER.—A post mortem examination was held in Philadelphia on Saturday morning, on the body of this wretched criminal, who was executed the preceding day, in the dissecting room of the Philadelphia College of Medicine, his son having given his consent to such an examination as the interests of science might render desirable. The Philadelphia Bulletin gives the following account of the results:—

The phrenological developements of the head of the murderer were characteristic of the man. The head was large, being over twenty-two inches in circumference. The perceptive faculties were strong and the reflective weak. Benevolence and other organs, which are the indications of a good disposition, were found to be very poorly developed, while selfishness and firmness were large, and cautiousness was well developed. Secretiveness was large, and the animal organs, such as combativeness and destructiveness were enormous. The base of the brain was very large. The forepart of the head was very small, and the back very large, indicating sensuality and cruelty. The Professor styled the cranium of the deceased a "bull dog head."

There was little in the appearance of the brain to indicate that the deceased had died from any violence to the head or neck. The brain was very slightly congested, and there were no signs of extravasation. There was nothing, in fact, unusual in the appearance of the brain. Nothing to indicate hanging.—The dissection of the neck disclosed a different condition of things. The muscles were found to be much congested, and there was a great extravasation of blood. The windpipe was found to be disruptured in front, having been burst by the action of the cord. This result is unparalleled, so far as the knowledge of the demonstrator extended. This was probably the cause of the instantaneous death of the culprit.

Open Again.

JUST received on consignment a good assortment of BROADCLOTHS, Bl'k and Fancy DOESKINS, Satinets, Vestings, FURNISHING GOODS, such as Shirts, Collars, Bosoms, Neck Hdk'fs, Pocket Hdk'fs, Suspenders, &c.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DOCTOR ALFRED G. HALL,

AUTHOR of the New Theory of cure by the NUTRITIVE TREATMENT, in Physiology and Medicine, sustaining the laws of life and removing the cause of disease, confirmed as a NATURAL SCIENCE by the Nutritive Process; expelling dead and depositing living matter at the same time in the body, increasing its weight and strength while under treatment, being the great discovery of the constitutional power resisting disease; ample proof can be given in the person of any invalid.

Dr. H. receives visits, makes examinations, ascertains the cause of disease, describes the precise condition of the patient, furnishes prescriptions, medicines and recipes for his Nutritive Fluids and cordials.

Three months' attention and treatment is requisite in all cases, with printed instructions, for diet and washing, and the use of the Alkaline Girdle for the spine and kidneys—a restorative action is produced in all parts of the system immediately by the natural laws sustained by nutrition.

He is the inventor and sole proprietor of 12 nutritive fluids; they can be made by any family—are adapted to the several temperaments, and to every form of disease. His works, "Views of the New Theory, &c.," "Womanhood," and the "Mother's Own Book," are furnished to invalids under his supervision.

DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 70th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the best family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1852.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray.—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,

THE MORMONS.

Brigham Young, the chief apostle of Mormons and of spiritual wifery, made a speech, on the 27th March, in the Mormon Temple at Salt Lake City, of which the following is an extract:

I say again, you Gladdonites, do not court persecution, or you will get more than you want, and it will come quicker than you want it. I say to your bishops, do not allow them to preach in your bards. Who broke the road to these valleys; did this little nasty Smith and his wife? No, they stayed in St. Louis while we did it, peddling ribbons, and kissing the gentiles. I know what they have done here, they have asked exhorbitant prices for their nasty stinking ribbons, (voices, "that's true.") We broke the road to this country. Now you Gladdonites, keep your tongues still, lest sudden destruction comes upon you. I will tell you a dream that I had last night. I dreamed that I was in the midst of a people who were dressed in rags and tatters; they had turbans upon their heads, and these were also hanging in tatters. The rags were of many colors, and when the people moved they were all in motion; their object in this appeared to be to attract attention; said they to me, 'we are Mormons, brother Brigham.' 'No you are not,' I replied, 'But we have been,' said they, and began to jump, and caper about, and dance, and their rags of many colors were all in motion, to attract the attention of the people. I said 'you are no saints, you are a disgrace to them.' 'Said they, we have been Mormons.'

By and by along came some mobocrats, and they greeted them with, 'how do you sir, I am happy to see you.' They kept on that way for an hour. I felt ashamed of them, for they were in my eyes a disgrace to Mormonism.—Then I saw two ruffians, whom I knew to be mobbers and murderers, and they crept into a bed where one of my wives and children were. I said, 'you that call yourselves brethren, tell me is this the fashion among you?' They said, O, they are good men, they are gentlemen. With that I took my large bowie knife that I used to wear as a bosom pin in Nauvoo, and cut one of their throats from ear to ear, saying, 'go to hell across lots.' The other one said, 'You dare not serve me so.' I instantly sprang at him, seized him by the hair of the head, and bringing him down, cut his throat, and sent him after his comrade; then told them if they would behave themselves they should yet live, but if they did not I would unjoint their necks. At this I awoke. I say rather than that apostates shall flourish here, I will unsheath my bowknife and conquer or die. (Great commotion in the congregation, and a simultaneous burst of feeling, assenting to the declaration.)—Now you nasty apostates, clear out, or judgment will be put to the line, and righteousness to the plumet. (Voices generally, "go it, go it.") If you say it is right, raise your hands. (All hands up.) Let me call upon the Lord to assist us in this, and every good work.

To understand the point of this dream, says the Boston Chronicle, it must be recollected that a part of the mormons, called "Gladdonites," have recently dissented from the spiritual wife system. This sect is said to be on the increase. Brigham has prohibited emigration to California from his dominions.

ANCHORING FOR ANCHORS.—The ship Julius Cæsar, from Cape of Good Hope, came to anchor in the stream opposite to Holt's wharf, on Sunday, and on her heaving up the next morning, her anchor came very hard and seemed to be uncommonly heavy in coming up. When she had hauled into the wharf and got her "ground tackle" on the bow, the great weight was accounted for, she had actually duplicated her anchor—she had let go one and hauled up two. The "spare" anchor is now lying near the ship, on the wharf of Messrs. Williams & Haven, and it is quite a curiosity. It must have weighed originally about twelve hundred pounds, but probably does not weigh over four hundred now, being at least two-thirds eaten off by rust.

The stock, however, which is of white oak, is sound and entire, and even the tarred rope wound about the ring—wooling, we believe, and if that isn't right, let the sailors laugh at us—is still in its place. The anchor was evidently used before the time of chain cables, and those acquainted with such matters are of opinion that it was lost at least fifty years ago, and has remained in the mud ever since. It was imbedded full six feet deep, which accounts for the perfect preservation of the stock, as it was much beyond the reach of the worms which would otherwise have devoured it long ago. There is another anchor known to be near the same spot, lost by a U. S. ship many years since, weighing at the time upwards of 5000 lbs., but that must be considered "an anchor of faith," for it probably never will be seen, as the last time it was fished for it was sixteen feet in the mud.—New London Chronicle.

THE MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH.—The Newburyport Herald says, much of the business of the world is now doing through the agency of the magnetic telegraph. A few days since, a ship broker at St. John, telegraphed to New York, for a ship of a certain size to load deals and timber at Quebec for England. The New Yorker in turn telegraphed to a ship owner at Bath, and the latter to the master of his ship, waiting business at Mobile, and the necessary reply was received, and the terms of the contract all agreed upon by telegraph the same day, for the ship then at Mobile, to proceed immediately to Quebec and load.

A correspondent of the Newark Daily Advertiser, writing from Genoa, under date of April 18, relates a similar incident, and says, "this port, (Genoa) is just now beginning to experience the benefit of its telegraphic communication with Paris and London. A large vessel arrived from the Baltic, a few days ago, with a valuable cargo of wheat, and found a purchaser in London within five hours by telegraph! This incident, and some others of a like character, have produced quite an awakening among the Italians, who appear to realize for the first time the wonders of modern commercial progress."

PORTSMOUTH:
FRIDAY, JUNE 17, 1853.

JUDGE BARCULO.

We did Judge Barculo injustice, unintentionally, in our remarks on his slowness in deciding so plain a case, as the rendition of an infant daughter to her father. His opinion "in the matter of Jane Trainer," is reported in the New York Herald; by which we perceive that Counsellor Brady, for the respondent, raised a number of law questions, all of which Judge Barculo doubtless decided in his own mind, quite promptly; but did not, as a matter of course, have in readiness all his authorities and precedents. These he took time to prepare, and gave an able and correct opinion, the most important part of which is, as follows:

That the father has a title superior to any stranger is no less a doctrine of the authorities than it is a principle of human nature. The father's rights are paramount even to the mother's, until he forfeits his claim by misconduct or ill usage. (People ex re. Nickerson, 19 Wen. 16.) "He is bound to support and maintain it. He is, therefore, the natural guardian, and entitled to its custody, care and education." He has the natural right to bring it up in his own faith, and give it such instructions and discipline as he may deem best for its present and future welfare. In the language of Judge Bronson, in Merceins vs. The People, 25 Wen. 72, "The law regards him as the head of the family; obliges him to provide for its wants, and commits the children to his charge in preference to the claims of the mother or any other person."

* * * * * * *

It is sufficient for us that this child does not manifest that degree of judgment which, in the opinion of the Court, would qualify her to select her own domicil and guardian. That she is old enough to feel a preference, and that such feeling is toward the respondent, [Rose Porter] is quite apparent; but that such preference is wise and discreet cannot be admitted. Indeed it can hardly be contended that a house of ill fame is a proper place, or one of its inmates a suitable person, for the education of any child.

* * * * * * *

Guided by these lights, we shall direct an order to be entered, adjudging that the said Charles Trainer is entitled to the care and custody of said Jane Trainer, and directing her to be delivered to him as her father, leaving him, like the rest of us, responsible to his conscience and his God for the manner in which he shall fulfil the trust thus restored to him.

The court then directed the child to be delivered up to the father by the sheriff, which was done. The child was taken screaming out of court, but when she was alone with her friends in a private room, she appeared to be perfectly satisfied with her fate. It is a well known practice at the South, to deceive negro children, by telling them frightful stories of abolitionists and free negroes at the north.

The Boston Transcript says, "the opinion of Judge Barculo is replete with elevated sentiments, and sound legal arguments. It is a clear, succinct, and positive statement of the law of the case, and on reading it, one is surprised how a question so simple should have been made to occupy the attention of the courts for so long a time."

It may fitly be added, that it is remarkable, not surprising, to see how earnestly a learned lawyer, a leader of mobs, and ever so many newspaper editors, conspire together to defend that side of the controversy so obviously in the wrong.

Bunker Hill.—The Seventeenth of June is the Anniversary of the great battle of Bunker Hill, in 1775, when the American patriots as we deem them, or rebels as the British and Tories then called them, were routed from Breed's Hill in Charlestown, by the English forces, with such loss on the part of the king's forces, and such demonstrations of courage and firmness by the revolutionists, as showed the issue to which the contest was tending, and made the British officers, very many of them, wholly averse to prolonging it.

The anniversary has sometimes been celebrated with much pomp; but this year it is hardly noticed, even in Boston and Charlestown.

The Railroad Fare Reduced.—At the meeting of the Directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad on Wednesday, it was decided to reduce the fare between Baltimore and Washington from $1.80 to $1.25, and for tickets to go and return on the same day from $2 to $2.50. The new rates are to go into effect on the 1st of July next. We hail this movement with pleasure, and confidently hope that at no distant day we shall be able to announce that the trip between Washington and Baltimore may be made for a dollar, and the round trip at a corresponding low rate.—National Intelligencer.

Cooper House.—The summer residence of James Fenimore Cooper, at Cooperstown, in New York, distinguished for the beauty of its situation and scenery, has been enlarged and remodelled into a hotel capable of accommodating nearly three hundred guests. The lower stories will remain the same as when occupied by Mr. Cooper; and in the library will be found not only his own works, but also those of eminent foreign and American authors. Cooperstown lies at the southerly end of Otsego Lake, the scene of the "Leather Stocking Tales" and others of Cooper's novels.

LOCAL.

City Council—June 16.

In Board of Aldermen, it was voted that a Gas light be erected on Market Square.

Voted that the City Clerk and Mayor be authorized to procure the requisite tax-bills for the use of the Collector.

Voted that the repairs of the pound be made by the Committee on Roads, &c.

Voted that the Bridwell be cleansed under the direction of the Marshal.

Capt. Beck applied for the use of Jefferson Hall for Rockingham Guards—granted.

A message was received from the Council that they had voted that the Mayor be added to the Committee of Arrangements for the 4th of July—concurred in.

The ordinance respecting Barbers' shops, sent up from the Council, was read and referred to committee on Bills on 2d reading.

Resolved, if the Council concur, that the President of the Council be added to the Committee of Arrangements for the 4th of July.

The ordinance respecting badges of the Marshal and Assistants, sent up from the Council, was passed.

The application of Oliver Tucker, for Clerk of Spring Market, was laid on the table.

In Common Council—Mr. Hackett in the chair—The ordinance on Barber's shops, allowing them to keep open on Sunday morning till half-past 9 o'clock—was read and passed.

Resolved, (the Aldermen concurring) that the Mayor be added to the Committee of Arrangements for the 4th of July.

An ordinance was passed, prescribing badges for the Marshal and Assistants. [The ordinance provides that the Marshal shall wear a cockade on his hat, and the Assistants a star on the lapel of their coats.]

In Convention—chose Wm. Tucker Assistant Engineer.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE FOURTH.

The joint committee on arrangements, appointed by the City Council, met on Wednesday evening, and appointed the following sub committees:

On Invitation and Reception:
The whole board of Committee of Arrangements.

On Conference with Boston and New York Committees:
Messrs. Colcord and Jenkins.

On Marshal and Escort:
Messrs. Jenkins, Colcord and Laighton.

On Banners:
Messrs. Claggett, Rand and Stackpole.

On Music:
Messrs. Haven, Todd and Brown.

On Bells, Salute and Fire Works:
Messrs. Knowlton, Gerrish and Dame.

On Location of Tent:
Messrs. Haven, Laighton and Claggett.

On Collation:
Messrs. Brown, Rand, Claggett, Laighton and Knowlton.

The Committee of Arrangements have already appropriated the sum of $150 for the Industrial Procession, with a probability that more will be added. It should be doubled.

Messrs. Colcord and Jenkins were appointed a Special Committee to confer with Boston and New York Committees, and extend an invitation to such natives of Portsmouth as reside in Boston and New York, in behalf of the General Committee of Arrangements.

We learn that the above committee left for Boston and New York on Thursday morning.

Bond's Cornet Band (of 18 pieces) has been engaged by the "boys" in Boston to accompany them on the excursion.

One of the first military companies in Boston, have offered their services as an escort, which will probably be accepted.

It is understood, from a gentleman of Boston, that their Committee on Railroads have made an arrangement whereby they can come and return at half price, between Friday and Wednesday.

Warm Weather.—Our Thermometer, in the Chronicle office, on Thursday, stood at 85 in the shade.

The Concord Daily Patriot says the thermometer there, on Tuesday, in the shade, stood at 86; and on Wednesday it rose as high as 92 at noon. The average heat from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. was 87. Its effect on the "assembled wisdom" was very marked; for notwithstanding the zeal with which they labor and talk, (especially the latter,) about shortening the session, three quarters of an hour's baking in the Representatives' Hall sufficed for the Wednesday afternoon session, and an adjournment took place without a solitary murmur of dissent.

The State Fair.—The directors of the State Agricultural Society, at their meeting in Concord on Wednesday, decided to hold the State Fair at Manchester. The citizens of that place offered to pay $700 or $800, on condition that it be there held, while those of Concord offered only about two-thirds as much. It is to be held on the 5th, 6th and 7th days of October. We hope (says the Daily Patriot) our farmers will see to it that this Fair shall excel all previous ones.

MUTINY.

The crew of the schooner Advent, whose mutiny we noticed on Monday, have been examined and committed for trial. The Advent has proceeded on her voyage. The following sketch of the examination agrees nearly with our former account.

Henry Thompson, Charles Smith, and George Marsh, seamen and the crew of the schooner Advent, bound to Jacksonville, Florida, have been examined before W. H. Y. Hackett, Commissioner of U. S. Circuit Court, upon a charge of disobedience and revolt. It appeared in evidence that the respondents shipped to perform the voyage, and rendered themselves on board the schooner on Thursday of last week. The schooner dropped down abreast of Newcastle, on Thursday afternoon. On Friday the crew were drunk: Thompson insulted the mate, drew a knife while near the mate, discharged a revolver twice, and refused to do any duty, in which the others joined. On Saturday the crew were sober, and the mate supposing that their conduct had been occasioned by rum, was preparing to go to sea as soon as there should be a favorable wind. On Sunday morning, the wind being fair, and the crew sober, orders were given to weigh anchor and get ready to go to sea. All the crew peremptorily refused to obey this order, and the Captain, after giving them five hours to reflect upon their conduct, sent ashore for aid, and had them arrested.

They were ordered to recognize in the sum of $500 each, for their appearance at the next U. S. Circuit Court, and for want of sureties were committed. W. H. Hackett for the prosecution, Samuel Storer for defendants.

SHIP FRANKLIN.

An old Lion, with his teeth drawn and nails cut off, securely caged, bound hand and foot, is quietly, if not patiently, going through the operation of having his mane and tail sheared close to the skin, and now and then a small pattern snipped out by some one of the numerous barbers who were handling the sheep shears.

Now we think of it, this item was not to be about a lion, but about a ship: but as we walked over the great dismantled hulk, and then under it, we caught the idea of a caged lion given over to the boys as tormentors,—and could not afterwards get rid of it. The guns and trumpets, the thunder and music of her decks were gone long ago—the masts and sails, the chains and anchors had disappeared, and now the workmen, as busy as bees but not quite so numerous, were not only shearing the old carcass, by ripping off the copper, and cutting out a slice of plank here and there, but gutting it also, taking out all the doors and partitions, and pulling up the pumps, as men uproot the trees.

The Franklin 74, was built at Philadelphia, about the same time with the Washington, of the same rate and size, which was built at this port,—the Franklin being launched 38 years ago. She must have been built of the best materials, and with the most faithful workmanship: her woodwork, without and within, being very little decayed, but much worn, and on the inside looks like an old house which has been used but not abused. Most of the plank appears sound as when it was put on, and so well fastened was it at the beginning, that it comes off like drawing teeth. Slices of oakum come out perfectly solid and fresh.

With the alterations and repairs proposed, the Franklin will be a noble ship, as good as new—and be again a lion with mane and tail erect, and teeth and claws outspread.

The Objectionable Resolution.—The Boston Courier has obtained the original resolution offered at the late Democratic State Convention, to which we referred last week. The portion in italics was stricken out in committee, as conveying upon the administration a censure too hard to be tolerated.—The Courier intimates that the same resolution would have been adopted before the election. Perhaps so, but circumstances alter cases.

Resolved, That we encourage ourselves with the belief that our distinguished fellow citizen, now at the head of the government of the United States, will not in his future appointments overlook the "Old Guard" of the Democratic party, upon whom he must rely for successful support in all the emergencies which may arise in the progress of his administration, nor confer too many favors upon those who "support the platform for one purpose and spit on it for another," and who have no real sympathy with the great national Democratic party or its principles.

☞ We understand Mr. Oscar K. Grant, of South Berwick, has been appointed Mail Agent on the Boston & Maine Railroad, vice F. A. Franklin, removed.

"Jealousy is the rage of a man."—At Washington City, on Wednesday afternoon, Andrew Morrison shot his wife and a dry goods clerk named Wm. H. Hester, the latter, it is feared, fatally. Cause, said to be a confirmation of his suspicions of improper familiarity; finding the parties together in his chamber after having given out that he was leaving town.

BY MAIL, EXPRESS & TELEGRAPH.

STEAMER BURNED—THE NEGRO INSURRECTION. New Orleans, June 15.—The steamer State, with a small cargo of sugar and cotton, from Houston, was burnt at Galveston, on Sunday. Vessel scuttled and sunk. The cargo will probably be saved in a damaged state.

FIRE. Lowell, 16th.—Mill No. 1, of the Merrimack Company, took fire this morning, and three upper stories were completely burnt out. The first and second stories were saved by the great capacity of the force pumps.—Loss about $50,000—not insured.

N. H. General Court—June Session.

Abridged from Daily Patriot.

Wednesday, June 15.

SENATE.—Mr. Symmes, from the committee on Roads, &c., by leave, reported a resolution, indefinitely postponing a bill laying out a highway over the North Mill Pond in the city of Portsmouth. Adopted.

HOUSE.—Publication of the Laws of the State.—On motion of Mr. Carr of Goffstown, the committee on Printer's Accounts were instructed to report to the House, as accurately as they have the means of doing so, the difference in the expense of publishing the laws passed at each session of the Legislature, as they are now published by the various newspapers of the State, and in authorizing them to publish and furnish to their patrons the same, distinct from other matter, in the form of an extra one quarter the size of the regular weekly issue, suitable for binding and preservation.

[This is a poor plan. The pamphlet laws, as now published, are just the thing for preservation and binding. But the proposed form, neither book nor newspaper, would generally be neglected. The newspaper form is the best for circulation and speedy reading; the pamphlet is best for preservation and reference.]

Liquor bill.—The bill prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages, was taken from the table, read and referred to a select committee.

The Woodbury and Webster Portraits.—The Speaker appointed a special committee on the subject of procuring full-length portraits of Levi Woodbury and Daniel Webster, to be placed in the Hall of the House of Representatives.

3 DAYS LATER FROM LIVERPOOL.

ARRIVAL OF THE ASIA.

NEW YORK, June 15, midnight.—The steamship Asia, from Liverpool, 9 1-2 A. M. 4th inst., has just arrived. She has 78 passengers, amongst them Col. J. C. Fremont.

Nothing new had transpired relative to the French position respecting affairs in the East.

France in retaliation for Austrian alliance demands from Belgium fifty millions of francs for aid rendered in Louis Phillippe's time.

Diplomatic relations are not yet restored between Austria and and Switzerland, but probably will be. Dafour has taken command of the Swiss troops. The Swiss are filling up their forces on a war footing.

Nothing of importance from Turkey. The Sultan was taking every means to prepare for war.

Russia demanded peremptorily from the Shah of Persia instant repayment of the fifty million loan, or the cession of the province of Asterabа on the Caspian. The Shah refuses either.

Monrovia dates to May 7, are received.

The elections were over, but the result was not declared. Roberts is supposed to be elected President. The colony was prosperous.

Wheat advanced 2d and flour 1s on the week; an active, consumptive and speculative business.

Indian Corn unaltered in demand or value.

Beef—large imports and few sales; fine held firmly and unchanged; McHenry however quotes 5s decline. Bacon quiet but held firmly; considerable arrivals to one house.—Lard a shade lower; 50s for poor, 53s fine white. Cheese—small stock and good demand.

A trial of speed took place a day or two ago, on the Central Road, from Buffalo to Rochester, and on that from the same place, via Lockport and the Rochester and Niagara Falls Road. The Central train from Buffalo consisted of three cars and 50 passengers.—That of the Lockport train of five cars and 150 passengers. The Central train performed 99 miles in one hour and 28 minutes; the other 76 1-2 miles in 1 hour and 45 minutes. In such a contest as this the passengers ought to be consulsulted whether they are willing to risk their lives in that way.

SEIZURE OF LIQUOR.—On Saturday the city Police under Marshal Farnham, seized at Steamboat wharf, twenty one packages of liquor, containing in all three hundred and ninety gallons. One of the trunks was claimed as the baggage of a New York gentleman, and the claimants were very vociferous and determined to rescue the trunk, and a sharp contest ensued, which lasted nearly or quite half an hour, creating quite a bustle. Upon the inspection of the trunk it was found to contain two kegs of liquor.—Bangor Whig.

FIRE.—A car from Claremont, N. H., loaded with cotton cloth, paper and furniture belonging to F. A. Pierce, took fire Wednesday morning at the Fitchburg freight depot in Charlestown, and was destroyed. Another car was badly injured and several bales of cotton destroyed. The fire is supposed to have caught from a spark from an engine.

NEW INVENTIONS.—The Boston Mail says Mr. Elizur Wright has gone to Washington to secure a patent for an invention of his that will prove of great practical use to the community.

Mr. Edmund Pernear, of Lynn, has invented (and taken out a patent for) an original contrivance to prevent Railroad accidents both at crossings and drawbridges.

Popular Summer Resort,

At Kittery Point, Maine.

THE subscriber having taken a lease of the well-known, popular and beautifully-located Boarding-House on Kittery Point, belonging to Mr. R. F Gerrish, (who has recently extensively add tastefully enlarged the same,) will be ready by the 15*th of June next*, for the reception of such Regular Boarders and Transient Visitors as may favor him with their patronage.

The house is mostly new, and all in thorough order. The rooms, especially the sleeping rooms, are commodious and admirably ventilated; the opportunities for Bathing are unusually safe and convenient; the neighborhood quiet; and the scenery and rides thereabout and in the vicinity of the sea-shore, (which is in full view,) are delightful. The post-office is within three minutes' walk of the house; and a coach runs regularly twice a day to and from the Point, via the U. S. Navy Yard, arriving at and leaving the city of Portsmouth (three miles distant) on the arrival and departure of the cars.

The undersigned lessee, respectfully solicits for for himself, from Mr. Gerrish's former patrons in the business, a continuance of their wonted patronage to him—assuring them and all others who may be disposed to patronize him, that he will use his best endeavors to fully merit their favors.

THE undersigned, proprietor of the above-named Summer Residence at Kittery Point, hereby most cheerfully recommends Mr. Weston to the favorable notice and liberal patronage of his old friends and patrons, and to the pleasure-seeking and health-seeking public generally—well assured that Mr. Weston will prove himself to be an agreeable and popular landlord, and Mrs. Weston an equally favorite landlady.

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, gentle warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

CAUSING it to grow luxuriantly, and giving it a soft and curling appearance, of the most delightful character. The KATHAIRON neutralises the effects of disease, climate, and old age, in preserving and restoring the Human Hair, even after a Baldness of many years,—cleanses the scalp from Dandruff, and its natural impurities.—immediately relieves sympathetic attacks of Nervous Headache, and cures all cutaneous diseases of the skin, such as Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Itch, &c.

AS A TOILET ARTICLE,

For giving the Hair a rich, soft, glossy and curling appearance, nothing has been discovered to compare with its incontested—its incontestible virtues. It imparts the fragrance of the most delightful and exotic flowers, and is free from all minera properties, or any substance which can color the skin, or stain a lady's hat.

FOR BALD OR GREY HEADS

It is pre-eminently beneficial. "The Kathairon restored my hair after a baldness of 12 years. A. J. COURTRIGHT, 76 Bond-st. N.Y." This admirable preparation can be had of all reputable dealers, throughout North and South America, and the Islands of the Ocean, in large bottles, for 25 cents. MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during childhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence to which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage, but as female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the "indispensable necessity" of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband can cause upon himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, postpaid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMANS PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1224, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

A ROYAL BRIDAL OUTFIT.—The following is the bridal trousseau of Princess Anna, of Austria, on her marriage with the prince of Hesse Cassell. We should say she was very respectably provided for:

"One of the two large rooms which the trousseau occupied, the first, contained the house and body linen, laid out for the most part in 20 dozens and 24 dozens, all marked with her royal highness's name, and 12 dozen pocket handkerchiefs with the royal arms woven in them. In connection with the travelling couch were 24 dozen day and night chemises, as many undress and night caps, and other incomprehensible and unmentionable articles in like profusion. The linen takes up three sides of the room, the fourth is occupied by the chaussure, consisting of 24 pairs of silk and leather shoes, and 24 dozen pairs of stockings. In the second room were gloves, embroidered handkerchiefs, collars, scarfs, hats, bonnets, artificial flowers, &c., in bewildering profusion; to make all complete, there was a riding habit, 12 cloaks in silk and velvet; and, besides all these, the ball and court dresses, as well as the wedding robe, a diadem of brilliants, and many more things."

DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,

INTERESTING FACTS

are constantly coming to light, from different parts of the country, showing the astonishing effects of the fair and faithful use of these Lozenges.

HERE IS ONE LETTER,

from a citizen of Portsmouth—and but a sample of hundreds:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May, 1853.

This is to certify that I consider Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenges a valuable article for what they are designed—the best remedy before the public. My son had a very severe cough, which threatened speedily to carry him off; and nothing seemed to give relief, until I tried these Lozenges, —which produced signs of relief in a few hours, and after the taking of a few boxes, wholly removed his cough. DOGMATISM IN THE PULPIT.—The following dog story, which we copy from the Liverpool Standard, shows that in Great Britain as well as in Massachusetts, dogs sometimes take a fancy to the pulpit. The story is headed:

A DOG OUT OF PLACE.—On the evening of a recent Sunday, as the inhabitants of Ystradganlais, South Wales, were crowding to the chapel to hear a somewhat famous itinerant preacher, a huge dog made his way into the building, bolted up the pulpit stairs, and took possession of the place assigned to the pastor. The unsuspecting itinerant walked up to the pulpit in a short time, but assailed with fierce growls and a row of teeth like an alligator's, he was glad to get to the bottom of the steps. A second ventured, but only elicited some additional growls. A third sage, making discretion the better part of valor, first ascended to make an amicable settlement with Tyke. He did not dispute the dog's right of possession, but endeavored to charm him from his elevated position with a piece of candle.

At this, Tyke waxed more furious than ever, deeming the candle an insult; and at length the pastor took his place in the small reading desk, in which he preached, Tyke all the while remaining perched aloft listening to the discourse with a gravity and decorum worthy of a class-leader. The scene may be more easily imagined than described."

A GOOD AND TRUE DOG STORY.—A lady in this city owns a very interesting little King Charles spaniel, which was always remarkable for its intelligence and aptness in learning every new trick. On a recent occasion, this little pet displayed a sagacity that astonished even its oldest acquaintances and best friends. The mistress of the dog was in the habit of visiting her spaniel to the house of a neighbor, who had a dog of a similar breed, and the two dogs would return to her parlor and have a good time. One afternoon the visitor was injured in its leg, and came limping into the room, whining piteously. It was taken in charge by the mistress of the house, who bound up the injured limb, caressed the unfortunate animal, and gave it several delicacies as a consolation for its mishap; her own dog lying in the meantime, on an ottoman, watching her movements with curious eyes.—The next afternoon the little dog determined to make a raise by imitating the example of the visitor on the previous day, and its mistress was somewhat surprised to see her little darling limping about the room, and, by expressive pantomime signifying that he desired to be "treated" like his young friend.

The artful spaniel was taken up and caressed, and received a quantity of milk, cake, etc. These he devoured with a good appetite, and afterwards jumped down upon the carpet, and, smacking his lips with great satisfaction, ran about, his lameness having all disappeared as if by magic. If a more knowing specimen of the dog kind can be produced, we would like to see him.—Boston Herald.

THE BOURSE.—Every transatlantic steamer, when Paris matters are touched, has something to say of the Bourse. What is the Bourse? It is plainly what corresponds to our exchange—the gathering point of the money men of the street (rue) on which it is situated is something like State street.

The Bourse is one of the beautiful structures in the great metropolis. It is 212 by 126 feet, and is surrounded by a range of sixty-six Corinthian columns. Although commenced in March, 1808, it was not completed until 1826, on account of the vicissitudes of intervening time. Over the entrance is inscribed, "Bourse et Tribunal de Commerce." The roof is composed entirely of iron and copper, and during business hours at this seat of Mammon for the French Empire the national flag floats over the edifice. Portions of the interior are beautifully decorated by figures emblematic of commerce, abundance, &c., with paintings of several of the cities of France. Ladies were formerly admitted to the Bourse, but as it was found to encourage a passion in the gentler sex for gambling in stocks, they are not now allowed to enter during hours of business.—Total cost of the Bourse 8,149,000 francs. There are stirring times within its walls and upon its pavements during the hours allotted for public operations.—Boston Bee.

SPANISH BRAVERY.—The Havana correspondent of the N. Y. Evening Post relates the following story, which furnishes a very good illustration of Spanish bravery:

"On Sunday there was quite a scene in this city. A slave belonging to Mr. Embill, a merchant, received some chastisement from his owner, and afterwards, by way of revenge, attacked his master and the porter of the house with a knife. The police came, accompanied by soldiers; then more police and more troops. He defied them all; and at every move the soldiers and police fled. Finally, he was shot and captured on the roof of the house. The negro is quite a lawyer, and asked if the soldiers who captured him were a specimen of the men who were to encounter the Americans. Although weak and exhausted from loss of blood, he taunted them to the last. It is a fact that the desperate negroes with their knives are the terror of the police and the troop, who, by-the-by, are neither Greeks nor Romans in valor."

Mr. Benedict, of North Providence, R. I., a prominent temperance man, was convicted of a violation of the liquor law, to the astonishment of every one. It was soon apparent that the conviction was obtained only through the grossest perjury. The perjurer has since been indicted, and after pleading guilty, was sentenced to two years in the State prison.—He stated to the court that he was hired to commit the perjury by some men in Johnston, to whom Mr. Benedict had made himself odious by his zeal in the enforcement of the liquor law.

DEPUTY SHERIFF,

DAILY
Morning Chronicle.

PORTSMOUTH:
SATURDAY, JUNE 18, 1853.

THE ADMINISTRATION.

One of the strongest levers by which the late dominant party was turned out of power and President Pierce put in, was the hope of office operating on thousands of men in every State. And the most annoying thorns in his official bed of roses, are the complaints, and threats, and disaffection which are bursting forth from the disappointed on every hand.

The rebellious resolution which was offered in the New Hampshire Democratic Convention, we have already published. The N. H. Daily Patriot takes exception at the resolution, and at those who uphold it, and says:

"It is well known that previous to the assembling of the Baltimore Convention, the Democratic party was divided into three branches or sections, in regard to the slavery question, viz: The original friends of the Compromise Measures, both North and South, Southern men who opposed those measures as yielding too much to the North; and Northern men who opposed them as too favorable to the South. These three branches of the party were represented in the Baltimore Convention, and there they all united upon a common platform recognizing the 'finality' of the Compromise; and upon that platform and by those three classes of Democrats, Gen. PIERCE was nominated for the Presidency; upon that platform and by the cordially united efforts of those three classes of Democrats, Gen. PIERCE was elected.

* * * * * * *

It was universally understood during the canvass, that all sections of the party should participate in the fruits of victory; and no one denies that this understanding has been carried out; men of each branch of the party have been appointed to all grades of offices, from the Cabinet down. But, among the many original opponents of the Compromise, none have been appointed who are not determined to adhere to the Baltimore platform, to stand by the Compromise and to oppose a renewal of the slavery agitation."

On the other hand, the Concord Reporter defends the resolution, and the men who reported it, and replies—

There could be no particle of even implied censure existing in the resolution, unless the President had given to it point and pertinency by his own acts. We grant that had he overlooked in his appointments to office, the "Old Guard"—the true friends of the country and the Union—the steady, consistent democrats, always found at the post of duty, and made his selections from the whigs, the abolitionists, the secessionists, those who "have for years been arrayed against the democratic party and the Union," then, indeed, the fifth resolution would have contained a gentle admonition, that he ought not to do so. But do the gentlemen who opposed the 5th resolution, admit that he has done this? Do they not, in fact, by putting the construction which they did upon that resolution, become his only accusers? And do they feel quite sure that the President will thank them for putting themselves and him in such an attitude?

* * * * * * *

If the 5th contained but a gentle admonition, what but a scathing rebuke is contained in the 4th, which declares that "the Baltimore platform cannot be regarded as a compromise of principles, nor an amnesty to factions that have for years been arrayed against the democratic party and the Union?"

At first, and for a considerable time we did not understand the difference between the "Old Guard" and the new—but by the aid of these paragraphs and the articles of which they form a part, we begin to see through it.

The Reporter, the Resolution, and we suppose the Old Guard also, insist that no man should have an office under the present administration, except those whose persons and garments are and ever have been free from the slightest taint or smell of abolitionism.

But the Patriot, the majority of the convention, and we infer President Pierce himself, consider that any man, abolitionist or secessionist though he may be, who pledges himself to the "compromise as a finality," has thereby acquired an "odor of patriotism" sufficiently strong to overcome the other and unsavory smells.

The Washington Union, in an article on the position of the Democratic party, after eulogizing Hon. D. S. Dickenson, of New York, assumes that all branches of the party are now harmoniously united on the Baltimore platform, and says:

"There is no longer a 'barnburner party'—there is no longer a 'State-rights party;'—there is no longer a 'constitutional Union party;' for all these terms are forgotten in the happy reconciliation which rallied the entire organization under the banner of the 'National Democracy.' States long distracted by bitter feuds among former friends have become harmonious. Victory answers to victory from every corner of the land; and the joint influences of Democratic principles and concert among Democratic brethren pervade and strengthen our ranks."

With regard to this assumption of the Washington organ, the New York Evening Post, a Democratic paper of the barnburner stripe, says, not the less keenly because in good humour:

"It is understood that all the members of the Democratic party are to be taken up seriatim by the Union, from the highest unto the lowest, and placed fair and square upon the Baltimore platform, without regard to their kicks or struggles. We hope the refractory will see by the ease with which Dickinson has been 'rectified,' that there is no use scratching and biting, and that party discipline is like spring medicine, and the sooner it is taken the better for all parties."

In this latter quotation, we have a key which unlocks the mystery and enables us to see the difficulty, though it may not so clearly reveal a way for its removal.

Politicians, by whatever name known, may become somewhat wiser by learning and remembering, that the element of dislike and opposition, or as Mr. Webster styled it "prejudice" against slavery in all its forms and developments, exists in all the northern states; that it prevails so extensively, and is so inter woven with our literature, our religious teaching, and our political notions, that no party can be safe without keeping an eye on it; and that President Pierce would have been no president at all, had not the barnburners in New York, and their allies elsewhere, been conciliated by admitting them to share in the efforts of election, cheered on by a prospect of the rewards of office.

Since writing the above, the Concord Reporter of the 17th has been received, which finds fault with the Patriot for laboring "to prove that the abolitionists are but a section of the democratic party," and says—

"Supposing the N. H. Patriot had published previous to the Presidential election, precisely such an article as appeared in that paper of Tuesday—had gone into a labored argument of special pleading to prove that the freesoil party was but a section of the democratic party, and that the President was bound to give them offices and honors, what would have been the effect upon the election? Supposing, instead of denying the charge preferred by Goodale and Foss, that Gen. Pierce attempted in the New Boston speech to conciliate the abolitionists, that article had been put forth as an answer, could Gen. Pierce have obtained a single Southern electoral vote? * * * We tell the leaders of this movement, that the attempt to abolitionize the democratic party this State will utterly fail, and that it will cover with infamy those who make the attempt."

FRACTIONAL BILLS.—The circulation of Fractional Bills is rapidly diminished in this vicinity, and hundreds of dollars of these bills are being returned through the brokers to those banks that issued them. We understand that the Providence banks are very happy to have these bills returned, as there is a large demand for them at the West, where they are used in paying the laborers on the railroads now being built. One bank has an order for $10,000 worth of these bills, and has employed a number of extra hands to prepare them for circulation. The issue, so far, has proved highly successful and profitable.—Boston Traveller.

Well: if profitable for the banks of Rhode Island, why should not the banks of Massachusetts and New Hampshire share in the benefits? If such a currency is convenient at the west, as well as in Rhode Island, why should not a similar convenience be enjoyed by the people of the north and east? We are aware it will be said they are unlawful—but the question again recurs, Why are they unlawful? We have never yet seen any reason offered against them, which would not apply as well to all small bills whatever.—The law against them is a mere remnant of that obsolete idea, a mere specie currency. The small bill laws of New England were never enforced, and were very soon repealed. No fine was ever paid on the fractional bills—and probably none ever will be. Let no holder of them think of losing one cent on them, by sale or otherwise. The Boston brokers advertised one day to buy them at five per cent. discount, and the next day for two. This shows them to be perfectly good; and as soon as the Rhode Island Banks get the western demand supplied, they will be again circulated in Boston and elsewhere, unless the new silver change becomes plentiful. In the meantime let such trashy laws be repealed.

FRACTIONAL BILLS.—The Amesbury Villager says of the law passed at the late session of the Massachusetts Legislature, to suppress the circulation of fractional bills:—The policy of such a law at this time, when small coins are not sufficiently abundant for purposes of change, may well be questioned.—Thousands of dollars in fractional bills are believed to be in circulation in this State—coming to us constantly from Rhode Island.

MUSIC ON BOSTON COMMON.—After a hard fight, between the City Council on one side, and the people, represented by the Transcript, on the other, it was voted, in Common Council, on Thursday evening, that the music be furnished on one evening in each week, between the hours of 7 to 9 o'clock, and on Saturday afternoon of each week between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock. This was passed, 30 to 14.

SLAVE INSURRECTION AT NEW ORLEANS.—Dyson, an Englishman, who has taught a school in New Orleans for negro children, has been arrested as the planner and instigator of the attempt at insurrection in that city. He will be examined on the 22d. He has been imprisoned before for harboring a negro criminal.

MURDER.—A man named H. B. Wilson, has been arrested at Raleigh, N. C., charged with whipping a slave woman to death.

ALABAMA LAW.—Pending a late lawsuit in New York, Counsellor Brady stated, that by the law of Alabama, slaves cannot marry.

The above three paragraphs will do for the next edition of Uncle Tom—as the papers say.

LOCAL.

For the Chronicle.

JOSEPH BARTLETT.

Messrs. Editors:—I have seen published lately in your interesting paper, some reminiscences of our old townsman, Joseph Bartlett, Esq. It would be gratifying to me who was personally acquainted with him for several years, and no doubt to many of his old friends, to make room in your columns, (so that it may be preserved) for the following piece of poetry, composed by him some short time before leaving Portsmouth.

Previous to his exodus from here for Boston, he advertised an entertainment to take place at Franklin Hall, to consist of readings from Shakespeare and others, as well as his own compositions. Among the different recitations, this, "his own" was the finale. His favorite dog "Spunk" was in the adjoining room, Mr. Josiah Webster was doorkeeper, and the dog was let into the hall just at the closing passage. The piece was copied, and shortly after appeared in the New York Mirror of 1820, 21, or 22. The copy I send you, has been revived and produced from memory only. It is possible I have not given it exactly as in the original text, but I think it is correct. Yours, N. D.

My father left ten thousand pounds,
And will'd the whole to me;
My friends, like sun flies, flocked around,
As kind, as kind could be.

This sent a Duck, and that a Hare,—
In short, the Lord knows what;
I thought that then I could declare
No man such friends had got.

They ate my meat, they drank my wine,
In truth so kind were they,
That be the weather wet or fine—
They'd dine with me next day.

They came, and like the circling years,
The flowing glass went round,
Till something whisper'd in my ear—
Ah! poor ten thousand pounds!

Pshaw! stuff—said I; I'll hear it not;
Besides, such friends are mine—
That what they have will be my lot,
So push about the wine.

The jest went round, and mirth prevailed,—
'Twas Summer every day,
Till, as by blight a flower's assail'd
My thousands dropped away.

And so my former friends dropped off,
Like rose leaves from the stem;
My fallen state but met their scoff,
And I no more saw them.

One friend—one honest friend remained,
While all the Locusts flew—
Whose friendship was not known or feign'd;
My faithful Dog—'twas you!

☞ The Free Democratic Celebration of the Fourth of July in this city, is postponed by an official card. Thus there will be no division of interests here—but one general celebration—industrial and fraternal.

N. H. General Court—June Session.

Abridged from Daily Patriot.

Thursday, June 16.

In the House—an act in addition to an act to incorporate the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad, was read a third time and passed.

On motion of Mr. Plumer of Portsmouth, the bill to establish the salary of the Police Justice of this city was laid on the table and specially assigned for consideration on Friday of next week, at 11 o'clock, forenoon.

NO PICTURES.—It appears that the House of Representatives in our Legislature have accepted a report against purchasing portraits of Daniel Webster and Levi Woodbury for the State House. This result was not unexpected.

STATE OFFICES.—Gideon Webster has been re-elected Warden of the State Prison, and James Ayers, Commissary General.

THE DEAD ALIVE.—Mr. Thomas Gould, of Portsmouth, R. I., had a cat that had contracted a strong desire for fowl meat, and was in the habit occasionally, of stealing out and helping herself to a fine, fat chicken. Mr. G. finally resolved to put a stop to puss's depredations, and accordingly knocked her in the head with a hammer. This seemed to settle the business for puss, who, to all appearances was "as dead as a herring." Mr. Gould then dug a hole some two feet deep, into which the remains of poor pussy were put. But, behold! three days after Miss Puss was seen deliberately walking into the house, much to the astonishment of Mrs. Gould and her family. They could scarcely believe at first, that it was their cat, but on examining the garden, where she had been buried for three days, they found that she had actually "dug out," and was in a fair way to recover from the effects of her death and burial.—Fall River News.

KILLED.—Mr. Asa H. Ames, aged about 40 years, formerly of Shelburne, N. H., was instantly killed on Saturday, April 30th, at Grass Valley, California, by a quartz crushing machine.

Mr. Amasa Gray of Little Compton, R. I., has a mare twenty-nine years old, which on Tuesday morning last gave birth to a fine colt. This is said to be a thing never before heard of.

Many of the Canadian and Nova Scotia papers are advocating a union of the North American colonies, believing that through such a union only, can be secured the advantages of trade.

The Protestant Episcopal Convention of Rhode Island has adjourned without being able to nominate a candidate for Bishop of the diocese.

LATEST NEWS!

BY MAIL, EXPRESS & TELEGRAPH.

FIRE IN NEW YORK AND LOSS OF LIFE.—At six o'clock on Wednesday evening, a fire broke out in the six story store, No. 34 Maiden Lane. The five upper stories were occupied by Joseph Purdy, importer of fancy goods and fireworks. The lower story was occupied by Calkins & Darran, umbrella and parasol dealers. The whole of Mr. Purdy's large stock was entirely destroyed. The loss of Calkins & Darran will probably reach $12,000; partially insured. Mr. Clarke, the porter to Mr. Purdy, was in the fifth story of the building, and succeeded in getting down on the outside to the third story, when the explosion of the fireworks threw him from the building into the street, and he died in a short time afterwards. Report says that Mr. Purdy and a young man in his employ have not been seen since a few moments after the fire was discovered, and fears are entertained for their safety. Mr. Calkins was severely burnt in attempting to save the books and papers of the concern.

FIRE AT THE AMERICAN HOUSE.—New York, June 17.—The damage done by fire last night at the American Hotel was about $30,000 to the building and $40,000 to furniture, &c. The building belonged to James A. Hamilton, and the furniture to the lessees, Messrs. Taber & Son. The latter were insured in several city offices to the amount of $35,000.

EXPLOSION AND LOSS OF LIFE.—New York, June 17.—An engine on the Erie Railroad, near the village of Susquehannah, exploded its boiler yesterday afternoon, killing eleven persons, among them Mr. Arnold, the engineer and three women. It is supposed that four or five other persons were blown into the river. Nearly all the killed are reported to have be en Irish laborers on the road.

DREADFUL CALAMITY.—The Troy Whig learns that the dwelling of Mr. A. V. Cropsey, in the town of Poestenkill, Rensselaer county, was burned to the ground on Saturday night last, after the family had retired, that a son aged eight years perished in the flames, and that another five years was so badly burned that he has since died. Mr. and Mrs. Cropsey escaped with great difficulty through a window, and a son aged twelve years through a cellar. Mrs. C. was so badly burned that she is not expected to live. Mr. C. was also badly burned, he being a cripple at the time. He lost every thing.

LATE FROM CUBA.—The steamship Black Warrior, from Mobile via Havana, arrived at New York on the 16th, bringing 169 passengers. Her dates from Havana are to the morning of the 12th. She confirms the landing of 1100 slaves on the south side of the Island from the ship Lady Suffolk; after the slaves were landed the vessel was scuttled and sunk. Several thousand slaves have been landed on the island during the past six months. No political news of importance is received. A Spanish war steamer was being hastily prepared for some secret service. Two British steamers were in port. The sch. Cora, which was a prize to the Buzzard, has been declared illegally captured. The publication of the Cronica newspaper is soon to be abandoned. The weather was oppressively hot. The cholera was raging fearfully on some of the estates in the interior. The small pox was committing great ravages at Matanzas and some other towns.

THE BIG LUMPS.—The statements respecting the large lumps of gold found in Australia, are confirmed in the English papers.—They say of the 134 pound lump in the Ballarat Diggins, that $40,000 had been offered for it. Out of the same lucky hole, the same persons, four new-comers, took another piece weighing 5 lb. 5 oz., and small gold weighing 2 lb. 4 oz.—making 142 lb. 5 oz. out of one hole. Three other diggers at Ballarat had found, about 40 yards from the bed of the 134 lb. nugget, two lumps, one weighing 77 lb. 8 oz. and the other 69 lb. 6 oz., the proportion of pure gold being more than eight-ninths. And there is another report of the finding of a 100 lb. nugget, in the same golden locality. It is in Australia, as in California. A great many others find not enough to keep them decently fed.—Boston Times.

AN Officer of the Danish frigate Gefron writes to a German paper from Liberia, where the ship had stopped for water, that "Monrovia is scarcely to be called a city; it is little more than a village of negro cabins on the marshy ground at the mouth of two rivers. The free negroes are the laziest race of people I ever saw; on our arrival they hardly looked at us, and then went languidly back into their hovels. Work they know nothing of, but leave every thing to the bounty of nature."

SHIP BURNT.—The ship Gondar, loading for Liverpool, was burnt at her wharf in Charleston, S. C., on Wednesday night, together with 1800 bales of cotton, mostly upland, and 375 barrels of rosin. The ship was insured, and the cargo was mostly insured in Liverpool. The total damage amounts to about 75 per cent. of the value of the vessel and cargo.

In New York city Mrs. Josephine Bakewell has obtained a verdict for $1100 against Dr. Talbot Watts, for injury to her daughter by taking "Watts' Nervous Antidote." The girl was subject to epilepsy, and the antidote, administered by the "doctor" himself, made her an idiot.—Boston Post.

In Philadelphia a horse, frightened by a fire cracker which a boy threw into the street, ran away and knocked down Mrs. McCain, the mother of five children. She was taken into an apothecary's shop, and died in a few minutes.

The Wool Clip of Maine, it is said, will fall short in amount from former years. The short crop of hay throughout the State last year, and the demand for mutton, together, have caused quite a diminution of the flocks.

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But which will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER.

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT!

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring and competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary interest.

Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

THE CHILD'S GARDEN.

Beneath the budding lilacs
A little maiden sighed—
The first flower in her garden
That very morn had died.

A primrose tuft, transplanted,
And watered every day,
One yellow bud had opened,
And then it pined away.

I thought, as that child's sorrow
Rose wailing on the air,
My heart gave forth an echo.
Long bound in silence there.

For though time brings us roses,
And golden fruits beside,
We've all some desert garden
Where Life's first primrose died.

A New, Delicious Temperance Beverage.
AMBROSIAL MEAD!

THIS excellent Compound is prepared from the best SPANISH SARSAPARILLA, without its dark, repulsive appearance, being beautifully transparent and entirely free from all impurities. Its qualities as a beverage, a single trial will give it a pre-eminence over all other preparations by its freedom from noxious ingredients, agreeableness of flavor, and its exceeding cheapness, one bottle being sufficient to make thirty glasses of the beverage.

CAUTION!—The proprietors of this excellent preparation have spared no pains to bring it to perfection, and would caution purchasers to buy none without the fac simile of Wilson, Fairbank & Co. on every bottle.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DOCTOR ALFRED G. HALL,

AUTHOR of the New Theory of cure by the NUTRITIVE PRINCIPLE, in Physiology and Medicine, sustaining the laws of life and removing the cause of disease, confirmed as a NATURAL SCIENCE by the Nutritive Process; expelling dead and depositing living matter at the same time in the Body, increasing its weight and strength while under treatment, being the great discovery of the constitutional power resisting disease; ample proof can be given in the person of any invalid.

Dr. H. receives visits, makes examinations, ascertains the cause of disease, describes the precise condition of the patient, furnishes prescriptions, medicines and recipes for his Nutritive Fluids and cordials.

Three months' attention and treatment is requisite in all cases, with printed instructions, for diet and washing, and the use of the Alkaline Girdle for the spine and kidneys—a restorative action is produced in all parts of the system immediately by the natural laws sustained by nutrition.

He is the inventor and sole proprietor of 12 nutritive fluids; they can be made by any family—are adapted to the several temperaments, and to every form of disease. His works, "Views of the New Theory, &c.," "Womanhood," and the "Mother's Own Book," are furnished to invalids under his supervision. It is now before Congress.

Doctor Alfred G. Hall may be consulted by letter, or in person at his rooms, No. 15 Winter St., Boston, from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. ☞ Medicines, &c. forwarded by Express to any part.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial &

Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May, 1853.

My son had a very severe cough, which threatened speedily to carry him off; and nothing seemed to give relief, until I tried these Lozenges, —which produced signs of relief in a few days, and after the taking of a few boxes, wholly removed his cough. DAILY
Morning Chronicle.

PORTSMOUTH:
MONDAY, JUNE 20, 1853.

MORMONS, CATHOLICS, AND ANTI-CATHOLICS.

We group these incongruous and discordant names together at the head of one article, because we wish to present some points of view in which they have a strong resemblance to each other, and also to show how the extravagance of each, may in some measure counteract the extravagance of all.

A few days ago we copied without comment from the speech of Brigham Young, some pithy significant paragraphs, going to show that the Mormons of Salt Lake city, are bent upon the maintenance of their doctrines by the sword, if need be, and denouncing especially the heretical sect of the Gladdonites, who speak against the polygamy of their elders. Young is the Governor of Utah, having his appointment from the President of the U. States drawing a good salary.

He is also the high priest of the Mormons, and as he claims and they allow, directly inspired from Heaven. Moreover, he is their military leader and commander.

We now introduce another elder, P. P. Pratt, who also addressed the Conference, and said:—

"We are now in a place where the extended desert and snow-clad mountains widely intervene on every side between us and our neighbors, that they might not tread on our toes, and that we might not tread on theirs."

And he adds, referring to certain apostates from the Mormon faith:

"We have obtained our local political rights and privileges, and have been enabled to preserve them inviolate in the face of all opposition, lies and slanders which have been so industriously circulated. 'Sooner than be subject to a repetition of these wrongs, I for one, would rather march out to-day and be shot down."

So much for the past. Now for the present difficulties:

"People have the privilege of apostatizing from this church, and of worshipping devils, snakes, toads, or geese, if they please, only let their neighbors alone. But they have not the privilege to disturb the peace, or to endanger life or liberty; that is the idea. If they will take that privilege, I need not repeat their doom; it has been told here to day.—They have been faithfully warned."

"These speeches, says the Boston Chronicle, bode no good. As the men who make them are fighting respectively for the possession of sixteen or twenty wives, more or less, there is little or no doubt that they mean what they say. These people will, ere much time has elapsed, get into difficulty among themselves, and may occasion trouble that will not be confined to their own borders."

The Boston (Catholic) Pilot, says,

"These Mormons have missionaries in every part of the world. Few people have an accurate idea of the nature and purposes of this dreadful legion. America will learn them too soon. Either we are to exterminate them, or they are to exterminate us. They say so themselves, and herein they do not lie."

Whether the Catholics alone, or all American citizens except Mormons, are to extirpate the Mormon fanatics, we know not, but presume the Pilot means the latter. We are not aware that the Mormon elders hate the Roman church more than any other. But we quote the above paragraph to show from the best authority that the Mormons and Catholics are antagonistic.

Now let us see what the two have in common, and wherein they agree in holding anti-republican tenets, and dangerous practices.

They agree in having different rules of life for clergy and laity, in regard to marriage; and in concentrating civil and pecuniary power, as well as spiritual dominion, in the hands of a central priesthood.

The Catholic laity may marry, and the marriage rite is even a sacrament of the Romish church; but the priesthood cannot marry, and the life of the monk and nun is said to be "a holier state" than that of the husband and wife.

In the Mormon church, the ordinary people live in families, marrying according to common christian usage; but the very holy men and the very great men marry many wives, and the more wives the holier the husband, and the higher seat he will take in heaven.

These seem at first view, so be opposite monstrosities; and in some respects they are; but they agree in the one grand falsehood of making a priest or minister seem to be something different from a man and a christian.—Both systems profess to make him holier, better than other men, but really have the contrary effect.

There is abundant proof that both gather all the power they can, into a central autocratic priesthood. We have one or two items before us.

The Albany Register states that "a bill has been introduced into the legislature of New York, which proposes nothing less than to overturn, in favor of Romanism, the long established system of ecclesiastical tenures; to place in the hands of the Roman Bishops, all the millions of church property belonging to the various Catholic societies, thus placing it at once beyond all control by those societies, in charge of a trustee who is in no wise responsible to them, but who holds his appointment from, and his allegiance to a foreign power, viz: the Pope."

The Baptist Recorder deprecates this effort making at Albany "to give the control of all the temporalities of the Roman Catholic Church in the State into the exclusive control of Dr. Hughes and his subordinate bishops." The Bill confirming these powers, the Editor says, has found favor with politicians anxious for Catholic votes, and with newspapers in their interest. But it is a matter of importance to examine the effects of this grant of power to the priesthood. The Recorder thinks,—

"It is a part of a system calculated to concentrate the control of untold millions into the hands of men who having no interests in the country, no families, no homestead, will at any time use the powers which it gives them to control the politics of the country, overthrow our free schools, or forward the purposes of the depots of Europe in case of a foreign war."

We have no fear that either the Roman or the Mormon church will so prevail as to overturn the liberties or the schools of the country generally;—but we wish to place their efforts in a true light—to guard against them. We think on the whole, the fact is very encouraging, that two such grasping, sects are opposed to each other, and cannot be united.

The Anti-Catholics, especially Father Gavazzi, and such as he, are another antagonistic force, which helps to neutralize the unfavorable influence of the Roman priesthood, in which he was educated. We have often remarked the overbearing, dictatorial tone of the Roman bishops and priests in this country, in their lectures, and even in private letters. We perceive Gavazzi's lectures and letters to be in the same tone: his education shows itself.—For proof of this read a few sentences from his last lecture to the Italians in New-York:

"I am happy to say, in the presence of my Christian friends, that the mercy of God is all powerful, and before long I hope that a religious insurrection will come in Italy. I thank God for having spared me, for the sake of truth and for Italy, in the battle fields of Lombardy against the Austrians—on the hills of Rome, against the French, and from the hands of the Irish assassins in Quebec and Montreal. * * * Remember, Italians, that leaving the church of the Pope, we must not become unbelievers, but true Christians, so that we shall neither be papists nor atheists. Believe me, the Gospel is the best code of all. In those sacred pages you will find consolation in the hour of grief, and salvation in the hour of death. * * * * Now, then, who organized the plot in Canada?—Who prepared it? Not the French Canadians, but the Irish Catholics. I have often said that the masses not taught in public schools, are the blind and brutal instruments of the priesthood, and this was clearly proved in Canada by the Irish Catholics. I am not here to speak against the Irish nationality, because there are among them brave hearted men who disapproved of such infamous proceedings; but I speak against their priests, like the one who preached in St. Patrick's church in Quebec, after my first lecture, who said, in a Jesuitical and ironical way, that the good Catholics should not use violence against me when I delivered my second lecture—Had only two Catholic priests placed themselves at the door of the church, anxious to prevent bloodshed, they could have stopped by their influence on those blind and ignorant masses, the unfortunate calamity.—I answer to my enemies that, without freedom of speech, there is no life, no liberty, no true religion, but slavery and priestcraft. We must destroy popedom, for the sake of humanity. All Italians pant for civil and religious freedom, which will regenerate their country; and the day is not far distant when their most sanguine expectations will be realized, at which time we will send as a present his holiness the Pope of Rome to his beloved children of Ireland, and there build up a vatican for him.

The latter paragraphs are exactly in the same style of invective and sarcasm in which the Roman priests abound.

In regard to the Pope, should he be driven from Italy, our feeling would be favorable toward giving him an asylum here, and letting him talk, as freely as we do Father Gavazzi. With us, Pia Nono, Brigham Young, and Father Gavazzi, all stand very nearly on the same level—and we are quite well pleased to see their various errors and follies offset one another. Out of much confusion comes ultimate order, and from much discord heavenly harmony may be at length evolved.

THE FRANKLIN.—Messrs. Littell, Son & Co. of Boston, well-known in the literary world as the proprietors of Littell's Living Age, propose to publish, on and after July 1, a great weekly newspaper of the very highest character, political but not partisan, religious but not sectarian, miscellaneous but not trashy.

Their judicious management of the Living Age, shows them able to do all this.

The price is to be five dollars a year, including postage.

The Ann Arbor (Michigan) Whig of the 7th June, says—"A female of this city a few days since, entered a place where her husband had been in the habit of getting the "critter," and vindicated her wrongs by demolishing the bottles, tumblers, &c., from which the cause of her woes had flowed down the throat of her "worser" half. The feat so edified our friends in the lower village, that a contribution was raised for the purpose of presenting the heroine a handsome new dress as a reward for her brave example."

LOCAL.

THE INDUSTRIAL PROCESSION.

Agreeably to the call of the Industrial Committee, a meeting of the friends of the display was held on Saturday evening—Thos. Norton, Esq., in the chair, Marcellus Bufford, Esq., Secretary.

While the meeting were discussing the best mode of procedure under the circumstances which called them together, a deputation from the City Committee, consisting of Messrs. Samuel Rowe and I. B. Claggett, waited upon the citizens present, who were mostly members of the sub-committees, stating that the City Committee was then in special session for the purpose of rendering the Industrial Procession all the aid in their power, and requesting the Industrial Committee to meet them in conference in the Aldermen's Room.

It was voted that the Industrial Committee be instructed to lay before the City Committee their plans and estimates, and that the meeting adjourn for a short time, till report of the same should be made.

The facts in the case having been laid before the City Committee,—the Industrial Committee stating that without doubt at least thirty teams of various sizes would be required for the display, and that there could be nothing done unless these should be paid for by the city—the estimated expense of which, with necessary contingencies, would amount to $300,—without which sum the Committee would not feel authorised to move further in the matter;—it was unanimously voted, on motion of Alfred Haven, Esq., that the sum of $300 be placed at the disposal of the Committee of the Industrial Procession, for the hiring of teams on the occasion—said Industrial Committee to appoint a special agent to contract for the teams required, and not to expend any portion of said funds for purposes other than the procuring of such teams.

The report was accepted by the meeting, and it was voted that the Committee of Arrangements be authorised to proceed as speedily as may be with their operations—no doubt being entertained of the hearty co-operation of the citizens generally, whether mechanics or not.

The City Committee will of course employ a brass band on the 4th, but it seems to be the wish generally among those who are to take part in the turnout, that the Marshal of the Industrial Procession should have a band at his desposal—and a Finance committee was appointed to raise funds by subscription for this purpose. Messrs. George N. Carleton, John O. Buzzell and Marcellus Bufford were appointed.

FOURTH OF JULY.—The natives of Portsmouth in New York, are making extensive arrangements for their visit home. We learn from the Committee of Invitation, who returned on Saturday, that the "boys" in New York are contracting for one of the best bands of music (of 27 pieces) in the country, and also for the Steamer State of Maine, in which they propose to come to this city. They are very enthusiastic in the matter, and will spare no expense to carry out their design.

The Portsmouth Committee have secured Yale's mammoth Tent for the accommodation of their guests.

COULDN'T WAIT FOR STEAM.—The fine clipper ship Water Witch, built by Messrs. Fernald & Petigrew and commanded by Capt. Washington Plumer, sailed from this port for Boston on Saturday forenoon. A steam tug was engaged to tow her round, but not arriving, the ship started alone. When off Frost's Point, she was met and taken in tow by the tardy steamer; but it was soon apparent that instead of towing the ship, it required all the speed of the boat to prevent her being run down by the clipper—so the tow-line was cast off and the ship allowed to proceed. She had nothing but topsails set, as the towboat was expected to carry her round.

Many of our citizens visited the ship on Friday afternoon, by invitation of the captain,—who kept "open house" on the occasion. The Water Witch has a large cabin, finished and furnished beautifully; and every part of her is well arranged and provided with all the modern improvements which render our first class ships nearly as good quarters for passengers as they have at home.

☞ A fine turnout, that splendid new Hack of Sides & Co.'s,—equal to almost anything the Boston public ride in. These gentlemen are bound to suit if possible—and without detracting aught from the reputation of other caterers to public convenience in this line, we would say that they will always be found prompt and obliging, and able to furnish the best of teams. They are enterprising young men, and we are glad of their success.

☞ There will be an eclipse of the moon on Tuesday morning, commencing at 30 minutes past 12 and ending at 5 minutes after 2 o'clock. About one-fifth of the moon's diameter, on her northern limb, will be obscured.

☞ Kittery Point Bridge, having been thoroughly repaired, was re-opened on Saturday, for public travel.

AN APOSTOLIC CONSTITUTION.—In the Massachusetts Constitutional Convention, Mr. Weeks, of Harwick, presented the petition of Silas Lamson and 44 others, that the Constitution be framed in accordance with the laws of the Holy Apostles—which petition was appropriately referred.

STORE BREAKING IN SACO.—On the night of the 12th inst. the store of Messrs. Dresser & Gaman, was entered by means of false keys; and the leaving of a slipper led to a suspicion, (since confirmed by absolute proof,) of Samuel E. Lull, as the villian. Several of his accomplices have been arrested, but Lull himself is still prowling about the woods in the neighborhood. This creature has served Satan here, (says the Biddeford Journal) with an outstretched arm, for the last year, and it becomes the duty of all good citizens to aid in his arrest. It is ascertained that he is the thief who broke into the store of Fisher & Siegman last August, and stole therefrom some nine or ten hundred dollars worth of dry goods.

The selectmen have offered a reward of $25 for the arrest of Lull, and Fisher & Siegman offer an additional $25.

N. H. General Court—June Session.

Abridged from Daily Patriot.

Friday, June 17.

In the Senate the bill to establish the city of Nashua, was read a third time, and laid on the table.

In the House, Mr. Dodge of Amherst, from the committee on banks, reported the bill to extend the charter, and increase the capital of the Nashua Bank—limiting the increase to $50,000, to be paid in by the first of March, 1854.

Mr. Copeland of Unity, moved to strike out the clause authorizing an increase of capital stock.

Mr. Nichols of Allenstown, showed that the increase of manufacturing and mechanical business in Nashua and Nashville had, of late, been such as to justify the increase sought, of which fact he had a personal knowledge.

A number of gentlemen spoke on the subject, but did not bring out any thing new.

Mr. Metcalf of Newport, was in favor of new banks in all cases where there was an absolute necessity for them, and money to invest in them, and also favorably disposed towards increase of capital where that increase could be safely given. The principle of banks with large capitals was one he did not favor; public safety was more secure with the small $50,000 banks than with the large banks from $400,000 to half a million of dollars. He thought it better, instead of increasing the stocks of the Nashua banks, to charter a new bank there, if wanted; and also to grant charters where banking facilities were actually demanded.

The debate was farther carried on by Messrs. Nichols of Allenstown, and Grant of Lyndeboro', (who stated several interesting statistics relating to the prosperity of Nashua within the last 25 years) after which the motion to strike out the proviso for increase was put and adopted.

Rather a dull debate ensued on the question of adjourning from Friday to Monday—the end of which was an adjournment to meet on Saturday at 9 o'clock; and then to adjourn again to meet at 4 P. M., on Monday.

PORTSMOUTH, DOVER & GREAT FALLS RAILROAD.

The meeting of this corporation, at Dover, on Friday last, was well attended, and much interest was manifested in the prosecution of the enterprise of building the road.

In the absence of T. H. Cushing, Esq., President of the corporation, Albert R. Hatch, Esq., presided. Hon. Charles W. Woodman Clerk.

Judge Woodman and William Hill, Esq., having resigned their places, John H. Wiggins, Esq., of Dover, and Col. Zenas Clement of Portsmouth, were elected Directors.

The meeting was addressed by John H. Wiggin, Esq., of Dover; Col. Clement, and Lory Odell, Esq., of Portsmouth, and R. Pickering, Esq., of Newington. Upwards of $50,000 of the stock of the corporation has been already subscribed in Dover.

The corporation adjourned to meet at the Court House in Portsmouth, on Thursday, the thirtieth day of June, at half past ten o'clock, at which time it is hoped all the friends of the enterprise and of the prosperity of Portsmouth, will give countenance to the enterprise by their presence.

The undersigned lessee, respectfully solicits for himself, from Mr. Gerrish's former patrons in the business, a continuance of their wonted patronage to him—assuring them and all others who may be disposed to patronize him, that he will use his best endeavors to fully merit their favors.

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom
AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

LYON'S KATHAIRON,

For Preserving, Restoring & Beautifying the Hair,

CAUSING it to grow luxuriantly, and giving it a soft and curling appearance, of the most delightful character. The KATHAIRON neutralises the effects of disease, climate, and old age, in preserving and restoring the Human Hair, even after a Baldness of many years,—cleanses the scalp from Dandruff, and its natural impurities,—immediately relieves sympathetic attacks of Nervous Headache, and cures all cutaneous diseases of the skin, such as Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Itch, &c.

AS A TOILET ARTICLE,

For giving the Hair a rich, soft, glossy and curling appearance, nothing has been discovered to compare with its incontested—its incontestible virtues. It imparts the fragrance of the most delightful and exotic flowers, and is free from all minera properties, or any substance which can color the skin, or stain a lady's hat.

FOR BALD OR GREY HEADS

It is pre-eminently beneficial. "The Kathairon restored my hair after a baldness of 12 years. A. J. COURTNOUY, 76 Bond-st. N. Y." This admirable preparation can be had of all reputable dealers, throughout North and South America, and the Islands of the Ocean, in large bottles, for 25 cents.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT!

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions merit, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1224, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in the health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the best family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER AND KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial &

Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. R. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND, }
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853. }

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,
VERNON ESKRIDGE, Chaplain U.S.N.

My son had a very severe cough, which threatened speedily to carry him off; and nothing seemed to give relief, until I tried these Lozenges, —which produced signs of relief in a few hours, and after the taking of a few boxes, wholly removed his cough. ENGLISH ROYAL CEREMONY.

The Queen held her first drawing room of the season in St. James's Palace on the afternoon of the 2d of June.

Before the Drawing Room, Her Majesty, according to annual custom, received a deputation from Christ's Hospital in the Throne room, including the masters and 40 boys of the Royal Mathematical school founded by Charles II. The Queen condescended to inspect the charts and drawings of the boys, and to express her approbation of their performance.

The Queen wore a train of blue and silver cloth, with gold stars, trimmed with gold braid and and silver blonde. The petticoat was white net over white satin, trimmed with gold braid and white roses, with green and gold leaves. Her Majesty's head dress was formed of diamonds and feathers.

The Diplomatic Circle was introduced, when the following representations to her Majesty took place.

By the French Ambassadress—Miss Wilcox, niece of the Minister of the United States ; Mrs. Gilpin, a lady of the United States.

By the Minister of the United States, Mr. Van Buren, late President of the United States ; Mr. Martin Van Buren, son of the late President ; Mr. Kemble, Governor,* and late member of Congress ; Major General Cooper, of New York ; Hon. T. Butler King, of the United States ; Mr. Gilpin, formerly Attorney General of the United States.

The diplomatic circle was attended by—the U. S. Minister and Col. T. B. Lawrence, attache to the Legation. [We have mentioned only the American names.]

More than two hundred ladies were presented to Her Majesty. The list of their names occupies a column of fine print in the Times ; and the list of Duchesses, Marchionesses, Countesses, Viscountesses, Ladies, Honorable Ladies, Baroness, (only one) Mistresses, Misses, and gentlemen, among those present, occupies as much more.

The Queen and Prince Albert retired to Buckingham Palace after the Drawing Room.

*Mr. Governeur Kemble, who is going the rounds of the court circles in England with Mr. Van Buren, is announced in the Court Journals as "Mr. Kemble, Governor of New York!"

WHITE WEED.—Capt. Daniel Trefethen of this town, assures us that he has discovered a method for killing effectually, this plague of a "farmer's life." He says that the present season, he had a field, which was literally covered with the blossoms of the white weed so called, and having a small quantity of salt on hand, the thought suggested itself to him, that possibly some benefit might accrue to the field from the distribution of it upon the surface. He scattered the salt over the field, and in a short time the blossoms all withered, and upon examination the roots were found to be entirely lifeless. This is certainly a valuable remedy for the eradication of this detestable weed, providing the experiment prove as effectual in all cases, as in this. At all events we would recommend to those farmers who are troubled with this species of weed—to try it.—Dover Gazette.

A QUADRUPED CHICKEN.—The Germantown (Pa.) Telegraph publishes the following extract from a letter of a gentleman of Columbia to a citizen of Germantown :—"One of my Shanghai hens has a few chicks, hatched a few days ago, and one of them, which toddles about and eats heartily, and seems to thrive, has four legs. For the first day, 'Quaddy, (as we call him, from quadruped) did not know which pair to go upon. The hind pair made him rear up, and the front pair made him kick up. But, after balancing the thing in his mind over night, he settled down next morning on 'all fours' boldly, and persists in that mode of locomotion."

NIAGARA FALLS.—We see it stated that time has made important changes in the appearance of Niagara Falls within five years. The Table Rock on the Canada side has nearly disappeared, and only a small vestige of the once celebrated projection now remains. On the American side, near to the Observatory, another piece of rock has been carried away, on which a portion of the bridge from Goat Island rested. This bridge once extended out some distance beyond the stone tower, but it now scarce projects beyond it.

A clerk in a mercantile house in New York absconded Monday morning at eleven o'clock, with about $500 in gold. He was traced to Newark ; a communication was then sent by telegraph to Philadelphia ; an officer was placed at the steamboat landing there, and the young man was arrested, examined, the money found upon him, sent back to the city and confined in the Tombs at 6 A. M., Tuesday morning—in nineteen hours after his elopement.

HIGH SALARIES.—The Old South Society in Boston have raised Mr. Blagden's salary from $2600 to $3000 per annum, and not from $4500 to $5000, as has been stated.

The papers state that the highest salary paid to any minister in New-York City, is to Rev. E. H. Chapin, a universalist.

THE FISHERIES.—The St. John New Brunswicker of the 11th inst. has the following with regard to the French, British and American fisheries. It will be seen that the French government has sent out two war steamers to protect its fisheries :—

From our files of Newfoundland papers we learn that two French war steamers, the Veloce and the Cleopatra, have arrived on that coast to watch over the interests of French fishermen. It is reported that two hundred French vessels are fishing on the Grand Bank, said to be doing well, and forty-eight vessels on St. Peter's Bank, with boats and skiffs innumerable fishing near them. The increased bounties granted last year by France, appear to have given a great impulse to their fishery at Newfoundland. Large contracts have already been made this season at St. Peters, for shipment to the United States, one house alone having agreed for 25,000 quintals for that market, on being landed at which, dried cod are entitled to a bounty of ten francs per quintal! The French are too many for the Yankees in the bounty system, and Jonathan will be beaten at that with his own weapons.

The government of Newfoundland appears to be alive to the importance of protecting the fisheries. We observe by an official advertisement, that a boat and five hands are to be employed in the protection of the fisheries near Cape John; and that a suitable fast vessel is to be employed in the same service at the Straits of Belle Isle, and on the coast of Labrador, to be ready on the 8th inst., and to be employed until the 20th August, when the fishing on the Labrador coast ceases.

Where are our steamers for the same service? Echo answers Where?

FIRE IN CAMBRIDGE.

GREAT TENT BURNT.

On Sunday afternoon, there was a great fire in Cambridgeport, near the water, opposite Boston. The Cambridgeport Hotel was burnt, and other buildings, about thirty in all value 50,000 dollars. With the fire raging on, both sides of the street, says the Boston Courier, the conflagration assumed a fearful aspect, and the tide being out, there was a great scarcity of water—the Boston engines being obliged to draw water from the channel on Boston side, and convey it in hose to the burning district. It was through their intrepid exertions that the bridge was saved, as it was on fire many times. A hose was also attached to one of the Cochituate hydrants at the foot of Cambridge street in Boston, and a stream through it was kept upon the fire till the flames were extinguished, not however, until all the buildings, from the Cambridgeport Hotel on the one side, and Mr. Barrage's store on the other, to the bridge, were totally consumed.

The weather was intensely hot, and the warm rays of the sun, added to the heat of the fire, quite exhausted the men; but they worked well.

While the fire was raging, a flying cinder fell upon Yale's great tent, which was spread in the Public Garden in Boston—a distance of about a mile—and it was instantly in a blaze. The watchmen in attendance at once loosened the ropes, the canvass fell in a heap, and a Roxbury engine, which was proceeding to the Cambridge fire at the time, entered the Garden for the purpose of extinguishing the fire. But the tent was ruined. This is quite a loss to Mr. Yale, who is but partially insured. The tent was worth about $1800, and had been in use several days by the Choctaw Indians. The settees and other furniture under the tent were badly damaged, and the exhibitions of the Indians will of course be interrupted for a day or two, at least.

A NEW DEFINITION.—We have seen the term infidel applied of late, in a very flippant manner, as a term of reproach, by writers who would be somewhat puzzled to give a satisfactory definition of their own faith.

Generally, the word means, "a man who does not cherish my faith." In the Crusades, the Christians called the Mahometans Infidels; and they to be even, called Christians by the same name. Webster's first definition of it, is, "one who disbelieves in the inspiration of the scriptures, and the divine origin of christianity." With this definition only, the number of avowed infidels in the country is small.

An able Catholic writer in the Boston Pilot says:

"The socialists are generally infidels. We mean that few, if any of them, receive the Revelation of Christ, True God and True Man!"

Many of the flippant writers above noticed, would be surprised at finding themselves thus suddenly and unceremoniously thrust outside the pale through which they had so recently been endeavoring to thrust others.

MR. WEBSTER'S MEMORY.—The New York Express says a delicate compliment has been paid to the accomplished lady of the deceased statesman, by some of his friends in that city. Wishing to testify their respect for Mr. Webster's memory, and their regard for Mrs. Webster, who is a New York lady, they subscribed the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars as a present. They have tendered their liberal offering in the form of an elegant residence, handsomely furnished, or as an investment subject to her sole control, and for her sole benefit.

This gift is delicate, beautiful and liberal. Few men ever had so many friends, or so liberal. The lady was the comparatively young second wife of an elderly man—and although now a widow, as she is not far advanced in years, she may not always choose to remain so. However this may happen to be, an elegant residence, or twenty-five thousand in the funds, will be a valuable keepsake, for which we trust the excellent lady will be duly grateful. We approve of the donation.

SHIP BUILDING EXTRAORDINARY.—Mr. F. Hannaford, is now building a schooner of 125 tons burden, on his farm at Cape Elizabeth, more than a mile from the shore. She is set on shoes, and when finished, which will not be till next winter, is to be hauled by oxen to the shore. Mr. H. has built two or three vessels in this way, but we doubt if any one but a Yankee, would have conceived of such a project.—Portland Adv.

Other Yankees have done such things, before. The late Nathan Webb Adams, Esq., and sons, built a fishing schooner near their mansion on the post road in Newington, near forty years ago—and hauled her by oxen on the snow to the river.

CATHOLIC CHURCHES.—The South Boston Gazette says, in Boston three immense Catholic Churches are in contemplation, besides a grand Cathedral to be erected by Bishop Fitzpatrick after the model of the famous structure in Montreal, at a cost of about a quarter of a million. The emigration of the American population to the beautiful suburban towns has given room for such an increase of foreign population, that they have now almost a numerical majority.

TURNOVER; a Tale of New Hampshire.—This is a pamphlet novel, with plot enough to make it readable, in home-spun New England dress. Many a reader might pay it the same unwitting compliment that a peasant is said to have bestowed on "Burns' Cotter's Saturday Night," viz: that he did not see anything extraordinary about it,—but that such things happen every week in many a cottage.

Turnover is a homely but true picture of one phase of New England life in all its simplicity and commonness.

Published in Boston by James French: sold in this city by J. H. Foster.

☞ The annual conference of the Congregational churches in Maine, and also the annual meeting of the Baptist churches, are held this year at Saco, commencing this morning.

☞ Major Hooper has presented us with a plate of fine ripe cherries, as red—as—as—we can't think of any thing redder.

DRY GOODS, BY A LADY.—Mrs. Cassidy has opened a dry goods store, near the Post office. For particulars see advertisement.

RHODE ISLAND.—The Legislature of Rhode Island adjourned on Friday evening, after a session at Newport of four days. The most important bill passed was one prohibiting the issue of fractional bills after the first of September.

Rather small Legislation, that.

SHIPS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—The Boston Courier says:

"During a thunder storm at New Orleans, 10th inst., ship Josiah Bradlee, of Boston, was struck by lightning. The fluid entered the forehatch, setting fire to a bale of cotton, without doing any other damage. Ship Desdemona was struck in the main royal mast head, running down to the heel of the main top-gallant mast, shivering both spars considerably, without doing any further damage. Ship Raritan, loading, had her sky-sail and main top-gallant mast shattered, and some of the splinters, from the force of the fluid, penetrated her deck nearly two inches. No person was injured. Steamship State of Georgia, arrived at Philadelphia, when off the Capes of Delaware, was struck by lightning, shivering her top and mainmast, whence the fluid passed through the deck into the cabin, and then through the engine room. No one was hurt.

NEW HAMPTON INSTITUTION.—The Baptist Institution of New Hampton was last year removed to Fairfax, Vt., and the New Hampshire Legislature granted a charter for a new school, to be located at New Hampton, and to be under the patronage of the Baptist denomination. A fund of $30,000 is to be raised, of which $5000 has been subscribed by Col. Lewis, an enterprising gentleman in that section—a portion by citizens of New Hampton, and the remainder by the Baptist denomination. The brick building in which the former school was kept has been taken down and a new one is to be erected a few rods from the Female Seminary.

FOURTH OF JULY IN SPRINGFIELD.—A novel feature is to be introduced into the procession at Springfield on the Fourth. It is said that a cavalcade of young ladies and gentlemen will be formed, dressed in the old continental style, with cocked hats, broad waps, tights, knee-buckles, silk stockings, short flaists, powdered hair, pillions, &c., &c.

LOCAL.

PREPARATION.

The Boys are coming down upon us between this time and the fourth of next month, like an avalanche from the hills, and like the rush of waves from the ocean. They will meet in our midst; the loaded trains and teeming steamboats will pour them out in such numbers that all our houses, public and private, will be put in requisition for the lodgers—and as for boarders, the moderate appropriation already made by the City government would secure a sumptuous set-down for a few, at a single dinner:—but what is it among so many? It puts us in mind of the five loaves and the two fishes, which by miracle were expanded into a sufficiency for feeding five thousand men besides women and children. But this does not excite in us the hope that provisions will rain down that way, ready cooked. There ought to be a large and rich endowment of the committee on Victuals and Cooking, for the collation.

For the remainder of the visit, aside from Monday's dinner, a sort of general picnic, including all our old-fashioned Portsmouth hospitality, will be called in to entertain the guests,—who are not strangers, but kinsmen and friends. We anticipate a great and joyous re-union,—requiring active and liberal preparation—and well worthy of it.

The public houses, in this city, and on the beaches at Rye, Hampton, Kittery, &c., will also share in the visitation of numerous customers.

Money and effort cannot work miracles; but they can do wonders, and we have no doubt that our guests will be agreeably entertained.

☞ The City Committee of Arrangements have appointed Col. A. J. Beck, as Chief Marshal for the 4th of July.

THAW.—About this time we have a great thaw, in this vicinity, but no freshet. Coal is not in demand—but ice is; and some of the people seem to be in the melting mood. Our thermometer got up to 90 yesterday afternoon, in the shade.

☞ We learn that a man named Thomas F. Morrison, aged 23, was drowned in the Swamscot river near South New Market, on Sunday morning. He swam across the river, and back to a place within three rods of the shore, where he sunk and was drowned. He had been employed in the machine-shop at South New Market.

ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST.—On next Friday, June 24, occurs the Anniversary Festival of St. John the Baptist, which is observed with much zeal and earnestness by the fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons.

In this state, the present year, it will be celebrate in the city of Concord, under the direction of Blazing Star Lodge. Masons, on their arrival will repair to Odd Fellows' Hall, nearly opposite the Depot; those accompanied by ladies will conduct them to Masonic Hall, opposite Phenix Hotel, where a committee will be in waiting. The Procession will be formed at 11 o'clock, from the Odd Fellows' Hall. An Oration will be delivered by John Raymond, Esq., of Troy, New York, also a Poem by Rev. T. J. Greenwood, of Dover, N. H. After which a dinner and the "feast of reason and flow of soul."

EXCURSION TO CONCORD.—By advertisement of the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad, we perceive that "all persons desirous of visiting Concord or attending the Masonic Celebration in that city, on Friday, the 24th inst., can obtain from ticket offices, Portsmouth & Concord Railroad, on paying one way, a return ticket free.

Cars leave Portsmouth 6.10 A. M.—and at 6.44 intersect at the New Market Junction with the first train from Dover, Great Falls, &c."

DEAR SHOOTING.—On Saturday, the 11th inst., Samuel Smith, of South New Market, went to Exeter, with a loaded gun, and in the course of his stroll through the woods, fell in with a fine cow belonging to Mr. Elijah Ricker. Whether or not Smith mistook the cow for a deer, (says the News Letter,) we are not informed, but he deliberately shot her, and dear enough she proved to him. The act being undeniable, upon being arrested, he paid fifty dollars for the cow and twenty dollars costs.

THE NEW TOWN HOUSE IN EXETER.—A vote passed in Exeter some time since, appropriating $10,000 for the erection of a new Town House in Exeter, was to be binding upon the town, only in case the Representatives of Rockingham County, in Convention, should vote to appropriate not less than $2,000 towards the construction of suitable Court Rooms within said building.

The News Letter learns that the Convention held its meeting at Concord, in accordance with the provisions of the statute, on Friday, and voted by a very large majority to appropriate $2,000 for the construction of the Court Rooms in the new Town House.

Industrial Procession.

THE Committees of the various Trades, and all persons intending to be represented in the Procession on the 4th of July, are requested to inform the Committee of Arrangements, or JOSIAH S. HADLEY, Esq. as soon as possible, what teams they may need.

Gen. Hadley has consented to procure the necessary teams, and the Committee will pay for no teams except those hired and furnished by him.

The Committee of each Trade is also requested to appoint its own Marshal or Marshals, and report the same to the Committee of Arrangements as soon as possible.

The Committee of Arrangements will be in session at the City Rooms, on FRIDAY evening next, when and where the reports may be made.

LATEST NEWS!

BY MAIL, EXPRESS & TELEGRAPH.

IMPORTANT FROM VENEZUELA.—New York, June 20.—Advices from Puerto Cabello of June 1st, represent the country of Venezuela to be in a very critical condition. The government of Monagas has been for a long time very unpopular, and efforts are being made to overturn it, in favor of Gen. Paez.—Generals Marino and Castellas were in the interior, in open rebellion, with 2000 troops. Government is busy in raising an army, and had appointed the President's brother to the command of a guard mobile of 20,000 troops. A party of the military which had been sent into the interior to quell the rebellion, returned, discomfited. The treasury was completely exhausted, and the government troops unpaid. To add to the general discontent, Monagas had silenced the press at Caraccas, and imprisoned the editors.

THE LOCOMOTIVE EXPLOSION AT SUSQUEHANNAH.—The cause of the explosion has not yet been fully ascertained, but is supposed to have been a defect in the iron. The engine was pushing a heavy freight train up the grade, and had run about half a mile, when the dome of the boiler exploded. The persons killed and wounded were laborers on the double track, who, with their wives, had been allowed by the engineer to ride on the engine contrary to the express rules of the company.

THREE THIEVES, two named Lamb and one named Martin Parks, were arrested at Wells, Rutland county, Vt., recently, and a miscellaneous collection of horse shoes, blacksmith's tools, dry goods, plaster, nails, harness trimmings, clothing, hoes, shovels, bed clothes, skeleton keys, &c., found on the premises of Parks, who is a young man well situated in life, and whose father is one of the wealthiest men in the vicinity. He found bail, one of the Lambs ran off, and the other was sent to Rutland jail.

DIVORCE CASE.—Hetty Courson against Isaac R. Courson and Elizabeth Courson, (formerly Elizabeth Mead.) Action by the mother of Mead to annul his marriage, on the ground that he was, at the time, insane. In this case, the jury, on Saturday, returned the following verdict:—"The jury find that the defendant, Isaac B. Courson, was of sound mind at the time of the alleged marriage, July 14, 1852."—N. Y. Express.

Two sloops arrived at New Orleans from Nassau 10th inst., with 139 of the passengers of the Willaim & Mary of Bath, lost off the Bahamas. Forty-five of them are children—sixty-seven of them came in one vessel and have Irish names, while 72 in the other sloop have German or Danish names. They are very destitute, and the British consul has made an appeal to the New Orleans public in their behalf.

A SEWING CIRCLE BURNT OUT.—The Boston Traveller tells us that the house of E. P. Smith, Esq., at Chelsea, narrowly escaped being destroyed by fire on Thursday evening last. A sewing circle was gathered at the house, and the rooms were crowded with ladies, when suddenly the kitchen chimney took fire from the great heat employed in getting supper for the visitors. The room over the present kitchen was formerly used as a kitchen, and in the chimney was an oven door which had been closed and papered over.—The fire in the chimney passed down the old oven flue, forced open the door, and the flames then poured out in the room where were assembled the ladies. There was a great stampede, and the room in a moment was in a light blaze. The flames spread rapidly, but assistance arrived, and the fire was extinguished without giving a general alarm.

BOY DROWNED.—About half-past eleven o'clock, on Saturday forenoon, an Irish boy, seven years old, named John Murphy, was drowned in the canal at Manchester, N. H.—He saw some other boys in swimming, and stripped off his clothes and waded in, little thinking of the danger. He soon walked into a hole beyond his depth, and was dead before help could be obtained. Soon one of the river men came along, plunged to the bottom of the canal and brought the lifeless body out.—The boy's father was killed on the railroad about six months ago.—Manchester Mirror.

A short time since an ordinance was passed by the city government of Boston, making it a pretty serious offence to post bills, on private buildings, fences, &c., without leave, but we see (says the Chronicle) that the city have made ample provisions for bill posters to pursue their vocation without having to ask leave; they have caused to be placed blank bulletin boards on all the corners of the streets and other proper places.

FAMILY MISFORTUNES.—At Fairhaven, Vt., on the 11th inst, as Mr. Cullen Hawkins was at work alone in his saw-mill, it appears that by accident he was thrown upon the log just forward of the saw. Before he was discovered and the gate closed, the saw had taken two or three clips into his breast, tearing through into the cavity of the body. There was also a deep cut on the side of the head penetrating the brain. He breathed about an hour, but was entirely insensible. Intelligence of the event was sent to his cousin, Mrs. Adams, at Westhaven, when it was found that she had drowned herself.

We regret to learn that James N. Elkins, Superintendent of the Boston, Concord and Montreal railroad, died at his residence in Plymouth, N. H., on Thursday evening. Mr. Elkins was a gentleman universally respected. He has long been connected with railroads, and was an efficient officer. His loss will be deeply regretted.

MUNIFICENT LEGACY.—Garrett N. Bleeker of New York, and recently deceased, mentioned in his will the Madison University to the amount of $12,000. He was one of the original subscribers to to the endowment of the University, and contributed $3000 for that purpose.—Rochester Democrat.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

SANTONIO.

This beautiful poem is from the pen of Master T. B. Aldrich, a young gentleman who has contributed many good things to the columns of the Atlas. We do not think that we have often given our readers a richer treat than that which will be found in the poem of Santonio.
—N. Y. Sunday Atlas.

The warrior stood beside his dying steed,
And at his feet his broken sabre lay; on every side
He saw his comrades dead, and he was left to Tell the tale alone, of glorious fight, and victory over
Death—of dying messages and slaughtered men.
He stood
As though spell-bound upon the field which sealed
His country's fate. His arms were crossed upon his Panting breast, and from his casque a jetty plume
Droop'd low.
He heeded not the coming conqueror's tread,
For at his feet lay, sweltering in blood, his fondest
Hope, the offspring of his heart. The victors came,
And bade him follow on; but ere he went
He knelt beside that rigid form, and breathed
A prayer to Him who all things knows; to Him
Who rules the ocean and the winds, the heavens,
And the earth. And then he rose, giving a last
Look on that dear one's face, he cast his mantle
O'er the form beloved, and strode away with
Step as firm as ever conqueror trod.
They could not break the Hero's spirit. No!
Though heavy chains and fortune wrecked his Frame, he'd smile with scorn when they would have Him groan.
The sun shone forth from
Its bright canopy, and all the clouds were bathing in
Its warmth. The birds of air turned heaven-ward
Their songs: the placid rivers, and the rippling
brooks,
The bended foliage, and the scented winds
Told of God's greatness, and his mighty power.
On this delightful day, when Nature seemed to Glory in her beauty and rejoice, e'en then they Led the prisoner forth—to die.
Oh, noble chief! he boldly stood as though
The tyrant Death could neither dim that fearless
Flashing orb, nor quench the scorching ire of his Soul. Undying scorn was sculptur'd on his lips,
And in his eye defiance found a throne. He stood.
The winds played through his glossy hair; the sun Shone on the closely knitted steel, beneath which beat
A heart as firm and true as ever cheered a
Martyr's trying hour. His face, unmoved by fear
Of any pain that cruel tyrants ever had devised, was pale—
The fruit of tortures worse than death, and weary
Nights unbless'd by sweet repose.
As thus he stood you'd not have thought
Him doomed; no features swelled or nerve relaxed
With dread, but o'er his face there lingered a calm
Repose that filled the lookers on—brave and stern
Battle men—with admiration, nay with silent awe.
Death and its agonies were welcome now!
No thirsty traveller on Sahara's sands e'er hail'd so Eagerly the bubbling stream—cool, sparkling leaping
In refreshing life—as did Santonio his approaching
Fate. His country lost; his fellow knights who fell
Not in the strife rankling as slaves, and bound
With chains that age could not rust, nor strength
Of generations sever. What have had he to earth?
What charms to bid him live?
Oh! what a glorious death to ignominious life!
A slave to mortal man! his gallant spirit could Not brook such galling, such disgrace! Death was
To him an antidote for pain; the ending of his Woes; the summing up of earth's vicissitudes, and
With it came the sweet reflection of a virtuous life.
He would not face it with a reckless mien, nor
With a coward's trembling; but as a man should Ever meet the MESSENGER of God.
The gazing courtiers struck with deep surprise,
Wondered that man—without the pale of fight—could
Look on death so calmly.
The noble warrior, vexed at such delay, and
With impatience fired, bade them proceed; they
In their tur.., bade him prepare for death. He Answered not, but for the deadly stroke parted
The curls that clustered on his neck.
While high in air the glittering axe was swung,
He bowed him down with God's name on his lip.
Oh, were such martyrs as Santonio die,
May Heaven the spirit as its own receive Forever!

A New, Delicious Temperance Beverage.
AMBROSIAL MEAD!

THIS excellent Compound is prepared from the best SPANISH SARSAPARILLA, without its dark, repulsive appearance, being beautifully transparent and entirely free from all impurities. Its qualities as a beverage, a single trial will give it a pre-eminence over all other preparations, by its freedom from noxious ingredients, agreeableness of flavor, and its exceeding cheapness, one bottle being sufficient to make thirty glasses of the beverage.

CAUTION!—The proprietors of this excellent preparation have spared no expense to bring it to perfection, and would caution purchasers to buy none without the fac simile of Wilson, Fairbank & Co. on every bottle.

DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!
The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial &
Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Delality,
With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

AMOS LAWRENCE.

The following letter, from the late venerated Amos Lawrence, was addressed to Mr. Trask, as the author of a series of Stories on Tobacco, under the signature of "Uncle Toby."

AMOS LAWRENCE'S LETTER.

Venerable Uncle Toby:—When I was a school-boy, like other little fellows, I was anxious to be manly as the larger boys who chewed; and by the advice of one took a quid, and kept it in till I was very sick, but did not tell my parents what the matter was; and from that time to this (fifty-five years or more,) I have never chewed, smoked or snuffed! But I served customers as a country store boy more than six years, and so much an epicure of tobacco in all its forms did I become, that I could not have made myself a better judge if I had made the study of it a profession; in short, I enjoy the smell of it to this day as much as any man can its use; and to this abstinence from its use, and (of rum) under God, I owe my present position in society.—So much for my Anti-Tobacco habits. Further, I have always given a preference for more than forty years to those persons I have employed that I knew avoided rum and tobacco, and my experience confirms me in the opinion that this has been true wisdom; a preference is a profit, and the mass of those enjoying this preference will succeed in their pursuit. In the twenty-five years of my active oversight of business, no one of the pupils in our mercantile business failed. While within a less period, thirty-eight out of forty of the young men in a large mercantile concern within gunshot failed.

Among those who served in A. & A. Lawrence's store, are now many gray headed and rich old men, among the most respectable merchants in this country, and who are truly "merchant princes," and are honored as such; therefore I may well advise all lads to keep clear of Rum and Tobacco slavery; thus ensuring for themselves a preference, all other things being equal.

God speed you in your good work, venerable and truthful Uncle Toby. So prays,
AMOS LAWRENCE.

Boston, Aug. 10, 1852.

A CAPITAL ANECDOTE.

An acquaintance of ours, who shall be nameless, an elegant gentleman, and as susceptible as he was a chivalrous admirer of the sex,—the other day was comfortably lounging in his office, and looking out upon Camp street, when his attention was attracted by the splendid dress, superb carriage, and superlative loveliness of a lady passing down the street, on whom his regards at once became riveted. Instantly he satisfied himself that she was a belle,—the daughter or wife of some one of our wealthiest citizens,—"the glass of fashion, and the mould of form." Never did Eastern devotee gaze with more ardent adoration upon the shrine of his divinity, than did our friend upon the attractive vision—all beauty compassed in a female form,—passing by the window of his office.

But see, she hesitates in her promenade—she pauses—she turns into a quiet and retired alley! What can be her object, going thus where no lady was ever seen to go before?—Heavens! can so magnificent a creature be engaged in an intrigue! No, it is some divine mission of charity which diverts her steps from the ordinary thoroughfare. Yet, it cannot be,—for why does she look around so suspiciously? Mon Dieu? who is the happy man she seeks! For—observe—she raises her hand, withdrawing it from her bosom!—Our friend leans from out of the window—yes, it is the signal! How his heart beats with the excitement of a mingled curiosity and envy! Is she not producing a billet doux? To be sure, to be sure!

Ha! What? Oh, countrymen! what a fall was there! It is not a signal she is making—it is not a love epistle she is producing! She has drawn from her bosom—where it rose and fell, "like a light barge, safe-moored,"—a bottle! SHE STEPPED ASIDE TO TAKE A DRINK!—N. O. Sketch Book.

MR. BURKE'S LETTER.—Hon. Edmund Burke comes out in a letter defending himself and the expunged 5th Resolution.

We have room for only a brief extract or two. He says:

"Treating the mandate of the N. H. Patriot with the scorn it deserves, I frankly say to the world, that I do not approve of the appointment to office of free-soilers, coalitionists, disunionists or whigs, until they have brought themselves within the purview of the 4th resolution, adopted by the late Convention. If the President has appointed a man to his cabinet who was but a short time since a federalist, I say frankly that I do not approve of it. And I have not seen the first sound Democrat that does approve of it. If he has appointed a leading disunionist to the Cabinet, I do not approve of it. If he has appointed leading free-soilers, or coalitionists, I do not approve of it. I would say this to him personally, as I now say it publicly to the people of New Hampshire, not in any spirit of unfriendliness or hostility, but with a sincere desire that his administration should be conducted successfully and gloriously for himself and his country. And thousands upon thousands of the true Democracy of the Union, to whom he owes his triumphant election, I know, entertain precisely the same sentiments."

In conclusion Mr. Burke remarks that he "shall make no war upon the Democratic party, its principles, usages, or candidates, but shall make war upon the contemptible little cabal at the capital who, sheltering themselves under the shield of the Democratic party, are willing to hazard its unity and success to gratify a personal dislike to one or more members of the party."

The Concord Capital Reporter of June 21, says—

"From the moment the Presidential canvass was ended in the triumphant election of Gen. Pierce, an attack was secretly commenced up-Mr. Burke, by certain persons here, claiming to be the confidential friends of the President elect, with a view to destroy his political reputation, and to break him down, by circulating every species of vituperative slander against him. The same course was pursued towards the senior editor of this paper, and some others. Having access to the President elect, Iago like, they used their position to pour into his ears, along with their fulsome adulation, the envenomed poison which was to alienate him from his truest, longest tried and most devoted friends. In that they succeeded."

The Daily Patriot of the same day, has an article of nearly four columns in reply to Mr. Burke's letter. It says of him:—

"With a cowardice characteristic alike of the bully and assassin, and which he conspicuously exhibited in the late State Convention in attacking the President of the U. States through a committee and then not daring to say a word when denounced to his face and in open Convention therefor—with such cowardice he has for six years been assailing us, never openly so that he could be called out by name, but always from behind a safe breastwork."

People sometimes wonder why our General Court don't get along any faster with their business. But it is all plain now: there is so much "noise and confusion" made by these papers and politicians, that the Court can't hear their own sweet voices.

Some excitement has been produced in Philadelphia concerning the final disposition of the remains of Arthur Spring, who was executed for the murder of the sisters Shaw and Lynch, last Friday week. On opening the coffin supposed to contain the body of the deceased, nothing but a log of wood and some clothing were found.

The excitement is misplaced; and the dissection of such a man, especially of his head and heart, may be quite instructive; only the affair should have been managed better.

PYROTECHNIC ESTABLISHMENT BLOWN UP.—On Saturday about 5 o'clock, the Pyrotechnic establishment of H. G. Clark, situated back of the Sand-hill in Concord was blown up, totally destroying the building and its contents. There was on hand a quantity of partially finished rockets and other preparations for fire works, contracted for, to be used on the 4th of July. Loss $600.

A VETERAN.—Considerable interest has been excited by the appearance in Boston, of a veteran pensioner by the name of James McDonald, from Richmond, Va. He says he is 105 years of age, and he certainly is venerable in appearance, although quite smart and active in bearing. He says he was in the British army, and went with the troops to Lexington and Concord, on the 18th and 19th of April, 1775. After his return to Boston he deserted the British, and joined the American camp, and was at the battle of Bunker Hill. He has a son 72 years of age. It is but few that attain to so great an age, with their mental and physical faculties so little unimpaired as are those of this hero of Bunker Hill.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

MONTREAL—NIAGARA—GAVAZZI.

MONTREAL, June 17, 1853.

The weather has been quite warm here for several days. I suppose you have observed that quite a riot attended Father Gavazzi's lecture in Montreal. It appears to be the principal subject of conversation here; the Protestants are very much incensed against the Papists, more especially they say, because Brownson lectured here, throwing the most scurrilous abuse upon the Protestant Institutions, and met with no opposition at all. A very great majority of the people in this part of the Canadas, you are aware, are Roman Catholics; in Upper Canada I believe it is quite the reverse.

The Mayor, who is a Roman Catholic, is very much censured; several persons, both Catholic and Protestant, who have lost relatives by being fired upon, have threatened to take his life. It is said that the soldiers fired over the rioters and shot many, who were not at all participating in the riot, some of them I believe, returning from their business. The French Catholics, it is said, are very peaceable citizens, and took no part in this affair, but the actors in it were chiefly Irish; some also say it was premeditated by the Jesuits, as was very probably the case. There are many priests and Jesuits here; some one has said 350 priests, all of them rich and drawing their riches out of the hard earnings of the poor.—This is the very hot-bed of Catholicism in this country and continent.

On our way here from Niagara we stopped one night at Toronto. Toronto strikes the traveller not very favorably, but there are some fine edifices, among them a very good market. Canada appears to me like a foreign country. Many prophecy annexation to the United States before many years, and it appears not very improbable. I think the importance of the country would be made much greater by annexation. Coming up the St. Lawrence we found the scenery very pleasant; what interested the passengers on board the boat the most, were the rapids, which present a wild appearance. As I write there is a jingling of bells, announcing a fire; every place appears to me to have a different system of alarms for fire—they ring the bells here in a similar manner to our Court bells.

I was much pleased with Niagara River; of the Falls I need not speak. The river is said to be at least 600 feet deep, judging from the quantity of water passing over the fall; it cannot be sounded from the nature of the stream. They are the greatest shavers there, that I ever saw, and consider all travellers as lawful plunder. The cabmen along the whole route, especially, try to practice all sorts of impositions upon travellers, and it is necessary to be very particular with them, otherwise they will impose upon strangers. Q.

COMPLAINT ANSWERED.

A Catholic subscriber, (a good and honest man, as we believe) finds fault with the Chronicle for publishing articles "against the Catholics and Irish." We reply to this charge that we are not against either, but are decidedly against the craft and fraud of those whose business it is to keep the Catholics in a state of bigotry by keeping the Irish in this country in a state of ignorance.

We are in favor of throwing the doors of Wisdom's Temple wide open, that all the people may enter freely—but we are therefore utterly opposed to committing its keys to a set of priests who will neither enter themselves, nor suffer those who are entering, to go in.

It seems a pity to shock any one's prejudices—but a pitched battle has already commenced in this Union between Roman priests and common schools. The Catholic people never thought of opposing the schools till their priests made war upon them—but now the battle must be fought through. There's no backing out.

We may as well say now as at any time, that the true issue is not, shall the Bible, either King James' or Douay, be used in schools? but whether the schools shall be common and free, or sectarian?

A QUIET HOMESTEAD.—The Boston Post says a solitary family lives upon the shore of Richardson's lake, above the white mountains. It consists of a man, wife and four children. The man was formerly a Boston merchant, but not being successful in business retired to this secluded spot seven or eight years ago. They have comfortable quarters, keep several cows, and are well supplied with the necessaries of life. Their visitors are the few hunters and fishermen who reach the lake.

There is quite a rage now for high buildings in Boston, most of those erected being five, and some even six stories high. The one on the corner of Blackstone and Hanover street, viewed from Hanover street, says the Chronicle, looks like a case knife set upon its handle, though seen from Blackstone street presents a handsome front.

Mr. Massino has obtained a verdict for $5000 against the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad Co., for the loss of his leg by the cars being thrown from the track by running over a cow.

LOCAL.

City Council—June 21.

SPECIAL SESSION.—Board of Aldermen—Alderman Jenkins presented a Memorial to the General Court, setting forth that the bill now before the House, establishing the salary of the Police Justice, conflicts with the City Charter—representing the present provision for the purpose as the best, and requesting the legislature to leave the same unchanged. This memorial was unanimously adopted.

In Common Council—Voted unanimously to concur in the adoption of the above memorial.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE.

At the call of the Committee of Invitation and Reception for the 4th of July celebration, a meeting of citizens was held at the Court House last evening, to choose a Committee of Citizens, of the same number as the City Committee, 14, to co-operate with them. Owing to the heavy shower just at the time the meeting was called, the attendance was not so full as was desired.

Order was called by Joseph G. Todd, Esq.; George N. Carleton was called to the Chair, and Samuel Storer, Esq. was appointed Secretary. Hon. Richard Jenness briefly and pertinently addressed the meeting;—and as all wished a full representation of the people to choose the needed Committee, who who were of course kept away by the rain, it was voted that the meeting adjourn till this evening at 7 o'clock, at the same place.

It is very important that the meeting be promptly attended, as it is desired that the Citizen's Committee be chosen in season to take hold and work with the City Committee, this evening at 8 o'clock. So be on hand at the Court House at 7, all ye who take any interest in the matter.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE FOURTH.

Order begins to emerge from the chaos of incipient measures. We will give the particular items, day by day, as we get them.

The Portsmouth Committee of Arrangements have engaged Yale's medium tent, which will comfortably seat at table 1200 persons, for the ceremonies of the ensuing fourth of July. This is not (as some may have supposed) the tent that was burnt on Sunday—but a smaller.

The Boston Courier of Tuesday informs us that the Boston committee has made all the necessary railroad arrangements for the transportation and convenience of those who intend to make the excursion, by themselves or with their families. Those who intend to join with the visiting company, will be furnished with tickets at half the regular railroad price, for going and returning, upon application to the Treasurer of the Committee, and the tickets will allow a week to those who do not wish to be involved in a crowd, and who would like to make something more than a single day's excursion to their birth place.—The arrangement has been made with the Eastern Railroad Company. The excursion tickets will be issued under the supervision of the Treasurer of the Committee of Arrangements, and will be ready in a day or two. It is important that those who wish to go should apply for tickets in good season, and state what day's trains they intend to take, on account of the confusion which always attends railway transportation on the fourth of July.

The New York papers state that the sons of Portsmouth held an adjourned meeting on Friday night, at the Irving House, to hear the report of a committee appointed at the previous meeting to confer with the city authorities of Portsmouth, and arrange for a visit. The committee reported that they were met by a delegation from Portsmouth, and had arranged for a visit on the 4th of July.—A resolution was passed inviting the Sons of Portsmouth in Philadelphia or vicinity to join the New Yorkers in the excursion.

OLD TREES.—Old trees are in some respects like old friends: we are sorry to part with them, but we knew they must leave us, especially when we perceive symptoms of decay. These symptoms have for some years past been quite visible on the row of fine old elms in Daniel street, in front of the Mark Hunking Wentworth estate.

A decayed portion of one of them was removed a year ago or more; and the remainder of the same tree is probably now unsafe in a gale. In the meantime, two others in the same row have become entirely dead, and are therefore not less unsightly than useless, and are probably dangerous to passengers and buildings, during a high wind.

One noble elm on the corner of Chapel street remains fresh and green as in youth; and long may it wave, a fine remembrancer of the goodly row that braved the great fire of forty years ago, and saved two houses or more from swift destruction. The trees were much injured by the fire, and seemed about to perish—but nature afterwards rallied, and these old trees have out-lived another generation of men, but are now themselves dead. The corner tree bids fair to survive its compeers many years, and possibly generations.

APPOINTMENT.—Jefferson McIntire, Esq., appointed Machinist and Engineer at Portsmouth Navy Yard, vice John S. Howell, Esq. removed.

APACE WITH THE TIMES.—It is understood by a private letter from New York, that a reporter of the New York Herald is to be present here on the Glorious Fourth to make a full report of proceedings.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S

Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself.—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

EXPEDITION FOR LIBERIA.—On the 10th inst., 134 colored emigrants left Savannah for Liberia. They were, with a single exception, from Georgia and Tennessee. The Tennesseans went under charge of two clergymen, Rev. Messrs. Dyke and Smith, who camped out with the negroes and shared all their deprivations, and did not leave them till they saw them safely embarked. These gentlemen have been instrumental in securing the liberty of a considerable number of these emigrants; Mr. Smith being a lawyer as well as a methodist preacher, having been engaged some 16 years in prosecuting a claim for the liberty of about 30 of them, and Mr. Dyke having obtained the liberty of about 20 others for the same purpose. Several of this company have purchased their own freedom.

HAYTI.—Late advices from Hayti report the condition of that country as being highly prosperous, especially when compared with the misrule and distress of former times. The government of Soloque seems to be well established, and gives evidence of a disposition to advance the prosperity of its subjects. It is said the old law, which requires the export duty on coffee to be paid in that article, is to be rescinded, and the duty is hereafter to be collected in money. We learn that the American missionary who was badly beaten by robbers in the vicinity of Jeremie, has recovered. His influence at that place has been productive of great benefit to the people.

THE CASE OF MISS MCELROY.—The coroner of Williamsburg publishes a statement in regard to the appearance of the body of Miss McElroy, who was found drowned, and it was supposed murdered. The coroner says the body presented no indications to lead him to infer that the deceased came to her death by any other than her own intentional act, and he also learns that she has previously been subject to aberrations of the intellect.

Providence, June 20.—The case of Wm. H. Greene against the officer who seized his liquor under the law which the court decided to be unconstitutional, was decided to-day in the Circuit Court, sitting at Newport. The verdict was for the plaintiff, with $10 damages. This does not carry costs.

HEAVY DAMAGES.—Daniel R. Clapp has recovered a verdict against the city for $3,379 50 in the same court. Mr. C. fell in the street in a very slippery time, last winter; he claimed damages on the ground that the city was bound to enforce the law providing for the removal of snow and ice from the sidewalks.

THE FISHERIES.

We wish somebody, at or near the head of our Executive Government, would take the responsibility of doing something to protect this important interest, which is in imminent danger of suffering—and indeed is now suffering from apprehension of molestation by a powerful fleet sent to harass and disturb it.

The Newburyport Herald says:

The British provincials threaten our fishermen with great severity this year, and announce that a more efficient naval force, and greater watchfulness than last year, will be kept up. They also say, that they themselves are going much more largely into the fishing business this year. All this is not improbable, but it is possible that some of the threatening may be for effect only.

We have no knowledge of any movement on the part of our government, and indeed we know of only one thing they can now do.—They can send a fleet of armed vessels down, to see that the fishermen are not molested when on the high seas, outside the line of British jurisdiction, and require that the American vessels putting into British harbors, by stress of weather or for repairs, are properly treated, and neither ordered off or threatened with seizure by the British cruisers; and that the crews of all American vessels shall be fairly treated by the British authorities, and not subjected to any insults.

This our government can do, and this they should do, disregarding all fears of collision; for the British government will be quite as unwilling to come to a collision as our own, and after they find there is any danger of it, they will hurry up a settlement of the matter, in quick time.

It is highly probable that the provincials will increase largely their fishing fleet, this year, for they have every inducement to do so. The cutting off the American fishermen causes a scanty supply in our market, and largely raises the prices, while the low duty places the markets completely in the hands of the British.

The Rev. Miss Brown, the woman's rights clergywoman, stated at the Chris. Union Convention, in Syracuse last week, that she had just assumed the pastorship of a Congregational church at South Butler, Wayane Co.

Sunday afternoon, Pier 6, North River, New York, gave way under the weight of iron and other merchandise, carrying men, horses, and carts with it. It is feared that several men are buried beneath the wreck.

Something is always happening to Mr. Botts. On his way to the Memphis convention, the steamer that carried him stuck in the mud, and he only arrived on the last day of the session. Mr. Botts made a speech, though.

The Wilmington, N. C. Journal, a pretty shrewd print, thinks the Memphis convention was a "fizzle," and prefers one good mile of railroad to three oceans of talk.

The editors of the New York Tribune have explored the city, and find that "the proposed shutting up of the rum shops has ended in an entire failure."

A young man employed in the Mills at Newmarket, N. H., named Moses O. Burr, was drowned while bathing in Lamprey river, on Sunday.

"John, what kind of a dog is that of yours?"

"Well, I 'spect he's a Tarrier, seein' as he tarries round meat shops and cooking stoves."

Navy Pard, arriving at and leaving the city of Portsmouth (three miles distant) on the arrival and departure of the cars.

The undersigned lessee, respectfully solicits for for himself, from Mr. Gerrish's former patrons in the business, a continuance of their wonted patronage to him—assuring them and all others who may be disposed to patronize him, that he will use his best endeavors to fully merit their favors.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the cause of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo, pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the "indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. WOULD YOU?

BY ALFRED WARD.

Baby crowing on your knee,
While you sing some little ditty,
Pulls your hair or thumbs your "ee,"
Would you think it was n't pretty?
Tell me, could you?
If you owned "the baby," would you?

Wife, with arm about your neck,
Says you look just like the baby;
Wants some cash to make a "spec;"
And you would refuse her—may be?—
Could you? should you?
If you owned "the woman," would you?

Little labor, little strife,
Little care and little cot;
Would you sigh for single life?
Would you murmur at your lot?
Tell me, should you?
If you owned "the cottage," would you?

Health and comfort, children fair,
Wife to meet you at the door,
Fond hearts throbbing for you there;
Tell me, would you ask for more?
Should you? could you?
If you owned "the ready," would you?

THE HAPPY VALLEY.

BY THOMAS MILLER.

It was a valley filled with sweetest sounds,
A languid music haunted everywhere.—
Like those with which a summer eve abounds,
From rustling corn, and song-birds calling dear,
Down sloping uplands, which some wood surrounds,
With tinkling rills just heard, but not too near;
Or lowing cattle on the distant plain,
And swing of far off bells, now caught, now lost again.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DOCTOR ALFRED G. HALL,

AUTHOR of the New Theory of cure by the NUTRITIVE PRINCIPLE, in Physiology and Medicine, sustaining the laws of life and removing the cause of disease, confirmed as a NATURAL SCIENCE by the Nutritive Process; expelling dead and depositing living matter at the same time in the Body, increasing its weight and strength while under treatment, being the great discovery of the constitutional power resisting disease; ample proof can be given in the person of any invalid.

Dr. H. receives visits, makes examinations, ascertains the cause of disease, describes the precise condition of the patient, furnishes prescriptions, medicines and recipes for his Nutritive Fluids and cordials.

Three months' attention and treatment is requisite in all cases, with printed instructions, for diet and washing, and the use of the Alkaline Girdle for the spine and kidneys—a restorative action is produced in all parts of the system immediately by the natural laws sustained by nutrition.

He is the inventor and sole proprietor of 12 nutritive fluids; they can be made by any family—are adapted to the several temperaments, and to every form of disease. His works, "Views of the New Theory, &c.," "Womanhood," and the "Mother's Own Book," are furnished to invalids under his supervision. It is now before Congress.

Doctor Alfred G. Hall may be consulted by letter, or in person at his rooms, No. 15 Winter St., Boston, from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. ☞ Medicines, &c. forwarded by Express to any part.

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER.

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by expelling the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers even in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial &

Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND, Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,
VERNON ESKRIDGE, Chaplain U.S.N.

SOMETHING FAVORING SLAVERY.

The New York Herald of Sunday contains a letter signed Southerner, and dated at Morgantowna, North Carolina, making some statements about "Southern Negroes in California—Their Remittances of Gold—Return of Eight Men to their Owners—Efforts of the Abolitionists to detain them—Resistance of the Blacks, and their safe arrival home."

We have read the letter with much interest, but we must add, with some little doubts of its entire correctness. We copy it verbatim, that the reader may judge for himself.

In reply to the ideal cases which the fanatical writers of the anti-slavery portion of the American press cite, and the absurd stories which the abolitionist orators propagate, in order to impress their readers and hearers with the belief that the negroes of the South regard their owners with abhorrence, and sigh for emancipation, I beg to inform you of a few tangible and positive facts, which will tend to prove most clearly that the contrary feeling exists amongst them, and that they will remember, respect, and even return to their masters, from a state of freedom enjoyed under the most alluring circumstances.

Amongst the passengers who arrived in your city by the California steamer, upon the 12th of this month, were some seven or eight slaves, returning from the gold-diggings of that country to their owners, who are all planters residing in this neighborhood.

Four of these men had been in California for about two years, and for the last twelve months they have had the entire control of their own actions and operations.

During all this time they were quite successful in gold-digging, and have been in the habit of regularly transmitting the proceeds of their labor to this part of the continent—sometimes by means of drafts drawn in California, and at others by express.

Having lately determined to return, they arrived in New York, as above mentioned, and remained there for two or three days.—They were immediately "hunted up" and surrounded by your abolitionists and free soilers, from whom they received the most pressing invitations, and by whom the most earnest entreaties were used, in order to induce them to remain, so as to form part of an exhibit against the institutions of the Southern portion of the Union.

But it was all in vain; they took their departure at the time previously arranged for amongst them; and leaving your fanatics and sympathizers behind, turned their faces toward the Old North State once more.

When they arrived in Philadelphia they were subjected to a repetition of the same attentions from a section of the same class inhabiting that city, but the result was equally barren in profit to the cause of the pseudo philanthropists, and the men arrived here in the last stage, all in good health and spirits, and seemingly most happy in the recollection that they had "saved themselves from their Northern friends."

There are at the present moment some one hundred and fifty negroes, from this and an adjoining county, in California, where they are daily engaged in mining with great success and profit; and from the firm disposition with which they have resisted all the evil influences which are brought to bear upon them by a restless party, which disgraces and disturbs the country, I have no doubt but they will all in like manner return to their owners, unless prevented by the decrees of Providence alone.

The owners of those slaves, and the entire South, owe them a debt of gratitude, not only for their firm adherence to honor, but also for their manly resistance of that party which is equally the bane of the black man and America.

I write in much haste, and will ask of you to insert this in the columns of the Herald, in order that if the "Cabin" writers of the day should ever wish to find a "Key of Truth" regarding the slave question, they may search for it in the independent columns of that Journal.

Now assuming all this to be true, it must either be an extraordinary collection of cases, or else a fair view of slaves and slavery, as they actually and commonly exist. If the latter be true, then there can surely be no need of a fugitive slave law—the Union is safe—the negroes, these being a fair specimen, are the best men in the world, able to take care of themselves and their masters too—and finally, as slavery in Carolina is so much better than freedom in New York and Philadelphia, we wonder why there is not a regular stampede of free negroes from the free slave states, first to find masters, and then go out to California and dig gold for them. Can anybody tell us why they don't go?

WONDERFUL ESCAPE.—A late English paper contains an account of a most marvellous escape from destruction by fire of the emigrant ship John Melhuish, while on her voyage from London to Sydney, with 200 passengers. The mate and three men were engaged in getting the ship's stores forward when they came across a cask of brandy which the mate had moved once or twice, and then sent the men on deck to pump ship. While they were thus engaged he took an unprotected light and proceeded in the direction of the brandy cask, and in about ten minutes afterwards the passengers were startled by his rushing up from the hatchway enveloped in a blue flame, with consternation and fear depicted on his face, exclaiming in a loud sort of scream, "the ship's on fire! the ship's on fire!" He ran into one of the passenger's berths, where blankets being thrown over him, the fire about him was put out.

A passenger named Hayward, suspecting that the mate had been tapping the brandy cask, and had allowed the spirit to ignite, stripped off his coat, jumped down and put his thumb in the hole to prevent the escape; but the hole being large and rough, the brandy continued to flow, which igniting, the blue flame ran up his arm and set fire to his shirt and clothes. At this juncture Captain Jenkins jumped down to his assistance, and prevented with the aid of a bucket of water, Mr. Hayward meeting with a horrible death.—The pumps being got into operation, hose were laid down to the lower hold, and a stream of water brought to play on the cask on fire, the passengers passing down wet blankets and wet sails to throw over the flaming spirits, which partly overflowed the deck. By these arrangements the fire was extinguished, and the brandy cask got on deck. Had it not been for Hayward's heroic conduct, the brandy cask must soon have burst, and there being not less than two hundred and seventy casks and cases stowed along with it, nothing could have prevented the instant destruction of the ship, and the 540 souls on board. The mate was placed in confinement, and upon the ship's arrival at Sydney, was delivered to the authorities to be tried on the charge of breaking cargo.

PORTSMOUTH:

THE CANADAS.

Some persons about us have been apparently surprised at the Montreal and Quebec riots, occasioned by Father Gavazzi's anti-catholic lectures. The reason is, we have been trained to believe men have a right to differ in opinion, and to express the difference—and that no man ought to be killed for it. We do not believe ourselves to be infallible—and we laugh to scorn any one of our neighbors who makes such a claim, and especially who assumes airs in consequence.

In Canada, however, the case is somewhat different. Especially, as the Boston Transcript states, in Canada East, about seven-tenths of the population are Catholics, but there is really very little sympathy between the French Canadians and the Irish. The distinction of races is too deeply seated, to be surmounted by religious affinity. In a debate in the Provincial Parliament after the riot at Quebec, the Attorney General, Hon. Lewis T. Drummond, a lawyer of high standing, a member of Lord Elgin's Cabinet, and a Catholic, made a speech in which he doubtless expressed the sentiments of the cultivated portion of the Catholic population of Canada East. We make the following extract from this speech both on account of the high standing of the speaker, and also for his allusions to Mr. Brownson.

Mr. Drummond said:

He thought the people in this country were too much inclined to rely on the government for defence; whereas, they ought to be ready to turn out without distinction of class or religion, to preserve the public peace. He regretted, that knowing Quebec as he did, he feared from the composition of juries and other circumstances, that it might be very difficult to obtain justice; but every effort would be made, and if other means failed, he would offer a reward for the apprehension of the offenders. It was perhaps unfortunate that strangers should come here to lecture the people of this country upon religious subjects; but this was part of the price we had to pay for our own liberty; and if we respected that liberty, we must give foreigners the right to come and go, and express their opinions in safety. He must say, too, that the attack in question was particularly bad, because directed against a house devoted to religious purposes, and that those who sanctioned the assault on Gavazzi ought to remember the lectures of Mr. Brownson, and that in those lectures, to say the least, he did not spare Protestants. That gentleman spoke in such a way at Montreal, on one occasion, when the member for Montreal was present, as well as himself, (Mr. D.), that he, Mr. Drummond, was sorry that his Protestant friends should have had to hear him. It was true, Mr. Brownson spoke in a very philosophical manner; but his observations were not the less severe for being terse. What then could Catholics expect if they pursued the course which had been adopted towards Father Gavazzi? Clearly, they must deprive themselves of the pleasure of hearing lectures like Mr. Brownson's,—for there was no doubt that if such things were done on one side, there would surely be means found to take reprisals on the other.

In Quebec Mr. Brownson delivered his lectures in the Hall of the Legislative Assembly; and it will be seen that the better portion of the Catholics, in the language of Mr. Drummond, were "sorry" at his severity against the Protestants. Mr. Brownson publicly denounced Protestantism as "inconsistent with civil liberty and national prosperity, odious to God and injurious to man."

In Canada West the population is 84 per cent. Protestant, and the Saxon element is largely in the ascendant. The country is comparatively new, republican ideas and common schools prevail. The feudal institutions of the Old World check the growth and development of that region which includes the Canada known to our fathers, while under the impulse of Protestantism and progressive political institutions, the growth of Canada West has more than kept pace with the rapid progress of the Western States of our own country.

In New England, where religious and political toleration are established facts in society, the Transcript truly remarks, we can have no adequate idea of the religious and political bitterness and hatred which now exist in Canada East. The reasons for this state of things must, to a great extent, be found in the early history of the Province. It is a conquered country, where the victors yielded to the national, religious and social customs of the inhabitants, to keep them loyal subjects during the American Revolution. The result attests, that feudal institutions on this continent are not adapted to the protection of popular rights, or the advancement of society.

PORTSMOUTH TALENT IN BOSTON.—The strong feeling in favor of the excursion this way, is easily accounted for by considering that there are natives of this city connected with the editorial management of at least four or five Boston papers, and several literary men of great influence besides. The press is one of the levers by which public opinion is moved.

FISH STORY.—The New York Courier publishes the following piece of intelligence from Washington, on the authority of its correspondent "Inspector":—

"The decided conduct at Washington, with reference to the fisheries, and the firm yet conciliatory representations of Mr. Marcy, have produced a suspension of proceedings on the part of the English against the fishing vessels, in the disputed waters. There is now a clear prospect of a speedy and satisfactory adjustment."

We could wish these statements were true—but we do not believe a word of them.—One steamer, or one official statement of safety and peace for our fishermen, would be worth more than a thousand such prospects and rumors.

A CHALLENGE TO ALL EUROPE,—For $100,000, or the honor of the American Flag!—The yacht "Silvie," Capt. Comstock, sailed from New Rochelle, New York, on the 11th instant, for Havre. The Spirit of the Times says "she was built by George Steers, at the same time and alongside of the "America," and may be said to be her twin sister. Possibly there is no improvement on the model or rig of the America. Nous verrons! The Silvie is 105 tons, and her spirited owner, who is a young gentleman of family and fortune in New York city, is willing to test her sailing qualities with anything in Europe (not excepting the renowned America), for any amount of money, or for the Honor of the American Flag! The "Silvie," from Havre, sails for Cowes. She carries a crew of eleven picked men, all Smack men of Long Island Sound; all young, handy, and handsome, who "know the ropes," are "up" to a "Poo'keepsie shake," and "don't lose anything when they break!"

SEVEN MILES WALKING MATCH.—A 7 miles Walking Match lately came off in England, for "the champion's belt," valued at £30, and sundry smaller prizes in money.—Six men entered the lists—Spooner, the champion, gave his opponents a minute's start, and won the race by only a dozen yards. Time 57 minutes, 4 seconds.

☞ We yesterday had the pleasure of an introduction to the Proprietor of Jones' Pantoscope of the Plains, Salt Lake and California, who has been prospecting in this vicinity. This Panorama has been on exhibition in Boston for six months past, to crowded houses and has been admired by all. It is represented as a work of superior merit.

A LESSON FOR PROTESTANTS.—We passed through Franklin street, on Sunday about 11 A. M., (says the Boston Bee,) and witnessed a significant scene. The Catholic Church in that street was completely crowded, in the body of the house, the aisles, entry, and also the entire steps in front. This speaks volumes for the attachment of the Catholics to their religion. Where among our Protestants, could we find such a demonstration—a packed house, inside and out, at a season of excessive heat and discomfort. The lesson is a good one. What might not Protestantism accomplish with such self-sacrificing devotees?

☞ The Foreign News by the Humboldt has a warlike look, even though the editorials cry peace, peace.

N. H. General Court—June Session.

In the House of Representatives, most of the session of Tuesday was occupied in a debate upon the subject of an increase of the Banking Capital in New Hampshire. In the course of the debate, Mr. Ayer, of Manchester, introduced the following statistics:

In the city of Manchester there were now in operation two banks with an aggregate capital of $275,000. The population of the city at the present time is about 17,000, and including the population of the two adjacent villages of Piscataquog and Amoskeag, not far from 19,000. Since the year 1850, when an increase was made to the capital stock of the Amoskeag Bank of $50,000, there had been an addition of more than 3000 to the population. From the returns made by the assessors the present year, it appeared that the total value of lands and buildings within the city was not far from $3,000,000, of which $2,000,000 belonged to private individuals.

There were now in operation three large manufacturing companies with a capital of about $6,000,000, all of which was actually invested. There was paid out in cash at their mills about $1,300,000 annually. In addition to the vast amount of business carried on by these corporations, a great deal was done by private enterprise. Large sums were invested in all kinds of mechanical pursuits and in trade, the precise amount of which it was impossible to ascertain. A great increase of business was also anticipated in the course of the present year. Various enterprises were contemplated, and some of them had been actually commenced, which would require the expenditure of a large capital, and which would necessarily give a new impulse to business of every description.

The city of Portsmouth, with a population of only 8000 or 9000, had three banks with a capital of over $500,000. Concord, with a population of less than 10,000, had three banks with a capital of $280,000, and a bill to increase the capital stock of the State Capital Bank to amount of $50,000, had passed the House at the present session. Dover, with a population of about 8,000, had three banks with a capital of $320,000. If these towns had no more banking capital than their business required, it could scarcely be contended that the application from Manchester for a new bank was unreasonable.

LOCAL.

CITIZENS' MEETING.

At a meeting of citizens at the Court House on Wednesday evening, Ichabod Goodwin was chosen Chairman,—and Augustus Jenkins, Joseph G. Todd, and Charles J. Colcord were appointed a committee of nominations.

On their report the following gentlemen were appointed a Committee to co-operate with the city committee already chosen, in the needful arrangements for the Fourth of July:

Appropriate remarks were made by Messrs. Ichabod Goodwin, Richard Jenness, Wm. H. Y. Hackett, Augustus Jenkins and Albert R. Hatch, who were all enthusiastic on the subject and spoke most encouragingly and with much promise.

The Committee was authorized to fill vacancies in their board, and the meeting dissolved.

DECORATING MARKET STREET.—A meeting of the merchants on Market street, was holden yesterday at the counting room of Messrs. Bennett & Treadwell, to arrange for the arching and other adornment of the street, on the 4th. The following committees were chosen:

Committee on Constructions.—Henry A. Bigelow, Luther Dame, Charles W. Kimball, George L. Treadwell, James B. Parrott.

Committee on Mottoes.—Ira B. Fonda, Albert Laighton, Nathaniel K. Raynes, Thomas Tredick, Joseph A. Grace.

SAVED FROM DROWNING.—On Tuesday evening, an Irish boy about nine years old, named Daniel McGuire, fell overboard near the Spring Market, and when he was brought ashore was apparently dead from drowning.—A company of Irish women speedily set up a sort of wake over the body, the solemnities of which were interrupted by a policeman, who set about recovering suspended animation in the boy, and brought to a close by Dr. Curtis and others, whose appropriate remedies, chafing, rubbing, &c., for nearly a half hour, caused the boy to cry out "let go my leg!" so lustily as to convince all the bystanders that he was indeed alive and kicking—but needed no more waking at present.

☞ The Ladies of this city are taking hold of the business of preparing for the Reception on the Fourth of July. They are to aid in the preparation of banners, and also in furnishing the substantials and decorations for the tables on that day. Their head quarters are in the room over the Hanover street Chapel.

☞ We are informed that a movement is being made to close all stores and places of business in Portsmouth, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, on the 4th of July, that all may have at least "half a chance" to celebrate Independence. We should think all would come into such an arrangement.

The latest item of news about "the visit" is the following from the Bee:

"The Unmarried Ladies of Portsmouth, N. H., have all ordered their bridal dresses, to be in readiness on the Fourth of July. Every charmer of them expect to make a sure market when the 'Sons' go home. In the meantime the clergy are calculating what it will all amount to."

Very important—if true—but rather doubtful.

FLAGS AND BANNERS.—The procession from Boston on the Fourth, it is understood, will come down from Frenchman's lane, near the Creek bridge, through Islington and Congress streets, to Market Square. One of our most tasteful citizens suggests to the dwellers on that route, the fitness of having a tri-colored flag, (white, blue and red,) displayed from each house, with such motto on the white, as each householder should choose. Another, on reading this, suggests, that three contiguous houses should have, one a plain white flag, the next a red, and the third a blue, with or without mottoes. Both these are cheap decorations,—either of them would be attractive and lively.

FIRST CASE UNDER THE TRUANCY ACT.—On Wednesday a little lad was sentenced by the Police Magistrate to the House of Correction for 15 days, for repeated acts of truancy.

☞ In consequence of other corporate meetings on Thursday June 30th, the meeting of the Portsmouth, Dover and Great Falls Railroad will be holden at the Court House in this city, on Friday, July 1st, at 10 o'clock A. M., as will be seen by the notice in our advertising columns.

☞ Geo. W. Towle, Esq. of this city, has been appointed U. S. Deputy Marshal, by Samuel Tilton, the U. S. Marshal for the district of New Hampshire.

☞ A bill to establish the city of Nashua has passed the New Hampshire Senate.

☞ For the convenience of many citizens and strangers, who wish to keep posted-up in the arrangements being made for the celebration—copies of the Daily Chronicle will be for sale by our carriers, till further notice.

☞ To each new subscriber who pays for the Daily in advance for a year commencing August 1st, 1853—we will supply the paper without charge to that date.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S

Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity. Sold by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&wtm je22

Steamer Humboldt, at New York, brings Liverpool dates to June 3.

At Liverpool the cotton market was unchanged, with sales on the 6th of 6000, and on the 7th of 5000 bales. In wheat there had been an advance of 2d, and in flour 6d and 1s per barrel.

The British Mediterranean fleet had sailed for the Dardanelles, and the Channel fleet had been ordered to the Mediterranean.

The French fleet had arrived in Bescia [?] Bay.

The weather in England was generally good, and most favorable for the growing crops.

When the Humboldt sailed, the impression had gained ground, both in London and Paris, that although the Emperor of Russia might make some demonstration against Turkey, by menacing, or even crossing the Danubean frontier, yet that actual hostilities would be avoided by diplomatic settlement of the question.

The fourth army had been ordered from St. Petersburg to proceed from Warsaw by forced marches to Bessarabia, a Russian province adjoining Moldavia. The Turks, on the other hand, were not idle, but were preparing for a vigorous resistance. The Egyptian fleet and an army of 30,000 were proceeding to the support of the Sultan, whilst the Tarcoman Chiefs were raising 100,000 men, free of expense to the Porte, for the defence of Islamism. The mediation of Austria and Prussia was spoken of to preserve peace.

Although it was still fully believed, on the receipt of this news, that the peace of Europe would not be broken, yet the further developments of the affair were most anxiously awaited.

FALL OF A SUSPENSION BRIDGE.—The suspension bridge just finished over the Rhone, at Paicy, in the canton of Geneva, gave way, and fell with a tremendous crash while undergoing its last trial. Seven bodies were taken out of the river, and others were seriously wounded. Only a few minutes before the accident took place, the council of state of Geneva, with General Dufour and other notabilities of the city, crossed the bridge, and on the previous day a battalion of soldiers marched over it.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundredth Edition. 18mo, pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.
[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1224, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

New, Delicious Temperance Beverage.
AMBROSIAL MEAD!

THIS excellent Compound is prepared from the best SPANISH SARSAPARILLA, without its dark, repulsive appearance, being beautifully transparent and entirely free from all impurities. Its qualities as a beverage, a single trial will give it a pre-eminence over all other preparations, by its freedom from noxious ingredients, agreeableness of flavor, and its exceeding cheapness, one bottle being sufficient to make thirty glasses of the beverage.

CAUTION!—The proprietors of this excellent preparation have spared no expense to bring it to perfection, and would caution purchasers to buy none without the fac simile of Wilson, Fairbank & Co. on every bottle.

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.
The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1855.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,
VERNON ESKRIDGE, Chaplain U.S.N.

are constantly coming to light, from different parts of the country, showing the astonishing effects of the fair and faithful use of these Lozenges.

HERE IS ONE LETTER,

from a citizen of Portsmouth—and but a sample of hundreds:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May, 1853.

This is to certify that I consider Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenges a valuable article for what they are designed—the best remedy before the public. My son had a very severe cough, which threatened speedily to carry him off; and nothing seemed to give relief, until I tried these Lozenges,—which produced signs of relief in a few hours, and after the taking of a few boxes, wholly removed his cough. BLOOMERISM.

Harriet Pomeroy writes to a Plymouth paper as follows:

"I have sir, with others, stepped beyond the bounds and dominion of fashion—that remorseless tyrant who rules more subjects than any ten of earth's mightiest kings—and oh! what a crime it is, in the eyes of some superlative modest folks? Well, sir, is there anything immodest in a pair of pants and a short dress? If there is, then your sex must be immodest beyond degree. The truth is, the immodesty is all in the imagination and not in the dress. When I hear a man or a woman making 'gratuitous remarks,' I mark him or her, as the case may be, as possessing a corrupt mind and an impure imagination.—We have adopted the 'Bloomer' because we do not like to carry from morning till night, suspended from our waist, from two to four pounds of cotton and a bolt of calico, which we have to lift at every step we take—it is a burden too grievous to be borne.

If, as you say, 'the long dress and four pound petticoat is productive of much sickness and death,' why don't you come out and be our champion, and advocate the universal adoption of the 'Bloomer costume?' Remember 'consistency is a jewel.' You think it dispenses with too much clothing in cold weather; this only proves that you gentlemen know nothing about the matter. In cold, wet weather, I wear under my pants two pair of drawers, a cotton and a flannel pair, which make me more comfortable than any long dress open at the bottom possibly could. You think also, that 'the fashion might be changed by degrees, without causing any gratuitous remarks.' Permit me to say, sir, we think you are at least twenty years behind the times; it has been demonstrated long ago, that to cut a dog's tail off inch by inch, hurts worse than to cut it off all at once."

JEFFERSON ON THE MONROE DOCTRINE.—Sparks, in his recent publication of important letters, gives an extract of a letter from Jefferson, when Secretary of State, to the President in 1790, in which we have the Monroe doctrine foreshadowed. It was written in reply to a question propounded to the cabinet of General Washington, based upon the possible contingency of Great Britain and Spain appealing to arms to decide the disputes then pending between them. Jefferson says: "I am so deeply impressed with the magnitude of the dangers which will attend our government, if Louisiana and the Floridas be added to the British empire, that, in my opinion, we ought to make ourselves parties in the general war expected to take place, should this be the only means of avoiding the calamity. But I think we should defer this step as long as possible, because war is full of chances which may relieve us from the necessity of interference; and if necessary, still, the later we interfere, the better we shall be prepared."

THE CLIPPER SHIP SWEEPSTAKES.—The attempt to launch this ship yesterday proved unsuccessful. In sliding from the ways she heeled over, struck against a ship on the stocks alongside, and remained fast; and the united efforts of two steam tugs to pull her into the water were ineffectual. She is in a very awkward position—partly in the water and partly out. The ship in careening knocked away a staging, which was crowded with spectators, throwing many of them into the water. Several were taken out slightly bruised, and a lad had his arm broken.—New York Herald of Sunday.

Rugs and carpets, designs of which represent episodes in Uncle Tom, are offered for sale by the upholsterers of Paris. The French had expressed much sympathy for the sufferings of the slave; but it seems that they mean to help the rest of the world in treading him under foot.

Mr. John W. H. Hawkins, one of the six original "Washingtonians"—the original moral suasion temperance men—in a note to the Boston Traveller, says that not one of them has kept a grog shop since their reformation, as has been intimated. One had died—and all but one of the rest are strict temperance men.

POPERY AND EDUCATION.—In the island of Sardinia, Popery has everything its own way. And to the question, how does it educate its sons and daughters, a recent official report answers: it has 547,112 inhabitants; and of these, 512,381 can neither read nor write! Yet the island swarms with priests, and for ages has been completely under their control.

PORTSMOUTH:
FRIDAY, JUNE 24, 1853.

OPINIONS OF THE PILOT.

BROWNSON, GAVAZZI, &c.—The Boston Pilot contains an article on the Montreal riots, which we have perused with much interest.—It sets down Gavazzi as "a nuisance," and thinks city authorities should "prevent his public appearance;" and at the same time finds fault with the Catholics for attending his meetings, saying:

"They are forbidden, by precepts of their religion known to every one of them, to visit such places. Yet it is morally certain that some Catholics, moved by an inordinate curiosity, will attend his meetings. It is almost as certain that one or more of them, hearing such outrageous lies and obscenities poured upon their religion, will lose their patience.

Besides, says the Pilot, it is not to be forgotten that as malignant and bloodthirsty a set of men as ever lived—we mean the Irish Orangemen—whose charter oaths bind them to seek every occasion of quarrel with Papists, in order to settle the quarrel with fire and steel, are sure to be present, armed, at Gavazzi's lectures, in the hope that a fight will enable them to do something for their oath. Now it should not be left by the authorities in the power of Gavazzi, or of the Orangemen, or of the silly Catholics who may stroll into Gavazzi's lecture room, to compromise the peace of the city."

We know there is a most intense mutual hatred between the Irish Orangemen and Catholics—and we know also that the Roman church, that is the priests, forbid the common people's attending a heretical meeting.—And we regard the one thing about as absurd as the other. We see no good reason why a protestant should hate a catholic, or why a catholic should hate a protestant. Nor can we see why any one sect should be afraid to hear or understand another. Prejudice between the two must be disarmed by actual knowledge of one another; and this is the grand reason why we go for common schools and free discussion of all possible subjects.—We would do as much as possible to break down sectarian barriers and party lines.

The Pilot has the following charitable wish for those of its friends who go to hear their own views spoken against.

"If our voice could reach all Irishmen, who are disposed to run after this brute, Gavazzi, to hear what he may have to say, we would implore them, by all that is sacred, to stay at home. If guns must be used, we would say, let them be used upon the stupid asses who disgrace the name of Irish Catholics, by going near the monster, Gavazzi. They know that they have no businesss whatever there, and, if they go, and are shot down, why good riddance to them."

On this we make no further comment than to take another extract from the same article, and ask a comparison between Gavazzi and the Pilot.

"Gavazzi, we know of old, is a brave fellow, and he defended himself with pluck. So far, he deserves applause. His own account of the matter shows him to be a most unfeeling person, as the Celt observes. Not a word of sympathy does he express for his murdered victims. And it must be remembered that most of the persons killed were Protestants, and the soldiers who killed them were Protestants."

Finally the Pilot says,

"We appeal to respectable papers like the Transcript, which have been led to make this unjust comparison of Gavazzi with Brownson, and ask them to think again upon the matter. Let them read the lecture of Gavazzi, and compare it with any production of Brownson, and if they find anything to justify their cruelly unjust remarks, we will hold our peace.—Gavazzi indulged in personalities and obscene allusions. He assailed the honor of Catholic mothers, wives and daughters. He attacked the Catholic priesthood, making no exception in his vile assaults. In one word, he attacks men, and in an exceedingly undignified and offensive manner. Now Brownson attacks, not Protestant men, but Protestant principles. From the beginning to the end, he deals in argument, and he does not transcend the bounds of legitimate argument. His conclusions are unquestionably strance and disagreeable to Protestants, but they are not personal, and no man in his audience can by any possibility construe what he hears into a personal attack upon himself."

There is much truth in this comparison of Gavazzi and Brownson. Gavazzi is assuming, overbearing and dogmatical, like a priest. His opinions have changed; but his habits stick fast to him, his education betrays itself in every sentence.

So of Brownson: his views also have changed; but he was educated as a man, and not as a priest, and though his creed has changed wonderfully, he cannot divest himself of decency of language and manner. We do not believe half his doctrines, but we always read his review with pleasure and sometimes with profit. We laugh at his absurdities and admire his apparent sincerity in believing them—but our taste is rarely if ever offended by him.

☞ The Worcester Spy understands that measures are being taken to rebuild the Catholic College upon Mount St. James, in Worcester, Mass., during the present season.—Workmen are already engaged in removing the rubbish, preparatory to the work of rebuilding.

POOR BOYS IN NEW YORK.—A writer in the New York Times makes a strong appeal to the public, in favor of the poor boys in New York streets. Some of these are Americans, but more of them of foreign birth or extraction—and many of them orphans.—Dirt, destitution and vice, with consequent misery, fasten upon them. A few of them break upward through this dreadful crust of circumstances—but the majority do and will remain evil and debased, without increased effort, moral, social and industrial, as well as religious. The writer, who is evidently in the work himself, invokes the missionary spirit to move over the darkness existing in that city, and turn it into light; and assures the christian and philanthropist that there is not only need of their working in this department of duty, but there is also encouragement to its performance, as he has found in his efforts thus far.

His idea is to help the homeless, fatherless, neglected boys to good places, in the city or out of it, to give them employment, knowledge, virtue—in short to help them in the best way—by giving them a chance to help themselves.

He has already found places for a large number of boys; many of whom are doing well.

N. H. General Court—June Session.

Abridged from Daily Patriot.

WEDNESDAY, June 22.

In the Senate, a bill in amendment of the charter of the city of Portsmouth; also a bill in addition to the acts incorporating the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad, were read a third time and passed.

A bill from the House, to amend the charter of the Nashua & Epping Railroad was read and referred.

In the House, Mr. Emery of Portsmouth, from the Committee on Railroads, reported that it was inexpedient to legislate upon the subject of regulating the speed of railroad trains. The committee were of the opinion that it would be almost impossible to make any regulations which would be effectual; but that the better mode of ensuring safety to passengers would be to hold railroad corporations strictly responsible for all accidents arising from carelessness in the management of their roads. The report was accepted.

Mr. Cragin of Lebanon, from the select committee on the subject of a State Reform School, reported a bill to establish an institution of that description.

The same committee reported a series of resolutions which provided, substantially, that the Governor and Council should appoint a committee of three persons to select a site for the school in some central town, and erect suitable buildings thereon, capable of accommodating 120 boys, and so constructed that it may hereafter be enlarged so as to accommodate 300 boys if it should be found necessary. The sum $20,000 to be appropriated for the purpose, of which not more than $6000 should be expended for the land, and for the purpose of stocking and improving it the current year.

Mr. Walden of Portsmouth, gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill relating to the sealing of fish.

A bill to amend the charter of the Nashua & Epping Railroad company, was read a third time and passed.

Mr. Walden of Portsmouth, introduced a bill to incorporate the Atlantic Bank, which was read and referred.

On the Fourth of July, Thompson's Carolers give a concert in Newburyport. The success of this company has been so great, that they are about fitting a hall on their own account, and for their own use, in which they will give a series of entertainments during the next fall and winter.

☞ In digging to put down the gas pipes in Court street, the workmen have disturbed numerous remains of the negroes, who were buried during the days of slavery here, and for some years afterwards. The old negro burial ground occupied that part of Chesnut street which is between State and Court streets, and spread out rather indefinitely into both of them. The jail stood near, and made a kind of Golgotha of that then neglected part of the town. Few bodies have been buried there for the last sixty years: it is said one person was buried there about fifty years ago. The workmen found one coffin in tolerable preservation, near the corner of Chesnut and Court streets, containing the bones of a large and tall man. The remains were all reburied.

THE FISHERIES.—The Halifax Morning Chronicle of the 14th inst. says:—

The vexed question of our fisheries is every day assuming a more interesting aspect. The fact of a British colonial vessel having been driven off a part of the coast by a French cruiser, deepens the importance of the subject. It is now pretty well understood that the French have claims which, however long they may have been in abeyance, are nevertheless tangible. The blundering treaties made from time to time by the British government are matters of history. It remains to be seen whether the Americans cannot yet trump up as good a claim to the whole of our fisheries as the French have to a part of them. The claim recently set up by the French has had the effect of unfolding the treaties that have been entered into between England, France, and the United States, on the fisheries.

The schooners Dart and Jairus Hart have been chartered by Vice-Admiral Seymour for the protection of the fisheries. The latter has a crew of 41, including 4 officers and 7 marines, all of whom were drafed from the flag ship. She sailed on the 11th for Sable Island to get the crew of the Amazon, cast away there. H. M. ship Vestal, 26, sailed the same day for Newfoundland, to look out for the fisheries in that quarter.

LOCAL.

CHRISTIAN COURTESY.

One of our large churches being closed for repairs and improvements, the large congregation are houseless for a Sunday or two.—Last Sunday quite a number of them attended the Catholic Church, towards the erection of which some among them were contributors.

They expected to hear, as they did, the Catholic service, to which some of them were no strangers; and they would not have been at all surprised to hear Protestantism decried or spoken against in an argumentative and doctrinal way, or to hear the beauties and glories of the Roman church exhibited in the most glowing terms; but they were somewhat surprised and mortified to hear the priest pour out a tirade of sectarian and personal invective against themselves for being there; and to find the sermon chiefly occupied in what sounded like scolding at protestant visitors, or his own church members.

Nevertheless we are glad they went: for now they have heard a specimen of such preaching as the only true church gives its members to make them better men, and of the liberality and courtesy which she shows to outsiders.

Besides, they had a rare specimen of beating down a man of straw which was previously set up for the purpose. Addressing his own people, the priest assured them that there was no truth in the story that the "Portsmouth Boys" were coming home on the Fourth to burn their Church, but that on the contrary they would form a cordon round it, to defend it from those who would.

Now we need not tell our Portsmouth readers that no such story has been current among us here: if any such story had any currency before it was mentioned as above last Sunday, it must have been among the most deplorably ignorant, and must have been set afloat by some miscreant for his own vile purpose. And unless we greatly mistake the temper of our whole people, there are none among us who wish the least harm to that house or the worshippers who there do congregate.

Our laws and usages will protect them and their priest, even when he pours out from before the altar such a torrent of abuse as he did last Sunday. But it may be worth while to suggest that decency of language, and decency of manner are as desirable in the pulpit as in the streets; and that a priest ought to be a gentleman.

MUNICIPAL.

THURSDAY, June 22.

In Board of Aldermen, a petition was presented for a license for a Magical entertainment on the 4th of July—granted, on payment of $5: also for liberty to exhibit the Hippodrome on the 15th July—granted on payment of $30.

G. L. Treadwell asked permission to erect an ornamental arch in Market street—granted. The Mayor was authorized to grant permission to all who wished a similar privilege.

Mr. Tucker's request respecting the Spring Market was taken from the table and referred to the appropriate committee.

The committee on Gravelly Ridge School House made a report with plans and estimates, and recommended the purchase of half an acre of land. The building, as proposed, is to be of brick, 37 by 30 feet, and 12 feet studding, at a cost of $1200, and will accommodate 56 scholars.

Sundry bills were presented and approved.

The Common Council was not in session.

SALT MILL.—We are informed that the mill on Bow street, for grinding salt, &c., which was fitted up by Gideon W. Walker, Esq., some time since, is again going into operation under his superintendence, for Messrs. Upham & Co., wholesale grocers and commission merchants. The greater variety of well directed industry here, the better.

CLEAN STREETS.

We have been much pleased to see our City authorities stirring in the matter of cleaning our streets, beginning with Market street.—And now, if we may offer a word to the wise, permit us to say, that the shopkeepers, one and all, would do well and wisely to save their waste paper, and either sell or burn it. The burning remark will also apply to straw, and other combustible rubbish. It has no business or proper place in the streets, and ought not to be there. If we desire clean streets we can have them—just as we desire trees, and abound with them. If every man will keep his own premises clean, and throw no rubbish in the streets—we can have a clean city.

PLEASURING.—The nice little schooner Linda, Capt. Stackpole, with a company of young gentlemen from Concord, consisting of Messrs. Stearns, Todd, Ham, Ward, Warren, McFarland, Eastman, Sanborn, Hurlburt, and Hutchins, bound on a fishing excursion, sailed from this port yesterday morning. There's no better chance for a good time, than such a trip offers.

☞ The Committee of Arrangements for the 4th of July, have decided to locate the "big tent" on the vacant lot in the rear of the Court House.

☞ To each new subscriber who pays for the Daily in advance for a year commencing August 1st, 1853—we will supply the paper without charge to that date.

LATEST NEWS!

BY MAIL, EXPRESS & TELEGRAPH.

A RIOT.—New York, June 23.—A terrible riot occurred last night, at the residence of Dr. Geo. A. Wheeler, in 17th street, caused by the finding of some human bones on the premises. A mob of 3000 collected, armed with clubs, axes and stones. Dr. W.'s store and dwelling were attacked, the inmates driven out, and the premises completely gutted. Nobody killed, though some of the police officers were injured.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

The Niagara brings Liverpool news to June 11.

Installation week at Oxford brought together a large concourse. Earl Derby, Chancellor of the University, conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws on twenty-three gentlemen, among them Mr. Ingersoll, U. S. Minister, Bishop McIlvain of Ohio, Bishop Mountain of Quebec, Sir Edward Lytton Bulwer, Allison the Historian, &c.

The cotton porters at Liverpool have struck work demanding increase of wages from three shillings to four shillings a day. Their association numbers 3500 and is supported by Dock laborers numbering 5000, who have also struck. Employers refuse to pay the advance, and on Wednesday only one ship in the port was at work, not yet adjusted.

There were one thousand visitors daily to steamship North Star. Mr. Vanderbilt has invited the Mayor and Corporation of Southampton to a banquet on board, and the city of Southampton invited the Commodore and party to a dinner.

A meeting was held at London, Lord Shaftsbury presiding, to forward the welfare of the fugitive slaves in Canada; Rev. S. Ward, colored, spoke, and the subject is to be agitated.

Lloyd's have advanced "war risks" of insurance of shipping to Black Sea from 10 to 30 shillings; the St. Petersburg steamer 5 shillings, sailing vessels proportionably higher.

Mrs. Stowe has become a patroness of the Distressed Needle Woman's Society.

Dr. Bailey, a rising man in medical literature, has committed suicide at London.

Immense hostility is excited in Ireland against the proposed bill for the inspection of nunneries.

The Bankers' circular presents the monetary condition of Great Britain, and says, firstly, that although there has been a reappearance of active speculation among us, it has not been so extensive as it was some years since. Secondly, notwithstanding considerable estimates of the nominal engagements of the country, varying from forty to sixty millions sterling, have been subscribed, principally towards foreign and colonial undertakings, they have been spread through different channels and in comparatively limited amounts.—Thirdly, unless from unforeseen causes our supplies of bullion from Australia and California shall rapidly decrease, we need apprehend no violent panic as the probable consequence of this activity—the bad and doubtful schemes being sure to decay, while those inherently possessing elements of success will outlive any temporary storm that may occur from the overpressure of projects on the public.

The crops throughout England and Ireland are healthy, notwithstanding the lateness of spring, and in some places the deficiency of rain. The weather is now settled and seasonable.

FRANCE.—Napoleon keeps his own counsel respecting his intentions on the Eastern affairs. The opinion of leading journals is that war will be avoided. Nevertheless, the funds have been much agitated, and close at a considerable decline. Changarnier denies that he has offered his services to the Porte.

Abdel Kader, tried of banishment at Brousa, wishes to return to France.

LATEST LONDON NEWS, Saturday, June 11, 11 1-2 A. M.—No accounts of advance from Russians. The Porte has addressed a note to the Great Powers, defending its course towards Russia, and setting forth certain concessions it will make to the Christians, to remove all just demands of complaint.

INDEMNITY FOR FILIBUSTER RIOTS.—Those Spanish subjects at New Orleans whose property was destroyed by the Cuban filibuster party, at the time the news was received of the execution of Crittenden and others, leaders of the buccaneers, have been indemnified by the Government.

The awards were made to ten or twelve different individuals, in sums varying from 600 to 23,000 dollars; and in the aggregate amounted to 50,853 dollars.

IMPRISONMENT OF COLORED SEAMEN.—We learn that the case of Reuben Roberts against Sheriff Yates, or rather, of Great Britain against South Carolina, which started off so grandiosely, has come to a very "lame and impotent conclusion." Orders have been received through the British Minister, that further proceedings in the case be discontinued, and that their counsel be paid off and discharged. It is presumed that the British Government became convinced that, whatever might be the decision of the case before the Supreme Court, they could only gain a loss by it; and the greater loss in the event of their winning the suit,—inasmuch as it would most certainly have been followed, not by the abrogation of the law of South Carolina, but by that of the reciprocity treaty, on which their complaint was founded.—Charleston Courier.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The passenger train from Chicago, due at Toledo, Ohio, at 7 50 A. M. 16th, run into a fallen tree near Laporte. The engine was smashed and thrown off the track and down an embankment of ten feet, and turned completely over. The fireman, a worthy young man, named Morton, was instantly killed. The engineer and a number of passengers were injured, but none severely.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S

Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself.—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity. Sold by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&wém je22*

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence,

WHY IS IT!

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted, by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that comfort and rest which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

SIX YEARS AGO.—A few days since a well dressed man called at the office of the State Prison and requested to be allowed to see one of the convicts. His appearance was confused, and his voice was somewhat choked as he pronounced the name. His wish was not granted and he left the office. His story was that six years ago his brother William, now a prisoner, and himself started in life. William being intelligent and of good character obtained a situation in a store; he went to sea, and after an absence of six years had returned home, only to find his brother an inmate of a prison. He is master of a ship which sails from New York and has accumulated a snug little sum, every mill of which he would freely give could he purchase his brother's freedom. —Boston Chronicle.

VENERABLE.—There is a man in this city, an Irishman, lately arrived in the country, who is one hundred and four years old. He enjoys tolerably good health, and walks about the streets with considerable vivacity. His children, who are able to maintain him, sent for the ancient Hibernian.—New Bedford Mercury.

TENDING TO CONSUMPTION!

THE above Expectorant, prepared by an experienced Physician and Chemist, has now become a standard Preparation, and is offered for the COMPLETE CURE of those diseases of the Throat and Lungs, which, if neglected, usually terminate fatally in Consumption. It contains no Opium, Calomel, or any mineral whatever, but is composed entirely of those Roots, Herbs, and Vegetable substances which have a specific influence upon the Lungs and their connected organs. Its immediate effect is to allay all irritation, and gently remove the phlegm and other morbid secretions from the Throat and Air-passages, thus relieving the Cough, by subduing the inflammation and other causes which give rise to it. It is approved of and recommended by Physicians of the highest standing, and may be given with perfect safety to the youngest child or the most delicate female.

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.
The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.
The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.
It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilirating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.
Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.
It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.
Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.
Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.
We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 28, 1852.

K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

This is to certify that I consider Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenges a valuable article for what they are designed—the best remedy before the public. My son had a very severe cough, which threatened speedily to carry him off; and nothing seemed to give relief, until I tried these Lozenges, —which produced signs of relief in a few hours, and after the taking of a few boxes, wholly removed his cough. JOSEPH BARTLETT.

Another trait in the character of "Old Joe," may be seen in the following extract from the Biddeford Journal.

One cause of Mr. Bartlett's unpopularity in York County, was probably his suit against Mr. Nathaniel Willis, (then publisher of a paper in Portland, afterwards of the Recorder, in Boston,) for an alleged libel,—and the means he was said or thought to have taken to entrap him into the forfeiture of a jail bond, for about $4,000. A statement of the case, so far as involving questions of law, is in the third volume of the Massachusetts Reports. The story, as told us, perhaps imperfectly and incorrectly, some years ago, is substantially this: Mr. Bartlett was a candidate for State Senator, and Mr. Willis published an article in his paper reflecting on his good name and fame. For this the jury, in a suit at law, gave a verdict of $1,500 damages, and $487.95 costs of suit. Execution thereupon issued, and Mr. Willis was committed to jail. He gave bond for the liberty of the yard, in double the amount of debt and costs, as the law required. The bond was afterwards sued, on an alleged breach, and judgment rendered for the full amount—there being then no power vested in the Court to chancer or cut down the bond to the real damages and cost. The breach was, that the prisoner, having a chamber and lodging in the jail-house, went out of the door of that house, in the night-time, to a pump standing in the county land appurtenant to the jail, without the picket fence, but within the boundaries of the jail-yard, as established by the Court of Sessions. To this inadvertent breach, on the part of the defendant Willis, it was suspected and alleged, but probably never proved, that the plaintiff Bartlett, was accessory in the way of indirectly decoying him out of the legal limits. Certain it is, that he had a witness on hand to prove the overstepping the jail limits—and obtained four thousand dollars for a character which he would doubtless voluntarily have bargained away for a tithe of that amount. In the prosecution of this suit, he assuredly violated the spirit of one of his own Aphorisms, "He who sues at law for a reputation, slanders himself." He should rather reply, like the ancient philosopher, when told he had been defamed—"I will so live, that the world will not believe the report."

RELICS.—Mr. Pike, builder, who is erecting a block of buildings on the site of the old Commercial Coffee House, in Milk street, has shown to us an interesting relic of the revolutionary time—an iron cannon ball, dug from a bed twelve feet below the surface, where it has probably lain since the day of its hostile errand from Dorchester or Roxbury, or Bunker Hill. From its position, we should deem that it was a republican messenger, and took its start from Dorchester. It was deeply corroded when found, and its metal has softened, like the temper of man, under the influence of age, so that it can be readily cut with a knife.

Mr. Eben Thayer, in the employ of John Simmons & Co., found, on Tuesday, while digging in his garden in Braintree, a heavy and ancient looking gold ring, bearing the following inscription: "Madm. E. H.: ob. 3 Feb. 1712—13, Æ 70." The little symbol of affectionate memory looks bright and true, as though the love which prized and treasured it a hundred years ago yet lived in its little circle. The maker of the ring has ostentatiously stamped "E. W." on the inner portion of it.—Boston Post.

Dr. Charbonnel, Roman Catholic bishop of Toronto, has addressed circulars to the clergy of his diocese, warning all Catholics who shall create a disturbance like the riot at Montreal, that they shall be deprived of receiving the communion for a time, in proportion to their offence, and if they die in disobedience of the ordinance shall be deprived of ecclesiastical burial.

CATHOLIC CHURCH.—Workmen are busily employed in finishing the interior of St. Peter's and St. Paul's Church, Broadway, South Boston. This church was destroyed by fire about five years since. About three years ago, the basement was fitted up for a temporary place of worship, and has been used by the St. Peter's and St. Paul's society since that time. It is now intended to complete the interior of the church above. It is to be finished in the Gothic style, without galleries, and will when completed be the most magnificent church edifice in this part of the country. It is expected to seat nearly three thousand people, and it is thought will be ready to be dedicated on Thanksgiving Day. The exterior will not be completed until next year, when the present charred steeple will be taken down and a new and elegant one substituted.

A BURNING MOUNTAIN.—Five miles from Minersville, Pa., and fifteen from Schuylkill Haven, some fifteen years since, an anthracite coal mine caught fire, and has ever since been burning. It is now considered a very dangerous experiment to travel over the mountain, as it is supposed that in many places the surface is a mere superficial crust, or hard shell, the coal having been consumed up to the surface, and hence the least pressure thereon, it is presumed, might break through and let the adventurer down to the fiery chasm below. At the base of the mountain, in one place, a stream of water, almost boiling hot, comes out. The surface of the mountain presents a desolate appearance as far as the eye can reach.

VALUABLE RECIPE.—To hear from the spirits, just step into a grog-shop, and lay a three cent piece on the counter. You are a medium, and if this plan be followed long enough, you will see spirits in full uniform, celebrating your credulity with a general 'hoe down,' at no other expense than the possession of a brain 'rapped' all to pieces by the 'spirits.'

HOME.

BY REV. WILLIAM CROSWELL.

I knew my father's chimney top,
Though nearer to my heart than eye,
And watched the blue smoke reeking up
Between me and the winter sky.

Wayworn I traced the homeward track
My wayward youth had left with joy;
Unchanged in soul I wandered back,
A man in years, in heart a boy.

I thought upon its cheerful hearth,
And cheerful hearts' untainted glee,
And first of all I'd seen on earth,
This was the dearest spot to me.

DAILY

PORTSMOUTH:
SATURDAY, JUNE 25, 1853.

MR. BURKE AND THE OLD GUARD.

The New Bedford Standard, a free democratic paper, speaks thus of Mr. Burke and the guard.

"Mr. Burke has formerly been a warm personal friend of Gen. Pierce, and his opposition at this time can be accounted for only on the hypothesis that his claims for an office have not been recognized. The "old guard" democracy so frequently referred to by Mr. Burke, is a very small affair, numbering only a few disaffected and disappointed office seekers, we are safe in saying, from our knowledge of New Hampshire politics and politicians.—Their number cannot reach above a hundred. We regard Mr. Burke's hit at Gen. Cushing as decidedly significant. It may not be that Mr. B. himself was anxious for a place in the Cabinet, but perhaps some ungenerous individuals may say so. He has always been an ambitious, aspiring, trimming, trading politician, anxious for place and power, and governed in all his acts by the "rule or ruin" principle. He is an impolitic and injudicious man, in whose hands the interests of no party are safe; and being so, we commend the President's prudence in not making him the recipient of government favors."

Passing over the remarkable feature of a free-soiler's defence of Gen. Pierce, it may be doubted whether the Standard has taken an accurate census of the disaffected in New Hampshire. It is very certain that the "Wild Cats" in Maine are quite numerous.

MR. BURKE AND THE PATRIOT.—The last Concord Reporter contains another letter, almost entirely personal, from Edmund Burke to Wm. Butterfield. In it he says:

You, fearing the issue, attempt to impress your readers with the belief that it is not you, and the little paltry cabal of quondam whigs, abolitionists, and Webster eulogists who back you, but the Administration, with whom I am contending. You need not think to escape by any such subterfuge. * * * *

But, to the origin of the quarrel. It was my resistance to the claims which you put forth, so arrogantly and unjustly with respect to the noble and true hearted Democracy of this state, that John H. George, a singer of Hard Cider Songs, and, as I have been told of late, the President of a Tippecanoe Club, in 1840, saved the State from the effects of the treachery of John Atwood in 1851. This is the origin of the quarrel, which you cannot, with truth deny. And it is for that act of justice on my part to the Democracy of New Hampshire, that you and your little cabal of backers, have been pursuing me ever since, with all sorts of falsehoods and misrepresentations, covertly at all times, and openly when you dared to. It is against you and the paltry little cabal you represent, that I make this war. And judging from the signs of the times, the contest is not going to be so long as I apprehended. You will be disowned by the Democracy of this State, much sooner than I flattered myself you would be.

NEW YORK.—The New York Assembly, by a vote of 80 to 35, have voted the impeachment of Canal Commissioner Mather. Hon. Freeborn G. Jewett has resigned as one of the Judges of the Court of Appeals. It is said the Court of Appeals have decided the Free School law unconstitutional! and have so intimated to the Judiciary Committee of the Assembly, and that the decision is unanimous. They do it from the invalidity of the submission clause, maintaining that the Legislature cannot delegate the law-making power.

The Albany Register asks, "What bearing has this decision on the Maine law bill, now pending in the Assembly?"

Perhaps the submission clause may be unconstitutional now, but if the people of N. Y. wish for the school law, as doubtless they do, they can easily amend the constitution so as to admit of its being done up in good style, as they are now about to do on the subject of Canal Enlargement.

Constitutions are easily tinkered now-a-days, every where except in New Hampshire, which is, in this respect, the most conservative of States.

PROTECTION TO FISHERMEN.—A New York Despatch of June 23, says:

"The U. S. steamer Princeton has been ordered to the fishing grounds for the protection of American fisheries. She will take her departure from Norfolk in a few days."

This is as it should be, now; but it ought to have been officially announced months ago,—such announcement would have caused the fitting out of more vessels. The steamer should not only go, but stay on the fishing station through the season, accompanied by an armed schooner or two, as tenders. The commander should see that our fishermen are not imposed on, and also that they do not impose on others, either afloat or ashore.—Doubtless he will be so instructed.

The following paragraph is from the Racine (Wis.) Democrat:

"The Free Soilers have been busily engaged for the last few years, in stealing men, in the freest country upon earth, and running them into the dominions of sceptered tyranny and legal oppression, where no ray of hope shines for the king and priest-ridden slave."

Capt. Stinson, who so cowardly deserted the William and Mary, with her two hundred passengers, has gone to Australia. He showed his wisdom by emigrating to a place where he would escape for a time at least the "slow, unmoving finger of scorn."

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

On Thursday afternoon as the express train from New York approached the East Brookfield, Mass. depot, the switch was found misplaced, running the train into a freight train standing on a side track, smashing two freight cars, three baggage cars, four passenger cars badly, throwing the passengers from their seats, and creating a scene of awful confusion. The following is a list of the injured:—Wm. Johnson, of Worcester, scalp cut from one side of the head, died before the cars left; Wise, of Worcester, baggage master, bad flesh wound on head, nose badly bruised; Matthew Byrnes, of Springfield, bad cut on the neck, remains stupid; H. L. Moore, of New York, leg broken and cut. A daughter of Rev. Dr. Neale, of Boston, had her shoulder broken. Henry Washburn, of Gardiner, Me., was badly injured. Many other passengers received contusions, none serious. The Conductor is injured in the back and on the face.

William Johnson, who was killed, was a blacksmith, and belonged to Worcester. He leaves four children.

On board the train were a large number of delegates coming from the State Temperance Convention. Among them Julius A. Palmer, Dr. Lyman Beecher, Rev. Rufus W. Clark, C. P. Bosson, of the Herald, S. N. Stockwell, reporter of the Journal, J. M. Usher and family, of Medford, and many other men from Boston and vicinity; all saved.

The accident occurred through some neglect on the part of a switchman, Charles Flagg, who has been a most faithful and trustworthy man there for 16 years. He is nearly insane, so intense is his regret for the accident.

IMPORTANT LIQUOR CASE.

In the Boston Municipal Court on Thursday, the trial of Harvey D. Parker, was begun before Judge Perkins. He was charged with being a common seller of ardent spirits during the month of April last, at his establishment in Court Square; the license granted by the Mayor and Aldermen before the passage of the liquor law expiring on the first of April. John C. Park, Esq., District Attorney, appeared for the government; and Hon. S. D. Parker and E. D. Sohier, Esq., for the defendant.

Mr. Parker challenged the first juryman, on the ground that as a citizen of Boston he was interested; the Court overruled the objection, but Mr. Parker challenged all the other jurors on the same ground, and the objection was recorded.

Several witnesses were called and gave testimony. Mr. Sohier contending that for a witness to testify a sale to himself, implicated himself; but the Court overruled the objection.

The last witness called by the government was one of the defendant's bar-tenders; he was cautioned that he need not criminate himself; but Mr. Park questioned him about sales made by others than himself, and he thus testified to the sale upon the premises of at least three glasses every day, except Sundays, throughout the month of April.

Mr. Parker then opened the case for the defence. He brought forward no witnesses.

The case was given to the jury in the afternoon, but no verdict had been rendered when the Court adjourned.

There is some interest attached to this case, from the fact that it is one of the most luxurious and genteel eating and drinking houses in Boston; the place whence Dr. Webster had his dinners in jail; and the place whence the court officers procure refreshments for juries, &c. As a matter of course, the best legal talent which money can procure, is enlisted on the side of the defence.

THE SUNDAY NIGHT MAIL.—If the following statement from the New York Herald be correct, the mail between Boston and New York on Sunday nights will be discontinued:

It appears that the Postmaster General finds himself relieved from all responsibility in relation to the continuance of the Sunday mail between this city and Boston, the President of the New York and New Haven Railroad Company having positively refused to contract for that service, even if desired by the Post Office Department.

DEATH OF REV. DR. SHARP.—Rev. Dr. Sharp of Boston, died on Thursday evening, at 7 o'clock, at the residence of Robert Brown, Esq., in Stoneley, a village about six miles from Baltimore, where he had gone hoping that a change of climate and scenery might be of benefit to his fast failing health. The deceased was 69 years of age on the 25th of December last.

One of the most absurd and arbitrary laws enacted by our last and most absurd Legislature, (says the Boston Herald) is an act entitled "An act to restrain the issue or circulation of Bank bills for any fractional part of a dollar."

SOW AND PIGS.—We understand that a survey of this well known ledge has been made under the superintendence of the Light House Board, with a view of testing the possibility of their erecting a lighthouse. The result of the investigation, we believe, was a favorable one.—New Bedford Mercury.

It is easy to live well among good people. But show me the man who can keep his temper, his wisdom, and his virtue, in spite of strong temptation and universal example.

Mr. Weed, of the Albany Journal, explicitly contradicts the story that he was going to Rome to become a Catholic. It will take some weeks to get the correction before all who have read the original report.

FIRE.

On Friday evening, a few minutes before 7 o'clock, fire was discovered in the attic of of store No. 42 Market street, the upper part occupied by Messrs. Joy & Colcord, Cabinet Makers; and the lower floor by Lafayette Laighton, as a grocery store. It was extinguished after about half an hour's work—and the damage, except by water, did not extend below the third story. It is supposed to have originated by spontaneous combustion, the fire first being seen in a store-room in the attic filled with husks; no person had been at work in that part of the building during the day.

Messrs. Joy & Colcord, were insured, but in what office we did not learn.

Mr. Laighton's goods will be much damaged by the salt water. Mr. Laighton's policy, in the Rockingham Mutual, was transferred from S. J. Dodge & Co. to himself on Thursday afternoon.

The building was not insured. The loss to the tenants is estimated at about $1000.

☞ The noble Packet Ship, of about 1600 tons, now building by George Raynes, Esq. in this city, for Messrs. Spofford & Tileston of New York, is named the Webster.

☞ The Industrial Committee have made choice of Thos. Norton, Esq., as Chief Marshal of the Industrial Procession—which will form by itself and fall in, probably as the rear division of the whole procession.

☞ Elder D. P. Cilley, will preach in the Hanover Street Chapel, to-morrow.

☞ Rev. Mr. Moore, pastor elect of the North Church, has arrived here to fix his residence and enter on his pastoral labors. He will preach to-morrow.

☞ We understand that there will be no services at the Stone Church until the first Sabbath of July.

☞ The Piscataqua Bath, at Noble's Island, is now completed, and ready for the use of subscribers. It is accessible at all times, affording a good depth for a deep dive at the lowest tide. Each subscriber is furnished with a key to the dressing rooms. The luxury of a plunge from one of the pedestals, or a quiet bath in the ample basin far surpasses that of Ice Cream or Juleps, during the warm season. The subscription papers are not quite full; they may be found at the stores of J. H. Foster and W. R. Preston. *

LECTURES AT THE TEMPLE.—Mr. G. W. F. Mellen, of Boston, proposes to deliver three lectures on the 5th, 6th and 7th of July, each lecture commencing at 8 o'clock, P. M., upon the following subjects:

One on the Cause of Color, as it appears in the different races of men.

One on the Financial Bearings of Slavery on the Commercial, Manufacturing and Industrial interest of the country.

One on what constitutes a free American citizen, including a concise history of the Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Admittance 50 cents for the course. Single tickets 25 cents.

☞ The Chronicle office isn't situated exactly in the tropics, but it is in the same latitude with Capt. Clark's fruitery, and oft times when he lays in a new stock of delicacies, we are forced (like the Maine law liquor testers) to prove their quality—though we suspect the Capt. replenishes his stock oftener than ours. Pine apples, strawberries, bananas, etc., are among his goodies.

GILBERT'S MEAD.—If all Dr. Gilbert's Vegetable Medicines were as palatable as his Mead, they might be taken without wry faces. We hope it may be a long day before we try the medicine—but the "Excelsior Cream Mead" has been tried and not found wanting.

☞ We learn that Edward N. Fuller, Esq., of this city, editor of the N. H. Gazette, has been appointed Pension Agent.

N. H. General Court—June Session.

Abridged from Daily Patriot.

THURSDAY, June 23.

THE LIQUOR LAW KILLED.—HOUSE.—The fate of the Liquor Bill has been sealed for this session. The House refused to take the bill from the table, this afternoon by a vote of 131 to 114. The question was taken as a test of the strength of parties in the House, and on a mutual understanding that it was to be a test. During the discussion which preceded the vote, some of the friends of the prohibitory principle declared their unwillingness to support the bill, because of its unconstitutionality in some respects, and their expectations that the Liquor Law would not work in the stringent shape in which it was concocted.

At a test vote on the Liquor Bill, among the yeas, (in favor of taking the bill from the table,) were Messrs. Adams, Emery and Plumer of Portsmouth; and among the nays, Goodrich, Miller and Walden.

Mr. Walden of Portsmouth introduced a bill to prohibit the seining of fish, which was read and referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

A report was accepted, fixing July 2, as the day of adjournment.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW YORK, June 24.

The steamer Northern Light, from San Juan 17th, with 400 passengers from California by steamer Brother Jonathan on the afternoon of the first of June, arrived here at 9 o'clock this morning. The transit across the Isthmus was effected in 40 hours, and the river was in good navigable order.

The Northern Light brings among her passengers J. H. Kerr, late charge at Nicaragua, and J. B. Devoe, one of the proprietors of the Times and Transcript, who is one of the delegates appointed to represent the State of California at the World's Fair.

News from California is to the first of June. Our private correspondent writs us that a duel was to be fought on the morning the steamer left, between Mr. Gwin, U. S. Senator, and J. W. McKorkle, member of Congress; weapons rifles; distance 30 paces. The cause is said to be some disparaging language made use of by Gwin against his antagonist.

THE RESULT OF THE PARKER TRIAL.—At the opening of the Court Friday morning, the jury, after being together all night, were unable to agree upon a verdict, whereupon the papers were taken from them and they were discharged. They stood 11 for conviction to one for acquittal, but when they first went out, there were 9 for conviction and 3 for acquittal.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

Despatches of the 2d say, the President has entirely recovered from his late indisposition; he called to-day on Sir Charles Lyell, the eminent English Geologist, who is stopping at the National Hotel, and visited with him the prominent points of interest about Washington.

The repairs of the White House have been commenced under the superintendence of Col. Lee, of the Civil Engineers. The interor of the building is to be painted throughout;—the walls to be papered anew, ceilings to be frescoed by Delamanno, of New York; an apparatus for warming the house by steam is to be introduced; and new furniture provided.—These, and other contemplated improvements, will require three months at least, and will doubtless render it necessary for the president and family to remove.

The renovation of the old Capitol will be thorough and complete. Commissioner Easby has to-day engaged Delamanno to re-fresco the ceiling of the Representative Hall, in water colors.

THE MONTREAL RIOT.—Mayor Wilson, of Montreal, has left the city—public opinion running strongly against him as the one who gave to the troops the order to fire. Alderman Atwater, a native of Vermont, has been elected Mayor pro tem by the Common Council.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S

Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself.—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity. Sold by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&w6m je22*

LYON'S KATHAIRON,

For Preserving, Restoring & Beautifying the Hair,

CAUSING it to grow luxuriantly, and giving it a soft and curling appearance, of the most delightful character. The KATHAIRON neutralises the effects of disease, climate, and old age, in preserving and restoring the Human Hair, even after a Baldness of many years,—cleanses the scalp from Dandruff, and its natural impurities,—immediately relieves sympathetic attacks of Nervous Headache, and cures all cutaneous diseases of the skin, such as Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Itch, &c.

AS A TOILET ARTICLE,

for giving the Hair a rich, soft, glossy and curling appearance, nothing has been discovered to compare with its incontested—its incontestible virtues. It imparts the fragrance of the most delightful and exotic flowers, and is free from all minera properties, or any substance which can color the skin, or stain a lady's hat.

FOR BALD OR GREY HEADS

It is pre-eminently beneficial. "The Kathairon restored my hair after a baldness of 12 years. A. J. Courraroux, 76 Bond-st. N.Y." This admirable preparation can be had of all reputable dealers, throughout North and South America, and the Islands of the Ocean, in large bottles, for 25 cents.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT!

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

Why would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily derived upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

Moral Accountability of Steamboats.—A Scotch newspaper relates the following story:—Three Paisley weavers, whose wives were quartered at Gourock for the season, were anxious to get across to Denoon on Sunday morning. Deeming it a profanation to employ an oared boat for that purpose, they employed a friend to negotiate with the captain of the Rothsay mail steamer, "to cast out a bit o' his tow, and tak' them wi' him, as he was gaun down that way at onyrate." "But what's the difference, pray," asked the negotiator, "between being rowed over with oars and by the paddles of a steamer?" "Difference! there's a hantle difference atween rowing by the power o' man, wha maun answer for what he does, and a water wheel wha ag us; in ither words, gin ye wad hae us be mair pointedly particular, a steam engine's no a moral being—it's no an accountable awgeat."

A woman was lately arrested in Paris, and imprisoned 48 hours, for spreading a report that 15 persons had lost their lives by a railway accident. She could gratify her penchant in this country, without telling fibs.

The story of the alleged slave insurrection at New Orleans, it turns out, has hardly a shadow of foundation. The statement was made by a drunken negro, who, when sober, denied all knowledge of any such movement.

The name of one of the inn-keepers at Marion, McDowell county, is Goodrum; but he keeps a temperance hotel, and is himself an uncompromising Son.

No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,

Late Examiner of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DOCTOR ALFRED G. HALL,

AUTHOR of the New Theory of cure by the Nutritive Fluids, in Physiology and Medicine, sustaining the laws of life and removing the cause of disease, confirmed as a NATURAL SCIENCE by the Nutritive Process; expelling dead and depositing living matter at the same time in the Body, increasing its weight and strength while under treatment, being the great discovery of the constitutional power resisting disease; ample proof can be given in the person of any invalid.

Dr. H. receives visits, makes examinations, ascertains the cause of disease, describes the precise condition of the patient, furnishes prescriptions, medicines and recipes for his Nutritive Fluids and cordials.

Three months' attention and treatment is requisite in all cases, with printed instructions, for diet and washing, and the use of the Alkaline Girdle for the spine and kidneys—a restorative action is produced in all parts of the system immediately by the natural laws sustained by nutrition.

He is the inventor and sole proprietor of 12 nutritive fluids; they can be made by any family—are adapted to the several temperaments, and to every form of disease. His works, "Views of the New Theory, &c.," "Womanhood," and the "Mother's Own Book," are furnished to invalids under his supervision. It is now before Congress.

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attention of trial here, it is now offered as Nature's Kindest Remedy for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETIZER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even as nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

READ! READ! READ!

DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the best family medicine in use, and is warranted free from all mineral substances. By its mild action on the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial &

Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

Mayor's Office, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JOHN H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. Ship Cumberland, }
Genoa, Sardinia. January 17, 1853. }

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of Dyspepsia.

I am respectfully yours,

This is to certify that I consider Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenges a valuable article for what they are designed—the best remedy before the public. My son had a very severe cough, which threatened speedily to carry him off; and nothing seemed to give relief, until I tried these Lozenges, —which produced signs of relief in a few hours, and after the taking of a few boxes, wholly removed his cough. MR. VANDERBILT'S STEAM-YACHT.

The public were admitted on board the gigantic steam-yacht, North Star, belonging to Mr. Vanderbilt, an American gentleman, now lying in the Southampton Dock, yesterday, for the first time, and hundreds of the nobility and gentry availed themselves of the privilege during the day. The American consulate establishment has been besieged for days past for tickets to view the North Star, and persons have come from a great distance to see her. Every ticket admits ten persons. The public will be admitted for the three days previous to the owner's departure for St. Petersburg, viz., Wednesday, (yesterday,) to-day, and to-morrow. The saloons and furniture appeared yesterday magnificent in the extreme. Everything on board the North Star is American, and it is very evident that in many of the useful and ornamental arts the Americans are our equals in point of taste and skill. Surprise has been expressed at the small quantity of fuel consumed on board the North Star, when her great speed is considered. She made one of the quickest passages across the Atlantic on record, and consumed only 50 tons of coal a day, while the consumption ordinarily in such steamers is 70 to 100 tons daily. She has been enabled to traverse the ocean with such speed, at such little expense, by her being driven by what is called a beam engine, an American invention, which has never before been used in a steamer to cross the Atlantic. The fortune of Mr. Vanderbilt is estimated in America at nine millions of dollars, or very nearly two millions sterling. He has risen from the ranks. When informed that the people of Southampton would like to visit his yacht, he immediately consented, and only stipulated with his agents, who were empowered to issue tickets of admission, that poor people as well as rich should see the North Star, and they felt every curiosity to do so.—The crew of the North Star consists of a captain, two mates, four quarter-masters, and fourteen seamen, twenty-four engineers and firemen, and eighteen stewards and asststants. The captain's name is Eldridge. He was for many years commander of a ship between Liverpool and America. A deputation from the the chief inhabitants of Southampton have gone to London to invite Mr. Vanderbilt to a banquet at the Town-hall in that town, and a universal feeling prevails there that the friendly and magnificent visit from a merchant prince of the New World should be welcomed with becoming splendour and cordiality. All who have seen the North Star believe that we may learn as much from her in the building and engineering of passenger ocean steamers as we learnt from the celebrated American sailing yacht two or three yers ago in the building and rigging of sailing ships.—London Daily News, June 9th.

COMMON SCHOOLS.—Dr. Bushnell, the celebrated clergyman of Hartford, has delivered and published an able and eloquent discourse upon the school question. The text is, "Ye shall have one manner of Law, as well for the stranger as for one of your own country."

The following extract is an admirable statement of the relations which common schools sustain in the civil order :

It will be found, if we closely inspect our institutions, that the common school is, in fact, an integral part of the civil order. It is no eleemosynary institution, erected outside the State, but is itself a part of the public law, as truly so as the Legislatures and Judicial Courts. The school houses are a public property, the district committees are civil officers, the teachers are as truly functionaries of the law as the constables, prison-keepers, inspectors and coroners. We perceive them, if we understand the question rightly, that an application against common schools, is so far an application for the dismemberment and reorganization of the civil order of the State.—Certain religionists appear, in the name of religion, demanding that the State shall be otherwise constructed. Or, if it be said that they do not ask for the discontinuance of the common schools, but only to have a part of the funds bestowed upon their ecclesiastical schools, the case is not mended but rather made worse by the qualification ; for in that view they are asking that a part of the funds which belong to the civil organization shall be paid over to their religion, or to the imperium in imperio, their religion so far substitutes for the civil order. It is as if they were to ask that the health wardens should so far be substituted by their church wardens, or the coroner's inquest by their confessional, and that the State, acknowledging their right to the substitution demanded, should fee the church wardens and confessors, in their behalf. If an application that infringes on the civil polity of our States in a manner so odious, is to be heard, the civil order may as well be disbanded, and the people given over to their ecclesiastics, to be ruled by them in as many clans of religion as they see fit to make.

ELOQUENT DESCRIPTION.—The following extract from an address of Meagher recently delivered in New York, is truly eloquent in its description of the present state of Europe. How impossible, remarks a cotemporary, for a soul, not stirred or even tried in fire, to conceive and utter such things as these.

"Austria—the whole German family—tongue-tied, the Rhine stagnant in her bed ; Poland, still the Niobe of nations, and her estate and children cut up and parcelled out among the robbers ; Hungary, with the knife at her proud and beauteous neck ; Italy, locked within her sculptured sepulchre, and a profane soldiery keeping watch upon it ; France, grimacing in a masquerade, the glare of which blinds men to crimes of which it is the senseless and the reckless carnival ; Ireland, her people decaying and disappearing faster than the ruins even, which a ruthless civilization has yet left standing on the soil ; where—where can the eye that scans the history of this day turn with joy—without grief, without vengeance, without despair—unless it be to this great commonwealth, the power, the progress, the immensity of which are mapped out in those mighty waters of the west, from which I came but yesterday."

DAILY
Morning Chronicle.

PORTSMOUTH:
MONDAY, JUNE 27, 1853.

REV. ENOS GEORGE.

A writer in the Dover Gazette states, that he with many others, on Sunday, June 12th, attended meeting at Barnstead Parade, and listened to a sermon from Rev. Enos George who had preached in that town one-half of a century.

Just fifty years before, on the same day of the week, and on the same day of the month, and in the same place, he preached his first sermon in the town, when he was only twenty-two years of age, since which time he has been constantly engaged in the good work, and has preached sixty-six hundred and eighteen times, and has taught school twenty-five winters. He has held the office of town clerk in the town for the last thirty years.

The first church was organized in July 1804, and consisted of eight members, since which time three hundred and eighty have joined, of which number one hundred and one have since died.

In 1832 he baptized Mr. John Pitman, who was one hundred years old, and who lived till he was 101 years. He has solemnized five hundred and twenty-four marriages; and relates that the deaths in the town for fifty years have been 947. The population is now about 1800.

The meeting was very interesting to all; people came from every direction, and every part of the meeting-house was crowded, and on the outside, carriages were drawn under the windows and filled by the people, so great was the desire to hear the venerable man.

Mr. George was very weak and feeble, and was often obliged to rest during the exercises.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR.

Some time ago, we published a little paragraph, stating that Horace Greeley, editor of the New York Tribune, had recently paid off the principal and interest of an old debt of his deceased father, who, as we necessarily infer, was not able to discharge it in his lifetime. The paragraph was published far and wide, but did not, as a general thing, receive that meed of praise to which we think it was justly entitled. We can hardly account for this, on any other principle, than on the supposition that people generally expect Mr. Greeley to do more liberal things than most men, as he certainly has in this instance.

It is, we are told, a point of honor, or a dictate of conscience among many of the most christian people in Scotland—for children and parents reciprocally to pay each other's debts, when the other party is unable. On this national trait or custom we need not remark; but we may safely and properly add, that there are cases where the peculiar circumstances of the debt, made by a poor father, call loudly for a discharge of that debt, by a son who becomes rich, especially if the son himself was a partaker in the benefits or comforts procured by the debt. Such cases are not uncommon.

Conventions.—The Biddeford Journal tells us that the Religious Conventions in Saco, the past week, have been very fully attended. Both opened on Tuesday morning—the Baptists adjourned on Thursday noon, and the Congregationalists, Thursday evening.—On Wednesday afternoon, a black man, whose curly locks were white with age and sorrow, stood up in the Baptist Convention, and told of his birth as a Slave—of his trials and success in purchasing himself and his wife and four children, from Slavery; he told them with the emotion of a father's heart, that one more, a little daughter of ten years, was still unredeemed, and $125 were wanting to make up her "price." The contribution box was passed through the Convention, and $96 contributed,—and the Convention immediately passed the following Resolutions, unanimously:—

Resolved, That the Fugitive Slave Law, deserves and receives our hearty condemnation.

Resolved, That the Maine Liquor Law, deserves and receives our hearty support.

The case of the black man, and his want of 30 more, was laid before the other Convention, but we do not learn that any action was taken.

The late Dr. Sharp.—Rev. Daniel Sharp was a native of Yorkshire, England, and coming to this country at the age of 19, engaged in mercantile pursuits in New York, which he subsequently relinquished for the ministry. He was settled over the Charles street Baptist Society April 29, 1812—thus making him the oldest settled pastor in Boston.

Mr. John Emery, a pyrotechnist, and a patriotic son of Essex Co., wishes to announce to his friends in Portsmouth, his design of mingling with them in celebrating the coming 4th of July, on which occasion he will appear in the river and also in some of the public streets, in his decorated craft, with salutes and other attractions, and in the evening with his appropriate inscriptions.—Newburyport Herald.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

It would seem from the following article, which we find in the Boston Courier of Saturday, that a remedy or rather a pseventitive, has been found for the potato rot. We hope it may prove to be as valuable in this country, as it is said to be in Russia. Should it be effectual, it is beyond all price.

A work on this subject has just been published at St. Petersburg, by Professor Bollman, a Russian Councillor of State, which appears to be worthy of the notice of agriculturists. Scientific discoveries receive great encouragement from the Russian government, notwithstanding the ill-favor with which that power is supposed to regard political novelties. Mr. Bollman, under the patronage of the Czar, announces the discovery of a remedy for the potato-rot, and who knows but Russia may accomplish two great things this year, by seizing her Turkey and saving her potatoes at the same time? Mr. Bollman asserts from actual experience that thoroughly dried potatoes will always produce a crop free from disease. This discovery he made by accident, but confirmed it by repeated subsequent trials. He contrived a potato setter, which had the bad quality of destroying any sprouts that might be on the sets, and even of tearing away the rind. To harden the potatoes, so as to protect them against this accident, he resolved to dry them. In the spring of 1850, he placed a lot in a very hot room, and at the end of three weeks they were dry enough to plant. The potatoes came up well and had no disease.

This was looked upon as a mere accident; but his seed potatoes having been dried again the next year, and again producing a perfectly sound crop, while the neighboring crops were all diseased, the Professor's attention was drawn to the phenomena, and he made a third trial in 1852. This time all his own stock of potatoes being exhausted, he was obliged to purchase his seed, which bore unmistakable marks of having formed part of a crop that had been severely diseased, some being quite rotten. After keeping them for about a month in a hot room as before, he cut the largest potatoes into quarters, and the smaller into halves, and left them to dry another week. Accidentally the drying was carried so far that apprehensions were entertained of a very bad crop, if any. Contrary to expectation, however, the sets pushed promptly, and grew so fast that excellent young potatoes were dug three weeks earlier than usual.

This singular result obtained in three successive years, led to enquiry as to whether any similar cases were on record. In the course of the investigation, two other facts were elicited. It was discovered that Mr. Losovsky of Witebsk had for four years adopted the plan of drying his seed potatoes, and that during that time there had been no disease on his estate. It was again an accident which led to the practice of this gentleman. Five years ago, while his potatoes were digging, he put one in his pocket, and on returning home threw it on his stove, where it remained forgotten till the spring. Having then chanced to observe, it he had the curiosity to plant it, all dried up as it was, and obtained an abundant, healthy crop: since that time the practice of drying has been continued, and always with great success. Professor Bollman remarks that it is usual in Russia, in many places, to smoke-dry flax, wheat and rye; and in the west of Russia, experienced proprietors prefer, for seed, onions that have been kept over winter in cottages without a chimney.

The second fact is this:—Mr. Wasileffsky of Mohileff, is in the habit of keeping potatoes all the year round, by storing them in the place where his hams are smoked. It happened that in the spring of 1852, his seed potatoes, kept in the usual manner, were insufficient; and he made up the requisite quantity with some of those which had been for a month in the smoking place. These potatoes produced a capital crop, very little diseased, while at the same time the crops from the sets which were not smoke-dried was extensively attacked by disease. Professor Bollman is of opinion that there would have been no disease at all if the sets had been better dried. The temperature required to produce the desired result is not very clearly made out. Mr. Bollman's room in which his first potatoes were dried was heated to about 72°, and often higher. By way of experiment he placed others in the chamber of the stove itself, where the thermometer stood at 136° and more. He also ascertained that the vitality of the potato is not affected, even if the rind is charred.

A method so simple, rational and cheap, as is suggested above, cannot fail to recommend itself to the attention of every American farmer. If the remedy is efficacious in Russia, there seems no reason why it should fail in New England. We have ample proof in experience that the source of the disease is in the root itself, and not in any noxious quality of the soil or atmosphere from which it derives its nutriment.

The Western Railroad Accident.—The Worcester Transcript says, "upon whom the responsibility of this disaster falls, we will not presume to say—but that it was the result of gross carelessness, is evident. The Rev. Mr. Webster of Hopkinton, who was returning from the Convention at Springfield, inquired of the depot master how the accident occurred, and he replied with much feeling that 'it was all his own fault,' and immediately started on a run across the fields.—This is the second accident which has occurred in the same place and precisely in the same way this season."

Deaths by Heat.—Over fifty cases of sun-stroke occurred on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 21 and 22, in New York City, Brooklyn, Jersey City and Staten Island, of which 35 cases terminated in death. We have also to record the deaths of twelve persons in Philadelphia and eight in Baltimore, on Tuesday and Wednesday, from the excessive heat.

What's in a Name.—The British government steamer Adder is commanded by Lieutenant Burstall.

LOCAL.

Piscataqua Steamboat.—We learn from a gentleman interested in the enterprise of placing a steamer permanently on our river, that the boat will come round from New York on Wednesday, the 29th inst.; and therefore in season to bring down the Dover people to help us celebrate the 4th of July. She is called the "Halcyon" and will be commanded by Capt. Samuel Billings, of this city.

The Portsmouth Excursion.—Samuel H. Gookin has been appointed Marshal of the "Sons of Portsmouth" in Boston, and has accepted the appointment. Tickets for the excursion, are for sale in that city, at half the usual fare.

GAS LIGHTS.

The Dover Factories and other buildings there, are soon to be lighted with Gas. In anticipation of this influx of light, a writer in the Dover Gazette very properly wishing to make the flood as copious and brilliant as possible, draws a comparison between the respective costs of oil and gas, derived, as will be seen, from the experiment tried in the Portsmouth Steam Factory. He says:

I have been furnished with a few facts bearing on the subject from the Agent of one of the best managed and most systematic manufacturing establishments in the State,—(I allude to the Steam Factory in Portsmouth under the direction of Col. Stearns,) which will show the relative cost with great exactness, rendering it certain that at the present retail price of oil to the consumer, gas light must be very much cheaper than oil. In the Factory alluded to, in 1850-51, the cost of oil for a given number of burners was $1853 48. In 1851-2 in consequence of increase of machinery it was $1904 62, oil being at 63 cents per gallon.

In 1852-3, Gas was introduced; and with the same number of burners giving very much more light, the cost was but $1517 64, making a saving in favor of Gas in the last named year of $386 98.

And this it should be remembered was the saving when oil cost but 63 cts per gallon; while at retail to obtain any thing worthy of the name, for good light, the cost cannot be less than one dollar.

Then, must be considered the pleasantness, and convenience of the Gas light, capable of being regulated to any quantity, from the dim watch-light to the most brilliant flame.

☞ See Advertisement of "Muscadine Nectar," in another column; we have tried the article, and found it very good.

We understand that a petition is in circulation, and numerously signed by those of our citizens who contemplate celebrating the 4th at Portsmouth, requesting the Superintendent of the Eastern Railroad to station a train of cars on the opposite side of the river, on this occasion, as they are fearful of a breakdown if they pass over the bridge. Unless the prayer of the petitioners is granted, they will proceed over the upper road to New Market, thence to Portsmouth.—Newburyport Union.

Masonic Celebration in New Hampshire.—The Masonic Fraternity of New Hampshire celebrated the birth day of St. John, the Baptist, in Concord, on Friday.—The affair came off with much splendor. Several hundred walked in procession, among whom were Gov. Martin, and a number of the more eminent men of New Hampshire, who have been left at home. After parading the streets, headed by the Concord Mechanics' Band, and under the able marshalship of Col. Gove, commander of the Granite Guards, the fraternity, with their ladies, whom they picked up on the march, proceeded to the South Church, where the following exercises took place:—Voluntary on Organ; Prayer by Rev. M. Tillotson, of Manchester; Oration by J. Raymond, Esq., of New York; a Hymn by Rev. T. J. Greenwood, of Dover; a Poem of great merit by the same gentleman, and a Benediction.

Delegations were present from almost every Lodge in the State, and from some in Massachusetts and Maine. There were four Lodges in full organized strength. The weather was fine, and everything passed off with eclat.

Abridged from Daily Patriot.

Friday, June 24.

In the Senate nothing of interest was done.

In the House.—Mr. Plumer of Portsmouth, by leave, presented the memorial of the Mayor of the city of Portsmouth, relative to the salary of the Police Justice there. Laid on the table.

After some other business the House took up the subject of special assignment for 11 o'clock to-day—namely: the bill in relation to the salary of the Police Justice of the city of Portsmouth—the question being on its third reading.

The memorial of the Mayor of Portsmouth was read. It was represented that the provisions of the bill conflicted with the rights of the citizens of that place; that they were the best judges of the duties to be performed by the Police Justice; and that the salary of that officer, as provided for by their charter, was right and proper.

Mr. Emery of Portsmouth moved to amend the bill so as to make not less than $200 the salary of the Police Justice of Portsmouth.—[The charter provides for $300 the first year, and afterwards for such sum as a salary as the civic government may provide.]

The discussion which followed brought up the old vexed question of complaint against the Police Justice of Portsmouth, for laxity of duty in connexion with certain complaints against individuals transgressing the laws on the 4th of July in 1851. Mr. Emery made an explanation giving Judge Parker a very good reputation despite what had been said against him.

The amendment of Mr. Emery was adopted, and the bill was ordered to a third reading. Under a suspension of the rules the bill was finally passed.

Mr. Mann, of Oxford submitted the following resolution, which was adopted.

Resolved, That the Committee on the Judiciary be instructed to inquire into the expediency of making further provisions for the enforcement of the existing license laws, and the laws against the sale of intoxicating liquors in this State; and and, also, for the prevention of the adulteration of any kind of liquor to be used as a beverage, and the sale of adulterated liquors.

☞ To each new subscriber who pays for the Daily in advance for a year commencing August 1st, 1853—we will supply the paper without charge to that date.

STEAMBOAT EXPLOSION—FIVE MEN KILLED.—The new propeller Challenge, on her first trip from Chicago, bound east, exploded her boilers on Wednesday, killing five of her crew, and, severely injuring three others; the remainder of the crew, with the passengers, were picked up and taken to Detroit. The Challenge sunk in five minutes. She had a cargo of 25,000 bushels oats and 550 barrels of whiskey. The vessel was insured for $24,000; $18,000 in New York and $6000 at the Ætna office, Hartford. Cargo said to be fully insured.

HUMORS OF WASHINGTON.—A correspondent at Washington sends the following interesting bits of intelligence from that great metropolis:

"The President's health begins to improve; he walks about with the young ladies, and it will do him good. Secretary Marcy has got a bran new white hat, and he looks elegant in it, and when he speaks French he appears like a French Minister. He thinks of adding a codicil to his Diplomatic Instructions, requiring Foreign Ministers, Consuls, and Commercial Agents to wear white hats abroad. It would look well."

U. S. MILITARY.—Company B. 3d Regiment U. S. Artillery, Lieut. Ayres commanding, left Fort Independence, Boston Harbor, on Wednesday for Fort Adams, R. I.

Lieut. J. Edwards, now at Fort Constitution, Portsmouth, N. H., has been ordered to the same station.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—On Wednesday, about 11 o'clock, a heavy thunder shower passed over Winchester, Woburn, and the neighboring towns. At the former place, there were three distinct and heavy strokes of lightning—two striking the house of widow Freeman, and the last a tree and the rails of the Woburn Branch Road. The first of the two bolts which struck the house, passed through the roof of an L end, into the bathing-room, making a bullet-hole in the laths, and tearing off a large surface of plastering. The second stroke was far more serious. Striking the corner of one of the chimneys, it knocked off a considerable portion of the top, and crushed through the roof into the attic. Here the subtle fluid ran across the floor, tearing up and discoloring the boards, breaking all the glass in the skylight, scorching the outside of a keg of gunpowder, and effecting other pranks. From thence it passed to the entry below, and within a foot of the lady of the mansion, her son and the female domestic, who had gathered there for safety, tearing off a yard or two of the ceiling; glancing thence to the brass register below in the hall, which it turned completely round, it entered the furnace; through the door-way of this it passed into the cellar, and knocking a window-sash to atoms, out into ground!—a lengthy transit, but a very rapid one. It is singular that no further damage was done. The house, which is quite elevated, was unprovided with lightning conductors.—Boston Commonwealth.

"FANNY FERN."—A Boston correspondent of a Maine paper says Fanny's first husband was C. H. Eldredge, Cashier of the Merchant's Bank, who died some five years ago, leaving the widow with an empty purse, comparatively, and two or three children. Her second husband was S. P. Farrington, merchant of Boston, a widower with two children. They lived together only about one year, when Mr. F. betook himself to the west, where he at present resides, and where he has just obtained a divorce. He was a modest, unassuming, and pious gentleman, without brilliant talents or attainments, and unable to appreciate and sympathize with the intellectual, the mental, the witty, the ludicrous which flashes from Fanny. After leading a few months of disquiet together, he fled, leaving a lucrative business, a copartnership agreement incomplete, and she lashes males with no sparing hand, under the cognomen of 'Fanny Fern,' earning bread thereby for herself and children.

This is one of the stories—there are half a dozen more. One made her out to be Mrs. Dennison; others, to be a man. It's no matter who she is. Some of her writings are good—others quite poor.

A NEW RELIGION.—In Syria there has been much talk of a new faith which has been started in Persia by an apostate Mahomedan, named Sheikh Babee, who denies the authenticity of the Koran, and will not recognise any but God, Moses, David and himself. He has made many converts in some parts of Persia, and is giving the Schah much trouble, but as Sheikh Babee has very unwisely promised his followers that he will bring back to life all those who are killed in defending their faith, his imposture cannot last very long.

Lawrie Todd, the author, was married lately in New York, to a widow, who fell in love with him from reading the productions of his pen. The groom is approaching his eighty-second year, while the happy bride is just turning her twenty-seventh.

A Frankfort, Down-East correspondent, speaking of an army of caterpillars, which attacked that town on the 5th inst., says, "they were so thick that, when we stood under a tree, we could hear them eat. It sounded like squirrels cracking nuts."

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S

Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity. Sold by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&w6m je22*

CAUSING it to grow luxuriantly, and giving it a soft and curling appearance, of the most delightful character. The KATHAIRON neutralises the effects of disease, climate, and old age, in preserving and restoring the Human Hair, even after a Baldness of many years,—cleanses the scalp from Dandruff, and its natural impurities,—immediately relieves sympathetic attacks of Nervous Headache, and cures all cutaneous diseases of the skin, such as Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Itch, &c.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life state an sphere which physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of misery might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as there are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office of the Southern Dist. of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. DR. CONINE'S SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing DISSOLVENT POWER.

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore,

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom
AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial &

Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

My son had a very severe cough, which threatened speedily to carry him off; and nothing seemed to give relief, until I tried these Lozenges, —which produced signs of relief in a few hours, and after the taking of a few boxes, wholly removed his cough. ISLES OF SHOALS.

From personal observation I can, says a writer in the Boston Transcript, bear witness that at none of our "watering places," can there be found more substantial resources for comfort and healthful recreation, than at the "Isles." Why they were called the Isles of Shoals does not appear in history. The word would seem to indicate something like a sandy or muddy formation of the isles; whereas, on the contrary, they are, with the exception of a light soil on some parts, a group of enormous and bold ledges of rock (chiefly granite, gneiss and mica slate) scattered over a few square miles of the ocean.

They were first discovered by the famous Capt. John Smith, (of Pocahontas memory,) in the year 1614, and for some years were called "Smith's Isles." They were soon occupied by English adventurers as a fishing station, and became so flourishing, that, in 1728, one of the isles, called Star Island, was assessed £16 in a tax of £1000, levied upon the Province of New Hampshire. About this period, it is known that several ships used annually to load with fish at the Isles for Bilboa, and smaller vessels for other places.

These settlements continued in a prosperous condition until the Revolutionary war, when, it being found that the islands afforded sustenance and recruits for the fleets of the enemy, the inhabitants were ordered by the Provincial authorities to quit the Shoals. In obedience to the order the greater part of the people dispersed themselves among the seaport towns, and never returned to their native rocks. The principal island, in point of size, (Appledore,) is within the jurisdiction of Maine; most of the others, including the fishing village, are under that of New Hampshire.

There is an ancient tower, or monument, composed of large stones, somewhat like a lofty Scotch cairn, on the summit of the principal island, which tradition says was erected by Smith's crew, and which for several generations has been the theme of mysterious legends, analogous to those appertaining to the Old Mill at Newport. The islands were a favorite and frequent resort of the "buccaneers," including the great Kidd himself. Of course they are subject to the usual suspicion about buried treasure; although, as the fillibusters usually levied black mail upon the poor islanders, it is more than doubtful whether the treasure deposited was adequate to the abstracted plunder. The Indians, too, were attracted by the prosperity of the Shoals, and occasionally, during the absence of the fishermen, made a descent in their canoes upon the settlements, committing great havoc, and even carrying the women into captivity.

It is known that as early as 1641, there was a meeting house on the principal island, and there appears to have been a succession of preachers of the Gospel at the Isles, with but little intermission, until the Revolution. The church, referred to in this sketch, which is of stone, was built by generous contributions from the shore towns, especially Newburyport and Salem.

There are a good many other interesting particulars in the history of these Isles, which might claim the attention of the antiquarian, or lover of local annals; but which my time and your space will not permit me to specify.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS.—We are accustomed, says the Newburyport Union, to look upon the advocates of woman's rights as reformers of a late date; but in looking back upon the records of our New England towns we often meet the names of females in connection with public affairs. In this town, in 1774, a petition was presented to the selectmen in relation to a "well at the entrance of Merrill Lain, so called, at the north part of the town," on which the first name was Elizabeth Tappan, and among the names that followed was Sarah Carr. In the same year the following petition was presented, which shows that the Temperance cause had not much progressed among females: we give it verbatim:

Newbery Port, June ye 13 1774. Gentlemen Select men of the town of Newbury Port, sirs: I bege your approbashion to Retale Rum, as I am a wider and unabel to Do much work, and I shall take it as a favor from you.
a petishion of Ammey Lowden.

THE MORMONS.—The Aleck Scott brought up from New Orleans one hundred and thirty-five Mormons. They were chiefly from England, a healthy, clean and tidy looking people, en route for Salt Lake, under the charge of Elder Bolton, who for the last four years has been on a mission to France. They proceed immediately to Keokuk, and from thence will take their departure to the city of the Great Salt Lake.—St. Louis Republican.

The Woonsocket editor makes merry over the mistake of an old Shanghae hen of his, that has been 'setting' for five weeks upon—two round stones and a piece of brick! 'Her anxiety,' quoth he, 'is no greater than ours to know what she will hatch. If it proves a brickyard—that hen is not for sale.'

The Catholic Bishop of Massachusetts, says the New Haven Daily Palladium, is understood to be a warm friend of the public schools of Massachusetts. He was educated in them himself, and understands the subject better than clergymen from abroad, who, however familiar with their church policy, have not a clear view of the peculiar character of this Government and its constitution.

M. B. Kenny, formerly of Lowell, has been elected Mayor of Stockton, in California. The Lowell Vox Populi says he was unanimously elected, having received twice as many votes as his opponent. The Stockton Journal says that Mr. K. "is universally deserving of the position." The accuracy of these statements remind us of the man, in Vermont, who said he was never drunk, but once—a few times.

PORTSMOUTH:
TUESDAY, JUNE 28, 1853.

CUBA.

We have all sorts of reports about the determination of England to stop the slave trade of Cuba. The last on dit is that the Spanish Government has agreed to adopt the apprentice system enforced in Jamaica. We suppose that slavery will cease, virtually, ere another year has passed, thanks to the Filibusters!—Worcester Spy.

That is rather quick, but we do not consider it by any means impossible. A system of apprenticeship there, would at once relieve Spain from all fear of revolt among the blacks—and as soon as she established a system of colonial militia, she might cease to send out Spanish soldiers to Cuba. Officers only need to come out, as they now do in the British West Indies. A long apprenticeship, with encouragement to immigrant laborers, would give Spain a stronger colony in Cuba than she has ever had; though probably not quite so rich.

Our fillibusters are getting belated; if apprenticeship is once enacted, their game is up. Invasion of the Island from this quarter would be as fruitless as an onslaught on Jamaica.

Mr. Soule, our minister to Spain, may offer a good price for the Island—and possibly may get it, but perhaps not, as she does not appear very anxious to dispose of it.

We approve of the purchase if we can make it fairly and seasonably.

As to an intimation from some Washington letter writers, that our executive will protest to the Spanish court against apprenticeship or emancipation in Cuba,—we regard it as simply ridiculous. If we offered such a document or protest, perhaps she might tell us we had better mind our own business.

We do not place implicit reliance in the reports from Madrid, or even from Washington—but if the reports are true, then these remarks are legitimate, and may be seasonable at the present time, when fillibusterism is an object of hope on the one hand and fear on the other, but may be so checkmated as to become insignificant or powerless in the direction of Cuba.

FUGITIVE SLAVES IN CANADA.—The London papers contain accounts of a meeting recently held in that city, for the purpose of taking into consideration the subject of the fugitive slaves who escape from the United States into Canada. The following is extracted from the report of the proceedings:—

The Rev. S. Ward, delegate from the Anti-Slavery Society of Canada, made a very interesting statement of the condition of the fugitive slaves who have escaped to Canada. The number escaping every year was not less than three thousand, and is constantly increasing. The majority arrive at various points on a frontier of 700 miles, almost destitute of clothing and of the necessaries of life.

The Anti-Slavery Society of Canada affords them temporary relief, until they procure work, which they usually do within a week, there being no case on record in which, except in the case of sickness, relief had to be extended beyond a period of six days after their arrival.

The Boston Courier expresses doubts whether there are so many fugitives as Mr. Ward represents—and the number is certainly larger than we supposed. The Courier says, "John Bull never feels greater pleasure in being cheated than when the Uncle Tom-ites pull their wool over his eyes. Three thousand negro runaways, every year the number increasing—and His Grace the Earl of Shaftesbury has a "sympathy" for all this good company! We can only say that the Canadians would have a very strong sympathy the other way, if a quarter part of the story were told."

In all this there is considerable truth. We have lately seen an expression of discontent by some Canadians, in the shape of a remonstrance to the Royal government.

But negro emigration to Canada, is as really a "fixed fact" as Irish emigration to this country. Both classes run away from oppression—both are useful in the land whither they flee—and both are also somewhat troublesome. It is in vain to say we will not have them. It is our wisdom to treat them as well as we can, to govern them as well as possible, and to teach them as much as their prejudices will allow: in short to make the best of the matter as it is.

The legislature of N. Y. passed a law at its recent session exempting the property of the husband from the debts of the wife which may have been contracted before marriage. The same body passed a law in 1848 exempting the property of the wife from being taken for her husband's debts contracted before marriage.

DEATH FROM EATING.—A negro man died in this city last week from eating strawberries. A wager had been laid that he could not eat ten baskets full. He accomplished the feat, won the wager, and died almost immediately after.—N. Y. Jour. Commerce.

A RELIC.—James Rogers, candidate for Congress at Paducah, Ky., has a relic in his family of great antiquity—a piece of the stake to which his great grand-uncle was tied at Smithfield, when his religious enemies burnt him to death.

EASTERN RAILROAD, SAFE BRIDGE.

Some doubts of the safety of the Bridge at Newburyport, having been expressed there and published in the Union, [copied in Monday's Daily Chronicle,] the editors of the Herald have given assurance that it is sufficiently strong, and in the same article have made other statements of some interest, which we transfer to this article.

The stock is now depressed, but the Herald says, after the projected improvements are completed, the stock will no doubt advance. The new track into Boston, runs through a neighborhood which will be thickly covered with dwellings in a few years, being eligible building land, already in the hands of a company of wealthy capitalists who are now erecting many buildings. We understand this road has a handsome surplus of nearly $60,000, after making the July dividend.—The travel on this road must always be large, and the population along the whole line will increase rapidly with a few prosperous years for business in Massachusetts and Maine.

It finances have been carefully and systematically managed; its conductors among the best and most careful in the country, and to this no doubt has been owing the remarkable exemption from accidents for several years past. The company are about to improve greatly their depot accommodations here.—They are strengthening the bridge on the Merrimack, upon which they propose to lay out several thousand dollars, on account of the heavy freight trains they now run twice a day. Some unnecessary fears have been expressed concerning this structure; but it is well known that Mr. Heard, who has charge of the bridges on the Eastern road, is one of the most thorough bridge builders in the country, and examines these structures very frequently himself, with a careful eye.

If there were any defect in this bridge it would be found on the passage of the freight trains, many of which are ten times heavier than any passenger train which ever passed over it. We saw one of the heaviest merchandize trains ever brought over the road pass it a week or two since, and the same train in passing through the granite depot building at Salem, shook the walls like an earthquake. We thought then that the bridge which had passed safely such a merchandize train, must be safe for passenger trains, with only ordinary care taken of it, for twenty years at least.

DEATH ON THE MAINE RAILROAD.

At Melrose, Mass. on Saturday afternoon, about six o'clock, Captain Winthrop Richardson, formerly of the firm of Richardson & Messenger, tailors, Boston, met with a sad and sudden death under the following circumstances. His daughter went in the outward train of cars on the Maine Railroad to Melrose, and sent word from the depot to her father at his residence that she was there waiting for him. As he approached the track, the Manchester express train hove in sight, and he saw it. He looked at it, as if to measure the distance, and then attempted to run across the rails. He made several jumps, and succeeded in leaping upon the platform; but in so doing lost his equilibrium, fell backwards, and was struck by the locomotive. His body was mangled into pound pieces, his head was crushed into atoms, and pieces of dissevered limbs were strewn along the track for some distance. Not a limb escaped unbroken, and never was mangling more complete. Mrs. Wood was a spectator at the destruction of her father, and two or three other persons were standing near the station house at the time.

Coroner Norcross held an inquest on Saturday night, and the verdict of the jury was "accidental death." The Corporation was properly exonerated from all blame in the matter.

Mr. Richardson was forty-two years old. He was a man of some property, and among his estates, he owned about seventy acres of land in Stoneham. He leaves a wife, and Mrs. Wood, the daughter above mentioned, is his only child.

A REMARKABLE FAMILY.—A day or two since there died suddenly, of typhoid fever, at Manchester, N. H., David Garland, Jr., Esq. of Hampton, N. H. This gentleman is one of a somewhat remarkable family, consisting of father and mother and eleven children, all of whom have reached years of maturity, and until the death mentioned above, the circle has not been broken. The father and mother are each over seventy years of age, and all the sons and daughters we believe are married and settled in life. Four of the sons are Deacons. We seldom see so large a family that has for so long a period escaped the hand of the destroyer Death. Mr. Garland was at the time of his death on a visit, and died after a very short illness.—Boston Traveller.

COLT'S REVOLVER.—The fame of this weapon seems to be extending in all directions. The London correspondent of the Berlin National Zeitung speaks of the great favor it has met with at the Cape of Good Hope. He says, letters thence state that the Kaffirs are so much pleased with the operation of the revolver that they have given to it the name of "God's Pistol," an expression not unnatural perhaps in an enthusiastic Pagan.

LOCAL.

THE JUBILEE.

The necessary preparations are quietly going on. It will be seen by our City Council report, that more money has been appropriated for the purpose—so that at least $1500 will be expended by the City fathers to carry the affair through in good shape, besides what is raised by subscription.

The House Carpenters had a very full and spirited meeting last evening. They chose six Marshals (who ride), a Standard Bearer, and the necessary committees on finance, construction, &c.

Many teams are engaged, and several designs being prepared. No time should be lost in applying for teams, by those who intend to appear. All will be furnished with such teams as they need, free of expense or trouble, on application to Gen. J. G. Hadley or the Industrial Committee.

The ball rolls bravely on: many are at work—all ought to be.

City Council—June 27.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN—The following resolution was passed:

Resolved, if the Common Council concur, that the Joint Committee appointed by the City Council to make all suitable arrangements for the celebration of the coming Fourth of July, be authorized to pledge the credit of the City of Portsmouth in such amounts as may be economically expended, beyond the sum appropriated—provided the sum of one thousand dollars already appropriated is not sufficient.

An Ordinance "For the further preservation of order on the Fourth of July, 1853," was passed and sent down.

The Ordinance allowing Barbers to open their shops on Sunday mornings, was indefinitely postponed.

IN COMMON COUNCIL—The resolution from the Aldermen (given above) appropriating more money for the Fourth of July celebration, was concurred in, with the amendment—"Provided the said additional sum shall not exceed $500."

The Ordinance respecting the preservation of order on the 4th of July, was concurred in. We shall publish it to-morrow.

"WITH A BAND OF MUSIC."—Not least among the attractions on the grand festival approaching, will be the music. The Boston and New York delegations each coming "with a band of music"; the City has a band engaged, and the Industrial Procession will have another—so there will be at least four bands in the procession, "sounding through the air" their cheering, inspiriting strains.

☞ We would suggest to the Police the propriety of walking up Islington street early in the evening, particularly on the Sabbath.—The fence on the north side of the street, near Cabot street, is now used as a settee by a company of loafers who appear to have no other business but to make comments on passers by. Such assemblages are nuisances and should be abated.

LOOK OUT FOR BURGLARS!—Some time on Sunday night, the store of Mr. Wm. A. Cromwell, in South Berwick, was broken open, but the thieves were probably alarmed in some way, for they left without booty. This circumstance, in connexion with some store-breaking in Saco and Biddeford, looks as if we had a gang of thieves prowling round, of which shopkeepers would do well to take notice, and watch their stores accordingly.

FIRE WORKS.—Cities or citizens, wishing Fire Works for display on the Glorious Fourth, would do well to look at the advertisement of Mr. S. W. Creech, of Portland, which appears in our columns daily. He can supply them with a great variety.

PUTNAM'S MONTHLY, FOR JULY — Is promptly on our table from Fetridge & Co., by J. F. Shores, Jr., of this city.

The first article is on Educational Institutions of New York, with 12 illustrative wood cuts, being accurate views of as many Educational Buildings. The next article is on Life in Hawaii, also illustrated with wood cuts.

The number contains its usual variety of articles; among them "A Story without a Moral," and "Miss Peck's Friend" (concluded.)

KOSSUTH.—An application was lately made to Kossuth to know if he would accept an invitation to visit Sheffield, to be presented with a testimonial. In his reply he says:

"It is no affectation on my part, but under present circumstances I can pledge myself to nothing, not even to being in England. If affairs were to be tranquil, if circumstances permit me, I should feel honored to visit Sheffield as suggested."

A VETERAN POSTMASTER GONE.—William Cobb, Esq., died at Warwick, Mass, on the 12th inst, aged 84 years. Mr. C. was appointed postmaster of that town in 1804, under the administration of Thomas Jefferson, which office he held without interruption until his death. He is said to have been the oldest postmaster in the Union.—Cheshire Republican.

☞ To each new subscriber who pays for the Daily in advance for a year commencing August 1st, 1853—we will supply the paper without charge to that date.

KENNEDY'S MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

IN the year 1846 Mr. Kennedy of Roxbury, discovered a common Pasture Weed which cures every Humor, from the worst scrofula to the common boil. So successful has it proved that out of innumerable trials it has not been known to fail, but in two instances. Certificates from very many respectable and well known individuals attest its almost miraculous powers.

NEW YORK, June 26.

The Steamship Baltic, from Liverpool Wednesday June 15, about 2 P. M., with 160 passengers, arrived at 6 30 this evening.

LIVERPOOL CORN MARKET.—Markets a shade easier, without a decided change in prices; perhaps a slight reduction in Wheat to effect sales, but demand limited. Philadelphia and Baltimore Flour moved slowly at 25c; some Western 24s 6d. Indian Corn in limited inquiry—considerable imports of wheat but small imports of Flour. Weather is good and crops thriving.

ENGLAND.—The British government, both in the House of Lords and Commons had announced that the English and French fleets were jointly despatched to the Dardanelles, furnished with similar instructions, and that the best understanding existed between England and France, but it was not expected that any collision would occur.

Mr. French moved for all the correspondence regarding the the imprisonment of negroes in South Carolina. He regarded negro imprisonment as a violation of the rights of man, and a breach of treaties, and he was convinced that South Carolina, if properly pressed, would annul the black laws. The correspondence was ordered.

The ship Aurora, Capt. Cherry, bound from Hull to New York, foundered at sea, taking down with her 29 of the crew and passengers. The captain and 12 others were saved.

The ships Waterloo and Anglesea had arrived at Southampton, from Australia, with 74,000 ounces of gold.

IN FRANCE, commercial confidence is almost restored. The funds had retrieved the loss.

M. Sallandrouse is coming to New York in the steamship Reine Hortense, as the Emperor's own Commissioner to the exhibition.

Gen. Dembinski has addressed a letter to the Debats, saying he has not offered his services to the Sultan, but if a command were offered to him he would not refuse it.

The Russian fleet at Sebastapool consists of of 13 ships of the line, 8 frigates, and 12 smaller vessels.

TURKEY.—The Turks, notwithstanding the peaceful appearances, continue to fortify the Bosphorus.

Trade at Constantinople was dull from a scarcity of shipping, but not much panic resulted.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.—Paris, June 14.—Advices of the 30th May state that the Turkish government had hauded to the Ambassadors of the four powers a note explaining the measures taken by Turkey to maintain her territories, and declaring that any arrangement with Russia is out of the question, while that power persists in its exorbitant pretensions. On the 28th, the French Minister gave Redschid Pacha formal assurance of the support of the French government. Lord Stratford de Redcliffe was to have an audience on the 2d of June for the purpose of giving a similar assurance on the part of England.

The military preparations of the Turks are carried on with great activity. The Turkish fleet of 22 sail, anchored at the entrance of the Black Sea on the 30th. At the Arsenal, 12 corvettes and several frigates were being armed, and would not be got ready by the 2d of June. 140 flat boats are employed in transporting the artillery and ammunition to the fleet and citadel on the Bosphorus.—Troops and stores have also been sent to Varna. The military are pouring in from all quarters, the troops were to be reviewed on the 30th.

SLAVE ESCAPED.—A man named George Slasher got on board the Telegraph No. 3, at Rising Sun, Indiana, on Friday night, with a negro slave, bound for Greenupsburgh, Ky. He locked the negro in a stateroom and proceeded to enjoy himself. Just after returning from a visit to the saloons, he heard a splash in the water, and soon discovered that his slave was gone. The supposition is that the fellow jumped overboard and swam ashore.

HEAVY WORK FOR THE CORONERS.—No less than thirty-five deaths were reported on Wednesday at the Coroners' office. Ten or twelve of them are supposed to be from sun strokes, and the remainder from casualties, applopexy, intemperance, exhaustion, and similar causes. The coroners were only able to attend to about half of the cases.—N. Y. Jour. Commerce.

A despatch from Montreal, June 15th, states that a meeting, was held, the day previous, in front of St. Patrick's church, at which a large number of Irish Roman Catholics attended. Speeches were made, deprecating the conduct of those engaged in the riots, and resolutions passed in the future maintenance of the peace, and for the apprehension of those who participated in the disturbances.—Lawrence Sentinel.

DEFEAT OF THE MAINE LAW IN THE CONNECTICUT LEGISLATURE.—The Maine Law, which has been under discussion for three days, was on Thursday last defeated in the House of Representatives. An amendment striking out all after the enacting clause, and inserting a bill giving town and city authorities power to license, was adopted by the casting vote of the Speaker. The bill thus amended was adopted by a vote of 108 to 98.

The Albany Express tells a very good story about a barber poled pantalooned youth, who recently went on a visit to his grandmother in the country, and astonished her very much by wearing such "patched pantaloons away from home."

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S

Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself.—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity. Sold by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&w6m je22*

LYON'S KATHAIRON,

For Preserving, Restoring & Beautifying the Hair,

CAUSING it to grow luxuriantly, and giving it a soft and curling appearance, of the most delightful character. The KATHAIRON neutralises the effects of disease, climate, and old age, in preserving and restoring the Human Hair, even after a Baldness of many years,—cleanses the scalp from Dandruff, and its natural impurities,—immediately relieves sympathetic attacks of Nervous Headache, and cures all cutaneous diseases of the skin, such as Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Itch, &c.

AS A TOILET ARTICLE,

For giving the Hair a rich, soft, glossy and curling appearance, nothing has been discovered to compare with its incontested—Its incontestible virtues. It imparts the fragrance of the most delightful and exotic flowers, and is free from all minera properties, or any substance which can color the skin, or stain a lady's hat.

FOR BALD OR GREY HEADS

It is pre-eminently beneficial. "The Kathairon restored my hair after a baldness of 12 years. A. J. COURMADIE, 76 Bond-st. N.Y." This admirable preparation can be had of all reputable dealers, throughout North and South America, and the Islands of the Ocean, in large bottles, for 25 cents.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood—at the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge so dearly purchased, had been

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY.

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, postpaid, as herein.

THE BROKEN HEART.

(From the French of Jules Janin.)

Her heart was broken; day by day
She wasted silently away;
And o'er her large dark eyes there grew
A film of leaden co.ored hue;
Her step was languid, slow and weak,
A hectic fever flushed her cheek—
Seldom and little did she speak.

And he to whom her faith was vowed,
Her husband—by the world allowed
A kind, good natured, easy man,
Ov'r all his present conduct ran
To see it he had given her ought
To cause this apathy of thought—
This tearful silence, sorrow fraught!

At length she spoke one dewy morn—
"Adolphe, you wonder why forlorn,
I pensive sit from day to day,
And pine in solitude away.
Dear husband, I will tell thee all:
My neighbor, Madame D'Argental,
Has got—I have not—a NEW SHAWL."

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber, late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them early and favorable considerations at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom
AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER AND KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial &

Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,

EXTRACTS FROM PUNCH.

Punch hits away at the folly of those who make war a trade; but has a slap also at those who make a trade of preventing war.

There is to be a great muster, as we call it, at Chobham, and Punch is merciless upon those who are going there to play soldier:

Just now, when China seems to be cracked in hot water, and the Russian bear seems to be disporting himself on the Turkey carpet to its serious detriment, we are glad that something very much out of the common is about to take place on the common at Chobham.—Everything is being done to enable the military to realise the idea of a regular campaign, and the undulation of the ground is loudly proclaimed as a proof that the soldiers are to be exposed to the ups and downs of actual service.

It is intended that the gallant fellows shall be exposed as far as possible to all the horrors of war, and there are to be occasional "night surprises," or hoaxes, by which "the camp" will be pulled out of bed at all sorts of unseasonable hours. Whether a system of false alarms is likely to make the soldiers ready at the time of actual danger is best known, perhaps, to wiser heads than ours; but we have heard of the cry of a "Wolf" being raised so frequently "in fun," that when it came in earnest, those who had been repeatedly taken in by it were not forthcoming when their help was really required.

We understand that some engineers will be engaged in destroying fortifications,—after having first built them up—and that the process of raising up and knocking down again, will be carried on with all the vigor of a besieging army before an enemy. Unless it is actually intended that the combatants shall kill each other, we presume the weapons used will be of a harmless character; and we should recommend garden engines to the engineers, who by constantly playing upon an opposing force, would harass it rather effectually. If the soldiers are not to be made to stand fire, their courage may be tested by seeing how they can stand water; and in the absence of powder and shot, a good ducking would be found an excellent substitute.

An order has been issued by the Commander-in-Chief, allowing the use of palliasses instead of blankets, as the ground is damp—upon which Punch remarks:

The military experience of the Chobham Camp will, at this rate, probably include actual service in the face of the enemy; as the forces will doubtless be attacked by rheumatism.

He considers the War office a sort of rival to the Peace Society, and calls the soldiers,

Peacemakers in Scarlet.—Of the two rival Peace Societies, that one which will endeavor to insure peace by providing for war will meet this year at Chobham.

Hearing that Turkey is to be gobbled up, Punch cries,

Paws off, Bruin!—The British Lion has good cause to protest against the threatened disturbance of his peace by the absurd bickerings among some of the inferior animals. No sooner had the Gallic Cock ceased its discordant crow, than our friend, the Lion, is aroused from his dignified repose by the growl of the great Russian Bear, which is responded to with considerable pluck by the irritated Turkey-cock. This spirited but rather imbecile bird is threatened with that hug of protection from the Bear, which is always fatal to any protege of the latter very awkward animal.—The menaced bird has all the sympathies of the British Lion; but it would be lamentable that the noble animal in question should be roused into a warlike demonstration at the sound of poor dismembered Turkey's drumsticks.

We recommend the Bear to hug himself as comfortably as he likes, in his own security, but we would advise him to keep his paws off from Turkey.

The following are characteristic:

Diplomacy.—The art of saying something when you have got nothing to say—as much as it is the art of saying nothing when you have really got something to say.

University Intelligence.—A fast undergraduate does not deserve much credit—but he gets it.

Extraordinary Delusion in a Clergyman.—Wanted by a Rector, who is a disciple of Hahnemann, a Curate, who will undertake the cure of souls by homœpathy—on a corresponding salary.

The Spirits of the Deep.—A teetotaller taking gin-and-water as medicine.

The Pleasures of Hope.—Being tossed for several days off the Cape.

SPECIAL ENVOY FROM THE POPE.—We extract the following official announcement from the Freeman's Journal, published in New York. We presume that the information is derived from Archbishop Hughes, and it may therefore be considered as fully entitled to the respect due to an edict from the Vatican:

Interesting from Rome.—On the 9th of May Monseignor Cajetan Bedini, Archbishop of Thebes, former Commissary Extraordinary of the Pontifical government to the legations, left Rome as special Envoy of His Holiness to the United States. At our latest advices Monseignor Bedini was in Paris. He is charged by the Holy Father to pay a visit to the government at Washington, and also to hold interviews with the different prelates of the church in the United States, and to acquire the most exact information respecting the interests and condition of the Catholic church in this country.

After making as long a visit as may be of advantage to the United States, Monseignor Badini will go to Brazil, where he is to reside as Apostolic Nuncio near that government.—He is accompanied at present by M. Earnest Cologneri, who goes to the Apostolic Legate in Mexico, as Auditor, taking the place of M. Marius Marini Oscali, who goes to Rio to discharge the functions of Charge d'Affaires till such time as a Nuncio shall arrive.

PORTSMOUTH:
WEDNESDAY, JUNE 29, 1853.

WHICH IS TRUE!

THE FISHERIES.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun writes:—

We are soon to have some intelligence, perhaps of a stirring character, from the fishing grounds. There is no doubt, however, that the question is very soon to be satisfactorily adjusted, while, in the mean time, we cannot complain if the British orders, so far as they are consistent with the treaty, be rigidly enforced. Our government has sent no vessel of war to the fishing grounds, for the reason, probably, that it is understood that the British government will take the same course that it did at the last season—keeping within the limits of our own construction of the treaty.

To this the Boston Courier responds:—

We are to understand by the above that no government vessel is to look after our important fishery trade, a trade which is watched so jealously by the British and French governments. It seems to be as impossible to believe that any such decision has been arrived at by our government, as to believe, after the experience of the fishermen of last year, that the British then kept "with the limits of our own construction of the treaty;" and there are thousands of witnesses that they did not do so, if the statements of the American fishermen can be believed at all.

Our readers may remember that we published a paragraph from Washington, not many days ago, which stated that a steamer was ordered, by our government, to proceed to the fishing ground. We wish somebody that knows, (if any body does know,) would tell us and the public whether any vessel is so ordered, or not. If our government is not established merely to give good offices to a fortunate portion of the people, but if it is established to protect or preserve our interests, then let its arm be stretched out, at once, to protect this greatly exposed and much suffering interest. The quarrels about offices, and the adjustment of the quarrels, might be postponed till next winter, as any way;—but unless the fisheries are speedily attended to, the season will be over, with results like those of last year.

REV. DR. SHARP.

At a meeting of the Government of the Boston Young Men's Christian Union on Saturday evening, resolutions were passed of condolence to the family of Dr. Sharp, of respect for his memory and character, and of commendation for his catholic spirit.

On Sunday evening a crowded audience attended the meeting at the rooms of the Union. Prayer was offered by Rev. Sumner Ellis, of the first Universalist Church: addresses were delivered by Rev. Calvin Lincoln, Rev. Wm. H. Ryder of Roxbury, Rev. Dr. Peabody of Portsmouth, Rev. Sumner Ellis, Hon John C. Park, and Rev. Dr. Gannett. Touching and affectionate tributes to the memory of Rev. Dr. Sharp were offered by Hon. John C. Park and Rev. Dr. Gannett. The resolutions mentioned above were read and unanimously reaffirmed by the members.

Dr. Sharp performed the devotional exercises at the dedication of the rooms in School street occupied by the Christian Union last year. This act was censured by many persons, and a prominent officer of a rival organization, sent a rebuke of four pages to the venerable doctor, for thus shaking hands across the walls which divide the church.

Dr. Sharp was one of the pall bearers at the funeral of Rev. Hosea Ballou last year.

The last time many citizens saw him in the pulpit, was at his participation in the religious services in Brattle street Church, at the funeral of his friend, Hon. Amos Lawrence.

The ceremonies at the funeral of Dr. Sharp, were in his own church, solemnized by ervices conducted by clergymen of different denominations. This arrangement was made in accordance with the wishes of the immediate family of the deceased, and it is in keeping with his well known liberal feelings.

The pall bearers were Rev. Messrs. Lothrop, Bartol, and Gannett, Unitarians; Messrs. Waterbury, Adams, and Blagden, Orthodox; Messrs. Caldicott and Phillips, Baptists: Mr. Miner a Universalist; Mr. Worcester a Swedenborgian; Mr. Cummings a methodist; and Mr. Mason an Episcopalian.

CANDIDATES PLENTIFUL.—Texas has, just now, eight Democratic candidates in the field for Governor.

In our neighboring state of Maine, as we learn from a democratic source, there are no less than twelve candidates, whose respective claims will be urged by their particular friends at the State Convention which is to be held to-morrow.

PARTINGTON POETRY.—The Boston Post of Tuesday contained a notice of a meeting of the Sons of Portsmouth, and said that on the occasion, Mrs. Partington sent the following triplet in the hand writing of Ike:—

"Let every one in unison his chateau swing;
Now be forgotten each harmonious thing,
And with glad voices make the welcome ring!"

For the Chronicle.

RAILROAD BRIDGE.

Messrs. Publishers,—As fears have been expressed by some as to the safety of the Railroad Bridge which crosses the Merrimac River at Newburyport, I would suggest the propriety of the President and Directors of the road to have said Bridge examined by themselves, or some competent person or persons prior to the fourth of next month, and report publicly its condition, in order to quiet the fears of those who may doubt its safety. As there undoubtedly will be a large number of persons pass over that Bridge prior to, and on that day, it is absolutely necessary not only for the Directors and Stockholders to know its condition, but the travelling public and their friends, should be assured by competent authority, that it would be perfectly safe for them to travel over it in almost any numbers. As we are to have a family greeting on the fourth in this city, of our relatives and friends, and many of them will travel over this Bridge in order to reach here, it is very desirable that no accident should happen to prevent them from participating not only in the festivities of the day, but in the general joy and rejoicing that is expected to take place. A.

☞ We are fully satisfied that the bridge above referred to is safe, after reading the statement of its safety from men so practical as the editors of the Newburyport Herald, which we published on Tuesday morning,—and after hearing similar statements from gentlemen who travel over the road daily with large amounts of property in charge. We observe that the Newburyport Union of Monday evening does not renew the subject, as it would, if the Herald's statement were doubted by any persons of sound judgement. Nevertheless a statement of its safety by some known authority on the Road, would do good by quieting needless fear, now that such a nestling has taken place.

By the way, it strikes us as somewhat singular, that just as the Eastern Railroad is building a bridge to avoid East Boston Ferry, some one should raise a causeless panic about a substantial bridge.

AN UNANIMOUS VOTE.

We mentioned some time ago, that our former townsman and old friend Leonard Huntress, was the only County Commissioner elected at the first trial, in Middlesex County Massachusetts. We believe we did not mention the further fact that when two more Commissioners were chosen, they elected him chairman of the board. That, however was a fact, and the Cambridge Chronicle gives the following account of the manner in which it was done. It will be recollected, says the Chronicle, that the Board is composed of D. S. Richardson, Whig; Leonard Huntress, Free Soiler, and John K. Going, Democrat. The Whig commissioner could not vote for a Democrat or a Free Soiler, and would not vote for himself, consequently he voted a blank. The Free Soiler Commissioner would not vote for a Whig, and preferred not, in this instance, to vote for a Democrat; he also voted a blank. The Democratic Commissioner did not want the office, this being his first term of service, the other Commissioners having served on the old Board; and in choosing between two evils he, of course, chose what he considered the least, and voted for Mr. Huntress, and elected him most triumphantly.

A GREAT CONCERT was given in Boston, complimentary to Mr. Edward Kendall, on Saturday evening, and was quite successful. The large new Music Hall was well filled with an appreciating and enthusiastic audience. The five bands gave great satisfaction by their performances. The great feature of the evening (says the Transcript) was the performance of the well known and very popular quickstep "Wood Up," by the five bands.—The famous bugle solo was given by Mr. Hall, of the Brass Band, Mr. Flagg, of the Suffolk Band, Mr. Smith, of the Salem Band, and lastly by Mr. Kendall. The five bands filled the vast hall with their melody, and the immense volume of sound proceeding from the combination of so many wind instruments produced none of that unpleasant effect which is usually felt in halls of smaller size and less correctly proportioned.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Miss Augusta, daughter of Oliver Brown, residing at 307 Main street, Charlestown, Mass., died very suddenly early on Friday morning. About three o'clock her sister was awaked by her heavy breathing, and spoke to her, but she gave no signs of consciousness; and in a few minutes she was dead. Miss Brown (says the Charlestown Advertiser,) was a young lady of about 21 years, and much esteemed by a circle of friends and relatives.

☞ A Russian frigate and sloop-of-war came in from sea on Thursday, at Portsmouth Va., and on coming to an anchor off Old Point fired a salute, which was promptly returned from Fort Monroe. Their errand, says the Transcript, is supposed to be connected with the great Fair at New York, to be opened on the 15th of July.

LOCAL.

☞ To each new subscriber who pays for the Daily in advance for a year commencing August 1st, 1853—we will supply the paper without charge to that date.

A MUSICAL TREAT.

The Concert announced for this evening at the Temple, is richly worth attending. "The Campbells" are well known, and really fine artists, now under the direction of "Jim Kendall"—in all twelve performers. They have been performing in Boston, where they are favorites, and have an engagement at the Museum, which allows them to give but one entertainment here. The programme presents an agreeable variety, of the first order.

MASTER HARRIS'S SCHOLARS.—If all whom he has taught should respond to the call in this day's paper, they would form a considerable phalanx, and might leave a serious vacancy in other bodies and associations. We have no exact knowledge of the number, but it must be very large.

☞ Committees from the Boston and New York "Sons," have visited Portsmouth, to confer with the Committee here, and make the necessary arrangements.

☞ At their meeting on Monday evening, the Joint Committee of Arrangements appropriated $200 for Fireworks on the 4th of July.

☞ It will be necessary for those contemplating erecting arches, &c., to raise them at least twenty-six feet, to allow the passage of the Industrial procession.

For the Chronicle.

WOODMAN! SPARE THAT TREE!

Messrs. Editors:—Amidst the preparations for the coming festival, when each heart will so gladly welcome the return of the "Sons of old Strawberry Bank," there is one which we, as a lover of nature, would see dispensed with, and that is the reckless lopping of the noble and graceful trees that so adorn our streets, for the sake of the display of the Industrial Procession. Now we, with many others, enjoyed the display here two years since, showing wherein the wealth and prosperity of our city lies, but we also mourned with them the useless and careless trimming of trees, when the drooping boughs might so easily, either have been avoided when passing, or drawn aside that day by ropes.

We know that many "Sons" will return, eager once more to visit the homes of childhood, and rejoicing to repose or walk beneath the graceful waving branches that adorn their homesteads. But alas! how bitterly will they be disappointed! The drooping boughs are all removed, and the trees which they clothed in grace and beauty, are trimmed so as to resemble those Lombardy poplars which once were the ornaments of our town.

We know not to what authorities to appeal, and therefore beg you to lay this our grievance, and not ours alone, before the public.

Shall a true hearty welcome be given to the "Sons of Portsmouth?" Then, spare, spare those loved trees, whose drooping boughs, that have taken years to become what they are, the beauty and the delight of Old Strawberry Bank, must not be lopped off for the pleasure or convenience of one day. Who can stand quietly by, and see the growth of so many years rendered void by the work of a moment? But we trust that we shall not thus have to mourn this year, for the many worthy members who compose our city government will not and cannot give assent to so ruthless a decree, for are not they using their utmost endeavors to give a hearty, home welcome to the absent? And will not all these sons unite in the words

"Spare, spare those trees!
Touch not a single bough."

A CITIZEN,
In behalf of many Lovers of Nature.

DOVER POST OFFICE.—The Dover Enquirer notices the appointment of Mr. B. F. Vittum, as P. M. of Dover; and says, "Mr. Vittum is a young man of good business talents and will doubtless make a popular and acceptable Postmaster. We grieve to say, however, that the 'Old Guard' do not appear to relish his appointment, as they ought to, considering that it emanated, as is understood, directly from their President," &c.

☞ S. S. Moulton of Dover, has been appointed Mail Agent on the Boston & Maine Railroad, in place of H. P. Watson, removed.

See advertisement of "Muscadine Nectar," in another column; we have tried the article and found it very good.—Portsmouth Chronicle.

Neighbor, beware of all these new fangled drinks. As you are a friend of temperance, we wish you to illustrate the beauties of it, in the sobriety of your own career. Do you know what the "Muscadine Nectar" is made of?—Boston Chronicle.

Of materials quite harmless—sugar, water, acid and so forth—but no alcohol lurks therein: otherwise we should deem it prudent neither to touch, taste nor handle.

AN ENEMY AMONG THE APPLES.—Many of the orchards in York, Me., are now, and have been for a week or more, infested with millions of a species of canker worm, 5-8ths of an inch long and some much shorter, with a slender body, of a yellowish white color, with two dark stripes, lengthwise. They come in myriads, stripping the apple trees of their leaves, by eating through them, and as it were poisoning or burning out the life of the tree.

The Exeter News Letter says, the Canker Worm, one of the greatest pests of vegetation, has recently appeared in this town and vicinity in great and truly devastating numbers. We have seen several orchards in Exeter, Stratham, and Kensington, in which the trees, through their attacks, appear scorched as by fire, most of the leaves being changed to a dirty yellow, and a large proportion of the fruit falling to the ground. Some oak and maple forests in Exeter have the appearance of being withered by a fire in close proximity, all caused by these worms. We hear of extensive ravages of this insect in Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York. The apple crop of New England thus appears doomed to destruction.

LYON'S KATHAIRON,

For Preserving, Restoring & Beautifying the Hair,

CAUSING it to grow luxuriantly, and giving it a soft and curling appearance, of the most delightful character. The KATHAIRON neutralises the effects of disease, climate, and old age, in preserving and restoring the Human Hair, even after a Baldness of many years,—cleanses the scalp from Dandruff, and its natural impurities,—immediately relieves sympathetic attacks of Nervous Headache, and cures all cutaneous diseases of the skin, such as Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Itch, &c.

AS A TOILET ARTICLE,

For giving the Hair a rich, soft, glossy and curling appearance, nothing has been discovered to campare with its incontested—its incontestible virtues. It imparts the fragrance of the most delightful and exotic flowers, and is free from all miners properties, or any substance which can color the skin, or stain a lady's hat.

FOR BALD OR GREY HEADS

It is pre-eminently beneficial. "The Kathairon restored my hair after a baldness of 12 years. A. J. Cearnour, 76 Bond-st. N.Y." This admirable preparation can be had of all reputable dealers, throughout North and South America, and the Islands of the Ocean, in large bottles, for 25 cents.

Sold to the trade at a liberal discount, but commissioned in no instance.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S

Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, declares that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 350,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidence of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself.—Tha effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity. Sold by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&w6m je22

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during gilthood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years? And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily derived from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundredth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and cause of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1244, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

LOVE IS INDESTRUCTIBLE.

BY ROBERT SOUTHEY.

They sin who tell us love can die;
With life all other passions fly,
All others are but vanity.
In heaven ambition cannot dwell;
Nor avarice in the vaults of hell,
Earthly those passions of the earth,
They perish where they have their birth;
But love is indestructible.
Its holy flame forever burneth,
From heaven it came, to heaven returneth;
Too oft on earth a troubled guest,
At times deceived, at times oppressed,
It there is tried and purified,
Then hath in heaven its perfect rest,
It soweth here in toil and care,
But the harvest time of love is there.

GAVAZZI AND BROWNSON.—The Boston Pilot and the public that it has made no "unjust comparisons" between these two champions,—and makes the following just remarks on true liberty of speech, exactly in the spirit of Jefferson's motto, "Error of opinion may be safely tolerated while reason is left free to combat it."

While we believe that no good results from the ravings of such ultra fanatics as Mr. Brownson and Gavazzi, we would not have the authorities stop either from lecturing. We hope the day is far distant, when a Catholic turned Protestant, or a Protestant turned Catholic, will be prohibited by the civil authority from speaking to those foolish enough to hear them. We believe that Freedom is the only certain cure for the evils of Freedom, and that under our Republican institutions, we have discovered "a more excellent way" of treating our opponents than the rack, the stake, the thumb-screw, and other tortures of the past.

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attention of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom
AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

DR. HAMPTON'S
VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial &

Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

INTERESTING FACTS

are constantly coming to light, from different parts of the country, showing the astonishing effects of the fair and faithful use of these Lozenges.

HERE IS ONE LETTER,

from a citizen of Portsmouth—and but a sample of hundreds:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May, 1853.

This is to certify that I consider Devines' Compound Pitch Lozenges a valuable article for what they are designed—the best remedy before the public. My son had a very severe cough, which threatened speedily to carry him off; and nothing seemed to give relief, until I tried these Lozenges, —which produced signs of relief in a few hours, and after the taking of a few boxes, wholly removed his cough. A. A. PAYNE.

THIS IS TRULY A GREAT REMEDY,
and always safe

IN MAINE, a correspondent of the Oxford Democrat, writing from Bethel, thus reports a town meeting:

Finally, after the other business was disposed of, Phineas Frost, Esq., a gentleman well known in these parts, presented the following resolutions, which were adopted of course.

"We, the democratic republicans of the town of Bethel, in convention assembled, do believe that the greatest happiness of man, is in living in pleasant society, good friendship, and brotherly love."

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this convention, that the passage of the Maine Liquor Law, has caused more bitter feelings in society, neighborhoods and families, than all wars and political excitements that have happened to the people of Maine since she has become a State.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this convention, the Maine Law should be repealed, and one enacted instead, which will be satisfactory to the whole people, gentle, easy to be entreated with, full of mercy and good fruits.

Amend the last resolution by striking out the word "fruits," and inserting "liquor," and the resolutions can't be beat!

MAINE LAW IN MICHIGAN.—A letter from Michigan to the Portland Advertiser says:

"The canvass here for the Maine Law has been very sharp—the Dutch, Germans, and French going against it to a man—but many Irish supported it manfully—even drunkards voted for it, saying their only hope was to get liquor out of the way. Many tavern keepers and dealers also voted for it. The two keepers of a large Hotel and the largest wholesale dealer in Detroit voted for it. Their reasons were, that business would be better every way, all customers would in the end buy more and pay better to have Rum out of the way—true prosperity requires that all classes down to the humblest consumer should be industrious and thrifty, which cannot be where grog-shops abound. Some of the dealers say that though selling liquor is profitable for a time, it is bad for the business of the country in the long run. The law is adopted by a large majority, even Detroit going for it, contrary to the general expectation."

SCHOOLS IN ITALY.—Gavazzi, who comes from Italy and knows all about the matter, gives the following paragraph about the famous public schools of Rome, and other parts of the Papal States, about which there has been much boasting in certain quarters:—

"They say there are a hundred and twenty Primary Schools in the Papal States, and people say, 'Well, that is very praiseworthy.'—But my friends, let us see what those schools are. These Schools are kept by some old men and women, and have some very dirty little boys and girls attending them. The parents of these children must pay, some four, some five, and six shillings per month, for being taught a few prayers and a little from the Catechism, not reading and writing; if they would learn those branches, there is another School for them, at which they must pay a dollar per month."

The "Friends of Freedom,"—so the bill reads—are to have a celebration at Medina on the 4th, at which are expected as speakers, Joshua R. Giddings and John G. Palfrey.—Liquor is to be excluded from the entertainment.

What is fashion? say many. It was the fashion but a few years ago for editors to say he fell and broke his back. A year or two later, and they said, his spinal marrow was injured; later and his vertebra was broken; and the last is "he injured the spinal chord."—Charlestown Advertiser.

MUSIC IN PORTLAND.—The Portland Transcript of Saturday says:

Our city government, we are glad to see, has promptly responded to the call of our citizens, and appropriated $400 for the purpose of having music in the public squares two evenings in the week. The band will play alternately at the head of India street, on Market square, and on State street—thus accommodating all quarters of the city. We are satisfied that the money could not be better spent.

"NOT IF YOU WAS THE LITTLE CORPORAL HIMSELF!"—A West Point correspondent of the New York Herald tells a good story of one of the Board of Visitors at the Military Academy, who got out of his reckoning and encroached upon the camp ground. He was stopped by the guard, who demanded of him "the countersign!" "A friend," he replied; but "a friend" could not pass, and the dignified visiter was obliged to call loudly for an officer whom he saw in the distance, to come and deliver him from the hands of a young gentleman who had stood tremblingly before him undergoing an examination a short time before!

THE WHITE HOUSE.—A correspondent of the Christian Mirror, makes the following the following statement which will gratify every piour heart: "I am sure that many parents will rejoice to know on unquestionable authority, that the Presidential mansion is a house of prayer. Daily social devotions, attended on Sabbath morning by all the inmates of the House, together with the constant recognition of God at table, while they mark the highest household in the land as exempt from the malediction pronounced against those families that call not upon the name of Jehovah, may serve to encourage Christians and set a good example to all."

ACCIDENT TO MARINI.—On Friday, Mr. Marini, the Italian vocalist, while gunning on Long Island, lost two of the fingers of one of his hands by the accidental bursting of the barrel of his fowling-piece. The damages received will not, of course, affect his larynx, or impair the energetic style of his acting.—New York Sunday Atlas, 26th.

PORTSMOUTH:
THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1853.

THE UNION.

No wonder our politics are a riddle to people of other nations: they are a riddle to ourselves. The Boston Times, a well known democratic paper, in a late editorial, eulogizes Jeffersen Davis, and praises his appointment as Secretary of War, while it denounces those "whose democracy consisted in crying out that the 'Union was in danger' from a source which has never been of the least account, while they have had nothing to say against the exertions of those men whose labors have ever been in the direction of consolidation."

If we understand this, it means that the union was in no danger whatever from the free soil or liberty party. What follows is still plainer.

The "Union in danger" delusion of 1850 was one of the most outrageous things that ever was got up by selfish politicians for their own exclusive benefit. To its success it was necessary that every man who saw its true character, and who was too honest to take part in it, should be denounced, in the hope that he might be ruined. Secretary Davis was the most prominent of those Southern democrats who saw at once through the delusion; who comprehended the motives of those who were engaged in it; and who therefore set their faces against it from the first, and so prevented the South from running into the very danger of all others the most to be avoided by the people of that part of the nation, whose rights can never be endangered except through the triumph of the consolidationists. If was owing to the exertions of the (so-called) seccessionists, but who are the true Unionists, that the conspiracy to swamp the democratic party through the formation of a national coalition was completely prostrated, and its authors left stranded on the shores of the political ocean.

This seems to bear against Mr. Fillmore, the late Mr. Webster, and especially Mr. Pierce, who eulogized Mr. W. on account of his union speeches,—and whose election hereabouts, we thought, was claimed as a special victory of the Union and Compromise idea over the Free Democracy or Free Soil of Hale, Tuck, Seward and Chase. But as we said before, our National politics are a riddle—not yet explained.

UNCLE TOMISM.

It is said Queen Victoria declined to receive Mrs. Stowe, and expressed her surprise that Lord John Russell, Palmerston, and other members of the government attended her party at Stafford House.—Boston Post.

We know it is said so; and it may be true. But if so, what of it? It only shows that royalty is a little more exclusive than aristocracy. But the authority on which this "is said," does not happen to be worth a rush. The London Correspondent of an American miscellaneous paper, cannot be relied upon for the small talk of the palace; and we presume there is not a word of truth in it. Mrs. S. was not presented to the Queen; and so far the letter was correct—but probably the rest of the story was invented by the correspondent or some of his cronies.

We now copy the paragraph referred to, from the correspondent of the New York Sunday Times, who says "that the excitement in regard to Mrs. Stowe in England has well nigh died out, and that people are beginning to believe that she did not write "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The correspondent says:—

Considering that Mrs. Stowe is the representative of a great party in the United States, and that the Queen desires not to intermeddle with either party, her declining to receive Mrs. Stowe is much approved of. It is no secret that the Queen expressed her surprise in rather angry terms, that Lord John Russell, Lord Palmerston, the Duke of Argyll, and other principal members of the government, should have attended Mrs. Stowe's "drawing room" at Stafford.

Well informed American politicians will hardly be able to suppress a smile at the idea of Mrs. Stowe's representing a great party here. But it would not be a strange idea in a country which rejoices under petticoat government—and it is not at all wonderful in the petticoated sovereign herself.

SPRING, The murderer lately hung in New York for killing two women, was brought up a catholic, and had his own priests at first, after his condemnation—but afterwards changed them for protestants, we believe Episcopal clergymen. He never had a day's schooling in his life; ignorant and brutal, he seemed to misunderstand all effort to "prepare" him for death,—and was about as hard a specimen of humanity as the world ever sees.

A WHITE FUGITIVE APPRENTICE.—The case of John Van Orden, claimed as a fugitive from labor, by James Randall of New Jersey, under the law of 1850, was brought before Mr. Brigham, U. S. commissioner, in New York, on Saturday. He was an apprentice to learn shoe-making. The case was adjourned to Monday.

Capt. A. D. Walbach, of the ordnance corps, died in Baltimore on Sunday.

LATE ALLEGED SLAVE INSURRECTION PLOT.—The New Orleans Picayune in alluding to the lately discovered plot at New Orleans, says:—

"Though the late temporary excitement, relative to a slave insurrection in New Orleans, has proved as baseless as such an undertaking would have been futile, as well as fatal, to all engaged in it, and though the remembrance of it now only excites ridicule among our people, yet it has been instrumental in effecting developements which show that some of the slave population have been tampered with by unprincipled and mischievous white persons—a fact, by the way, which our most intelligent citizens have long been morally convinced was of almost daily occurrence."

There is little or no doubt these statements are correct; and there can be no doubt whatever, that such injudicious and mischievous tampering will continue at New Orleans; it is inseparable from slavery under such circumstances as surround it there. The perpetual changing of temporary residents of all nations, colors and principles, in that great mart of commerce, renders it impossible to keep slaves in the city, out of reach of any class of emissaries who choose to work among them. We are glad also to perceive, as we do by the Picayune, that the negroes there, bond and free, know too much to be easily misled.—It is a hopeful symptom.

The venerable editor of the Burlington Courier says 'amen' to the acquittal of Miss Wheeler in Wisconsin, for the shooting of her seducer, and subjoins:—

We blush to name the fact—and yet duty compels us to do it—we have seen in our own Vermont, the State of our pride and nativity, our friends and our hopes—yes, even here, we have seen the petition of injured women for the legal redress which such cases demand, referred by a seducer, as Speaker of the House of Assembly, to a libertine as chairman of a committee who would follow in his wake—and all done with the most unfeeling jests and jibes. We care not how many seducers are shot; the more the better.

At the Conference of Congregational (orthodox) churches in Maine, at Saco last week, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That another year's experience of the benefits accruing from the "Maine Liquor Law," and another year's observation of the hopes which depend upon its enforcement, has served only to deepen the conviction in our minds, that every interest of humanity demand that it be sustained.

A petition has been presented to the Canada Legislature from the municipal council of the county of Kent, representing that, by reason of the rapid increase of the colored population of said county, by immigration from the United States, many evils are resulting, and are likely to result to the said county, and praying for the adoption of certain measures with reference thereto.

We referred to this petition a few days ago, as one made to the parliament of Great Britain. So rapid is the influx, that there seems to be danger that Kent will become a black county.

FULL COFFERS.—The Sub Treasury in New York, the Express says, is now fuller than it ever was before, running up to eight millions. Unless the Government makes a great sacrifice in buying up the national debt, the surplus revenue will run over $20,000,000 when Congress re-assembles.

Should it be so, we hope Congress will vote to pay off some honest debts due from the country to its own citizens. We refer to the old French Claims, so called, of which a large amount are held in this city.

A RICH BEGGAR.—In Baton Rouge, Louisiana, a German beggar, apparently blind, solicited alms of a gentleman, who jokingly offered him $5 if he would change a $100 bill. Imagine his surprise when the beggar quietly took the hundred dollar bill, and after placing it near his defective eyes, deposited it in one pocket, while from the other he took out a filthy wallet, from which he counted out ninety-five dollars, which he handed over to the gentleman, leaving the contents of his wallet still unexhausted.

A despatch from Washington says:—"Gen. Villamil, Charge from Ecuador, has effected the sale of Charles Island, of the Gallipagos group, to the Mormons, and that Island is hereafter to be the headquarters of this remarkable people. It is entirely independent of Ecuador, and will probably declare for a new republic."

The Congregational Church in Granby, Mass., was struck by lightning during a shower on Wednesday last, and considerably damaged inside. A few days previous, the house of Justus Ferry was struck and somewhat injured. Both these buildings had on them the old Franklin rod, but they proved of little use in protecting them, as in both cases the fluid left the rods before reaching the ground, and passed into the buildings.

THE WINE CROP OF THE UNITED STATES.—In 1840 the total wine crop of this country was 124,000 gallons. In 1850 it was 221,249 gallons, being an increase of almost a hundred per cent in ten years. The amount imported last year was 7,160,000 gallons—an amount which our country will be able to supply for its own consumption in sixty years, even at the present rate of increase.—New Orleans Bulletin.

In Travancore, a province of India subject to British rule, there are 164,864 slaves, the third class of whom are hired out and worked as near death as possible by the second class, and when past work they are turned out to beg or starve.

LOCAL.

☞ To each new subscriber who pays for the Daily in advance for a year commencing August 1st, 1853—we will supply the paper without charge to that date.

SHIP CARPENTERS.—The workmen in the yard of Geo. Raynes, Esq., met last evening to arrange for a turnout of their craft on the 4th. They decided to walk in the procession, and chose Joseph Perkins Chief Marshal, and six assistant marshals—designing to make an appearance equal to that two years since.

It is supposed the workmen in the other yards will also muster in force for the occasion.

☞ Have we a Tailor among us?

TICKETS FOR THE COLLATION.

Let every man who wishes to attend the Collation on the Fourth, get his ticket ☞ This Day,—as the sale of them will positively close this evening.

The regulation was adopted for two reasons, first for the purpose of securing order and comfort for those who attend; and secondly to give opportunity to make the needful preparations. The tickets are for the citizens of Portsmouth, exclusively, and none but citizens can purchase them of the committee.

We understand that not a ticket will be given to any resident of this city: all who wish to attend will purchase the privilege of doing so by paying the moderate sum of fifty cents for a dinner ticket.

THAT STEAMBOAT.

It is now decided that our steamboat, which is to run from Portsmouth to the Shoals, and everywhere else, shall be called the "Grace Darling." We like the "Halcyon" better, but all her proprietors don't—so she is to honor the lady-hero's name, or the lady hers, we don't know which. The Grace Darling was to leave New York Wednesday morning—and will be on hand in season to take the Dover folks down to help us celebrate on Monday.

REGISTER OF THE SONS.

We have received the Register of the names of those Sons of Portsmouth, now in Boston, who propose to visit us on the Fourth; and expect to receive a continuation of the same on Saturday. We intend to insert the whole list on Monday morning.

FINE CRAYONS.

☞ Beautiful specimens of Drawing and Painting, those in Mr. Shores' window. Mr. Moses is capable of doing anything in the line of the fine arts, even to "building castles in air." We have had the pleasure of often viewing Cole's original painting of "Youth;" and a look—no matter how close, at this copy, is in nowise less pleasing. The Moonlight and Lake scenes, show a bold touch, and are finely finished.

We see Mr. M. announces himself as Teacher of these beautiful arts. If he can impart a tithe of the talent he possesses in this direction, to his scholars—there's no doubt of their full success.

THAT BOX OF STAWBERRIES AND SUGAR, La Fayette Laighton wished us to test, was tip-top—that is, the berries were; but it was surprising to see how quick they vanished. It was "linked sweetness," quick "drawn out." Laighton always furnishes the best quality.

TRUANTS, LOOK OUT!—Justice Parker yesterday sent another boy to the House of Correction for fifteen days, for repeated truancy.

BRIDGE SAFE.

☞ We are assured by high official authority on the Eastern Railroad, that the Bridge at Newburyport is safe and substantial for the heaviest passenger trains that can be put upon it; and as safe and secure as any bridge between Portland and Boston, on either line of road. So let all apprehension of danger there, be dismissed at once.

N. H. General Court—June Session.

TUESDAY, June 27.

SENATE.—The bill to establish the salary of the Police Justice in the city of Portsmouth was read a third time and passed.

HOUSE.—The subject of granting liberty to build a public house on Mount Washington, was indefinitely postponed.

After considerable debate, on the Compensation of the gentlemen who revised the State Laws,—the resolution was so amended as to provide that the compensation of the compilers be $600 each—and ordered to a third reading.

FINAL DESERTIONS.—Just before the British frigate Leander sailed from New York, on Friday, a midshipman was sent on shore to get some stores, in a boat with eight men, four of whom took the opportunity to desert. The midshipman was unable to retain them, the bystanders (it is said) threatening to throw him into the water if he left his boat.

There are 109 public schools in the city of New York, under the immediate control of the board of education; 100,000 children attend the schools—the daily average attendance being one half that number. The Free Academy has 500 students, 15 professors, and a number of tutors.

LECTURES AT THE TEMPLE.—Mr. G. W. F. Mellen, of Boston, proposes to deliver three lectures on the 5th, 6th and 7th of July, each lecture commencing at 8 o'clock, P. M., upon the following subjects:

One on the Cause of Color, as it appears in the different races of men.

One on the Financial Bearings of Slavery on the Commercial, Manufacturing and Industrial interest of the country.

One on what constitutes a free American citizen, including a concise history of the Writ of Habeas Corpus.

KENNEDY'S MEDICAL DISCOVERY.
IN the year 1846 Mr. Kennedy of Roxbury, discovered a common Pasture Weed which cures every Humor, from the worst scrofula to the common boil. So successful has it proved that out of innumerable trials it has not been known to fail, but in two instances. Certificates from very many respectable and well known individuals attest its almost miraculous powers.

LATEST NEWS!

BY MAIL, EXPRESS & TELEGRAPH.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER GEORGIA.—New York, June 29.—The steamer Georgia, from Aspinwall via Havana, having left the latter port on the 24th inst., arrived at 7 o'clock this morning, bringing 150 passengers, $2,141,000 in gold dust, and the California mails of June 1st.

The Georgia was placed in Quarantine during her stay at Havana, no person from her being allowed to land, consequently we get no papers.

Later advices from Venezuela represent the revolution to be on the increase. The provinces of Cuman and Marguerita had also pronounced against the government, and Coro and Marcaibo were about to follow.

STEAMBOAT DISASTER.—We learn that the steamboat Ocean, Capt. E. H. Sandford, on her trip from Boston for Bath, Gardiner and Hallowell, Tuesday night, run on to a ledge of sunken rocks known as the "Londoner," off Cape Ann. Some of the passengers were sent ashore by a sloop and others were taken off by the steamer Atlantic, Capt. Knight.—The scene is spoken of as one of indescribable confusion: Fortunately no lives were lost or personal injury sustained. The boat ran upon the rocks, head foremost, staving her bows, when she filled and her stern sunk below the water. If it had been a rough night the lives of the passengers and crew would have been in imminent peril. It seems obvious that some gross neglect must have caused such an accident, on a clear and starlight evening.

SEIZING GAMBLERS.—The Republican of Springfield, after mentioning that its village was "growing" under its city charter, chronicles the arrest on Saturday night, of 15 young clerks, operatives at a gambling room kept by one Rounds, a cigar maker. They were marched off to jail, where they had the unusual privilege of engaging in divine services, and of hearing a fine sermon from a missionary to Turkey. If the marshal is as fortunate every Saturday night, a great many will have an opportunity of enjoying "stated preaching" who do not hear a sermon once a year.

FIRE IN BALTIMORE.—A terrible fire broke out on Tuesday evening, at Fell's Point, Baltimore, and spread westward, defying the efforts of the firemen. The fire caught at Strauss's four story grocery warehouse on Broadway. The building was entirely gutted. The flames then communicated to two stores below, and the hotel on the corner, which were consumed. The market house then caught fire, and was also completely destroyed. The flames next crossed the street, burning Strauss's other grocery store, Mr. Randall's house, and several frame buildings.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. Nathan Holmes, Jr., of this town, came to his death on Saturday last, in a manner as singular as it was unexpected. About two years since, on the occasion of having a tooth extracted, he was taken bleeding, not only in the cavity where the tooth was drawn, but from all his gums; and so freely did the blood flow that it was several days before it could be staunched, and then only by the difficult and painful operation of cauterizing. Although completely prostrated by the loss of a large quantity of blood, yet he rapidly recovered, though he has had one or two attacks since. On Friday night last, he was again suddenly taken bleeding at the gums, without any apparent cause, and so profusely did the blood flow that all efforts to stop it proved unavailing, and on Saturday he died from the effects. He was 22 years of age.—Plymouth Rock.

LAWS IN CONNECTICUT.—Gov. Seymour, of Connecticut, on Friday, vetoed a bill authorizing all lawyers to authenticate instruments, without requiring the services of Justices of the Peace. The House sustained the veto by a large vote.

The Connecticut Senate passed on Saturday the bill "to suppress tippling shops," the license bill previously passed by the House. The Senate also passed the House bill abolishing capital punishment, which is very severe towards the convict, and provides that he cannot be pardoned, unless new evidence of his innocence shall have transpired. The same branch passed a bill allowing the bonds of the city of Providence to be used as a basis of bank circulation in Connecticut.

UNFORTUNATE.—The large ship Sweepstakes, which fell over at her launching, at New York, last week, has been placed in the dry dock of that city for repairs. She is said to be wrenched and shattered and thoroughly crippled, and the persons for whom she was built have refused to take her. The loss of the builder, it is said, will be $30,000.

The people of Marshall, (Ill.,) were excited last week by the death of Mrs. Archer, who, it now turns out, was poisoned by her mother-in-law. It appears that the deceased was married to Mr. A. in opposition to the wishes of his mother; that they had never been on terms of civility until a few days before the death of Mrs. A., when the mother-in-law became suddenly very affable, and sent the former provisions of some description, and that shortly afterwards she died ! ! !—Boston Post.

The Cincinnati Gazette, an old and respectable whig paper, states that "a German woman on Liberty, between Platt and Lynn streets, south side, gave birth to four boys yesterday morning."

A little girl named Maria Wilkins was stung to death by hornets near Fort Ancient, Ohio, on Sunday. Her brothers were throwing stones at the nest, and ran away, while she became a victim to the infuriated insects.

The marriage of W. C. Johnson of Utica, to a grand-niece of John Quincy Adams, at Washington, on Tuesday, was brilliantly attended, and created quite a sensation in fashionable circles.

The residents of Hartford are beginning to drink Connecticut river water, which is found by analysis to be much purer than the Croton and Schuylkill, and nearly half as pure as Cochituate.

LYON'S KATHAIRON,

For Preserving, Restoring & Beautifying the Hair,

CAUSING it to grow luxuriantly, and giving it a soft and curling appearance, of the most delightful character. The KATHAIRON neutralises the effects of disease, climate, and old age, in preserving and restoring the Human Hair, even after a Baldness of many years,—cleanses the scalp from Dandruff, and its natural impurities,—immediately relieves sympathetic attacks of Nervous Headache, and cures all cutaneous diseases of the skin, such as Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Itch, &c.

AS A TOILET ARTICLE,

For giving the Hair a rich, soft, glossy and curling appearance, nothing has been discovered to compare with its incontested—its incontestible virtues. It imparts the fragrance of the most delightful and exotic flowers, and is free from all minera properties, or any substance which can color the skin, or stain a lady's hat.

FOR BALD OR GREY HEADS

It is pre-eminently beneficial. "The Kathairon restored my hair after a baldness of 12 years. A. J. COURTRIGHT, 76 Bond-st. N.Y." This admirable preparation can be had of all reputable dealers, throughout North and South America, and the Islands of the Ocean, in large bottles, for 25 cents.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S

Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the commendations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself—The effects of the first bottle exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity. Sold by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Boston, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&w6m je22*

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT!

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are excelled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled,

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S
Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, addressed to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be Ignorant.
